Lieut. George J. Baumeister, 602 votes; Harry J. McNealy, 606 votes; Dennis J. Cadigan, 573 votes; James P. Gallagher, 540 votes.

IV. CHANGES IN FIRE ALARM BOXES.

The following changes have been made in fire alarm boxes:

Box 2388, formerly located in the Jefferson School building, Heath street, near Day street, has been moved to a pole in front of the school building.

Box 410, formerly located at the Jacob Foss School, Adams and Chestnut streets, has been permanently removed from service. It was connected into No. 43 circuit.

V. SPRINKLER SYSTEM CONNECTIONS.

In response to an alarm of fire in a sprinklered building having steamer connections, the second company responding shall connect their first line to steamer connections. However, if, in the opinion of the officer in charge of operations, this cannot be accomplished, then the first line from the third engine company arriving at the fire is to be connected.

It must be borne in mind that the action taken by the officer in charge first reaching the fire depends entirely upon the conditions existing at the scene of the fire. It is always well to feel that practice makes perfect, and if connecting to sprinkler connections results in nothing more than practice, it would prove invaluable in the event of the freezing of water in the sprinkler street supply, or the possibility of their being shut off for various reasons, thus being the case in many of the buildings throughout the city.

Should the street sprinkler supply be frozen, or shut off, as the case may be, the use of the steamer connections would result in a similar degree of efficiency in much the same manner as though the supply was normally delivered through the take-offs from the street supply. The fact of the matter is that the officer in charge may or may not have use for sprinklers, but it is well to adopt this plan in order that all persons concerned may become familiar with the connections and their locations.

The attention of the officers of the department is called to the availability of the high pressure system for use in connecting to sprinklers. Should occasion arise that the high pressure system should be used for this purpose, the pressure from the hydrant outlets to which the sprinkler supply is attached must not exceed 125 pounds. This can be regulated by the operator of the hydrant in reducing the orifice on the outlets being used, if it be necessary to increase the pressure above that point.

MAYOR CURLEY BANQUETS AVIATORS.

At a banquet tendered army and navy air pilots at the Parker House by his Honor the Mayor, at which were present among others the following distinguished members of the army and navy: Rear Admiral L. R. DeSteigueur, U. S. N., commandant, Boston Navy Yard; Commander F. H. Poteet, U. S. N., chief of staff, Boston Navy Yard; Lieut. R. E. Byrd, U. S. N., chief of aviation, Boston Navy Yard; Gen. Mark L. Hersey, representing First Corps Area; Col. William C. Sweeney, U. S. A.; Capt. F. H. Larned, U. S. A.; Lieut. Simon Foss, U. S. A.; Col. R. M. Gulick, U. S. M. C., Commanding United States Marines at Boston Navy Yard; Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, U. S. A.; Gen. Malvern H. Barnum, U. S. A.; Capt. E. B. Lyon, U. S. A., chief of air service, First Army Area Corps; Gen. Edward L. Logan, Colonel Murphy of Natick, Col. Frederick L. Bogan, Col. William E. Horton, Col. H. L. Steele, His Honor the Mayor spoke in part as follows:

"The most important duty confronting the American nation at the present hour is the development of a national program for air control, through which that protection of America which was abandoned when limitation of armament was adopted may be again re-established.

"The contention that Great Britain has achieved greater results through the finesse of her diplomats than were secured through the power of her armies and navies combined was never more truly emphasized, so far as America is concerned, than when she compelled the adoption of the limitation of armament program.

"The American Naval Board had outlined a program of naval construction which if adhered to would have made America by 1927 the most powerful nation in the world on sea. At the time that agreements were made America was the only nation in the world in a position to undertake a naval construction program of the magnitude recommended by the United States Naval Board.

"Immediately following the abandonment of the naval construction program the nations of Europe, while America was scrapping its battleships and cruisers, were building with feverish haste aircraft of every character until today America occupies a negligible position among the nations of the world in the matter of aircraft and air control.

"It is imperatively necessary that every person interested in the future of America participate in the development of a program of construction of aeronautic defence that will make possible the guarding of a nation whose coastline is greater than that of all European nations combined.

"I have this day directed a communication to the Postmaster-General requesting that Boston be made a port of the postal air system. The possibilities at East Boston cannot be underestimated. The development of the airport by the Federal Government, with such aid as the Commonwealth can render, presents tremendous potential possibilities for future industrial and commercial development, while from the standpoint of national defence the duty is not only plain but imperative."

Among others present were the members of the Municipal Air Board, of which Porter H. Adams is chairman; the members of the City Council; Gen. John H. Dunn, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Commander William H. Doyle of the American Legion; Governor W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve Bank; Irving W. Bullard, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. W. Longley, Andrew B. Sides, Frederic S. Snyder, Col. Charles R. Gow, Commander William H. McKeown, Hon. Guy W. Currier, Hon. Charles A. Innes.

ASKS CHAMBER'S AID.

The Mayor also on Saturday, September 8, sent the following letter to the Chamber of Commerce:

HOWARD COONLEY, Esq., President Boston Chamber of Commerce, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR MR. COONLEY:—I am inclosing you a copy of letter written by me today to the Postmaster-General in Washington which explains itself, and I am of the opinion that my suggestion and request will receive a prompt and favorable decision, if supported by the action of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

It is never sufficient to depend solely in matters of this sort upon official Boston; commercial and municipal Boston must act together to secure and advance the interests of Boston and the territory it serves; and I feel I can ask and count upon the sympathetic co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in this important matter and depend upon it to urge the Postmaster-General to consider and act upon the project of adding Boston to the new federal air-mail service.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, August 27, 1923.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 12 o'clock noon, President LANE presiding. Absent—Coun. Gilbody, Hagan and Henley.

The Clerk read the call for the meeting as follows:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 24, 1923.
To the Members of the City Council:
Gentlemen,—You are respectfully requested to assemble in the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, August 27, at 12 m., at which time the matter of the Hyde Park street railway situation will be considered.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.
Mayor CURLEY—Gentlemen, the problems of transportation which have troubled Hyde Park and Readville sections of Boston for upwards of a quarter of a century are in process of clearing up. The Boston Elevated Street Railway Company, through its Board of Public Trustees, has arranged to take over the property of the Eastern Massachusetts Railroad Company, located in Hyde Park and in the Readville section of Boston. They have agreed to operate over the Boston Elevated system, including within that system the Readville and Hyde Park sections. They have agreed to operate over the Boston Elevated system a portion of Hyde Park between Cleary square and East Dedham, allowing a single fare from any portion of Hyde Park, over which the Elevated may operate, to any portion of the Elevated system.

This is the consummation of a long fight waged by the people of Hyde Park for justice and for a single fare.
I assume that ultimately, the Boston Elevated will agree to a local 5-cent fare within the Hyde Park and Readville sections of the city. I have refrained, however, from pressing for that concession, and have raised no serious objection to the failure to include, in the area in which operations are to be conducted, the section between Cleary square and Hyde Park.

I have, accordingly, drafted a communication which I will submit to the City Council, and in addition I beg to say that the communication which I present on this subject is in substance the same as that which I presented in the Hyde Park section, the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company, is desirous of maintaining its service between Cleary square and East Dedham line, so that every section of Hyde Park will be served with transportation service.

The communication which I am submitting may be read by the Council with the various other documents, and the Council should then submit them to the City Clerk for such action as the City Council may deem proper.

I herewith submit application of the Boston Elevated Railway Company for licenses to operate jitneys.

(At this point the Mayor read the applications of the Boston Elevated Railway Company.)
Then follow the various orders. I will go into an explanation in connection with them. One of the orders to the City Council, gentlemen, is that it is essential in the interest of transportation service to the residents of Hyde Park section of Boston that the existing franchises for the operation of jitneys or motor buses be canceled as of September 1, 1923, with the exception of that portion of the motor bus licenses granted to the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company for operation between Cleary square and East Dedham line, on River street.

The Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company has submitted this communication, under date of August 25.

Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company,
August 25, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor Boston:

Dear Sir,—For the past two years we have been furnishing bus service in Hyde Park under a license from the City of Boston granted to us upon the express understanding that we would interpose no objection to having our service modified or discontinued as the public welfare required. It is reported that the Boston Elevated service is to commence in Hyde Park on the first of next month, and we anticipate that this event will involve a substantial change in respect to the service now being furnished to us. Under these circumstances you are respectfully assured that upon being advised of your wishes in respect to us we will voluntarily conform thereto.

We expect that our service will have to be modified so as not to be in competition with that to be furnished by the Elevated Company. Within that limitation we would like to continue our service in Hyde Park as far as practicable, including particularly that between Cleary square and the Dedham line, between which points the Elevated Company, we are informed is making no provision for service. We are making a special study of the situation at the present time with a view to further supplementing the service to be furnished by the Elevated Company, and as the result of the study, it appears that we can contribute further to transportation in this district without interfering with the Elevated Company we will bring the matter again to your attention.

Yours very respectfully,
NORFOLK & BRISTOL BUS COMPANY,
By FRED W. PRESIDENT.

The adoption of an order with reference to the continuance of operation by the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company and the adoption of orders granting to the Boston Elevated Company authority to operate in this particular territory, would apparently solve the entire problem with reference to Hyde Park transportation.

I am going to leave those orders with you. I am going to take a seat in the spectators' gallery, and the chairman of the Transit Commission, the Corporation Counsel, and the Mayor and myself will be glad to answer any questions which may be asked by any member of the Council with reference to the transportation project for Hyde Park. I might add, in the event of the approval of these orders by the City Council, the service will begin September 1, 1923.

The Mayor's messages and the applications of the Boston Elevated Railroad were read by the City Clerk, viz.:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 27, 1923.

To the Honorable the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I herewith transmit applications of the Boston Elevated Railway Company for licenses to operate jitneys in the Hyde Park district of Boston.

Under the provisions of chapter 405, Acts of 1923, the city, acting through its Transit Department, was authorized to take all of the property of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway, now located in said district, but prior to the taking of said property, it is necessary to enter into an agreement with the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway for the lease of certain portions of said property, and before the Boston Elevated will enter into any agreement it desires to have licenses to operate buses from Mattapan square to Cleary square and from Cleary square to Readville. The operation of these jitneys or buses is a part of the plan of transportation that has been evolved by the Boston Elevated Railway Company for the purpose of serving the district. Without the operation of these buses, the Boston Elevated Railway Company will be unable to give the desired service.

It is the desire of all parties interested to have the Boston Elevated begin operations on the 1st day of September this year. Immediately upon the granting of these licenses, the necessary papers will be executed which will give the people of Hyde Park Boston Elevated Railway service with a unit fare from Readville to Cleary square via Mattapan from Boston and from Boston via Mattapan or Cleary square to Readville, and will also give the district a unit fare from points between Mattapan and Cleary square to and from Boston.

I, therefore, heartily recommend the granting of the licenses as applied for, and I mean the successful consummation of many years' effort to give to the Hyde Park district service by the Boston Elevated Railway Company at a fare similar to that given upon the rest of the system.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

By EDWARD DANA,

General Manager,

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, August 27, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—It is essential in the interests of transportation service to the residents of the Hyde Park section of Boston, that existing franchises for the operation of jitneys or motor buses be canceled as of September 1, 1923, with the exception of that portion of a motor bus license granted to the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company for operation between Cleary square and the East Dedham line on River street.

Accordingly, I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That all jitneys or motor bus licenses heretofore granted in the Hyde Park section of Boston, with the exception of license granted to the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company for operation on River street between Cleary square and the Dedham line, be and the same are hereby revoked, as of September 1, 1923.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I move that we go into executive session.
The motion was carried.

President LANE—The Chair will appoint C. W. Watson chairman.

Coun. WATSON—The committee will be in order. The question before the committee is the order transmitted by his Honor the Mayor, together with a message relative to discontinuing certain parts of the grant given to the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company, to operate jitneys in the Hyde Park district.

The message of his Honor the Mayor was not read in its entirety. It might be well for the Clerk to read it.

(The Mayor's message was read by the Clerk.)

Coun. WATSON—The question before the committee is the order of his Honor the Mayor. There is a petition here from the Boston Elevated, which the Clerk read.

(The petition of the Boston Elevated was read by the Clerk.)

Coun. WATSON—The Mayor read the letter from the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company, wherein they expressed their satisfaction, and understand it, in discontinuing their license, excepting that part of Hyde Park from Cleary square to East Dedham. I think I would like to ask Mr. Lyons what advantage we have been made with the Elevated concerning their giving the service they promise in the communication.

Mr. JOSEPH LYONS—Gentlemen, a lease has been drawn between the Boston Elevated and the City of Boston, to operate the Elevated to give us the service, take over the road, and pay 4½ per cent on $225,000. They do not take the entire property that we take from the Eastern Massachusetts. They take only that property which they desire to operate. That leaves us with the car station, car barn and 10,000 feet of land at Readville. That property belongs to the city and just as soon as these bus licenses are granted, we will sign the lease, and then we will take from the Eastern Massachusetts all the property, and the whole arrangements will be completed not later than the first day of September. They plan to begin operations the first day of September and serve the people of Hyde Park.

Coun. WATSON—As I understand it, Mr. Mayor, they intend to operate six motor buses on each of these lines, or six on the two lines?

Mr. CHARLES W. MULCAHY—Gentlemen, I think I can answer that question, Mr. Chairman. I am counsel for the Elevated Railway. Our intention is to operate the same buses. They will start from Readville and they will go to Cleary square, and then they will continue on from Cleary square to Mattapan. But it was desired, because of the distinctness of the two routes, to be able to have two licenses. That is why there are two applications.

Coun. WATSON—Then there will be twelve buses?

Mr. MULCAHY—Six buses.

Mayor CURLEY—Six buses. Continuous operation.

Coun. MORIARTY—There is not anything in that to the service they will give. They are going to run these buses on each, but there is no assurance in there that they are going to have the transportation service. I don't know. What is the understanding? How often are those buses going to run from those points?

Mr. MULCAHY—I will say, Mr. Councilor, that this is one of the reasons we applied for the two licenses. We are going to have, on each, it will give us an opportunity to run up to twelve, and give us flexibility in service. We can run from six to twelve. Our present intention is to start with six motor vehicles. If that is not sufficient, we can have twelve.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, I understand every other jitney license that has been given in the city has given assurance before the jitney license is granted, for a certain time of transportation. We have been assured that they would run on a ten-minute time, fifteen-minute time, or something else. I am not prepared to vote on this today. I think it is a big question, and I feel that the Elevated has taken an attitude, too, that is not a very fair one, coming in here and saying they will not sign a lease until these jitney licenses are granted. I feel that I am not prepared to vote on this today, until we get assurance of what time those jitneys are going to run, continually between the two points.

Mr. MULCAHY—I may make a further statement. While the application does not state the headway, I will assure the Council that we will give at least fifteen-minute headway on those routes, which is considerably more than the service being given. I think it is twice as frequent.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask another question. They say that the buses are of a seating capacity of twenty-five. Will they also agree there will be no standing in these buses, other than the seating capacity?

Coun. WATSON—That no more than twenty-five will be allowed in them?

Coun. MORIARTY—That no more than twenty-five will be allowed in them?

Coun. WATSON—I would hate to be on the sidewalk and want to come in town and see twenty-five in there and not be allowed to board.

Mr. MULCAHY—Of course, the restriction as to the number of persons permitted to have seats is one that is imposed by the ordinance itself, and one over which we have no control. Coun. MORIARTY—I realize, but we have got the control, and that is why the number was put in there. As one member of the Council, I am going to see if it is possible that our people who are going to ride if there are given seats. I do not believe in going out there and giving them transportation if they are going to do the same as they do in the elevated. I do not believe in carrying them worse than they do cattle.

Coun. WATSON—I am interested in giving the people of Hyde Park as good transportation privileges as we have in the rest of the city. I am not planning to give them anything better. I think we ought to clean this thing up. I am knowing that for four years Hyde Park has been crying for transportation as good as a horse, or a fare the same as the rest of the city.

President LANE—Five years.

Coun. WATSON—I think we ought to put it on the table today.

Coun. MORIARTY—I am taking this attitude; I feel that I am not in a position to do it. I feel that the matter has been going on for more than five years, and it has been going on for a number of years, and I do not believe in trying to hand something to the citizens in Hyde Park just for the purpose of handing it to them. I believe we ought to give the people in Hyde Park something which, when we do give it to them at the cost of all the rest of the citizens of Boston, where we have not got control over the Elevated. I believe that we ought to hold on to that control and give them service which I believe this Council would give over some of the other lines. If we had that control. Unfortunately, we have not control over the rest of the system and we cannot insist upon fair transportation. Now then, I feel that Hyde Park is in the position that she has been striving for transportation at a single fare, and I believe, if it is within our grasp, we ought to make the transportation as good as it is within our power. I feel that if we designate that they, in making the application, give the description of the motor buses that are going to run, that we have some purpose in making the order. I do not believe that the purpose we had was that the people that are carried shall be given the transportation they are paying for and be given seat. I think the Elevated is taking a very unfair attitude when they come in here and say that they are not prepared to sign a lease until we give them the right to run buses. I think that is a very unfair attitude. I think that, in the first, and again, I would like to see the lease. I do not know whether we will have to vote on the lease or not. If we have got to vote on the lease, I would like to see it before I am prepared to vote on anything.

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Chairman, may I be permitted to say a word?

President LANE—No, Mr. Curley.

Mayor CURLEY—I believe that if the Elevated were permitted to exercise their own discretion, without the pressure of public opinion or of official interference, they would adopt the affairs of the city, that they would much prefer to permit the system that is now in operation in Hyde Park to continue. It is really is not something of their own will. It is something we are wishing on them for the benefit of Hyde Park. So far as the regulation of the number of passengers that may be permitted to occupy seats in the buses, I believe I have no objection within the power of the City Council to regulate that without any difficulty at all. If, at any time, they are carrying a number in excess of twenty-five, it is a simple matter to refer it to the Board of Health, and the Board of Health would, or should, take the necessary initial steps with the Elevated to correct that abuse. The franchises for the buses are revocable at any time within the power of the City Council. That being the case, there is a double check upon the franchisees, and an absolute protection so far as the public or the City Council is concerned. It has been the contention of the Eastern Massachusetts that they were conducting the service in Hyde Park at a profit, although I have always questioned that contention on the part of the Eastern Massachusetts. To continue to maintain their lines at present existing terms, would require a capital expenditure of nearly a quarter of a million dollars for the renewal of maintenance of way on River street, between Cleary square and Mattapan square. In other words, it would be a possible operation in line that could be put out of commission at any time the City Council saw fit to establish competition by the granting of jitney licenses to connect other parts of the street railway companies. I do not think we need have any apprehension about failure to give service. I believe, personally, that since the city is, in a measure, a partner with the Boston Elevated in the matter of providing transportation, since we have a dual ownership in the subways and the success of the street railway, that is a contributing factor in large measure, to the prosperity of the public, the success of the municipality, and it is to the interest of the city government to do everything within reasonable limits to keep the service and further the interests of the street railway company. That being the case, I feel that it is our duty to assist rather than to hinder, and for that reason I, personally, would not favor the granting of competing jitney licenses on any portion of the Elevated system. But, in this particular case, if the Boston Elevated public officials fail to give the character of service that is within our option or in the opinion of the City Council, the public of this section of Boston is entitled to, I should not hesitate for one minute to favor the granting of competing jitney licenses. I set up competition which will compel an improvement of the service. However, I think we are all familiar with the fact that the success of the street railway system depends in large measure upon the character of the service represented by the operation to the citizens. That being so, it is primarily, not only necessary, but absolutely the object of the street railway company, to render the best possible character of service. If, at any time, they fail to provide that, and after it has been duly called to their attention they still continue to be guilty of failure, then it is within our power to request the Board of Health to take such steps as are within their power. In the event of the Board of Health failing to induce the street railway company to provide proper character of service, it is still within our power to revoke the charter which we have granted, and to grant a license to other lines in competition with the Elevated system. I want to say that I took up the matter of a single fare for the Hyde Park section shortly after assuming office, and I have not been able to induce the Elevated officials to agree to the operation and the taking over of these lines. They have been averse to it at all times. I question whether a unanimous vote on the project was ever taken by the present public control officials. I suppose that the unfortunate thing in connection with the Public Control Board, despite the splendid character of its work, is its rendering the fact that the city, through its government, has no voice in the selection of the public control officials. The original act made provision for the appointment of the Board of Public Control by the Mayor. For some reason with which I am not familiar, the former Mayor waived his right to appoint two of the five members of the Board of Public Control, and, as a consequence, we really have no voice in the operation of the system in which we are so heavily interested financially. It has taken nearly a year to get the Public Control agreement which is now before the City Council. The former Mayor, I believe, wholeheartedly and honestly, devoted the greater portion of his term to the effort to induce the Elevated to agree to an agreement under which the Hyde Park section would enjoy the same rights and privileges which are enjoyed by every other section of the Commonwealth through which the Boston Elevated System operates. The contest for a single fare in Hyde Park represents a contest covering nearly a quarter of a century, of do or die, and the service is being paid by Coun. Moriarty are sufficiently strong to justify any member of the Council in voting adversely on this proposition. I sincerely trust that the Board of Public Control, and within the province of the City Council, recognizing, in addition, not only my attitude and the attitude of the City Council itself on the question of the Hyde Park service, but Hyde Park, but will recognize the wisdom of at least accepting in good faith the proposition that is submitted. In the event of failure of the Boston Elevated officials to keep faith with the people of Hyde Park, I can assure him that I shall be pleased to go just as far as he can go in the matter of compelling the Elevated officials to give the character of service to Hyde Park of which it has been deprived so many years, and which it so justly deserves. I am sure that things of this kind are of the greatest importance to industrial development and the opportunities for convenient transportation to which the people of that section of Boston are entitled, and which they have so long been denied.

Coun. MARIARTY—Mr. Chairman, I want to say that I have no intention of voting adversely to this proposition, but I do think that it is a fair proposition to come to the vote. I believe that the Council should have at least a reasonable right to have reasonable time. I do not think it is fair to ask me or to ask any other member of the Council to go to the City Council and to the last mail calling a special meeting on Monday at twelve o'clock, to take up the matter of jitney buses in Hyde Park—I do not think that that is a fair proposition to come to the vote at twelve o'clock and to take up a proposition which covers the transportation system in Hyde Park, and to ask me to vote without any knowledge of the contract that is being made between the City of Boston and the Boston Elevated Railroad. I feel that for the protection of all the citizens of Boston, we should at least have a reasonable time to get the facts of the case. I am going to stand up between the Mayor or his representative and the Boston Elevated. I feel that I, as one member of the City Council, have a right to know the facts of the case. I feel that this proposition here of voting to give the Elevated a right of operating jitney buses in Hyde Park, and find out, a week from today, that it is all wrong. It seems to me that this proposition is not enough to give the bus line a right. I think that we should have the bus before us. If we do not, then I am in a stronger position that I do desire to see the legislation passed. I think that it is very satisfactory to me, I will not vote to give them the jitney buses unless we are protected. I see in the city ordinance here that it provides that the City Council shall have no passengers shall be allowed on the jitney buses. That number is the number of seats required by the ordinance. But it also says that they shall not be allowed to operate unless they have not complied with, by filing a schedule of the time the jitney buses will run. Of course, I could raise an objection that their ordinance is not in accordance with the city ordinance, and therefore it is in no position to act upon it. Mr. Mulcahy and everybody else may be sincere, but they are not in accordance with the city ordinance by putting the time of jitney buses to be voted upon. I would rather have that information filed so we can have it as a matter of record, the same as every other thing that is done in the City Council, when they have come in here. Of course, I believe that it is better to get things before you sign your name. Then it is sure. It is better to get such things than it is after you have signed.

Mayor CURLEY—Of course, the only answer, Mr. Chairman, is that if the Elevated were permitted to exercise its own judgment, it would not go beyond that. In fact, at this time have they been desirous of going beyond that? They have never had a desire to so much as take over the property of the city with the taking over of the property and the franchises of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway. In conferences with them I have insisted that they should not run the city; they must also furnish service to Mattapan square. They were agreeable to running Mattapan square, but it required more than four years to get the franchise before they could be induced to run to Mattapan square. They absolutely refused to operate a line to Mattapan. Therefore, what we have secured in this instance is the operation of the bus line that is now operating, is a system of transportation for the Hyde Park station that is 100 per cent operation, 100 per cent service. The Rapid Transit has never received prior to this time. In addition to that, we secure a service required to pay heretofore Hyde Park has been the only place where the city has been best bargain we can make at the present time for the people and for the city. I do justify a failure to make any other project. Objections may be raised, technical and Parliamentary, by any method of legislation that we could find. All legislation is a matter of compromise. Some one has to be compromised. I think this compromise or com-

Mr. MULCAHY—I would say, if I may, that the schedule of operation to which Coun. Moriarty referred is required by the ordinance to be filed with the Police Commissioner; not with the City Council. That is all taken care of after the license is granted by the City Council. It is nothing that is required to be in this application which is now before you.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. Chairman, I move that the committee report back on the order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr Chairman, I am going to ask that it be laid over until tomorrow at one o'clock, and the meeting be adjourned here until one o'clock tomorrow.

Coun. WATSON—I cannot be here tomorrow. I came to town purposely to attend this meeting.

Coun. MORIARTY—I will say that I should not be here now if it comes to that, and if you are going to stand on that I am going to raise the technical objection that this petition is not in the right place that it ought to go to the Committee on Juries.

Coun. WATSON—Coun. Brickley moves that the order be reported back to the Council. Coun. Moriarty moves, as a substitute, that the matter be laid on the table. Do you raise the question that it is not in the right place on this?

Coun. MORIARTY—Yes.

Coun. WATSON—The Chair rules that the Executive Committee has a right to refer it there, if it should see fit to do so. It is a question for the Executive Committee.

Coun. Moriarty makes the substitute motion, that the matter be laid on the table.

COUN. DOUGHUE.—Mr. Chairman, I am not satisfied with this proposition going on today. My mind reverts back to a time a year ago, again, at the very hour, when the Legislature passed the most important bill ever perpetrated on the people of Boston, the Elevated control act. I am not going to be one of those to vote for anything else for in the Boston Elevated, because those interested in that body were instrumental in foisting that legislation on the people of Boston and the people of Metropolitan Boston are still suffering from the acts of the Elevated officials. I am not going to vote for this proposition until I have had an opportunity to see just what I am voting on. I feel just as Coun. Moriarty feels—that we have not been given the information whatsoever on this proposition. It is true, I am not satisfied that this proposition passed the last legislative session, but we did not know what kind of agreements might be entered into between the Boston Elevated and the City Council between the Boston Elevated and the City Council in Boston, until such time as it had been submitted to the City Council for its approval. I don't know that I am in favor of revoking the City Council's authority which have been granted. Then, again, we are to pay only 4½ per cent is to be paid on $225,000 paid by the City of Boston. What is to become of the rest of the property to be owned by the City? Then, again, suppose we did grant the Elevated the right to operate jitneys and they did not live up to the requirements, and we invoked the jitney law. That would only be in favor of the City Council, they would only have to run the City Council could have to have to run any service beyond that. I think it ought to be some enlightenment, at least, given to the members of the City Council, and some opportunity given to the members of the Coun. WATSON—I think that I am as much interested in protecting the taxpayers' interest, or the public interest, as any other member of the Council. But I can remember that for many, many years I have been promising that, at the very first opportunity, I would vote to give Hyde Park the same rate of fare as the other sections of the city. I have the opportunity now, and I would like to do it. I intend to vote that way. Do you desire to say something, Mr. Sullivan?

Mr. THOMAS SULLIVAN—Yes.

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Chairman, I would like to say a word.

Mayor CURLEY.—Mr. Curley.
MAYOR CURLEY.—When, during the former administration, the proposition was made to construct the elevated by the Council and by the Board of Public Control, calling for an annual expenditure, probably for the customary period of ninety-nine years, of $100,000, or $125,000 annually, it was considered very unfair was imposed on the city. But apparently at that time those were the best possible terms the city could secure. On this basis, the elevated was constructed. Now, the Elevated, $225,000, is the sum arrived at by the Public Service Commission as to the actual value of the roadbed and the equipment which it related could use to advantage. The $85,000 difference is the amount of the difference between $225,000 and $310,000 is assumed by the City of Boston, and in return for assuming that $85,000, we take over the Hyde Park section of Boston. The power plant consists of a wooden and brick building that, as a railroad siding, can be utilized for other purposes. I am sure that personally, you will prefer that the city be relieved of that obligation, but there is this outstanding proposition that we cannot get away from. For nearly a quarter of a century the people of Hyde Park have been suffering on a single fare. It has been the best possible assumption on the part of the people of Hyde Park that, when Hyde Park was annexed to Boston, Hyde Park would be benefited, rather than in theory, a part of Boston. She has been a part of Boston in reality so far as all public functions are concerned, administration, education, police, fire department, public works department, health department, and the other activities, but she has not been a part of Boston so far as transportation is concerned. Transportation is one of the most important functions administered in connection with a city. As consequence, there has been stagnation in reality. There has been a distinct injury to the people of Hyde Park in the matter of transportation and more particularly in the Readville section. The people look to the city government of Boston for relief. The previous administration was not able to give relief, even though it might represent a capital expenditure of from $100,000 to $125,000 annually. We are in a position to grant that the city will not be an auditor of the city of approximately $85,000. The plan that we take over, in all probability, will not represent an actual value to the city in excess of $100,000. But there is something which should be assumed as a part of the city of Hyde Park and Readville. They want this arrangement carried out. They want to become a part of the Elevated system. I have no objection to that. They are entitled to be a part of the Elevated system with Watertown, Everett, Malden, Cambridge and various other outlying sections of Greater Boston. Now they are not a part of the city proper. Now then, we are giving them the power to grant them the same rights and privileges in transportation—a single fare—which are enjoyed by all the other sections of Boston and the other sections of the city and towns. Interpose objections you can. You may raise parliamentary questions. We can discuss the question of transfer and the question of the transfer of the Elevated is concerned, it is only within the last year that they have agreed that their schedule would be available to put in operation on the 1st of September. Immediately upon information from the Corporation that they had agreed directly upon his receiving that information, that the Elevated would be in position to put their system in operation in Hyde Park on that date and that the city would be called. It was called without notice and so that the people of Hyde Park might not is not my way of doing business. I think there is a lot of top heaviness in the salaries connected with the Elevated system today in their offices, and I feel if there is going to be any reduction now or in the future in the labor costs, it should be at the top and not at the bottom. It does not seem to me that the Elevated motor cars and conductors are receiving even as much as they are entitled to today. The conditions of living have changed so that they have to pay more for everything than they did in former years. They are receiving, also, applies to everybody else. I appreciate the fact that it has entered into the costs of transportation, but I do want to say that I do not believe so much of the money to be laid by the Elevated Trustees, upon the permanent labor costs of the Elevated system. My only objection to this proposition is one which might be very readily overcome by a perusal of the matters in connection with it. All I have asked for is an opportunity to read over the matter that has been submitted here so intelligently, in this proposition.

Mr. LYONS—May I be permitted to give some information to the Council? So far as the bus system that is now being conducted in the Hyde Park district, may I say that it was the distinct understanding—I have forgotten as to whether the councillor was a member of the Council at that time—that immediately upon a settlement being made between the people of the Hyde Park district and the Boston Elevated officials, it was the distinct understanding that the bus company would immediately proceed to operate a motor car line, and I think that the company today is being supported by the people of Hyde Park, and it has given its solemn promise, which it is willing to keep, that immediately upon a settlement being made between the Elevated and the city, it would cease to operate. So they are losing nothing, and the letter as read by his Honor the Mayor plainly states that, and then, as far as the act is concerned, some time in June, I think it was, the Council accepted the act, and the act is nothing more or less. It provides that when a settlement has been entered into by the Boston Elevated and the City of Boston, acting by the Transit Commission, the City of Boston, acting by the Transit Commission, has the right to take over the entire property of the Eastern Massachusetts in the Hyde Park district. Section 405 provides that a valuation shall be made of that property. The Boston Elevated intended to run it as far as Cleary is concerned. His Honor the Mayor says that pressure was brought to bear on the Boston Elevated. After quite a number of consultations, the Elevated said they would not go to Readville if they had to operate over the street railway lines. They would go to Cleary square, or no further. Therefore, if a bus license is not granted, the people of Hyde Park will not have any service. The proposition was put up by the Boston Elevated that they would run to Readville by way of Mattapan for 15 cents if the people of Hyde Park would be satisfied. They wanted a local fare. The only way the Boston Elevated would give a unit fare was by running buses. So we are placed in this position where the people of Hyde Park are thoroughly satisfied that they are getting everything they can get, and that they are going to get a unit fare over the entire system of the Boston Elevated. The only way in which they can get it is by the operation of buses by the Boston Elevated in the Hyde Park district. If they cannot locate those buses the Elevated is not willing to go further and sign the agreement. The Elevated is willing to sign the agreement provided the people of Boston and of Hyde Park are willing to take service to Cleary square if they cannot run buses. But that is not satisfactory to the people of Hyde Park. The people of Hyde Park want the service. Now, then, they expect the service by the 1st of September. And the reason for the delay is this: There has been consultation after consultation, and after the consultations were concluded, then it was necessary to draw a lease. That lease was drawn by the city and the Boston Elevated was drawn, the city and the Elevated immediately filed an application—I think on the 23d of August—for a bus license. The people of Hyde Park want the system to start in on the first of September. I understood that there was to be no regular meeting of the Council until the 10th of September. I talked it over with Mr. Moriarty. I saw that the buses could not run until the 1st of September had been issued, and that it was necessary to have a special meeting of the Council. That is the reason the special meeting of the Council was called. Now, then, if we do not have those buses licensed, Hyde Park won't have any service.

Coun. WATSON—The question is now on the motion of Coun. Moriarty that the matter be laid on the table.

Coun. MORIARTY—Until tomorrow.

Coun. WATSON—I do not see how we can make that the motion, Coun. Moriarty. We do not know whether we are going to meet tomorrow.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, the committee has a right to report back to the Council.

Coun. WATSON—We have a right to recommend to the full Council, but we have no right to recommend when we shall adjourn. That is for the full Council to determine. The question is the substitute motion of Coun. Moriarty that the matter lie on the table. He then suggests that if the motion prevail that we meet at one o'clock to consider the matter. But the motion is to lay on the table. All those in favor of laying the motion of granting jitney licenses to the Boston Elevated system on the table will say "Aye." Opposed will say "No." Chair is in doubt. All those in favor of the matter lying on the table will raise their hands. Opposed. It is not a vote. The question now is whether we have recommended so far as the petition to the Boston Elevated Railway with reference to their two applications to operate jitneys in Hyde Park. All those in favor will say "Aye." Opposed will say "No." Chair is in doubt. All those in favor will raise their hands. Those opposed. It is not a vote.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Chairman, I do not think that we ought to get into any deadlock on this proposition. We are three to three, voting with six members of the Council. I feel that there should be some action for the Council to satisfy ourselves that so far as is possible every adequate protection is afforded to the people of our city. I do not think that that is an unreasonable proposition. I do not think that the Council ought to refuse to grant to any member of the Council who asks it the right to look this matter over until tomorrow. I move that we reconsider the matter. The motion failed to pass. Coun. Moriarty's motion that we lay the thing on the table, in the hope that the motion will prevail so that we may get some action on the proposition. I have a great deal of confidence in his Honor the Mayor and in Mr. Lyons, and I feel that there is not going to be anything put over on the people of Boston who are asking for it. However, they are only human, and it might be that, to some of our smaller minds, something would appear that might be detrimental or that we think might be detrimental to the people of Boston, which might be very readily cleared up by some of the gentlemen I have mentioned, to our satisfaction. I think we ought to be given that opportunity. We are seeking out the protection of the people of Boston. That is all I am asking for, and I am sure that that is all Coun. Moriarty and Coun. Walsh are asking for; the delay of one day. There is no harm in this. It is not even contemplated putting the service into operation until September 1. Why is there any need of rushing it through today? Why can we wait until tomorrow, which will give the opportunity we are asking for. With those few remarks I ask that the matter be reconsidered.

President LANE—I am glad where we are going to get any information except from the gentlemen present. If there are any questions to be asked why not ask them now?

Coun. WATSON—Can we not adjourn it?

President LANE—I do not believe I can find out any more in twenty-four hours.

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Chairman, I am afraid that if we do not get against the project are losing sight of this all-important fact, that the franchise recommended here is not one that the Elevated seeks. There is nothing that they would enjoy better than to dead-end at Cleary square and let the people continue to pay a 15-cent fare instead of a 10-cent fare. It is the people of Hyde Park who want this, and the officials want to give it to them. I think you will admit that that fact. The Elevated does not want it; the Elevated has fought against it for three months. There has been warfare in the Board of Elevated Trustees on the part of one member and possibly two members. The information which I have received is that they are at all times opposed to extending the line beyond Cleary square. Now we have forced them to give the people of Hyde Park service, against the wishes of certain of the public control Board of the Elevated system. That being the case, I do not see how anything is to be gained by delay. I am perfectly agreeable to remaining here all afternoon, giving you a chance to ask me any question, Mr. Lyons and the other gentlemen will do the same. I feel that the Council is losing sight of that very important fact. It is not a matter of delay. The Commission is trying to put over something which the Elevated wants. If the Elevated had its way it never would go beyond Cleary square. We want to make them serve the people of Hyde Park, and the only way is to give them the license.

Coun. WATSON—Coun. Donoghue moves to reconsider the vote whereby we refused to lay the matter on the table on the motion of Coun. Moriarty.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, my first reason for it was on the Mayor's message. The second part of his message reads, "Immediately upon a settlement being made between the city and the people of Hyde Park, papers will be executed, which will give the people of Hyde Park Boston Elevated service with the unit fare from Readville to Cleary square, and a free zone between Boston and Mattapan, Cleary square." Of course, I may be taking the matter wrongly, and when I said I thought the Elevated was taking an unfair position, I felt that they were because they would not sign the agreement until the jitney licenses were granted. I do not think there is any member of the Council present that does not want to give Hyde Park a unit fare about a year ago, or longer, this Council had the first public hearing that the Boston city government ever had in Hyde Park. We had it as early as the city government, and on action of this body we revoked the franchise of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. That was done by a vote of this body, for the purpose of bringing about a free zone. September 1 does not arrive until Saturday. Coun. Lane says that he knows all that he wants to know about it. Well, Coun. Lane has that privilege.

Coun. WATSON—No, he said he could learn all he wanted today, this afternoon.

Coun. MORIARTY—Yes. He has that privilege. But I think the other members of the Council have that privilege. They have a right. Perhaps if they cannot get all the information they desire here, there may be other places where they may be able to get information, because I remember when we held the public hearing in Hyde Park there were prominent men in the city who called me—I don't know whether they called and asked me to come—and I went on revoking the franchise of the Eastern Massachusetts in Hyde Park. Of course, when this jitney license was granted in Hyde Park this Council gave a public hearing to the citizens of Hyde Park. I should like to hear from the people whom we are going to legislate for. I think they should be given an opportunity to be heard. There is not a man in the Hyde Park district who has not a letter. I say that I believe that everybody who has gone into the matter is sincere in their desire to do something for the people of Hyde Park. I feel that the Elevated has already been started for the people of Hyde Park, but after you once vote there is no way of taking it back again.

Coun. WATSON—Can we revoke the license, with the permission of the Mayor. I think you are wrong.

Coun. MORIARTY—That is all right. I am taking the Mayor's message and I am taking anything else. He called the meeting. Of course, technically, I can say that there is nothing before us, only the revocation of unit licenses there. I have never seen a time, during my connection with the Council, when a member asked for a postponement for a certain time and that courtesy was not extended to him. I do not know that that prevailed before. In every other instance that postponement has been given for a week. The only postponement I have asked for is for twenty-four hours, and we are going to see how we can get it. I have asked for four hour postponement for the purpose of getting enlightenment. If Coun. Lane or any other member of the Council has got all the information that they desire, I am sure they have not. I do not want to be compelled to vote when I have not got it. If I cannot get it I will be prepared to vote on it tomorrow. I am speaking for myself. I do not know what anybody else is going to do. As I understand from the chairman of the Transit Commission, the papers are already drawn. I asked him if it would do me any good if it was laid over until tomorrow, and he says, so far as he is concerned, he cannot see any. Now, why quibble?

Coun. WATSON—That is what I say.

Coun. MORIARTY—Of course, technically, the attorney of the Elevated reads from one city ordinance and I read from a pamphlet here, of the ordinance of 1921, haven't I? Is the schedule of operation filed with the license, that is the application. Now, he reads section 7. I will read section 12.

Coun. WATSON—Read that again.

Coun. MORIARTY—Section 12. "The schedule of operation filed by the licensee with his application for said license."

Coun. WATSON—Speaking of the operation, of the route, which?

Coun. MORIARTY—Schedule of his—"the schedule of operation filed by the licensee with his application."

Coun. WATSON—What do you say to that, Mr. Lyons? If that is so, and they are not here, would the license be legal?

Mr. LYONS—There are two distinct provisions. One says the schedule of operations must be filed with the Police Commissioner and the other with the City Council. I think, with those, technically Mr. Moriarty might be right.

Coun. WATSON—He might be? He is right, isn't he?

Mr. LYONS—I say he may be right. I suppose that is so. At the time they were filed with the Police Commissioner it may be construed as filing in the state.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Lyons, doesn't the city ordinance compel them to file both?

Mr. LYONS—To file both.

Coun. WATSON—I think Coun. Moriarty is right.

Mr. LYONS—I bow to the judge.

Coun. WATSON—Of course, I am only the Supreme Court.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Second the motion.

Coun. WATSON—It seems to me, under the circumstances, Mr. Mayor, it might be well for the Elevated to draw up their proposition in a proper form, legal form. Do you think so?

Mr. MULCAHY—Mr. Chairman, if I may answer your question? The ordinance which Coun. Moriarty has read does not state, in any mandatory form, that there shall be filed with the application a schedule of operation. It refers to the schedule of operation filed with the application, to be sure, but it refers to the schedule of operation provided for in section 7. Section 7 says there shall be filed with the Police Commissioner, by the licensee, certain papers, which include a schedule of operation. If desirable that we file a schedule of operation with the City Council, as well as with the Police Commissioner, I will be very glad to do it.

Coun. WATSON—I, for one, should prefer to follow the advice of the city Law Department, on the subject, rather than your course, Mr. Mulcahy, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. MULCAHY—Yes, sir. While I am here, I would like to make a statement for the benefit and information of the Council, as to the position of the Elevated Trustees. Something has been said about what they would do and what they would not do. The situation is this, and I am advising the Council, the acts of the legislature, we are authorized to enter into a lease for certain portions of that property which is to be acquired by the city from the Eastern Massachusetts road, and we have agreed with the city to take a lease of the road from the Hyde Park-Boston line to Cleary square, at the rental which has been described.

Coun. WATSON—That is all fixed by the Legislature.

Mr. MULCAHY—That was fixed by the Legislature, and that act was accepted by the City Council. The law does not contain the provisions of that act. As an essential part of that scheme, it was proposed that we would also operate jitney lines from Cleary square to Mattapan and from the elevated to the operation of those lines there, as the Mayor has very plainly said, does not result in any additional fare. We collect ten cents from everybody who rides from Cleary square to the Elevated system, or who rides from the Elevated system to Cleary square, and leave them there. The operation of these jitneys beyond there does not benefit us at all. We do not get more money. It simply provides further service for those people who use the street railway, and who, if they do not operate the buses, will be compelled to pay an additional fare. If the City Council does not grant these licenses it will delay the situation. I do not know, but I should imagine that the trustees would go ahead with the lease, as they have agreed, and execute the papers. They would give a unit fare to Cleary square. I say I assume, because obviously it is not to the financial benefit of the Elevated. On the contrary, it is to the financial detriment of the Elevated to operate jitney lines beyond there. I think that that is clear. However, I cannot doubt what the attitude of the trustees on this proposition will be at this time, because it is a picture that the one presented to them. They have been operating on the assumption that this is a scheme for the benefit of the people of Hyde park, and they have been met at the earnest solicitation of his Honor the Mayor, who has tried to get more and more out of the trustees for the people. This proposition of service from Cleary square to Readville at a flat 10-cent fare is the utmost they will do. Now, then, that has been the attitude of the trustees in this discussion; merely running to Cleary square, where, in my opinion, they would not be able to operate the line without jitneys. I am not authorized to say to you gentlemen finally and definitely, now, that if these licenses are not granted, we will undertake to furnish service to Cleary square. That is the situation in a nutshell. We do not expect to derive any financial benefit from the operation to Cleary square. We do not expect to carry people beyond Cleary square.

Coun. WATSON—Don't you consider the good will of the car rider a good return on the investment?

Mr. MULCAHY—We do, Mr. Chairman, and we conceive that our job is to furnish service. The better service we give, the better we are doing our job. But you can go only a certain distance with it. It is the people of Charlestown and other parts of the state to assume the burden to a certain point. You cannot ask them to assume it beyond that point. It is a broad proposition. I am entirely willing to answer any questions in my power which may be asked by any member of the Council. There is no disposition on our part to rush anything through, but to consider anything. If it is desired that we file with the commission a schedule of operation I will be very glad to do it and I will attend to it here this afternoon.

Coun. WATSON—Don't you think it would be more sound in the granting of the license, Mr. Mulcahy?

Mr. MULCAHY—It did not seem so to me, but I will defer to the judgment of the city Law Department.

Coun. WATSON—The question is the reconsideration of the vote on the motion of Coun. Moriarty to lay the matter on the table, which was defeated by three to two.

Coun. DONOGHUE—I would like to ask Mr. Mulcahy a question before the vote is taken. Supposing that a person living in Mattapan wants to get to Cleary square. How does he get there?

Mr. MULCAHY—He takes a bus and pays 10 cents.

Coun. DONOGHUE—You said you did not expect to derive any benefit by running the buses to Cleary square?

Mr. MULCAHY—We don't, and the reason for that Mr. Donoghue, is this. As regards the bus, towards the bus anywhere between Mattapan and Cleary square gets a free transfer. He has a right to ride to any part of the elevated system for that 10-cent fare. At the present time he pays a ticket and gets his local ride. He rides to Cleary square. Coming into town, as over 90 per cent of the people do, he pays another 10 cents. What we are doing is to give them that ride for 10 cents, by giving them a transfer. The transfer entitles them to ride to any portion of the system. So it is with a person going in and coming out the other way. He gets, for 10 cents, a ride to any part of the line. There are two sides of the picture, a 10-cent local fare and a free transfer to any part of the system.

Coun. DONOGHUE—What is the nature of a transfer from Cleary square? Where can you use it?

Mr. MULCAHY—Use it to any point of the system where you are going to Cleary square, you get on a bus. You get a transfer. You pass that to the conductor and that entitles you to ride to any point on the system. In your own hand, come out when you leave the square—leave the car at the square—you get a transfer which entitles you to ride to any place, on the bus, or clear out to Readville.

Coun. DONOGHUE—In order to pick up that class of riders at any point, is that why the petition asks that the other jitney licenses be revoked?

Mr. MULCAHY—The petition asks that the other jitney licenses be revoked, first, when those jitney licenses were granted, as I understand it, they were granted on the express understanding that when jitney service was acquired by the people of Hyde Park that service should be abandoned.

Coun. WATSON—When two services were given.

Mr. MULCAHY—When two services were given. At that time the service at Cleary square was abandoned.

Coun. WATSON—That is the understanding we got.

Mr. MULCAHY—Of course, it is understood that competition between jitneys is very high, and we do not propose to go into the situation if any other jitney is going to run between Mattapan and Cleary square or between Readville and Cleary square. Obviously we do not want to run competing jitneys. That would be uneconomical and we would be losing more money than we are justified in throwing away on the other roads of the system. As I replied to the chairman, it is simply a question of how much we can take from the car riders and how much we can take from the other riders of the system. Nobody is making any money out of it. You are familiar with the public control act, Mr. Councilman. You understand that act. The bondholders or shareholders get their return whether the system makes money or loses money. The people who pay the cost of the service, the car riders, do not pay their nickel or dime. We say that when we render more than 10 cents worth of service at Hyde Park that has to be paid proportionately by the other parts of the system. There is no question about that. We are justified in going. We say we will give you a transfer to any part of the system or a 5-cent fare for local riding. That is the proposition and we do not intend to go back on that. We say we will give you a 10-cent transfer or a 10-cent fare for local riding.

Coun. WATSON—Let me ask you. Can you get out of it any other way?

Mr. MULCAHY—Buses. The Norfolk & Bristol Company runs a bus from Mattapan to Cleary square, Readville to Cleary square, the Dedman line to Cleary square, to the Hyde Park-Boston line.

Coun. WATSON—And the fare from Readville to the heart of Boston, today, is 15 cents?

Mr. MULCAHY—That is correct. Under this proposition it would be a dime, not more than from Cleary square to any part of the system, but it would be a dime from Readville or Mattapan or any point between.

Coun. WATSON—From Readville to Arlington a dime?

Mr. MULCAHY—Yes. If this license is not granted, if this service continues, and it is guaranteed by the city, it will still mean a 15-cent fare, because you have to pay the local jitney fare, not only a dime to the square. All this proposition amounts to, is giving the people a 10-cent fare, a rate relief from paying 15 cents when they come into town. It changes the local fare to 10 cents instead of there, but it is offset by the transfer.

Coun. WALSH—That fare is 10 cents?

Mr. MULCAHY—Yes.

Coun. WALSH—You come back for 10 cents and you get a transfer.

Mr. MULCAHY—Yes.

Coun. WALSH—Now it is 10 cents on the jitney?

Mr. MULCAHY—That is right, 10 cents local riding.

Coun. WALSH—Why could not the company give them a transfer back?

Mr. MULCAHY—Because, Mr. Councilor, we do not have the right as we are in giving the free transfer. We are losing as much money as we would be justified in placing upon the other car riders of the system, who are giving us a 10-cent fare. "We will give you a 5-cent local fare." The Mayor has very eloquently urged those points on the trustees, and they have been fully covered.

Coun. MORIARTY—What is the distance from Mattapan to Cleary square?

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Sullivan, can you give that?

Mr. SULLIVAN—A mile and 51/100.

Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. Mulcahy, you talked a great deal about the burden assumed by the other riders on the other parts of the system served by the Elevated, but I think the trustees have right of the fare, which I think is a primary act, that the citizens of Boston are entitled to the first consideration rather than the citizens of Brighton, Newton, Watertown, Cambridge, and so forth, and it is no talk of giving them less service, but rather talk of giving them more efficient service from day to day. I think the trustees of the Elevated are looking at it from the wrong viewpoint. I think that the needs of Boston should be taken care of by the Elevated system, and if they can be extended or the car riders can bear the expense of extension to other cities and towns, well and good, but Boston first.

Mr. MULCAHY—Mr. Chairman, replying to the suggestion I wouldn't say that I think Boston is first, any more than Cambridge or Chelsea or any other part of the district is first. They should be treated fairly and equally. There would be no question of one over the other. They are all one district.

Coun. DONOGHUE—They ought to be, but they are not.

Coun. WATSON—I hate to admit it, but I think the service is getting worse every day. Mr. MULCAHY—Mr. Chairman, I can get your viewpoint. It is hard for you gentlemen to appreciate why people in Hyde Park want Elevated service. It must be a problem to you, who hear so many complaints, why they want it.

Coun. WATSON—They cannot get anything else. That is not enough. Well, the question is reconsidering the vote whereby Coun. Moriarty's move to lay on the table was defeated. Be reconsidered.

Mr. LYONS—The system today is operating between Mattapan square and Cleary square.

Coun. DONOGHUE—What is the rate of fare from Mr. Lyons?

Mr. LYONS—The rate of fare is 5 cents. But, you understand, in addition, that the act which was passed provides that if we cannot pay we must take all the Eastern Massachusetts property. We cannot take Cleary square and let the Eastern Massachusetts operate there. The Legislature was insistent that we took any, and the Eastern Massachusetts insisted and said unless we took all of the Eastern Massachusetts property, that the bill would not become a law. The committee said unless we did that we could not dismember their system. That meant that when the city takes it it must take all of the street railway property in Hyde Park. If you do not grant the jitney licenses we are in this in this position. The system will operate to Cleary square and you have no system except the bus system, where you have to operate continuously at a 5-cent fare. But, only that, the Elevated must not operate to Cleary square today. The Elevated operates only to the old Hyde Park-Boston line. The Eastern Massachusetts operates from the old Hyde Park-Boston line through to Readville. If you take one of their cars, instead of paying 15 cents, you must pay 20 cents to get back to Boston. If you take the bus you can get back to Boston for 15 cents. The bus system is established by law from Readville to Boston for a single unit fare of 10 cents, or you can come out by way of Mattapan and go to Readville for a 10-cent fare. So far as the street car line is concerned, you are reducing it from 20 cents to 10 cents and so far as the bus and Elevated is concerned, you are reducing it from 15 cents to 10 cents. That is what the bus license means.

Coun. DONOGHUE—But, so far as the local service is concerned, you are increasing it from 5 cents to 10 cents.

Mr. LYONS—On that I think I can speak to some extent of the wishes of the people of Hyde Park. The Elevated is willing, or were willing, to give a local fare of 5 cents in Hyde Park, provided that the city would give Boston they pay 15 cents. They said they had to do one thing or the other. They had the other to give a unit fare from Readville to Boston and over the street car line, 15 cents, or they would give a 15-cent fare from Readville, with a local fare of 5 cents. The people of Hyde Park believe they ought to have the same unit fare from Readville to Boston from one end of the district to the other as to the other parts of the district.

Coun. WATSON—Well, Mr. Mulcahy, isn't it possible that the city might have this question of 5-cent fare might be favorably considered by the public trustees?

Mr. MULCAHY—It is entirely possible, Mr. Chairman. That is what the Mayor has been considering.

Coun. WATSON—Well, can we get together? The question is on the motion to reconsider the vote whereby Coun. Moriarty's motion to lay on the table was defeated. Those in favor say "Aye." Opposed "No." Well, the Chair is in doubt. All those in favor of reconsidering hold up their hands. Well, I shall vote to reconsider the votes. When we reconsider, what is the wish of the Council? I think we ought to stay here and thresh this matter out today. I am prepared to stay here as late as six o'clock if necessary. I think we can get all the information we want.

Coun. BRICKLEY—If the members of the Council cannot get sufficient information here, what is the use of the Council sitting any longer in session. The gentlemen seem to want some outside information, so there is no use of our sitting here. They have to get the information they can get here. These gentlemen are here to answer all questions.

Coun. WALSH—There are no citizens of Hyde Park here.

Coun. WATSON—They have been coming here for seven years.

President LANE—We would have to give five days' notice for a public hearing.

Coun. WATSON—Well, I am willing to be criticized for voting for something, at least, that I do not know anything about. I am willing to vote today. For seven years I have been promising to vote, early and often, for a unit fare with Boston, and I would rather not leave today without voting on it.

I cannot conceive that the Elevated is getting any benefit from one car line, because I am favoring them. I am known to be anything but pro-Elevated.

Coun. BRICKLEY—The obstacle seems to be there from Mattapan to the Cleary square. A fare of 10 cents. Well, I get on a car here and I ride to Dover street. I pay 10 cents. But I can go to Readville. I do not see why they should make any difference to Hyde Park and charge only 10 cents out there, as I, say, I get on a car here and ride to Essex street. I pay 10 cents the same as I do here.

Coun. WATSON—I think, if the Hyde Park people get together later they will get a 5-cent ride to the bus. No doubt of it.

Mayor CURLEY—I do not believe it would be anything a business, because I think we all recognize that the people of Hyde Park are entitled to a local 5-cent fare. In the last conference had with Mr. Jackson he was very friendly and favorable towards Hyde Park during the consideration of this entire question, and he has proven himself a real friend of the Hyde Park people in the past. I am not prepared to say that if the people of Hyde Park were insistent on a local 5-cent fare, within reasonable time he believed it would be granted.

But, the question as Hyde Park is concerned, is really an experiment from the revenue standpoint. I do not believe that it is going to be a paying proposition to the Boston Elevated system. I think that Mr. Mulcahy is correct with reference to that. But I believe that a sufficient number of the trustees have recognized the necessity of acceding to the demands of Hyde Park because of the unreasonable demands of the city. Secondly, they have decided to accept the various suggestions made by the city. Two recommendations have been rejected. One was that the Elevated operate a bus line from Cleary square to the Dedham line on River street, and the other was for a local 5-cent fare in Hyde Park. But it seems to be understood that if that particular line is unprofitable to the Eastern Massachusetts it cannot, overnight, be made profitable to the Boston Elevated; that if the Boston Elevated were required to operate over steel tracks with the regular system of transportation rather than a bus line, it would represent a capital expenditure of approximately a quarter of a million dollars to lay a double track on River street. As the present tracks are practically unsuited for use by the Elevated system. That being the case, with the people of Hyde Park wanting transportation and everyone admitting that they are entitled to transportation, and the Elevated having no desire at any time to extend their lines between Cleary square, the Boston Elevated has before it the question of providing for transportation for the convenience and benefit of all the people of Hyde Park, in every portion including Readville, it is not surprising that they have adopted this system. I have before me a comparative report of the months of July, 1922, and 1923. The state, municipal and federal taxes, $135,000, for the month of July of this year. Rentals to be paid to the City of Boston, $135,000, of equipment, of $600,000, which the City of Boston received in subways and terminals and rentals. We must protect the investment which the city has in the Elevated system. We do not protect it if we allow competing lines to cut into the revenue of the system. It is not fair to ourselves if it is not just to the city. So far as the cost of operating the road is concerned, the cost of service per passenger a year was .0944, very nearly 10 cents, because the pay roll was over $100,000, and the revenue was 4.3 this year. It may be that the associates will recommend some increase. The Elevated Trustees are agreeable to an increase of 4 or 5 cents, whatever it may be. I do not know what the nature of the compromise is which may be determined on, but when you say that you do not believe that the operating costs, so far as the city is concerned, are permanent, I agree with you. They are not permanent. Indications are that they are going to increase every time we have a conference. I do not want my salary to be reduced, and you do not want your salaries to be reduced, but so far as this Hyde Park opposition is concerned, I do not want any member of the Council to get into the idea that it is a proposition which the Boston Elevated is desirous or anxious of having put in operation. It is a proposition which we are compelling them, by the force of conference, by the force of action, to accept. I want the people of Hyde Park, and by the establishment at their own expense, of a jitney system in Hyde Park, to take over. It probably will represent a cost to the Elevated system for a number of years. I don't know whether it is one year, two years or five years, but certainly for a period of years it is going to represent a cost to the city. The cost of the elevated will be reflected more than a hundred-fold by the benefit to the people of Hyde Park. I cannot really see anything to be gained except injury to the people of Hyde Park by a postponement, or by further extension of consideration by the Council. I am as much interested in serving the people and preserving their rights as any member of the Council.

Coun. MORIARTY—I would like to ask the Mayor what injury it would do to postpone, say for twenty-four hours?

Mayor CURLEY—I cannot see any injury, Mr. Chairman. Thank you. But I cannot see any benefit if any body has the proper thing for me to do would be answer the question in the Yankee fashion by asking what benefit it would be.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman, all I did that for was to see a stenographer here, and the Mayor has said an injury to the people of Hyde Park—

Coun. WATSON—I might say, Coun. Moriarty, while the stenographer is taking this matter, unless it is wished, it will not be printed. I have been trying to get his ear for an hour to tell him that.

Coun. MORIARTY—If I do not notify, it will be printed. I do not see how it will be any injury to the people of Hyde Park to have a postponement. Taking the Mayor's words, it has been going on for a quarter of a century. They ask us to come in here and pass or a subject on a minute's notice. There is not any member of the Council—I cannot speak for any member of the Council, but I was absolutely did not know what was coming up here today. As a member of the Council, I have got a right to seek information, and I think that everybody connected with it ought to give us that right to seek the information. I do not feel that I want to be put in the position, tomorrow, of being asked why I voted for it, other than for the benefit of the people of Hyde Park. I do not see how it can be, every member of the Council—has done everything, and I believe every member of the Council is in accord with the Mayor when he proposes this. I do not see how this subject was up when the license was given to the Bristol & Norfolk. There were other applications for jitneys, and the Council refused to grant them, and gave a sole franchise to that organization. I do not see how it can be the same proposition that the Mayor is, that even if we grant this there will be no other jitneys. I know I would not vote for any other jitney if the Mayor gave it. I have a jitney license, and I have no hesitancy in saying that I cannot see any fear that they are not going to be granted. I cannot see anybody here who has opposed it. I have not heard anybody say one word that they are opposed to the granting of these licenses to the Boston Elevated. I do believe, however, that the Mayor is not satisfied, if he desires to get some other information, no matter where he seeks it, should be given that privilege of twenty-four hours in which to seek it. Of course, if we cannot get it I will vote for the proposition, but I am going first to be able to get that opportunity to seek information.

Coun. WATSON—I would like to ask Coun. Moriarty one question. What information, at the present time, do you feel you desire on the granting of these two jitney licenses that you cannot get here?

Coun. MORIARTY—The first thing I wish to do is to have the Boston Elevated comply with the law. That is one thing. It may be technical, but nevertheless they are not complying with the law or the city ordinances of 1921. I want to say that when that ordinance was drawn I was very instrumental in having some of those sections put in there, as you know. I was responsible for the bonds that are in there for the protection of the people who are going to ride in the cars, a $50,000 bond. I do not want to have the Elevated in any position—I found out since I asked the question of Mr. Mulcahy, the city ordinances compel them to carry the number of passengers that there are seats in the buses, but I do not believe that the Boston Elevated or anybody else should be allowed to file a petition here if they do not file it in accordance with the law. If we grant the proposition and they have not filed it here, the people of Hyde Park will not be protected. I think we have accomplished something here in this meeting. We have been told that the Norfolk & Bristol run only 30-minute schedules between Readville and Cleary square, and if I understood the attorney for the Boston Elevated, he said they would give them 15 minutes. Now, whether the schedule is going to comply with that or not I do not know, so perhaps we have accomplished something by sitting here and not passing it as it came in, without having much talk. Perhaps we have accomplished something more for the people of Hyde Park, and I want to say that I am interested only so far as the action of this meeting today is concerned, in the people of Hyde Park.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. Chairman, was there not a vote?

Coun. WATSON—I think we are just taking everybody's time.

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Chairman, if I might be permitted to say just a word? Counsel for the Elevated Mr. Mulcahy, is now drawing schedules. I think we have not within five or ten minutes, if the Council is agreeable. I do not want it understood that I think any injury would be done by postponement for twenty-four hours or forty-eight hours.

Coun. BRICKLEY—May the Chair ask the members if they will be here tomorrow, and if we will have a quorum?

Coun. WATSON—I have arranged to go away tonight, but I will be here tomorrow. My first duty is to my constituents.

Coun. LANE—Mr. Chairman, can we adjourn until tomorrow?

Coun. WATSON—We can recess until tomorrow and the Executive Committee meet tomorrow, if you want to do that. Then we can do so without question. But there will not be any roll call tomorrow.

Coun. BRICKLEY—The council has said he is in favor of it. Let us put a vote that ought to pass, and let it rest in the Council and take a full vote tomorrow.

Coun. WATSON—Why, I do not know as we ought to quibble. Let us act on it tomorrow or not. I wish we could do it today, but the Council is decided on the question. I think Mr. Mulcahy ought to change his application. It is very evident, Mr. Mayor, we will have to adjourn until tomorrow.

Mayor CURLEY—Mr. Mulcahy would not be here tomorrow.

Mr. MULCAHY—Mr. Chairman, I am now in a position to give you the schedule of operation.

Coun. WATSON—I think you may take a little more time. I take it for granted we will adjourn until tomorrow, and the full Council meet tomorrow. There is another matter, the revocation of the Norfolk & Bristol Bus Company license.

Coun. DONOGHUE—I move it be laid on the table.

The motion was carried.

Coun. BRICKLEY—I move we adjourn.

Adjourned at 2.50 p. m. to meet on Tuesday, August 28, 1923, at twelve o'clock m.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

No. 38

PAVING DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES SET NEW RECORD FOR WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

REPORT FROM PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER JOSEPH A. ROURKE FOR MONTH OF AUGUST AND SUMMARY FOR YEAR SHOWS CITY'S HIGHWAYS ARE BEING GREATLY IMPROVED UNDER MAYOR CURLEY'S ADMINISTRATION.

This is a banner year for paving in the City of Boston according to the statement of the Public Works Department on the amount of work done thus far. Also the record for the amount of linear feet of straight edgestone set for the past three years has been broken.

For the month of August, according to the report, there were 5,133 linear feet of edgestone set and 708 feet of circular edgestone. This is more than was done for the past three years in this work. For the year there have been 27,614 feet of straight edgestone set.

Other large figures showing the activities of the Paving Department for the month are 20,500 square yards of concrete base laid, 6,185 square yards of sheet asphalt pavement laid, 22,284 square feet of artificial stone foundation laid, 88,435 square feet of artificial stone sidewalks laid, 5,541 square feet of artificial stone driveways laid. There were also among other activities of the Paving Department for the month 5,800 cubic yards of earth excavation.

For the year there have been a total of 51,458 square yards of circular edgestones set 20,000 square yards of granite block relaid with grout joints, 51,044 square yards of granite block laid with gravel joints, 93,616 square feet of bituminous macadam surface laid, 181,493 square feet of artificial stone foundation, and 6,156 square feet of artificial stone driveways laid.

This is in addition to numerous other bits of work done by this department during the past year, making a record for future administrations to shoot at and a record that will stand, it is predicted, for a number of years. The Paving Department has been one of the busiest of the entire city during this year, and almost every section has benefited by the result—improved roadways and streets.

MAYOR MOVES TO BALK COAL PRICES BOOSTING.

His honor the Mayor on Wednesday, September 19, addressed the following communication to Frank P. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies:

"The indications are that the settlement of the coal strike may be utilized by the coal dealers as a pretext for an increase in the price of coal sold at retail in Boston.

Valid objection cannot be raised to an increase equivalent to the increase in the cost of mining, namely, 75 cents per ton, but experience teaches that not infrequently advantage is taken of a situation similar to that which at present obtains.

For the purposes of stabilizing prices you are hereby directed to make an initial purchase of 5,000 tons of anthracite coal, and such additional quantities as may from time to time be necessary during the coming winter, to be sold at such price as may serve as a deterrent to unfair and unwarranted advances upon the part of the coal companies in the price to be charged the public.

MAYOR FELICITATES DEMPSEY.

Mayor Curley received a telegram from Jack Dempsey which read, "Your wire received. Please accept my sincere thanks." This is a sequel to the correspondence between the Mayor of Boston and world's heavyweight champion. Soon after the fight the Mayor received a telegram from Dempsey in return for one of congratulation. Dempsey's first telegram puts in a good word for Jimmy Hussey, now playing in the Follies, reading as follows:

"My pal, and an Irishman like ourselves, is opening in your city Monday night and I assure you that it will be a personal favor if you will extend the courtesy of meeting Jimmy Hussey in person or allow him the pleasure of calling on you. With best wishes, your pal, Jack Dempsey, World's Heavyweight Champion."

The Mayor answered in the following telegram: "Congratulations on recent splendid victory through which the heavyweight championship of the world is retained by America. I shall be most pleased to extend every courtesy to your pal, Jimmy Hussey."

MAYOR WOULD TAX FUTURE BOND ISSUES.

SENDS DELEGATION TO NATIONAL TAX ASSOCIATION CONVENTION, INSTRUCTED TO CAMPAIGN FOR PLAN.

Congressional legislation that would bring all future issues of Federal, state, city and town bond issues back under taxation is Mayor Curley's aim. He has commissioned Chairman Edward T. Kelly of the Board of Assessors and City Collector William M. McMorro to attend the National Tax Association's convention at White Sulphur Springs, Va., September 25, to wage a campaign to put that convention unanimously on record as favoring the enactment of such law.

"Billions of dollars' worth of such securities that used to furnish a fair source of tax revenue are now exempt from taxation," said the Mayor, "as a result, we've had to pile heavier burdens on real estate.

"Tenants to whom property owners can pass these burdens, in the way of increased rent, simply pass the burden along the line to the consumers who buy goods of the tenants.

"This shirking by the big financial interests of their fair share of taxation has gone on quietly but surely. They retained the best legal brains to secure their evasion, and have succeeded admirably. The result is that in Boston and other municipalities the unpropertied classes are shouldering the heaviest load.

"This was conclusively proved in the recent change in taxation on National bank stocks. It is now an open secret that the nation's bankers cleaned up big on Liberty Bonds. The people bought the bonds at par. In the trade depression that followed the World War the people sold these bonds for as little as $86.

"Then millions of dollars of bank funds were invested in Liberty Bonds and state and city bonds. Beside netting themselves the premium between the $86 purchase price and the levels at which the various Liberty issues stand now the bankers are getting regular interest payments, the Libertys and these other issues remaining tax exempt.

"I cannot believe it will be more than a year or two before Congress accedes to the general demand for reform in this matter, hence I have sent these officials to the national convention to agitate the matter there," the Mayor said.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MUST EDUCATE COUNTRY TO WHAT THE AUTO MEANS TO SUCCESS OF COUNTRY.

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS IT THE HANDMAID OF TRANSPORTATION AND THE KEYSTONE OF EDUCATION IN ADDRESS BEFORE MOTOR ACCESSORIES MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTION AT COPLEY-PLAZA HOTEL.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address at the opening of the Motor Accessories Manufacturers' Convention at the Copley-Plaza, Wednesday, September 18:

GENTLEMEN,—It is a great pleasure to welcome to Boston the representatives of an important division of one of the most prosperous and useful industries in the United States.

There are said to be 12,000,000 automobiles owned in this country by individual owners. Some regard these figures as an evidence of American extravagance; I prefer to look upon it as an evidence of American prosperity, individual thrift, and industrial activity. Your branch of the automobile business is an economic evolution and an application to the industry of the principle of standardization which results in an enormous saving of time and expense to manufacturers, salesmen and owners of motor machines.

The invention of the printing press, the steam engine and telegraph have always been regarded as the most remarkable achievements of man because of their influence in revolutionizing and speeding up civilization. The motor machine—the horseless carriage as it was first known—has been equally revolutionary in its influence and effect upon the world. With the tremendous growth of the world, the increase of population, the multiplication of productive industry and the necessary intensification of trade and commerce to market the enormous industrial production of human industry and secure its raw material, it is no exaggeration to say that transportation—speedy and efficient—is the keystone of civilization and its preservative.

The coming of the automobile solved problems that were vexing the great thinkers of the world; and by the new ideas it generated and the mechanical principles it developed it has revolutionized the relations of man to man, community to community, and nation to nation.

The aeroplane is a development of the automobile which has in it the possibilities of changing the whole system of international comity and communication. The auto has transformed war, speeding up on earth and in air the battle contact of armies and navies, multiplying its hazards, disasters and tragedies, and bringing home to humanity the truth that if our civilization is to endure, man must find some other way of settling his disputes and difficulties with his fellowmen than by wholesale homicide and destruction.

Out of the automobile has come the imperative need for improved highways and streets to take care of the vastly increased traffic and new methods for protection from the hazards of that traffic for human life and limb. At this particular time the increase in the industry out-races the provisions for prevention and protection, which involve expenditures that frighten finance but which must be met by better and more numerous traffic lanes, surface or sub-surface, and safety highways for pedestrians.

The special mechanical and motive features of the automobile are as necessary in peace as they have been terrible in war, and have been applied to agriculture, navigation, productive industry and almost every department of human activity. The speed and mobility of the auto truck has hit the railroad hard and given it notice that it must move up or move out in the near future; and so its influence is felt beneficially or fatally all along the line of human endeavor.

Here in Boston the growth of the auto industry and the multiplication of machines have created problems for us that must be met and solved, that call for initiative, energy and great expense, and that constitute a warning to legislatures, municipalities and banks that a situation is here that will test the talents and resources of the community. In this day we must keep ahead of our progressive civilization or be run down by it.

So I feel the coming of your special industry—automobile accessories—to Boston is a call to action, a reminder that we must ignore and avoid the fads and fancies of government reform, and meet the practical demand of the age, or acknowledge ourselves beaten in the race.

Boston is a peculiar city with a peculiar people, with, sometimes I think, a congenial antipathy to change; yet change she must to meet the new conditions of a new age, and that change will cost money.

The psychology of the people of Massachusetts must be changed by practical education in the facts as they are, in the necessity for improvement if we are to continue in the race; and the germ which has wrought this necessity for new men and new methods to meet new conditions—is the automobile and the mechanical principles it materializes.

Yours, gentlemen, is a great industry, but if it is to do the good to human society that lies in its revolutionary progress and you are to win the prizes your activity entitles you to, each of you must become a missionary to educate your countrymen in what the automobile really is and means and does—for the automobile is the handmaid of transportation, the keystone of education.

SEEKS TO ABOLISH GRADE CROSSINGS.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to the chairman of the Transit Commission, on Tuesday, September 18:

COL. THOMAS F. SULLIVAN, Chairman,
Boston Transit Commission.

DEAR SIR,—With reference to rapid transit in the Dorchester section I believe that it is the duty of the Transit Commission to insist on the abolition of grade crossings at Park street, Melville avenue, Mather street, Center street and Welles avenue for, in my opinion, unless these grade crossings are abolished when the work is in progress it will be exceedingly difficult to secure their abolition when the work has been completed.

The best interests of the city and of the Boston Elevated Street Railway system require their abolition at once, and I trust that your commission will, by taking a firm position upon this matter, make possible rapid transit without unnecessarily endangering human life.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 372.

In the past much damage which could have been avoided has been caused to police apparatus by the negligence of the operator. Hereafter, if a police patrol, ambulance or automobile while being operated is damaged, and after investigation by the division commander he is of the opinion that there is some evidence of negligence on the part of the operator, he shall prefer charges against him.

Every commanding officer is responsible for the upkeep of motor apparatus in his division, and will cause a daily inspection to be made of the same. Upon the division commander rests the responsibility that police apparatus shall be ready for use at all times and emergencies.

The attention of the department is again called to section 24 of Rule 36 of the Rules and Regulations.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 373.

Butler perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,

MAYOR APPEALS TO POSTMASTER-GENERAL FOR BOSTON AS STATION IN MAIL SERVICE.

Mayor Curley received the following letter Friday, September 14, from the Postmaster-General in answer to his appeal for Boston as a station in the new air-mail service soon to go in operation.

MY DEAR MR. CURLEY,—I have your letter of September 8, and want you to know that the air-mail service does not include Boston on account of the fact that Congress has appropriated only for a specific route from New York to San Francisco.

Your city is to be congratulated for its progressive attitude toward transportation by air, and when opportunity offers, its desire for air-mail service will be given careful and, I trust, favorable consideration.

Very truly yours,

HARRY S. NEW,
Postmaster-General.

The Mayor immediately sent the following telegram:

HON. HENRY CABOT LODGE, Nahant, Mass.:

The aid of the Chamber of Commerce has been requested for the purpose of having Boston included in the air-mail service from the Pacific Coast. A letter was received this day in response to an invitation extended the Postmaster-General, Harry S. New, to include Boston in the service, reading as follows [then copy of above letter].

I trust it will be possible for you to secure the united support of all members of Congress from Massachusetts in order that Boston may be included in the postal air service zone.

The airport established at Boston is the largest and most favorably located of any in America and in addition is one day nearer Europe, and immediate action should be productive of real results.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

TART REPLY TO SENATOR LODGE.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter to Senator Lodge Monday, September 17, following a reply from the Senator to his Honor's telegram:

My telegram to you requesting that the Boston airport be included in the air-mail service was predicted on the knowledge that you are and have been a practical politician for more than a quarter of a century and that if anyone could secure results it should be you, not only because of your long service in Washington, but because of your personal relations with the President of the United States and whom it was my very great pleasure to hear you refer to in such laudatory terms at the recent Gloucester celebration.

Your request that I suggest under what general law or general appropriation funds may be secured for opening air-mail service at the Boston air-port indicates a latent sense of humor on your part which, were the subject-matter less important, might be worthy of appreciation.

I am fearful that Boston may receive the same treatment in the matter of consideration as a mail service airport that New England has received during the last twenty years from the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of railroad rates, and to prevent an imposition similar to that which is represented by the present discriminatory differential I wred you as the leader of the political party in control and as one who during a lifetime has demonstrated not only a practical knowledge of politics but in addition a mastery as a practical politician.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORTS ON DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WELFARE.

INVESTIGATION SOUGHT BY MAYOR CURLEY MORE THAN YEAR AGO COMPLETED, WITH FOURTEEN RECOMMENDATIONS PROPOSED FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

After a wait of more than a year following the request of the Mayor for an investigation of the department of Public Welfare, familiarly known as the Overseers of the Poor the Finance Commission has submitted its findings to the Mayor in the form of a forty-page report, together with some fourteen recommendations.

Last year, the department expenses were: Payroll, exclusive of wood yard payroll, $63,550; general expenses, $19,920, and for aid, $1,304,776. In 1912, before the mothers' aid law went into effect, the amount given in aid was only $95,672.

The report says:

"The matron stated that many of the inmates come to the home infested with vermin. As there is no fumigating machine in the house, the clothing of these women cannot be cleaned. Neither is there any provision for disinfecting the bedding.

"The department has a fumigating plant in the Wayfarers' Lodge, for men. It would seem that use could be made of this plant to fumigate the women's clothing and all the mattresses.

"Sanitary conditions at the home are very bad. The bathtub for the use of the women is made of black soapstone, and built with such high sides that it is practically impossible for old women to use it. On the second floor is a bathroom for the girl inmates, with two old bathtubs, coated with discolorations that cannot be removed.

"For the year ending January 31, last, the total number of individual lodgers, including children, was 1,914. The average age of women received at the home was 55. Many of them needed medical attendance. There is no physician at the home.

"The interior condition of the home is clean, but finished in depressingly dark colors and in great need of repainting. The ceilings are discolored and dark."

Of the Wayfarers' Lodge on Hawkins street, where Ex-Mayor Peters put up for one night as a make-believe down and outer, the report affirms:

"The lodge has not gone beyond its primitive idea of shelter. (The normal patronage there is about 5,000 men a year.) Except in periods of serious unemployment applications for accommodations at the lodge are symptoms of social disease. Emergency shelter temporarily disposes of the symptom, but leaves the underlying trouble either unaffected or affected for the worse by impairing self-reliance in the individual." The commission accordingly recommends that the overseers be given funds and a staff to do "follow-up" work upon the economic and social background of the class of men forced to apply for its accommodations, and thus to attack the problem at its source.

The report criticises the constant use of unsterilized blankets by different men night in and night out at the lodge; the blankets get only two washings a year, this laundry work being done by Long Island and Deer Island inmates.

The report praises the zeal of the overseers to do full justice to all who come to these homes. The overseers are Simon E. Hecht, chairman; Franklin P. Daly, Margaret E. Leahy, Charles F. Hale, James H. Stone, Judge Frank Leveroni, Mrs. Margaret J. Gookin, Mrs. Jeremiah J. Hurley, Joseph F. Feeney, Sophie M. Friedman, George A. Rockwell and Morris Bornstein. All serve without compensation. William H. Hardy, their secretary, is salaried at $3,500. Of him and his work, the report states:

"Mr. Hardy is a humane, conscientious and efficient official. His duties are far too many for any one executive to handle effectively."

When he asked the Finance Commission to investigate, Mr. Curley said he felt too much city money was being expended in relief work for the value obtained. The investigators find that in 1922 the department spent $63,550 for payroll, $19,920 for general expenses and $1,304,776 for aid to the poor.

Approximately 2,800 families were helped with this money. The city is divided into 14 districts, and the staff of 14 visitors each have a quota of families for regular visitation. The East Boston visitor has 246 cases, and the Grove Hall section visitor has 141. "It is obvious that visitors so burdened cannot give more than perfunctory study to their cases," the report asserts.

In the field both of mothers' aid and poor relief, the investigators have found that relief is withdrawn too soon, and in many cases could better be extended. The investigators criticise sharply the policy of making city dependents stand in line weekly or monthly at the West End establishment to wait for their dole.

The Finance Commission recommends: That the secretary of the department be made its executive head, subject to the authority of the overseers.

That there be created the office of supervisor of visitors, and that this office be filled by a specially trained person.

That there be employed in the department a sufficient number of trained visitors to relieve the burden of the present force.

That better accommodations at the central office be provided, so that the visitors may meet those in their care with due privacy.

That greater cooperation be sought by the department with other agencies for social betterment, both public and private.

That the department employ a special agent to enforce the rights of families against deserting and nonsupporting husbands.

That whenever possible, dependent mothers be paid by check.

That the health of children in families aided by the city be carefully guarded.

That where money is provided to buy articles of furniture, its expenditure should be supervised to make sure that the articles are procured.

That the income accruing hereafter, both from the trust funds and from the income already accrued, be spent annually, subject to the terms of the various legacies.

That modern office equipment, a thorough system of record keeping, and adequate clerical service be provided for the visitors.

That the Temporary Home for Women be painted throughout the interior; that the toilet and sanitary conditions be modernized; that the clothing and bedding of the lodgers be fumigated daily; and that suitable medical service be provided.

That in the Wayfarers' Lodge clean sheets be provided for the beds each night; that the blankets be sterilized daily; and that the clothing of the lodgers be fumigated every day.

That the expenditure of money received from life insurance by a family while being aided by the city be supervised by the overseers.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Warren Brothers Company have been granted an extension of time until October 15, 1923, for the completion of contract for bitulithic pavement on Jamaicaaway and Arborway.

Warren Brothers Company have been granted an extension of time until October 1, 1923, for the completion of contract for bitulithic pavement on Fens roads.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

John Guarino & Co. have been granted an extension of time for the completion of contract for building sewerage works in Cass street, between Powell street and Centre street, West Roxbury, from August 22, 1923, to August 30, 1923, eight days, due to delay caused by the difficult nature of the rock to be excavated.

J. P. Dwyer Company have been granted an extension of time for completion of the contract for piping and other equipment for new boilers at the Calf Pasture pumping station from September 1, 1923, to November 1, 1923, sixty-one days, occasioned by delay due to waiting for the completion of electric lighting and other work being done at the pumping station.

CONTRACT AMENDED.

Joseph Rugo has been allowed to amend his contract for the erection and completion of an addition to school in the Edward Everett District, Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester, by striking out the words and figures, "August 18, 1923," on page 24, section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "October 18, 1923," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said section 3, on page 24, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about December 18, 1922, and it is to be completed on or before October 18, 1923."

MORRISON ESTATE FOR SCHOOL.

Mayor Curley has given his approval to the taking of the Mary T. Morrison estate, corner of Walnut avenue and Crawford street, Roxbury, for public school purposes, the price being fixed at $125,000 for the 162,123 square feet of land and the buildings.

The mansion, long a landmark in the neighborhood, will be remodeled into a ten-room schoolhouse, and the other building, formerly a carriage house, will be made into a schoolhouse with two rooms.

The Schoolhouse Department estimates, according to the Mayor, that schoolhouses now cost at the rate of $20,000 a room, so that these two buildings, when finished, will be equivalent to a $240,000 investment in a new building. Also by this transaction, he pointed out, the city will have available four acres of land in an advantageous location. Twelve portable schoolhouses will be done away with as a result of the remodeling of the buildings on the Morrison property.

MAYOR TO CONFER ON REPORT.

Mayor Curley sent the following reply to the report of the Finance Commissioner:

HON. MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN, Chairman, Boston Finance Commission:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of report of the Finance Commissioner relative to the Office of the Public Welfare Department, the same constituting a reply to request for investigation of this department made by me more than one year ago.

I shall be pleased to confer at once with the Overseers of the Public Welfare with a view to the adoption of the comprehensive and constructive recommendations contained in the report submitted by the Finance Commission.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

WILLIAM P. LARKIN, NOTED PUBLISHER, TO BE GUEST OF CITY ON COLUMBUS DAY.

Mayor Curley announced Saturday evening that William P. Larkin of New York City, vice president of P. F. Collier & Son Company, one of the largest publishing houses in the world, and chairman of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus, would deliver the oration at the Parkman Bandstand upon Boston Common, Columbus Day, October 12, 1923, in honor of the holiday's observance.

Mr. Larkin, Boston's guest upon Columbus Day, is a leader of the bar of the State of New York. He was born in Ireland and secured his preliminary education in the schools of the Emerald Isle. Subsequently, Mr. Larkin became a student at Dublin University, where he graduated with high honors and subsequently enjoyed a prolonged period of study at Stonhurst College, the famous site of education of the Jesuit Fathers in England. Upon leaving Stonhurst College Mr. Larkin attended post-graduate courses at the famous Oxford University where he attained high rank as a scholar.

Immigrating to the United States, Mr. Larkin was a post-graduate student at Fordham University and Columbia University, New York, where he matriculated for the bar. He has enjoyed a highly successful practice of law in New York City. He early associated himself with the firm of P. F. Collier & Son Company and rose step by step to the office of vice president of the great corporation and which he holds today.

For many years Mr. Larkin has been active in the service of the Knights of Columbus and is noted for his eloquent and forceful character as an orator. As chairman of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus his reputation has reached from coast to coast.

Mr. Larkin was decorated as a Chevalier of Honor by the late Pope Benedict, and when the Knights of Columbus of the United States, Canada and Mexico raised a fund in order that a statue of the Marquis de Lafayette might be placed at Metz, in France, Mr. Larkin was unanimously chosen as orator and made a special trip to France to deliver the oration at the dedication of the statue. His eloquence reached the heart of France and he was highly honored by the French nation.

Mayor John F. Hyland of New York accepted the invitation of Mayor Curley to be the guest of the city upon Columbus Day, but his severe impairment of health and critical illness at Saratoga Springs, New York, precludes his coming to Boston. Mr. Larkin has very kindly consented to replace the mayor of his city as Columbus Day orator in Boston. Mayor Curley will give a banquet at the Copley-Plaza Hotel in honor of Mr. Larkin and guests upon the evening of Columbus Day. Mr. Larkin writes from New York that he hopes to be able to accept the invitation of Bishop Cheverus Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus to attend their banquet at the Copley-Plaza Hotel on the evening of October 11.

Mayor Curley desires, through the medium of the press, to extend a cordial invitation to citizens of Boston, and especially members of the Knights of Columbus, to attend the ceremonies of Columbus Day, upon the city's observance of the holiday.

Mark Sullivan, Corporation Counsel, 730 Tremont Building, Boston, such suggestions as you may have to offer relative to legislation of benefit to the City of Boston to be considered by the next assembly of the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

That bills and petitions may be properly prepared for presentation at the next session of the General Court, early action in this matter is imperative.

Very truly yours,

BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY COMPANY,

by EDWARD DANA,

General Manager,

31 St. James Avenue, Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee, on motion of Coun. WATSON.

The Council voted, at 12.23 o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. WATSON, to take a recess subject to the call of the President.

Coun. WATSON.—The Executive Committee is in session.

Coun. BRICKLEY.—Mr. Chairman, I would like to have the schedules read.

(The Clerk read the two citations from the Boston Elevated Railway Company.)

Coun. WATSON.—Where is Wolcott square? Is that at Readville?

Mr. MULCAHY (Counsel for the Boston Elevated Railway Company)—At Readville.

Coun. BRICKLEY.—Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask about the night service, the cars running on the Hyde Park line. Are they going through to Cleary square?

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. Mulcahy, Coun. Brickley would like to know whether, if the agreement is signed, there will be night service on the so-called Hyde Park line. All night service, you mean?

Mr. MULCAHY.—The Service between the Hyde Park-Boston line and Cleary square will be by trolley, and not by bus, you understand?

Coun. BRICKLEY.—Yes.
Coun. WATSON.—I understand it will be regular operation. We are going to operate our trolley cars. I can not say definitely just what service is going to be in future. I assume it will be the same night service that is now stopping at the Hyde Park-Boston line; that will run through to Cleary square. I can not say definitely on that.

Coun. BRICKLEY.—They have service now from Hyde Park line. They have a car going out every half hour, to the Hyde Park line, to about past twelve, and from there the buses take care beyond that.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. Mulcahy says they will undoubtedly continue the service they now have on the Hyde Park line to Cleary square. Mr. MULCAHY.—I think so.

Coun. BRICKLEY.—I wanted assurance they will get the service.

Coun. WALSH.—Mr. Murray of Hyde Park is here.

Coun. WATSON.—Ex-Representative Murray has something he desires to say. I know he will be brief.

Mr. DAVID W. MURRAY.—I inquired yesterday about the night car. The night car now runs to the Hyde Park line, the old boundary line between Hyde Park and Boston. It has twenty minutes between the cars. The gentleman operating the car told me only yesterday that they had arranged to have that car go through to Cleary square and Hyde Park, and that that service will be given.

Coun. WATSON.—Is that satisfactory to those whom you represent in Hyde Park?

Mr. MURRAY.—That is satisfactory. They are newspapermen who work nights, who require trolleys, and on their behalf I inquired and found that the cars run through. In addition I would like to say that I presented a letter to the City Council and the citizens' committee of Hyde Park, at a largely attended meeting last night. It was voted to indorse the recommendation of the Citizens' Council, and the order before you, that the service be provided.

Coun. WATSON.—That means it covers the revocation of the Norfolk & Bristol franchise?

Mr. MURRAY.—Yes.

Coun. WATSON.—Except that portion which runs between Cleary square and the Dedham line.

Mr. MURRAY.—Yes.

Coun. WATSON.—We have a communication here. If there is no objection it will be read. (A communication from the citizens of Hyde Park proving the granting of jitney permits was read by the Clerk.)

Coun. WATSON.—The question is on the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway to operate jitney buses between Cleary square and Wolcott square in Readville, and Cleary square and Mattapan.

Coun. MORIARTY.—Mr. Chairman?

Coun. WATSON.—Coun. Moriarty?

Coun. MORIARTY.—I would like to ask Mr. Murray some questions, if I may.

Coun. WATSON.—Mr. Murray.

Coun. MORIARTY.—Mr. Murray, do you know what the schedule is there now between Wolcott square and Cleary square?

Mr. MURRAY.—I believe every half hour.

Coun. MORIARTY.—All day?

Mr. MURRAY.—All day.

Coun. MORIARTY.—That is one bus?

Mr. MURRAY.—Why, I think they are running—there are several buses out there, but I think the schedule is a half hour schedule.

We have never had better than a half hour schedule to Readville.

Coun. MORIARTY.—What have you got on the other?

Mr. MURRAY.—Half an hour schedule on the Mattapan-Cleary square. We leave Hyde Park on the hour and half hour and leave on the quarter hour at Mattapan, one bus operating. I think, in emergencies, they may run an additional bus, but I think that that is their schedule, a half hour schedule. This is an improvement, if anything, upon what we now have.

Coun. WATSON.—I think they say in their schedule of time that, as conditions warrant it, they intend to increase.

Coun. MORIARTY.—It says, "In addition to the above schedule it is proposed to run such additional trips as may be required to adequately meet the traffic conditions."

Coun. WATSON.—I presume if the traffic warrants, if there are passengers enough to warrant their putting on more, they will do it. In other words, if it does not look like too much loss.

Mr. MURRAY.—It will not be a loss.

Coun. BRICKLEY.—Mr. Chairman, I move that the permits be granted.

Coun. WATSON.—There are there any further questions of Mr. Murray?

Mr. MURRAY.—No, I have no further information desired by any other member of the Council?

If not, Coun. Brickley moves, favorable action on the petition of the Boston Elevated Railway to run jitney buses between Wolcott square, Cleary square and Mattapan.

Mr. LYONS—Mr. Chairman, there are two petitions.

Coun. WATSON—I appreciate that. I said the petitions. I was just going to say—there is nothing else you want? A ton of coal or anything you want? The motion is that we report back favorably on the two petitions of the Boston Elevated Railway, to permit them to run jitneys bases at Wolcott square, Cleary square and Matapan. Is that satisfactory to the population?

(The motion, being duly seconded, was put to a vote and carried.)

Chairman WATSON—Now the question is on the communication from his Honor the Mayor, accompanied by an order, which the Clerk will read.

(An order prepared by the Mayor, approving the petitions of the Boston Elevated Railway Company, was read by the Clerk.)

Coun. BRICKLEY—I move it pass.

Coun. LANE—Second the motion.

Coun. WATSON—Councillor Brickley moves we report back "ought to pass" on the petition or order sent in by His Honor the Mayor. Are you ready for the question?

Coun. LANE—Question.

(The motion was thereupon put to a vote and carried.)

Coun. WATSON—The message of his Honor the Mayor will be placed on file. I think I will put the question, we report back "ought to pass" or placed on file, the message and report back "ought to pass" on the order.

(The question being put to a vote was unanimously carried.)

Coun. WATSON—The Committee stands adjourned.

President LANE called the Council to order at 12.43 o'clock p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. WATSON, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following, viz:

1. Reports on petitions of the Boston Elevated Railway Company referred to today for licenses to run jitneys at various points in Hyde Park that licenses be granted.

The reports were accepted and the licenses were granted year 5, may 5.

President LANE—Mr. Clerk, Coun. Gilbody and Healey have telephoned that they would like to be recorded in favor.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, you cannot make a record of that only in the minutes.

President LANE—Only in the minutes, that is all.

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred August 27) revoking all jitney or motor bus licenses in the Hyde Park section, with the exception of licenses granted the Norton & Bristol Bus Company for operation of jitneys on River street, between Cleary square and the Dedham line that the order ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

3. Report on petitions of Boston Elevated Railway Company (referred August 27) for permits to run buses at various points in Hyde Park that the same be placed on file.

Report accepted; petitions placed on file.

Wednesday, September 5, 1923.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at twelve o'clock noon, President LANE in the chair. Absent—Coun. Donoghue, Gilbody, Healey, Watson.

The Clerk read the call for the meeting, viz:

Office of the Mayor, September 4, 1923.

Dear Sir,—The disaster that has befallen Japan and the great loss and suffering sustained by the people of that country, in the recent earthquake and inundation of the entire world.

That the City of Boston, which has ever been foremost in every movement for the benefit of humanity from the assistance of our government, should take appropriate action, you are requested to attend a special meeting of the City Council at the Council Chamber, City Hall, School street, on Wednesday, September 5, 1923, at 12 noon.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

President LANE offered the following:

Whereas, The City Council of Boston has learned with sincere and heartfelt sorrow of the disaster which has fallen on the friend and World War ally, Japan; and

Whereas, We feel that the sympathy of the whole world goes out to that stricken country in its hour of trouble and need; and

Whereas, The magnitude of the catastrophe is so appalling that the imagination can hardly conceive what chaotic conditions must exist in that stricken land; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston hereby tenders to the government and citizens of Japan our deepest sympathy for the terrible visitation which has overwhelmed them; therefore be it

Resolved, That a copy of these preambles and resolutions be transmitted to the proper Japanese officials.

That the same be adopted by a unanimous rising vote, on motion of Coun. HAGAN.

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 5, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The disaster which has befallen the Japanese nation is of such an appalling nature, and the loss of life and suffering resulting to those who have survived the combination of earthquake, conflagration and tidal wave is such that it is essential that immediate relief be furnished.

Believing that the existing conditions should not only be dealt with by the passage of appropriate resolutions of sympathy but also by financial assistance from the city itself, I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Mayor be authorized to pay over the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) to the local office of the United States Consulate for remission to Japan for the aid and relief of the sufferers in the recent disastrous earthquakes, and that the same be charged to the city treasury.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, under the law I believe it requires six votes in the Boston City Council to pass this appropriation, and we have but five members present here today. Therefore this cannot be acted upon, and I move reference to the Executive Committee.

President LANE—Coun. Hagan moves this order and communication be referred to the Executive Committee. The Chair will refer it to the Executive Committee. I understand that his Honor the Mayor is coming up, and wants to be heard. We will wait for a few minutes.

The City Messenger, who had gone to the Mayor's office, returned and informed the Council through the President, that the Mayor was not there.

Adjourned at 1.40 p. m., on motion of Coun. MORTIMARTY, to meet on Thursday, September 6, 1923, at 4 p. m.

Thursday, September 6, 1923.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at four o'clock p. m., President LANE in the chair. Absent—Coun. BRICKLEY, Donoghue, Gilbody, Healey, Watson.

The Clerk called the roll and a quorum not being present President LANE declared the Council quorum at 4.45 p. m., and adjourned on Monday, September 10, at two o'clock p. m.

Saturday, September 8, 1923.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 11.30 o'clock a. m., President LANE in the chair. Absent—Coun. Donoghue.

The Clerk read the call for the meeting, as follows:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 6, 1923.

To the Gentlemen of the City Council:

I have the honor to inform you that the City Council will be held at City Hall, School street, on Saturday, September 8, at 11.30 a. m., and I am especially desirous that you make a special effort to be present. Two resolutions have been previously called for the purpose of appropriating a sum of money to aid in relieving distress in Japan resulting from the earthquake, tidal wave and conflagration.

I had sincerely hoped that Boston might be the first of American cities to set the example in the matter of a contribution that would represent all of the cities of the city.

Through the failure of the Council to attend in sufficient numbers to permit of the transaction of public business the City of Boston is denied this great honor.

I beg to direct your attention to the fact that when the question of the war of the World War was in the balance it was a representative of the Japanese government in the person of Ambassador Ichi, at that time a guest of the city and representing the government, who made the declaration as to the position Japan would take in the World War, and the declaration made by him upon this occasion was supported by his government.

When disaster overtook our fellow Americans in San Francisco, the government of Japan contributed $100,000.

The friendly relations that obtain today between the Republic of China and our own republic are unquestionably due in large measure to the position taken by the American people upon the Boxer indemnity and the insistent demand of our government for an open-door policy.

The opportunity for removing the barrier created by propagandists which might, if permitted to grow unchecked, have resulted in a war between the United States and Japan can best be removed through the extension of the hand of brotherhood and the peace of one of the few nations solvent in the world.

I trust that as a means for the promotion of a better understanding between the two peoples a special effort to be present at the meeting upon Saturday and by your vote in favor of a substantial appropriation for the aid of the people of Japan be a party to the cause by the people of Boston through its city government of the good will that America extends in the hour of distress to the Japanese nation.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

President LANE—The Chair will refer the communication to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GILBODY—I move a recess for five minutes.

Coun. WATSON—I think we ought to take a recess.

President LANE—Coun. Gilbody moves that we take a recess.

Coun. GILBODY—For five minutes.

Coun. WATSON—What is the purpose

Coun. GILBODY—To see if the six members necessary have arrived.

President LANE—Coun. Gilbody moves that we take a recess.

Coun. GILBODY—I withdraw the motion.

President LANE—Coun. Gilbody withdraws his motion. The Chair will announce that the Council will take a recess for the purpose of the meeting of the Executive Committee.

The Council voted to take a recess at 11.45 a. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

Present—Coun. Brickley, Gilbody, Healey, Lane, Moriarty, Walsh and Watson.

Coun. WATSON presiding as chairman, in the absence of Coun. Hagan. The meeting was called to order at 11.45 a. m.

Chairman WATSON—There is an order for $10,000, to be transmitted to the relief of the Japanese sufferers, which is now before this committee. Does the Mayor want to be heard on this matter, if anybody knows? I understand he does want to be heard. Will the city messenger notify his Honor the Mayor that the Executive Committee is in session and awaits his presence?

The CITY MESSENGER—His Honor the Mayor.

Chairman WATSON—His Honor the Mayor.

Hon. JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor of Boston—Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, when the order was introduced originally, it was introduced for the purpose of giving Boston the opportunity of being the first American city to contribute to the relief of the suffering people of Japan, whose country had been devastated by earthquake, flood and conflagration. From previous experiences of this kind we well know that such a disaster has always developed distress and calamity in the wake of flood and earthquake and fire, and immediate relief is necessary from the outside world. There is no nation in the world today that occupies the fortunate position occupied by the United States of America. I think it may be truthfully said that with the exception of the South American countries we are the only really solvent nation in the world. We are in position, thanks to Almighty God, not only to provide for our own needs, but to extend aid to others in unfortunate circumstances. Ever since the outbreak of the war, our country has regarded with some degree of apprehension the growing distrust that has been manifest in military and naval circles, both of the United States and Japan, and have viewed with a feeling of alarm and apprehension the prospect that at some time the Yankess of the East and the Yankess of the West in a death struggle with the Yankess of the West. I personally believe that the best way to promote friendly relations between our own republic and the republic which is naturally the commercial and industrial competitor of the United States and in all probability will continue to grow so more in the future is to extend the hand of genuine friendship in the hour of a nation's and a people's greatest trial. I recall that during the period of the World War, when our own people were in our country, the whole world waited with bated breath to learn what was the position that Japan might take toward participation with the allied nations in the war. I recall that I received their ambassador was rather timorous about stating their position, when he addressed the Constitutional Convention in the World War. I recall that And also at the luncheon which followed, he was very careful to avoid the subject. But at the banquet in the evening, he stated it was the purpose of Japan to take the side of the Allies, the French and English-speaking nations, and against Germany. Had Japan turned the other way, had she taken the side of the Central Powers, it might have caused the continuance of the war for a year or two longer, and might have seriously affected the ultimate result of the war. I think it is worth to question their motives in the past, and that we must accept their performance as an evidence of good faith. And not only do we accept as an ev-

Coun. GILBODY—I desire to ask, Mr. President, if I may, with respect to getting an opinion from the Corporation Counsel, do you think that we will get that opinion next Monday in regard to this order that we are under the impression we have not?

President LANE—We have no opinion, we have only lawyers.

Coun. GILBODY—We have an order drafted by the Corporation Counsel.

President LANE—Yes, and the Chair will state that he has informed that the Corporation Counsel has given the order, and that he has said that he will get by, but the legal, as I have already stated in my remarks, that if ten citizens should petition the Council for a restraining order, such a restraining order would be granted by the court.

Coun. WATSON—Do I understand that the Assistant Corporation Counsel informed you to that effect?

President LANE—I am told that he said that.

Coun. WATSON—In its entirety, and just as you stated it?

President LANE—Yes.

Coun. WATSON—Then let ten citizens get the injunction. They will try to get it anyway, probably.

Coun. HAGAN—I think that the very reasonable opinion of Coun. Healey will be given, and the order will not be passed. It is said that if Boston is going to give they ought to give—not by a two-thirds vote of the participating body, but they ought to give by the unanimous action of the entire body. You want to vote for it I have heard you say, and I want to vote for it, but I shall not vote for it tonight. I am not a member of the Council, I want the opinion of the Corporation Counsel expressed here. If it is going to be an illegal vote, as you say, it is not correct. It is not correct, or at any time for an order that would be illegal. I think we have taken some oath which would require us to consider the legality of our actions in connection with this. Therefore, I desire to see this postponed and I believe it is not of importance that it be passed today. Replying to the remarks of the gentleman who said that Coun. Watson said that we might have asked on Wednesday for the opinion of the Corporation Counsel, of course we could at that time, but I am not a member of the Council, and it looked as if we would postpone our meeting then until Monday, without taking any action, and I did not like bringing in the Corporation Counsel until we had a full action. I am not a member of the Council, and I would have on Monday next, after the action. There is no special reason for this. I am not a member of the Council, and we can get the official opinion, and the probability is that the entire vote will be for this measure, if you want the very reasonable request of Coun. Healey.

Coun. GILBODY—I desire to say further, in connection with this matter, that we are called upon to take cognizance of a situation which is known throughout the entire world. We are asked to exercise charity from our hearts, and each and every man has experienced a similar situation of extending that charity. Millions upon millions are without homes, and hundreds of thousands are dead, and we will stand here andicker over this matter. An order came in here some time ago for several thousand dollars to have this Council visit Buffalo, on a business matter. The order went through this Council but was finally put over by default, but now if we have charity in our hearts let us show it. If we will get the same opinion from the Corporation Counsel on Monday as we have today, let us rise and show that we have humanitarianism in our hearts.

Coun. HEALEY—When the united war work campaign was on for the food of the soldiers abroad, neither the City of Boston nor any other city in the State contributed a dollar. There was a time when charity was more needed, and the city would certainly have responded if it had been legal.

Coun. WATSON—It was not brought to our attention, was it?

President LANE—The question comes on the amendment by Coun. Healey, the next motion is to suspend the order until the next session of the Council on Monday, and to have the Corporation Counsel present to advise upon the legality of the passage of the order. The question was put and the motion prevailed. It is a vote.

Coun. WATSON—I doubt the vote.

President LANE—Coun. Watson doubts the vote, and asks for a show of hands.

The vote was taken by a show of hands and the President announced:

It is aye three in two, and the motion is lost.

Coun. WATSON—Do you mean three in favor?

President LANE—Two in favor and three opposed, and the motion is lost. The question now comes on the acceptance of the committee report and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Mr. Chairman, I call for a roll call.

President LANE—The Clerk will call the roll.

Coun. MORIARTY—I have been asked by the telephone, and I am unable to find out just what is being done. I would like to get the information, if it is possible for me to get it. May I ask what the status of the matter is?

President LANE—Coun. Healey has moved that the matter be postponed until Monday, and that the Corporation Counsel be invited to appear in the order state whether the action proposed is legal or not. Coun. Hagan, Coun. Healey and myself voted that it be postponed. Coun. Hagan and myself stating that we were only too glad to vote for the order, if it is legal. Coun. Hagan said that he would be pleased to vote for it if it was legal, but not now or at any other time if it is illegal. Coun. Healey's motion was lost, and the action comes upon the acceptance of the report of the Executive Committee and the passage of the order.

Coun. MORIARTY—I move reconsideration, if we have voted to postpone the matter.

President LANE—We have not voted to postpone it. (Confers.) Coun. Moriarty, if you will kindly take your seat for I want to find out if I misunderstood Coun. Healey. Coun. Healey has asked for a roll call on his motion.

Coun. MORIARTY—I want to find out if I can call what is the business before the Council. This is my third notice of a meeting for a single purpose. The single purpose is the matter that we have before us. On Wednesday there was a meeting called at twelve o'clock noon. We sat around here for three or four hours trying to get a quorum. Then Thursday there was another meeting called, and we sat around here again for a few hours. I want to say that I am receiving a salary from the city to be the business of the Council, but I am not going to be compelled by other people to put in all my time here. I think we have had ample time to do the business of the Council, and I want to find out and get word from the Corporation Counsel, or to have the Corporation Counsel here, and not get going to vote to postpone. If we have not got our mind made up now, if we have not got enough ideas on how we will vote, we will not have it on Monday. If there are enough votes here to let it, then let it. I am not going to vote for it. If it was Thursday, I might have voted for it, but I will not vote for it. I would positively have voted against it, but I am not going to vote to postpone. I am going today to vote on it, or not vote at all.

Coun. HEALEY—Do I understand that the Chair has ruled that the motion under consideration is the motion of Coun. Healey?

Coun. WATSON—Then I desire to call attention to the fact that business has intervened. You say we could at that time, but I am not a member of the Council, and it looked as if we would postpone our meeting then until Monday, without taking any action, and I did not like bringing in the Corporation Counsel until we had a full action. I am not a member of the Council, and I would have on Monday next, after the action. There is no special reason for this. I am not a member of the Council, and we can get the official opinion, and the probability is that the entire vote will be for this measure, if you want the very reasonable request of Coun. Healey.

Coun. HEALEY—Do I understand that the Chair has ruled that the motion under consideration is the motion of Coun. Healey?

Coun. WATSON—Then I desire to call attention to the fact that business has intervened. You say we could at that time, but I am not a member of the Council, and it looked as if we would postpone our meeting then until Monday, without taking any action, and I did not like bringing in the Corporation Counsel until we had a full action. I am not a member of the Council, and I would have on Monday next, after the action. There is no special reason for this. I am not a member of the Council, and we can get the official opinion, and the probability is that the entire vote will be for this measure, if you want the very reasonable request of Coun. Healey.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move reconsideration of the matter.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Councillor Moriarty has already moved reconsideration.

Coun. WATSON—The question before this Council is the report of the Executive Committee and the adoption of the order.

the Corporation Counsel be sent for to give his interpretation of the legality of this act?

President LANE—I think the Council should not press the Chair, and councilmen may ask before the vote is taken on this question order that the Corporation Counsel be required to come here for the purpose of expressing his opinion upon the legality of this act.

Coun. HEALEY—Do so move now, Mr. Chairman, that the Corporation Counsel be sent for to give us an interpretation as to the legality of the act.

Coun. WATSON—I rise to a point of order. The question before the Council is the report of the committee's report and the passage of the order. No other motion can be made until that is disposed of, favorably or otherwise. That is absolutely the only matter before the Council.

President LANE—The question comes now on the acceptance of the report.

Coun. HAGAN—I move, that the matter be laid on the table, and that the Corporation Counsel be sent for.

President LANE—The report can be laid on the table and the question comes on the passage of the order. The question comes on the acceptance of the report. All in favor say aye. (Some responded aye.)

Coun. WATSON—I ask for a roll call.

President LANE—The Clerk will call the roll. The question being taken by ayes and nays resolved yeas 5, nays 3, as follows:

Yeas—Coun. Brickley, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—5.

Nays—Coun. Hagan, Healey, Lane—3.

Absent—Coun. Moriarty.

President LANE—Five votes in the affirmative and three in the negative, and the report is accepted.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I move that the order of his Honor the Mayor be passed upon favorably.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I move as an amendment that the order be laid on the table and the Corporation Counsel be sent for.

President LANE—Coun. Watson moves that the order be adopted. The question is on an amendment to that motion, to lay on the table, and that the Corporation Counsel be invited to appear.

Coun. WATSON—If that motion prevails, I move that we vote on this order today, one way or the other. No, I will withdraw that. I think the only motion that can be made here is on the question of laying the matter on the table. The question of laying on the table with anything tied to it is not a motion. I am not a member of the Council, I think, is that the matter be laid upon the table.

President LANE—There can be no debate on that.

Coun. WATSON—The question now, as I understand it, is upon laying on the table the order submitted by his Honor the Mayor. Is that correct?

President LANE—Until the Corporation Counsel can be sent for. That is the way the motion was made.

Coun. WATSON—No, not until the Corporation Counsel can be sent for.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, a point of order. This cannot be debated.

Coun. WATSON—There are certain motions which can be made, and the only motion at this time that can be made has been made, that the matter be laid on the table. The balance of it is wish on the part of the councilor that it lay there until the Corporation Counsel be sent for. The rider has no right before the Council. Then, if it lay on the table, we could take some other action, and then we can send for the Corporation Counsel if we wish.

President LANE—The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

Coun. HEALEY—I move a division of the motion. First, that the matter lay on the table, and second, that the Corporation Counsel be sent for.

President LANE—That is out of order.

Coun. HEALEY—I ask for the division of the question.

President LANE—It is out of order. Only one motion can be made, and that is to lay on the table, and that motion cannot be debated.

Coun. HEALEY—It can lay on the table for a certain time.

President LANE—If Coun. Hagan desires to amend his motion, that it lay on the table until a certain time, say on Monday, the Chair will entertain it.

Coun. HAGAN—I do not care whether it is Monday or today. I am perfectly satisfied to have it acted on today if the majority of the Council so desire. I am so sure of a passage that I am taking tactics being used on a matter as important as the matter which is before us today. I think the Corporation Counsel can be brought in here, and a favorable vote can be had today, and perhaps a unanimous vote.

Coun. WATSON—The gentleman raises—

President LANE—The Chair will close the debate as the matter is not debatable under the rule. The only thing that the Chair will entertain is the amendment of the Mayor's motion that it be put over until Monday.

Coun. WATSON—Can a motion be amended by the man that makes it?

Coun. MORIARTY—I rise to a point of order. I think a member of the Council should be allowed to use his own language in making the motion. The motion is either lawful or unlawful. If I understood Coun. Hagan's motion it was that the matter be laid upon the table until the Corporation Counsel comes here. That was his whole motion, not any part. Now that motion is in order or it is not in order. The whole of his language on that motion must be considered or none of it,—that the matter lie upon the table until the Corporation Counsel comes. My contention is that with the addition of the part of his language that he made a motion to lay upon the table for a specific time, the time would have been debatable. But if he makes a motion to lay upon the table and nothing more, that motion is not debatable. But he did not make that motion; he made a motion to lay on the table until the Corporation Counsel comes. Now, that motion is either in order in all of his language, or it is not in order at all. In so far as the rules are concerned, the rule says that a motion to lay upon the table is not debatable. That is true. But Coun. Hagan did not make that kind of a motion. He made the motion that it lie upon the table until the Corporation Counsel came here. His motion is in order with his own language, or it is not in order at all. I raise that point of order.

President LANE—The Chair rules that the point of order is not well taken. The motion can be made to lay on the table until the following Monday, and that that is not debatable any more than it would be to lay on the table. There is nothing on the table, and which says that the question can be divided and debated. The rule says,—a motion to lay on the table, to take the question from the table, shall be decided without debate.

Coun. MORIARTY—But Coun. Hagan has not made a motion to lay upon the table. He has motioned to lay upon the table until the Corporation Counsel comes here.

President LANE—He did not say "until the Corporation Counsel comes here," but until he is invited to come here.

Coun. MORIARTY—I would like to have the stenographer go back and read Coun. Hagan's motion.

Coun. BRICKLEY—I ask that the motion be read.

Coun. MORIARTY—I ask that Coun. Hagan's motion be read.

President LANE—The Chair has been very lenient and the motion should be put at once. But if the gentleman desires to have the motion read again—

Coun. MORIARTY—I desire to have the motion read.

President LANE—Then I will ask Mr. Edgecomb to read it.

Coun. BRICKLEY—I think under parliamentary procedure the Chair has a right to decide whether it is right or wrong.

President LANE—I have decided that it is not debatable.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Therefore I ask that the original motion be put.

President LANE—The original motion will be put.

Coun. MORIARTY—I ask that the motion be read.

The amendment offered by Coun. Hagan, now under consideration, was read by the reporter, as follows: "I move as an amendment that the matter be laid on the table, and that the Corporation Counsel be sent for."

Coun. HAGAN—That is what I said.

Coun. MORIARTY—I rise to a point of order.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. Chairman—

President LANE—Now, unless you be permitted, and the question will be put. The question is to lay on the table.

Coun. MORIARTY—Who made the motion to lay on the table?

President LANE—Coun. Hagan.

Coun. MORIARTY—You cannot put a part of it and not the whole. He rose in his place and made a motion.

President LANE—The Chair will rule that the point of order is well taken. Now, Coun. Hagan made a motion to lay on the table for a specific purpose.

Coun. HEALEY—I wish a little gray matter might be used. I understand the chairman opposite to me (Coun. Moriarty) is a real Machiavelli, and he is an expert in this line.

The motion to lay on the table has a specific purpose. We realize that and the chairman opposite me realizes it. There are not two motions there. It is to lay on the table for a specific purpose. It is put on the table for a certain specific purpose. He (Coun. Moriarty) realizes it, and I see the smile playing on his lips, and I see the thought in his eyes to banter the President in this way. I don't believe the President should declare that out of order. And if he does declare it out of order I think I shall ask a question.

First, so that it may lay on the table, and second, to send for the Corporation Counsel.

Coun. MORIARTY—I am going to allow the Corporation Counsel to be sent for. But my friend on the other side (Coun. Healey) prior to the Chair declaring it out of order, rose in his place and asked that it be divided. If the Corporation Counsel can be sent for and gotten today, and maybe if we had not wasted so much time over parliamentary matters we could have got him here and this matter been disposed of before now.

Coun. WATSON—I hear from Coun. Healey that the Corporation Counsel has gone, and he knows where he is, and still he presides the notion that the Corporation Counsel should be sent for.

Coun. HEALEY—Well, I will be honest,—I have no doubt that the majority want to place us on record on this particular matter.

Coun. WATSON—I rise to a point of order.

President LANE—The gentleman is out of order. Coun. HEALEY—I desire to say that if we are to be placed on record I think it only fair they should also be placed on record.

Coun. WATSON—Who did you say was out of order, Mr. President?

President LANE—Coun. Healey has the floor.

Coun. WATSON—I rise to a point of order. I do go on record, but I desire to place them on record as voting for a thing for which they desire to vote without getting an opinion from the Corporation Counsel. I desire to place them on record just as they desire to place us on record.

Coun. BRICKLEY—I think that is rather plain. We waited for Coun. Hagan, and he telephoned he was on the way here. We could wait for Coun. Donoghue perhaps until Monday morning, if we want to bring out our motion. If there should be some courtesy extended here, and if there is an order here to lay on the table, no matter what is added to it, it is an order to lay on the table, and that is the Chair's decision.

Coun. WATSON—I desire to rise to a point of order.

President LANE—There is no motion before the House and your debate is out of order.

Coun. BRICKLEY—There is a motion to lay on the table.

President LANE—The Chair rules that the point of order by Coun. Moriarty was well taken. He rose to a point of order, that the motion made by Coun. Hagan was out of order, and that the two motions, and the Chair sustained him.

Coun. WATSON—I therefore move that the order reported by the Executive Committee for $10,000, for the relief of Japan, be voted upon, and that the vote be taken by roll call.

Coun. BRICKLEY—I rise to personal privilege.

President LANE—There is no motion before the passage of the order. Coun. Watson's motion is before the house just like it was before.

Coun. WATSON—And that the vote be taken by roll call.

Coun. GILBODY—A point of personal privilege. I think the words of the speaker opposite (Coun. Healey) to our chair when he made this motion, was an attempt to put somebody on record. But we ought to consider that while this debate is going on millions and millions of Japanese are suffering, and there is great suffering and many are dying. But I vote for the proposition because I voted for a $2,000 order in this body without any previous motion, except to carry over to the next city, and I am honest with myself in voting this money for the humanitarian purpose, and I invite the body to the fact that every member of the Council voted for the $2,000 order that I am speaking of.

Coun. HEALEY—I move that the Corporation Counsel be sent for, to give an interpretation of the order.

President LANE—The Chair rules that the motion is out of order.

Coun. HEALEY—May I inquire from the honorable President why the motion is out of order?

President LANE—It is not moved as an amendment.

Coun. HEALEY—Then I move as an amendment that the Corporation Counsel be sent for to give an opinion.

President LANE—Then the question comes on the amendment.

Coun. WATSON—How can the Corporation Counsel be called here to consult with this body unless we go into executive session? We must take a recess in order to talk with him. I rise to a point of order, and press my motion, and I contend that the only motion before the Council is a motion for a $10,000 order for the relief of Japan.

President LANE—Coun. Healey's amendment is in order.

Coun. WATSON—Then, Mr. President, I won't contend for the amendment.

President LANE—Coun. Watson appeals from the decision of the Chair. (Laughter.)

Coun. HEALEY—I know I never have and never will do that, but I do want to say that, that when a motion is made.

President LANE—The question comes on Coun. Healey's amendment.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I shall vote against the amendment, because the gentleman who made the motion, who said he wanted to be honest, knows very well that the Corporation Counsel cannot come here as he is not here, and that is the fact.

Coun. HEALEY—I know I never will, and that is the only way anyone taking advantage of a situation and playing politics it is the gentleman standing up here claiming to be honest with you. Coun. WATSON—There is no chance for the Corporation Counsel coming here, and if he did we would have to take a recess. I intend to vote against the motion, and I know for the fact that the Corporation Counsel cannot come here today, and the gentleman who made the motion knows it,—don't you?

Coun. HEALEY—No.

President LANE—The question comes on Coun. Healey's amendment. Those in favor signify by saying "yes." Those opposed say "No." The "no's" have it.

Coun. HEALEY—I ask for a roll call.

President LANE—The Clerk will call the roll.

Yeas—Coun. Hagan, Healey, Lane—3.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—5.

Absent—Coun. Donoghue—1.

During the calling of the roll:

Coun. MORIARTY (when his name was called)—

Mr. President, I know that I know that the Corporation Counsel could be got here today I would vote "yes." Knowing that he cannot be got here today, and the fact that the honorable President of the Council that he is not here, I vote "no."

Coun. WATSON (when his name was called)—

Mr. President, my position concerning this matter is the same as Coun. Moriarty's. If I was certain the Law Department head could be reached and get action today I would vote to have him here, but in view of this fact that he cannot be here I vote "no."

President LANE—There in the affirmative, five in the negative, and the motion is lost.

Coun. HEALEY—I move that the Corporation Counsel be notified to be present here Monday afternoon, and give an interpretation as to the order before the Council.

President LANE—The motion is out of order.

Coun. HEALEY—May I inquire again from the honorable President the reason that the motion is out of order?

President LANE—The question is on the passage of the order. It is not an amendment, and it is made as a separate motion and therefore cannot be entertained.

Coun. HEALEY—I move it as an amendment.

Coun. GILBODY—Has the Chair received information that the Corporation Counsel is not available to be here now?

President LANE—I have.

Coun. WATSON—Officially?

President LANE—Officially, from the City Messenger, who called the Corporation Counsel and found that both Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Lyons were absent, and this information he got from a man in the office who knows nothing about the case.

Coun. HEALEY—That is why I offered my amendment that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to be here on Monday. To give an interpretation of the legal effect of the order before the council.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President—

President LANE—The Chair rules that the motion is out of order, and that it can only be made by a postponement of the question before this body.

Coun. WATSON—What is the question?

President LANE—On the passage of the order.

Coun. HEALEY—I move, as an amendment to the motion of Coun. Hagan, that the order be laid on the table until next Monday.

President LANE—That motion is in order. Coun. Healey has moved that the motion be laid on the table until next Monday, and it is not debatable. (Cries of "Question.")

Coun. WATSON—I rise to a point of order.

President LANE—The gentleman will state his point of order.

Coun. WATSON—Is it in order for a motion to lay on the table to a specific time?

President LANE—It is. The question comes on the laying of the matter on the table until Monday.

The question was put, and upon a visa voce vote the motion did not prevail.

Coun. HAGAN—I ask for a roll call.

President LANE—Coun. Hagan asks for a roll call. The clerk will call the roll.

Yeas—Coun. Hagan, Healey, Lane—3.

Nays—Coun. Brickley, Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson—5.

Absent—Coun. Donoghue—1.

President LANE—There are three in the affirmative and five in the negative, and it is not a vote. The question is upon the passage of the order.

Coun. MORIARTY—I am going to make a request, that the City Messenger get in touch with the Mayor's office and see if it is possible to get one of the Corporation Counsel here, to give us an interpretation. I make that as a request.

President LANE—The gentlemen have heard the request, and it is in order.

Coun. WATSON—Is that in order?

President LANE—Unless by vote of the body that they decide to postpone the question pending the request of Coun. Moriarty.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I move that we take a recess for ten minutes.

Coun. GILBODY—I second the motion.

President LANE—Coun. Moriarty moves we take a recess for ten minutes.

Coun. MORIARTY—I have moved that we take a recess for ten minutes, and the City Messenger be instructed to get into touch with the Mayor's office, to get a Corporation Counsel here to give us an interpretation.

Coun. WATSON—Does he mean the office boy, or the head of the department?

President LANE—Coun. Watson must know that he means nothing of the sort like an office boy. Coun. MORIARTY—We get somebody to give us an interpretation of the law.

Coun. WATSON—Why not go over and get the starter from the Parker House?

President LANE—Is there objection to the request?

Coun. BRICKLEY—I desire to object.

Coun. HEALEY—I state to the court that the reason that I vote against this is because I feel from the talk I have had with the office of the Corporation Council that this thing is entirely out of the question. The fact that we did not do it for cities in this Commonwealth when there was a disaster, and the fact that when the appeal was made for funds in the war, when hundreds of thousands in the City of Boston talked of it, we did not feel that it could be legally done, and we did not give money for soldiers abroad. If you start this precedent when you admit it is illegal, I think it is objectionable, and I can see no reason why this cannot be postponed until Monday. I believe that the Corporation Council might find a way to say that it is legal. On the question of legality, and on the question that in times past when we would have done it for charity to our own people and we did not do it, I believe we ought not to do it now. And for the further reason that the Red Cross has already guaranteed the $25,000 that Massachusetts has offered to give.

First, because of the illegality of the action; second, that it is establishing a bad precedent, and third, because Massachusetts has already guaranteed the amount required, I see no reason for insisting on it. Why don't you act fair and decent, and postpone it until Monday, when everybody must feel that he is voting right. I believe that in forty-eight hours to the next session of the Council, and that is all it is, and then you men in the Council who are going to vote in favor of this thing, and say that the thing is legal. If you show that it is, then we are unhorsed.

Coun. BRICKLEY—The councilman talks about acting fair. I was notified three times about attending this meeting, and I have attended all three meetings. I answered the call when I came here, and I have ended the situation, and I am satisfied to vote. It is not my fault that these people have not got the information. I am satisfied, and I am here to vote today. I desire to have a vote taken today.

Coun. WATSON—I cannot let the opportunity pass to comment on Mr. Healey's remarks. He said without qualification that he was satisfied from the information he had received from different quarters, and so on, that the order was illegal. Therefore, if he is satisfied, why should he vote? He is absolutely inconsistent. I am prepared to vote for this order because I think that Boston should at least follow Detroit in this matter, when she should have led.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. Chairman, I am lead to believe that the majority of the members here today are anxious to pass this measure from a sense that it is purely sentimental and humanitarian. There is a minority in here that are trying to find a strong foothold that will permit them to go on without having an official legal opinion from the Corporation Council. The majority vote in here today is that the people are going to let this order go by their vote. There are but eight members present. If it comes to an actual vote, three will vote against. That leaves but five votes for it, and the order is killed. Why do they want to kill something if they argue in favor of it? Why not give us an opportunity to vote the eight votes or the nine votes, so that the Boston City Council can go on record unanimously in favor of this motion, and then here in the City of Boston we can be guided by the opinion of the Corporation Council which I assume and anticipate will be favorable, and give us the information that we can legally do what I want to pass as a matter of fact, and record that we can do so. I want this opinion on record.

Coun. MORIARTY—Coun. Healey says that we must not give money to California. I say that there is not a member here that I know of who was a member of the Council at that time. If I had been here I would have been needed to take the same amount of money, or more. Coun. Hagan says that we are going to lick it. I do not feel that way about it. We have only five votes here today. I know that we are going to have five votes. If you fellows want to go against us today, there will be another order on Monday for it. And it shows what a matter we would have said from Thursday to Monday, you can do it and ride through with glory. But we will make you jump. If you want to talk plan, we may as well talk plan. We will have the five votes on Monday, and we will need you three on Monday, and we will put it through on Monday. There is the situation, if you want to talk plan, and want to play politics. When I came in here they said to me, "Coun. Hagan is on the way. Give him the opportunity to speak here." "Sure, give him the opportunity." Coun. Hagan was here on Wednesday and on Thursday, and he has had ample time since Thursday to find out whether it was legal. Coun. Hagan has had since noon on Wednesday.

Coun. Healey has been out of town, and maybe he did not get into town in time to find out, but here you are here yesterday and today, and it happened to see him. So in so far as trying to find out whether the thing that is proposed is lawful or not, it is a great big fence to hide behind.

I have seen problems in this Council in my time that were thought to be just as unlawful as this is, but I did not see anybody want to postpone them, or continue to fight for postponement for that purpose. I feel that we have five votes to put it over, and three votes will be against us. Coun. Donoghue will arrive back from New York on Monday and we will put it over then, and you can jump then if you want to, or you can drown.

Coun. HEALEY—I am willing to jump whenever I want to, or I will drown when I want to, but I talk good-naturedly. There is no animosity or bitterness on my part in the position which I take. You gentlemen will all realize that you are establishing a precedent, and it is not an ordinary legal question but a mighty big question. The councilman who sits opposite me (Coun. Moriarty) realizes that more than half the Council are against him, and other members of the Council. With his good-natured smile I accept his rally but while we go to go overboard, we go overboard in a just and worthy cause with a righteous motive.

President LANE—The question comes on the passage of the order. The clerk will call the roll. The question being taken by yeas and nays, resulted yeas 4, nays 3, as follows:

Yeas—Coun. Gilbody, Moriarty, Walsh, Watson.

Absent—Coun. Brickley, Donoghue—2.

Coun. MORIARTY—I move for adjournment.

Coun. WATSON—I don't think that is quite right.

President LANE—The Council will come to order.

Coun. WATSON—I believe Coun. Brickley is close by.

Coun. MORIARTY—I thought he had gone.

President LANE—Four in the affirmative and three in the negative, and it is not a vote.

Coun. HAGAN—I move that we now adjourn.

President LANE—The Council stands adjourned to meet on Monday next at 2 p. m.

The Council stood adjourned at 1.27 p. m. to meet on Monday, September 10, 1923, at 2 p. m.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1923.

Regular meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p. m., President LANE in the chair. Absent—Coun. Donoghue.

The recommendations with reference to the Arnold Arboretum are made with a view not only to the providing of necessary road construction but also fire protection. RAPID TRANSIT, DORCHESTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 10, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Massachusetts Legislature, session of 1923, adopted an act providing for the extension of rapid transit facilities in the Dorchester district of the City of Boston.

Under the Initiative and Referendum Act it is customary to wait ninety days subsequent to the passage of any legislative act before acting thereunder. The required time having elapsed it is now within the province of the city government of Boston to accept the act as contained in chapter 480 of the Acts of the year 1923.

The acceptance of this act, and the extension of rapid transit facilities as provided therein, marks the termination of a contest waged by the people of Dorchester for a period of nearly twenty years to secure modern transportation facilities. The benefits which should result as a consequence of increased and improved transportation facilities in Dorchester is of such character that I sincerely trust that the City Council in its wisdom will act favorably and without delay upon the adoption of the accompanying order, the acceptance of which is hereby recommended.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

MONEY FOR FIRE HOUSE, EAST BOSTON.

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, September 10, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—Under date of September 7, 1923, bids were received for the construction of a new fire house for engine No. 40 at Summer and Orleans streets, East Boston.

The original estimate was $60,000 and this figure was based on the belief that a pile foundation would be unnecessary. Examination discloses the fact that the site upon which the present house is located is unsuitable for the new house as on made land and that at least $10,000 will be necessary for foundations.

The bids, six in number, for this work range from $65,000 in the case of the lowest bidder to $86,427 in the case of the highest bidder.

Making the customary allowance of 6 per cent for architects' fees, the total cost of the work in question will be about $70,000.

It is necessary therefore that an additional appropriation in the sum of $10,000 be made in order that the department may proceed with the improvement in question and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of ten thousand dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Fire Commissioner for the erection of a new building for Engine No. 40, in the East Boston district, and the City Treasurer be authorized to issue from time to time upon direction of the Mayor bonds and certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to accept any proposal should he deem it to be for the best interest of the city so to do.

EAST BOSTON TUNNEL TERMINAL SOON TO STAND AS CITY'S PROUDEST SUCCESSFUL ENTERPRISE.

PROJECT PUT THROUGH UNDER MAYOR CURLEY'S PRESENT ADMINISTRATION UNDER SEVEREST ENGINEERING DIFFICULTIES—NOT ONLY SAVED THE CITY MORE THAN $1,000,000 IN SOLDIERS' RELIEF BUT HAS GIVEN EMPLOYMENT TO THOUSANDS OF DISCOURAGED CITIZENS.

ONE VIEW OF EAST BOSTON TUNNEL TERMINAL WORK, GIVING IDEA OF TASK CONFRONTING TRANSIT COMMISSION IN COMPLETING PROJECT.

The new Maverick square terminal of the East Boston Tunnel, which is rapidly nearing completion, will provide one of the most important additions to rapid transit service in the history of the city. The abolition of the East Boston Tunnel toll in 1916, which reduced the fare to 5 cents and which was accomplished by Mayor Curley in his first administration, was responsible for such a heavy increase in riding that within a short time it was necessary to couple two and three surface cars together to handle this traffic.

As it was not possible to operate large trains on the narrow streets of East Boston, the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company accepted the suggestion of the Transit Department to establish an underground terminal at Maverick square, providing for a convenient interchange of passengers between tunnel trains and surface cars at that point. The operation of long trains of steel cars between Bowdoin square, city proper, and Maverick square, East Boston, will almost double the present capacity of the tunnel and entirely relieve the intolerable congestion which is so acute during the rush hours.

At the beginning of Mayor Curley's administration he was confronted with an appalling situation caused by the wave of unemployment which was exceptionally acute in this section. The City of Boston was expending sums at the rate of over $1,000,000 a year to ex-service men who were unable to secure employment. Promptly he decided that one method of meeting the situation was to undertake this huge construction work by day labor forces, thereby giving the preference to ex-service men, instead of letting out the work by contract, which invariably means the use of alien labor. The results have exceeded his expectations, and the work has progressed steadily and economically, SECURES FUNDS FOR COMPLETING EAST BOSTON PLAYGROUND WORK.

THE MAYOR SAVES DELAY IN EAST BOSTON OPEN-AIR PROJECTS BY GETTING TRANSFERS OF MONEYS.

Mayor Curley, upon request of the Park Department, has moved to provide funds for completion of the work at Orient Heights Playground and World War Memorial Park, East Boston. He asked and secured from the City Council orders transferring from other appropriations funds to complete the work. Communications that passed in the matter follow:

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I am in receipt of the accompanying communication from the Park Department requesting a transfer of $18,000 from the appropriation for playground purposes at Tenean Beach Playground to the special appropriation for Orient Heights Playground, Improvements.

The Orient Heights Playground represents a reclamation project which has been in process of completion for a period of ten years. The land is sufficiently settled at the present time to permit of top dressing, and rendering the same available for general playground purposes. The Tenean Beach Playground from which the transfer is requested, cannot be completed with a less expenditure than $50,000, and in view of the fact that the necessary balance is not available at this time, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order for the transfer as recommended by the Park Department.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

To the City Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I am in receipt of the accompanying communication submitted by the Park Department requesting the transfer of unexpended balances for alteration and addition to sanitary and locker buildings at the World War Memorial Park.

It is desirable that these improvements, so essential for the completion of World War Memorial Park in East Boston, be completed at the earliest possible date, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Communication from the Park Department relative to the transfer of $18,000:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to authorize the transfer of $18,000 from the appropriation, Playground Purposes, Tenean Beach

MUNICIPAL SERVICE.

Complaints, inquiries or suggestions regarding the work of municipal departments should be made in writing to the officials directly in charge. The failure of such officials to make reply within a reasonable length of time should be brought to the attention of the Mayor. Communications should be directed as follows:

TO THE BOARD OF STREET COMMISSIONERS, Room 401, City Hall Annex, for information relative to the laying out, relocation, widening and the discontinuance of highways; the taking of real property for municipal purposes; the assessments of betterments for streets and sewers; the plotting of undeveloped areas for streets and the opening of private ways; the granting of licenses for the storage or sale of merchandise in public streets; the regulation of street traffic; the making of specific repairs in public streets, the naming of public streets, the planting and removal of trees in public ways, the issuing of licenses for the storage of gasoline, oil and other inflammable substances or explosive compounds, the use of the public ways for any permanent or temporary obstruction or projection in, under or over the same, including the location of conduits, poles and posts for telephone, telegraph, street railway or illuminating purposes, signs, marquees, bay windows, coal holes and vaults.

TO THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS, Room 511, City Hall Annex, for information as to the watering, cleaning, lighting and repairing of streets, the construction and care of sewers and catch-basins, the operation of the ferries, the maintenance of bridges and drawbridges and the removal of ashes and offal.

so that at the present time the saving in soldiers' relief has amounted to almost $1,000,000. In addition, several thousand ex-service men who were in need and had become discouraged were given an opportunity to gain excellent construction experience and learn good trades at a time when the construction industry was sorely in need of such assistance.

tion regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mount Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS, Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room 1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. TO ROOM 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

The engineering difficulties encountered in a work of this magnitude are seldom realized by the ordinary citizen. It was necessary to excavate to a depth of 50 feet below the street surface, and carry on this work day and night in treacherous ground below the foundations of old and heavy buildings; to work over and under the existing tunnel without interfering with the regular operation of car service; to provide uninterrupted water, sewerage, gas and lighting facilities to all abutters, and to support the enormous teaming traffic regularly carried over the South Ferry which could not be diverted to any other point.

Several thousand cubic yards of reinforced concrete had to be removed by blasting at night between the operation of the regular night cars. Day and night throughout the exceptionally severe winter of 1922-23 officials and employees worked faithfully and loyally on this job under the most distressing conditions. Their achievement is an irrefutable answer to the propaganda of the carping critics who prophesied failure, if not disaster, when the work was commenced.

Playground, to the special appropriation, Orient Heights Playground, Improvements.

The reason for this request is that we have been unable to use this money for the development of the Tenean Beach Playground and can use it for the development of the Orient Heights Playground, which is badly needed, as no money has been spent for improvements at that location for a number of years.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA,
Chairman.

Order submitted as follows:

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Tenean Beach Playground, $18,000, to the appropriation for Orient Heights Playground, Improvements, etc., $18,000.

Communication from Park Department re unexpended balance:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to authorize the transfer to the special appropriation, World War Memorial Park, East Boston, Bathhouse, etc., of the balances in the special appropriations as follows: Baldwin Place Playground, $7,150; Bathing Beach, Jeffries Point, $4,103.62; Wood Island Park, Improvements, $7,010.03.

The reason for making this request is that the balances on these appropriations are now no longer needed for what they were appropriated for, and this money is needed for alterations and additions to the sanitary and locker building at the World War Memorial Park.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA,
Chairman.

Order submitted as follows:

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

MAYOR CURLEY'S PAVING POLICIES ARE BACKED BY NATIONALLY KNOWN MAGAZINE.

"NATIONAL MUNICIPAL REVIEW" DEFENDS USE OF WARRENITE-BITULITHIC PAVEMENT AND SCORES FINANCE COMMISSION FOR OPPOSITION, ASSERTING IT MUST HAVE BEEN ILL-ADVISED ON THE SUBJECT.

The current issue of the "National Municipal Review" contains an article on Boston's paving policies in which the Finance Commission is severely taken to task and Mayor Curley's policies are defended.

The article discusses the dispute of last spring between the Mayor and the commission. At that time the commission complained of the practice of limiting alternate-type contract proposals for bituminous street pavement to sheet asphalt and Warrenite-bitulithic, the award of contracts to other than the lowest bidder and unnecessary delay in advertising and awarding contracts. The "National Municipal Review" says that "the sweeping criticism of the commission with respect to the competition between sheet asphalt and Warrenite-bitulithic would indicate either that the Finance Commission was ill-advised or did not consider carefully local conditions."

The Finance Commission's engineering problems are handled by Guy C. Emerson, former superintendent of streets. Mayor Curley and the Public Works Department have contended that Mr. Emerson is severely prejudiced against one particular form of pavement which the city is extensively laying.

The "National Municipal Review" after printing the letter sent to Mayor Curley, March 31, by the Finance Commission respecting the two types of pavement involved, says:

"It is not the intention of this magazine to participate in any discussion of the relative merits of sheet asphalt or Warrenite-bitulithic pavements for various conditions," the article says. "Both of these pavements have their field of usefulness. Nor is it intended to lend support to a policy followed by the City of Boston which is, to say the least, of doubtful wisdom. At the same time the sweeping criticism made by the Finance Commission with respect to the matter of competition between sheet asphalt and Warrenite-bitulithic for paving purposes would indicate either that the Finance Commission was ill-advised on this particular subject or did not consider carefully local conditions."

"It appears that a considerable part of the bituminous paving work of Boston under discussion was to be laid on water-bound macadam or foundation of a similar character. Experience elsewhere has demonstrated the practicability of using either sheet asphalt or bituminous concrete such as Warrenite-bitulithic advantageously under such conditions."

"Also it should be noted that Warrenite-bitulithic pavement as now laid is 2 inches thick. The lower layer, approximately 1½ inches thick, is of material which is similar in composition to the so-called close binders used in standard asphalt construction, and also similar to the old type of bitulithic."

"Over this layer, while hot and before rolling, a second thin layer is spread. The surface material is of mixture similar either to sheet asphalt surfacing mixture or to the Topeka mixture, so called, depending on the proportions of sand and small crushed stone used. The two layers are rolled together, making a pavement approximately 2 inches in total thickness."

"It is quite true that sheet asphalt has been used more extensively than any other type of bituminous pavement for paving purposes in American cities. At the same time there is an increasing use of asphaltic concrete pavement construction by cities even under conditions of heavy traffic. That properly constructed asphalt concrete will successfully withstand intensive traffic has been demonstrated by numerous examples, among which is the famous heavily traveled Michigan Boulevard of Chicago."

"A decided advantage possessed by asphaltic concrete over many other types is that it permits ordinarily the utilization of local construction material. There is also a disposition on the part of many engineers to look with favor upon asphaltic concrete pavement construction for city work on account of its freedom from 'shoving,' which is at times a troublesome characteristic of sheet asphalt."

"In the matter of cost of manufacture and laying it is entirely possible to have conditions that would result in a favorable comparison between a 3-inch sheet asphalt pavement and one comprising a 2-inch Warrenite-bitulithic of the type now laid. It is true that the abundance of crushed stone, in the vicinity of Boston, of a quality suitable for road purposes, should enable the securing of lower prices for the latter type of pavement than could be obtained for sheet asphalt. This point, apparently, was not emphasized in the report of the Finance Commission. All in all, the commission's criticism of the policy followed by the city in respect of the selection of type of pavement, together with the claims made of substantial losses resulting from such policy, are not particularly convincing."

"The Finance Commission is on sounder ground in its criticism of what appeared to be unfair and arbitrary methods followed by the city government in the award of contracts to other than the lowest bidder. There are conditions where a practice of this kind is justified in order to exclude undesirable bidders."

"Also, the Finance Commission is on firm ground in its criticism of delay in advertising and awarding paving contracts. Sound policy in this matter demands that contracts for paving work should be advertised as early in the year as possible."

"It is unfortunate that in doing this service the Finance Commission should have permitted the publication of statements on such an important matter as the selection of pavements that were inconsistent with recognized practice and some what misleading in character."

MAYOR GRIEVES FOR DEPARTED FRIEND.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement upon the death of his intimate friend, Joseph Lundy:

"I mourn the loss, with countless others, of a devoted friend in the decease of Joseph Lundy. He had a singular devotion for his friends, whom he served with a loyalty unsurpassed by any man in Boston. He was faithful to every task and served many a worthy and deserving cause with no thought of reward and at great sacrifice of personal interests. I knew Mr. Lundy intimately for a period of twenty-five years, and his loyal service for every good cause won for him a friendship which numbered people from every station in life.

"A loyal generous and excellent citizen has passed away in the death of Joseph Lundy, and who will be mourned by a great body of men and women who realized the magnanimity of his mind and heart when within the shadow of adversity. Although a Republican in politics and a leader in his party's movements, he supported my cause in every political campaign in which I ever contested, by reason of his friendship for me, and with a devotion quite unparalleled during the period of my political life.

"He was also especially well known and popular in the City of New York. He numbered the leading legal and political factors of New York City among his friends, and was as well and favorably known there as in Boston, his home city. Mr. Lundy's sudden death without warning is a profound shock to me personally, for I had a high admiration for his loyalty and devotion."

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon September 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Thomas Mulcare for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks, without advertising. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, September 21, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Thomas Mulcare, 1 Exeter Park, Cambridge, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

*Contract awarded.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon September 26 the Mayor approved a contract with A. G. Tomasello for building catch-basins and outlet connections in Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, September 25, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for building catch-basins and outlet connections in Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, to A. G. Tomasello & Son, 68 Devonshire street, city, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

This work is to be done in connection with the widening of Chelsea street, between the above limits; and since the contract for laying granite block pavement on this street has been awarded to A. G. Tomasello & Son, it is deemed to be most economical and for the best interests of the city to allow the same contractor to build the catch-basins and connections.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 1, 1923.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon September 26 the Mayor approved a contract with John Guarino & Co. for laying sewer pipe in North Harvard street, Brighton. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, September 25, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for laying pipe sewer in North Harvard street, from Kingsley street to a point about 100 feet northerly, Brighton, to John Guarino & Co., 5 West Cottage street, Roxbury, at an estimated cost of $950. This work, if publicly advertised, would probably not be started for four weeks, and for that reason Mr. Guarino's bid has been accepted, so that operations can be started at once.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before October 27, 1923.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Superintendent of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 24 the Mayor approved a contract with C. P. Rockwell, Inc., for furnishing one Nash coupe, six cylinder, at a price of $2,050, this concern to take in trade as part payment, one 1918 Nash roadster for which they are allowing $550, making the net amount of the contract $1,500.

Boston, September 22, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising the same, to C. P. C. P. Rockwell, Inc., are the New England distributors for Nash cars, and have made a greater allowance on the old car, which has given the Health Department complete satisfaction, than any other automobile dealer.

I feel that the interests of the city will be served by granting this request.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon September 24 the Mayor approved a contract with Michaelson Brothers for furnishing clothing to the Child Welfare Division of the Institutions Department. A communication from Frank P. Rock, Superintendent of Supplies, was as follows:

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Under date of September 5, 1923, bids were opened for furnishing clothing to the Child Welfare Division of the Institutions Department, but no bids were received.

Samples have been submitted by Michaelson Brothers for the approval of the Institutions Commissioner and prices are lower than those that can be obtained in the open market and for that reason I recommend that this contract be awarded to this concern.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON MAY GET AIR MAIL.

Mayor Curley received the following communication Wednesday from the Postmaster General of the United States:

BOSTON, September 26, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your very courteous note of September 19 is on my desk on my return this morning from an official trip to the West.

I deeply regret that it will be impossible for me to attend the meeting at Boston on October 17, much as I should like to be there. However, the department will be officially represented even if I am not personally present.

You may be sure that the Post Office Department will be fully mindful of the interests of one of its very greatest cities with reference to the establishment of the air mail and any other thing possible to the department, which has for its purpose the improvement of the service.

Sincerely yours,

HARRY S. NEW,
Postmaster General.

BIG RALLY FOR FIRE PREVENTION.

National Fire prevention week will be held throughout the United States from October 7 to 13, inclusive. Plans for the proper observance of this week in the City of Boston were inaugurated at a monster meeting and rally at Tremont Theater, Friday, September 28, 1923, when Mayor James M. Curley, who issued a call for the meeting, presided. Among those who addressed the meeting were Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn, Chief of Department John O. Taber, who talked on the work of the Fire Department, Alfred Daynport, president of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, President Franklin H. Wentworth of the National Fire Protection Association, President Howard Coonley of the Boston Chamber of Commerce representing the business men of Boston, representatives of the churches, schools, department stores, and the entire industrial, commercial, political and professional life of the city also participated.

In issuing the call for the meeting Mayor Curley directed attention to the fact that the fire loss in the United States in 1922 was $521,000,000, $40,000,000 more than it was in 1921. His Honor stated that 1,500 fires break out in the United States every twenty-four hours, and that the country is burning up at the rate of $992 per minute. "The success of fire prevention has been tried and proved," his Honor continued. "In 1901 the United States Steel Corporation was having an average of 750 fires a year with an annual loss of $800,000. A system of fire prevention and inspection was started, and now, even with a greatly enlarged plant, the number of fires has been reduced to one hundred a year and the losses to an annual average of $300,000."

The Mayor directed Fire Commissioner Glynn, Commissioner Rourke of the Public Works Department and Commissioner Mahoney of the Health Department to make a special effort to uncover and clean up all rubbish and fire-breeding material throughout the city during the week.

V. CHANGE IN RUNNING CARD ROUTES.

The following changes in running card routes will become effective immediately upon the issuance of this order:

The response of apparatus and equipment from the city proper on multiple alarms to East Boston will be divided as far as possible so that 50 per cent will be the ferry service, which at present is only operating to about one half of its maximum, due to reconstruction, and it will be necessary to send 50 per cent via Charlestown, Chelsea and Meridian streets.

Via Bridges—Second alarm, Engines 8, 50; third alarm, Engines 6, 7, 35; fourth alarm, Engines 10, 32; fifth alarm, Engines 23, 37; sixth alarm, Engines 13, 14; general alarms, Engines 12, 18, 27, 42; general alarms, Ladders 1, 15, 24; general alarms, Rescue 1.

Via Ferries—Second alarm, Engines 26, 39; third alarm, Engine 15; fourth alarm, Engines 3, 43; fifth alarm, Engines 21, 33; sixth alarm, Engines 1, 24, 41; general alarms, Engines 17, 28, 34, 36; general alarms, Ladders 3, 5, 13, 20.

Towers will proceed through Charlestown and Chelsea via the bridges as needed on all responses.

The deputy chief of the First Division will detail an operator or director at the ferries to facilitate the apparatus in case of congestion by directing them around via the bridges. Should occasion arise in which boat service is congested, fire apparatus must have the preference over chiefs' cars.

Arrangements will be made with the bridge authorities so that bridges will be held ready for such emergencies.

The Fire Alarm Office, as previously directed, assist in this response by immediately calling on Chelsea, Revere and Winthrop for any emergency that might occur for which a multiple alarm would be required.

This running card will obtain until rescinded.

By order of Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynna.

JOHN O. TABER,
Chief of Department.

TO STUDY X-RAY.

Boston is sending an expert to Pittsburgh to study new methods for the benefit of City Hospital patients. The Mayor approved the plan after receiving the following letters:

Boston, September 21, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I inclose herewith a copy of a letter from Doctor Butler which explains itself. Doctor Butler's letter was presented at a meeting of the Board of Trustees held today, and the trustees voted, with your approval, to send Doctor Ritvo to Pittsburgh, deeming the matter of the greatest importance. Cost not to exceed $175.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,
President Board of Trustees.

35 BAY STATE ROAD,

Boston, September 20, 1923.

JOSEPH P. MANNING, Esq., President,
Board of Trustees, Boston City Hospital, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—In view of the fact that we are now starting a radium clinic, it has seemed to me advisable to have at least one man thoroughly trained in the physics of radium. Doctor Ritvo, my assistant, has had about a year's training in the Huntington Hospital, particularly with reference to diseases in which radium is indicated.

There is now an opportunity for taking a course in radium physics at the laboratories of the Radium Chemical Company in Pittsburgh, Penn. This course is said to be the most instructive one given in the country. It is free to physicians and lasts one week. My suggestion is that the hospital send Doctor Ritvo to Pittsburgh for the purpose of taking this course, the hospital to pay his expenses. It is strictly hospital business and on a mission which is increasingly important. We then will be in a position to properly map out the work of our radium clinic. I do not believe the expense to the hospital will be more than $160 to $175. I have made arrangements with the radium people for entering Doctor Ritvo in their course, providing the trustees approve the plan to pay his expenses. The course begins next Monday and we shall have to arrange for transportation and hotel accommodations as soon as possible.

Respectfully yours,

P. F. BUTLER,
Physician to X-Ray Service.

FINANCE COMMISSION LETTER.

Boston, September 27, 1923.

To the Honorable the City Council:

GENTLEMEN.—The Legislature in 1922 (see chapter 516 of the Acts of 1922) required every city and town where an accounting system had not been installed by the Commonwealth to place the question whether or not that city or town should have such an accounting system on the ballot at the next election following June 7, 1922, when the act was approved by the Governor.

At the city election held in Boston on December 12, 1922, there appeared on the ballot the question:

"Shall the city petition for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth?"

The result of the voting was as follows: 27,474 voted yes; 14,430 voted no.

The act of the Legislature further required that:

If a majority of the voters voting thereon voted in the affirmative in answer to said question, then the City Council shall forthwith petition the director of the division of accounts of the department of corporations and taxation for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth.

The minutes of the City Council meetings since December 12, 1922 do not disclose that any action has been taken in this matter by the Council. The Director of the Division of Corporations and Taxation of the Commonwealth has informed the Finance Commission that he has not received a petition from the City Council for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth.

The Finance Commission recommends that the City Council immediately petition the Director of the Division of Accounts of the Department of Corporations and Taxation of the Commonwealth to install a system of accounting.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

ORDINANCE CONCERNING USE OF STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 17, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith for your consideration a communication from the Police Commissioner requesting the amendment of Chapter 46 of the Revised Ordinances relating to the use of streets.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Police Department, September 12, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston:
My dear Mr. Mayor,—For the purpose of amending Chapter 46 of the Revised Ordinances relating to the "Use of Streets," the enclosed draft of an order is forwarded to your Honor for introduction in the City Council.

A condition of affairs which is a source of complaint, both to the Police Commissioner and the Board of Street Commissioners, no remedy for which seems to exist in the Revised Ordinances, is brought to your Honor's attention.

Vehicles, both motor and horse-drawn, used wholly for advertising purposes, and at times displaying articles of merchandise in glass cases on their sides, travel in the downtown section of this city at a slow rate of speed, impeding traffic at places which under normal conditions is almost unbearable and which the police have a hard time to regulate.

The streets are congested now, apparent to the most casual observer, by vehicles engaged in the pursuit of legitimate business and the transportation of persons, the delivery of goods and in backing up to curbs to load and unload, even for the short time allowed.

Such advertising wagons, while they may not violate any particular rule of the Board of Street Commissioners, in their course through the streets do so to the inconvenience of other vehicles, the operators of which have registered their complaint, as herein stated.

The Police Commissioner feels that he must co-operate with the efforts of his officers to relieve traffic congestion in the streets of this city.

Therefore this order is respectfully submitted for the attention of your Honor and introduction in the City Council, as stated.

As section 37 of chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances, relating to the "Use of Streets," provides that persons on foot, engaged in carrying or displaying advertising signs in the public streets, shall do so in accordance with a permit from the Commissioner of Public Works, the proposed order relating to advertising vehicles gives the same commissioner authority to regulate.

Respectfully submitted,

HERBERT A. WILSON,

Police Commissioner.

City of Boston,

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-three. Ordinance Amending Chapter 40 of the Revised Ordinances Relating to the "Use of Streets." Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Ordered, That no vehicle used principally for advertising purposes shall be permitted to travel in any of the public streets of the city proper north and east of Massachusetts avenue, except by permission of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

PLAYGROUND, EAGLE HILL, EAST BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, September 17, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I have conferred with the Park Commissioner relative to the recreational needs of East Boston in the vicinity of Eagle Hill reservoir, and we are in agreement upon the question of the purchase of site for an additional playground in the Eagle Hill section, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, September 13, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston:
Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners you are respectfully asked to request the City Council to authorize the transfer of the balances remaining in the special appropriation, Eagle Hill Playground and Eagle Hill Reservoir, as follows:

From the appropriation for Eagle Hill Playground, $49,991; Eagle Hill Reservoir, East Boston, $237.10; to the appropriation for Playground, Eagle Hill District, $50,228.10.

The reason for this request is that the old Eagle Hill Playground has been transferred to the School Department and the unexpended balance of the above appropriations may now be transferred for the purchase of land in the Eagle Hill district for a new playground.

Very respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Eagle Hill Playground, $49,991; Eagle Hill Reservoir, East Boston, $237.10, to the appropriation for Playground, Eagle Hill District, $50,228.10.

RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING JOHN H. LEE.

Coun. WALSH offered the following:

Whereas, The Creator, in His wisdom, has called to his reward the Hon. John H. Lee; and

Whereas, Mr. Lee for many years rendered to the city valuable service as a member and president of the Common Council, and as a member and chairman of the Board of Aldermen, filling his positions with dignity and integrity;

Whereas, His efforts in behalf of his district, Brighton, resulted in making it one of the finest residential sections in the City of Boston; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston notes with regret and sorrow the passing of an eminent citizen of Boston and a faithful public servant, John H. Lee; be it further Resolved, That the City Clerk send a copy of these preambles and resolves to the widow of Mr. Lee.

Passed by a unanimous rising vote.

INFORMATION ASKED CONCERNING PROVINCE STREET.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council if the money appropriated by the City Council for street improvements in the residential sections is to be used to defray the expense of the widening of Province street.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, the object of the order is to ascertain the truth of a newspaper article which I have seen recently. The money was appropriated by the City Council to the Street Commissioners early in the year for general street improvements, under a blanket order, without the understanding that certain streets would be put in repair and new streets opened. We all remember the sessions we had with the Street Commissioners at that time and the list of streets that were submitted. It was offered in good faith, and I think the Council accepted it in good faith, that those streets, or at least some of them, would be taken care of; yet I find now, if this newspaper article is correct, that there is a disposition on the part of the Street Commissioners to utilize that appropriation, made available to the Street Commissioners under the general item of "Making of Highways," for the widening of Province court, wondering if that is true. The order is intended to ascertain the facts from the Street Commissioners, either by bringing them in today or by having them come to the common council with the City Council, as your wisdom may dictate.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

SETTEES, MATTHEW J. SWEENEY PLAYGROUND.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to install some new settees for the use of mothers and children at the playground, Broadway playground, Fifth and D streets, South Boston.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

FLAGPOLES, PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested by the City Council to install flagpoles at the Christopher Lee and Matthew J. Sweeney playgrounds in the South Boston district.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

LAMPS, WASHINGTON AND TREMONT STREETS.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to install seventy-nine new lamps on Washington street, between Dover street and Dock square, and thirty-nine new lamps on Tremont street, between Boylston street and Scollay square, to develop a "White Way" lighting service on those streets, and that his Honor the Mayor be requested to request the City Council such transfer order as may be necessary to provide for the expense of such lamps.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

MUNICIPAL BUILDING, WARD 5.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the City Planning board, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to make a study and report to the City Council as to what locations in the West End, or Ward 5 district, would be suitable for a municipal building to meet the needs of the people of that district.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, the various orders now in the hands of the City Clerk are orders that passed this body sometime in the early spring months, embodying various requests for information, such as requests for location of the Mayor's office. I have kept copies of these orders and am presenting them again. So it is not a new matter before the Council. To the requests now reply has been received either from the departments or the Mayor. It seems to me that a request of this sort made by the City Council for executive session, requests for location of departments and from the Mayor's office. It does not seem to me courteous at all to totally ignore these requests and that some sort of reply or communication should be forthcoming. My object in presenting these orders is to renew the requests and see if there is to be continuous ignoring of the City Council by the executive department heads.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAYGROUND, COTTAGE STREET.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council whether or not he would agree to the development for playground purposes of the land owned by the city at Massachusetts avenue and East Cottage street, formerly the site of the old hotel.

GRANOLITHIC SIDEWALKS, DORCHESTER AVENUE.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council if it is going to be possible this summer to put in granolithic sidewalks on Dorchester avenue, between Savin Hill avenue and Freeport street, and likewise let the City Council know if he can and will have Pleasant street resurfaced, between Savin Hill avenue and Hancock street.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

LIGHTING OF FENWAY.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Park Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to provide a better night lighting system in the Fenway, and particularly from the Dental School to Westland avenue and from Westland avenue to Peterborough street. This condition is called to the attention of the commission because the section is very poorly lighted, and in the opinion of the police this condition is responsible for the many crimes that take place there.

Passed under a suspension of the rule.

HEALTH UNIT DORCHESTER.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be respectfully requested to submit to the trustees of the White Fund this suggestion, that a health unit be established in the Dorchester district on the land owned by the city at the junction of West Cottage, Pleasant and Fort streets.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I am in perfect accord with the order for a health unit in Dorchester, but I don't think in this section advisable, because it is not accessible to the whole Dorchester district. West Cottage street and the place mentioned are very far removed from the center of the district, and I would suggest to the council that he word the order in such a way that the unit would be located in the central part of the district, where the services of the entire citizenship of Dorchester and not to the one section specified. West Cottage street is considerably removed from the greater part of Dorchester.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, to have such a unit established in the center of Dorchester would keep it very far removed from many parts of Dorchester, because Dorchester is a very large district. I agree thoroughly that this particular section to which I have referred cannot probably be considered as being in the center of Dorchester, but it nevertheless is in the center of a very thickly congested district, a large tenement district, where health units are presumably needed most.

It serves a large section of Dorchester, as established there, as well as a great section of the Savin Hill district and the Upham's Corner section. I would not want to have a health unit in the center of Dorchester as a whole were to be considered as provided for, because I think the other section of Dorchester—up Washington street and toward Codman square—needs one equally badly. I shall be very glad to co-operate with my esteemed colleague in that direction. But the fact that the Council selected this location in Dorchester does not mean that it is not a desirable spot; for, let me repeat, it is the center of a very thickly congested district, where such a health unit is badly needed.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I would like to respectfully again call the gentleman's attention to the fact that the location of the health unit in Dorchester, thickly populated and in need of a health unit, that could be better chosen as the location of a health unit than any other location in the order, and I think the order should be amended, it being merely a suggestion to the White Fund Trustees, who are studying the location, by having the place in the best part of Dorchester to serve the needs of the mothers of Dorchester. The trustees are really the one to decide upon the location with all due respect to the gentleman.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I think, in view of the fact that the Council has a representative of the White Fund Trustees in the person of the President, he will take notice of what has been said here, and if he has anything to do with locating the site, will see that one is picked out that will be suitable to both gentlemen.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I think just one more point should be taken into consideration in a matter of this kind. It is not enough to establish such things as health units where the city has to both buy the land and build the building. It so happens that in this particular location, the land is owned by the city. This therefore gives the city a better opportunity to establish the building there, because of that fact. Again, the site is ideal for hospital purposes, there is a great deal of room on four sides, something not easily attainable in any section, but available right there, and the area is such that it would be very easy to have the building required for the purpose I have in mind.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I don't desire to prolong the argument, but still I cannot see the justice of the ground the gentleman takes. I think there are lots of land available for the purpose in different parts of Dorchester, as far as that is concerned. For instance, there is the land at the Lower Mills, where the Convalescents' Home is at present located, a wonderful place, far better than that suggested in the order, acres of land on a high hill, and accessible to many people in Dorchester. So, I think the order had better pass without suggesting any particular place in Dorchester. Let the order go, without suggesting a location, to the trustees, who can take all the circumstances into consideration. I think we ought to amend the order in that way, so that it will be left to the trustees to select the best place, one acceptable to the trusteeship of the section.

The rule was suspended by rising vote, 4 to 1, and the order was passed.

TAX EXEMPTION ON NEW DWELLINGS, NEW YORK CITY.

The question came on confirmation. Committee reported Donahoe and Gitsky. Whole number of ballots cast 8, yeas 7, and the appointments were confirmed.

FIRE ALARM BOXES, PRIVATE PROPERTY.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appoint a committee to consist of the Fire Commissioner, the Building Commissioner, the Corporation Counsel, a representative from the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Real Estate Exchange, and such others as he may deem advisable to appoint, to consider and report on the advisability of adopting an ordinance to compel the installation of fire alarm boxes on private property such as apartments, hotels, hospitals, private country houses, theaters and moving picture houses, etc., and whether or not such boxes should be installed and maintained by the city, or installed at the expense of the owner and maintained by the city.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, this order is presented for the purpose of focussing the attention of city officers and the public on the fire alarm boxes in Boston. We have been a little bit backward and careless in providing the necessary protection in comparison with other cities of our country. Many even of the smaller cities throughout the middle west are so covered that they are considered in the 100 per cent class, while Boston is away down in the list. We cover our public schools now by the installation of fire-alarm boxes, so that in case of fire the apparatus is brought there at the quickest possible moment. We all realize that the time to put out a fire is before it reaches serious proportions. We leave hospitals—many of them—private hospitals and private schools, absolutely unprotected in that respect, so that if a fire starts somebody has to run to the nearest fire-alarm box, which may be a block or two or more away, before the fire alarm can be sent and the apparatus can arrive. I think we all want to protect the lives of children in private schools to an extent equal to the public schools. I think Boston wants to be in the 100 per cent class, as affording the greatest measure of protection to those who need it most, in schools, in hospitals and where groups of children are congregated. I think we can get an intelligent and qualified opinion as to what course of action should be taken. This is a very important matter, as it affects the life, peace of mind, health and comfort of the community. I therefore hope the order will pass here today.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

GENERAL RECONSIDERATION.

Coun. Walsh moved to reconsider all business transacted at the meeting, hoping that the same would not prevail. Lost.

Adjourned at four o'clock p. m., on motion of Coun. Gilbody, to meet on Monday, October 1, at two o'clock p. m.

THORNDIKE MEMORIAL BUILDING IS NOTABLE ADDITION TO THE CITY HOSPITAL GROUP.

FIRST STRUCTURE OF KIND IN A CITY HOSPITAL GROUP GIVES BOSTON CHANCE TO BOAST—WILL BE DEDICATED NOVEMBER 15, WITH ELABORATE CEREMONIES.

NEW THORNDIKE MEMORIAL BUILDING NOTED ADDITION TO CITY HOSPITAL GROUP.

When the new Thorndike Memorial Building of the City Hospital group is dedicated on November 15, Boston will be able to boast of the first building of its kind constructed within a city hospital group. The building is to be devoted wholly to research in medicine. The building is one of the handsomest in structure of any in this section devoted to medical work.

The cost of constructing and equipping is $500,000, of which amount $250,000 is provided by the city and the remainder by the will of the late George L. Thorndike. It was begun in 1921 and is practically completed. At the dedication Dr. William J. Mayo, dean of American surgeons, has been secured as a speaker.

The building, which is four stories in height above the basement, has a total length of 145 feet and an average width of 50 feet. The roof is flat, covered with tar and gravel. The design is after the Georgian style of architecture. The exterior walls up to the level of the second story window sills are of brick faced with standard buff Bedford stone while all walls above are of red water-struck brick laid in Flemish bond, with all trimmings, belt molding and cornices of standard buff stone.

The main entrance is from the hospital side with a simple dignified doorway of stone provided. The principal façade, however, faces on East Concord street, where, owing to the memorial character of the building, the façade is enriched by a stone colonnade with Ionic columns carrying an entablature, on the frieze of which in incised letters is the name of the building. The grass course and exterior steps are of granite.

MASONS TO SHARE IN COLUMBUS DAY CELEBRATION.

ORDERS TO FRATERNIZE WITH KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS IN MUNICIPAL CELEBRATION ON BOSTON COMMON.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement on Tuesday, October 2:

Aleppo Drum Corps, the Shriners' Band of Boston, is playing on the Common on Columbus day at five o'clock. One hundred and eighty-eight strong, the band members will assemble at the invitation of Mayor Curley to give the pageant planned for the afternoon a fitting climax.

Director Louis Harlow will wield the baton for upwards of an hour in a special bandstand erected to accommodate this greatest of street organizations, after which the Mayor and visiting dignitaries will be escorted by the fezzed musicians to a banquet at the Copley-Plaza Hotel.

Aleppo Drum Corps is unique in many respects. Its members are non-professionals in every walk of life, and for all their work in connection with the band they are forbidden by the order to receive compensation of any sort. Every instrument known to street music can be found in this band as well as many unusual indoor instruments which Director Harlow has adapted to band use, and not a few of which he has created and which are used exclusively by this organization.

The presence of these instruments give the Shriners' Band a peculiar richness of tone not to be found in other bands, and the director is constantly taking advantage of this. One minute we seem to hear the violins of a great symphony, the next a strain or two of jazz or the stirring notes of the famous military marches.

All the music played by this band has been to a considerable degree rewritten and amplified to suit its needs, and the enormous library which it maintains contains many works written especially for it as well as many new parts to familiar tunes which give them the peculiar musical stirring qualities for which this band of the Shriners is so famous.

The band, originally a twenty-five piece drum corps, has become the largest organization of its kind in the United States and is known from coast to coast. In 1921 it had the honor of acting as the personal escort to the late President Harding at the Tercentenary at Plymouth, Mass.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,

NEW THORNDIKE MEMORIAL BUILDING.

All interior partitions are of terra cotta and this same material is used for the lining of exterior walls. The foundation consists of caisson piles under walls and interior columns, the former being carried between piles on reinforced concrete girders below grade. The floors and the flat roof are of so-called "long span" reinforced concrete construction, consisting of concrete joists separated by corrugated steel filler tiles and resting on the masonry walls and on longitudinal girders carried by the concrete columns. In the large panels over the lecture hall this construction spans in both directions the entire width of the building.

The interior staircases are of iron, with treads of slate and landings of terrazzo with slate base and borders. The finished toilet room floors in general are of terrazzo with terrazzo base. Except in special cases the finished floors are of inoleum cemented down firmly on a cement under floor.

Gray Tennessee marble is used for dadoes and partitions in all toilet rooms. All wood for cases, drawers, etc., used in the interior of the building is of straight oak.

The first floor, or basement, is devoted to X-ray for house cases, and such outpatient cases as may need special treatment. There is a deep therapy room encased in half-inch lead, in which a 300,000 volt machine for deep treatment will be installed; a room for superficial treatments; a room for the diagnosis of gastro-intestinal diseases; two rooms for ordinary diagnostic work; one large operating room in which removal of foreign bodies and treatment of fractures and dislocations will be done under the fluoroscope; a developing suite, consisting of a large dark room, a small dark room for the development of wet plates, a photographic dark room and a film storage room.

The second floor is for out-patient cases and contains offices, record room and film room, plate illumination room, and three rooms for the taking of pictures. The X-ray equipment for this department is the latest and best that could be procured, and lead protection is provided throughout.

The rear of the first and second floor is given over to an amphitheater for medical clinics.

The third floor contains nineteen beds, to which will be referred cases which are to be studied intensively. French windows give each patient access to balconies. It is so arranged that male and female patients can be cared for. There are two small wards, one containing six beds, the other three beds, and there are ten single rooms. There are also male and female toilets, kitchen, linen and service rooms.

The fourth and fifth floors are wholly given over to clinical research laboratories. Dr. Francis W. Peabody is the director of the Thorndike Memorial Laboratories, and Dr. Paul F. Butler is the physician for X-ray service.

MAYOR MOVES TO PROTECT WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM.

WRITES GOVERNOR COX OF DANGER FROM PRESENT POLICY OF STATE ECONOMY.

Mayor Curley has written to Governor Cox, calling attention to the dangers to the city from the present policy of economy in Boston's water supply. His letter and that on which it is based follow:

Boston, October 1, 1923.

HON. CHANNING H. COX, Governor of Massachusetts, State House, Boston:

YOUR EXCELLENCY,—I beg to submit for your immediate consideration a report presented me by the chief engineer of the Water Division, Public Works Department of the City of Boston, Christopher J. Carven, and trust that immediate action will be taken to protect the interest of the City of Boston from what apparently is a short-sighted policy of false economy.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

COMMENT ON DANGER TO BOSTON'S WATER SUPPLY DUE TO SO-CALLED STATE ECONOMY.

The northern low service of the metropolitan district is ordinarily supplied by gravity with water collected and stored at Spot pond. East Boston and Charlestown are included in this area and supplied from Spot pond.

Due to the small rain fall during the past spring and summer, by the middle of June the water line of Spot pond had been lowered to its minimum point, and in order to maintain the desired water pressure and furnish the quantity of water required it was necessary to supply the northern low service by pumping. The pumps used are at the Chestnut Hill pumping station.

The 48-inch pipe lines through which water is pumped for the northern low service are connected with the pipe lines supplying the Boston low service. The Boston low service comprises all of the city proper and that portion of Roxbury and Dorchester lying northerly of South Huntington avenue, Tremont street, Roxbury street, Dudley street, Stoughton street, Pleasant street, Dorchester avenue, Adams street, Neponset avenue, and all of South Boston, with the exception of a portion of Beacon Hill, Telegraph Hill and the higher buildings in the business district.

Under normal conditions, without recourse to pumping, the northern low service pressure is about 10 pounds more than the pressure maintained on the Boston low service. Our low service area does not require this additional pressure.

Plumbing in the old houses and street mains laid fifty and sixty years ago were not designed or calculated for such an additional pressure and it is necessary to operate a controlling gate two or three times nightly to properly control and regulate the water pressure on the Boston low service when pumping to the northern low service area.

Operating a pumping system which pumps about 70 per cent, equivalent to 84,000,000 gallons per day of the total consumption of a district supplying 1,270,000 people without an adequate station force, which should include one or more men always available for an emergency call, under the plea of economy, is suicidal and practically destroys any margin of safety. If trouble happens in the pumping station to either boilers or pumps, causing a drop in the water pressure, a serious danger in case of fire breaking out in the Boston low service area would be created. Again with a break in the 48-inch supply mains without an adequate force on duty would cause damage to the extent of thousands of dollars to property if not, in addition, causing loss of life, and all chargeable directly to false economy.

Boston is and should be vitally interested to the fullest extent in having the metropolitan water system function with an ample factor of safety in every respect; pumping stations, supply lines, reservoirs, etc.

We use about 72 per cent of the total water consumed in the metropolitan district. Our assessment is practically 73 per cent yearly of the total assessment. The 1923 assessment was $1,872,400 out of a total assessment of $2,564,700.

The state bears none of the expense of operating the water system. Every penny spent is apportioned to the various cities and towns comprising the metropolitan water district. For the State to claim that there is no appropriation to adequately man the pumping stations is misleading, and except for the serious results that can arise, this claim might be considered a joke. The increased cost of providing one or more men at a yearly expense of $1,500 per man to each community in the district is infinitesimal when compared to the assessment against such municipalities. No city or town would hesitate a minute in accepting the additional cost for the greatly increased safety which they would have.

If the situation as regards the present station force is not remedied to provide for reliable service at all hours of the day and night, we will have a clear example of the possibilities of the mole hill of economy developing into the mountain of disaster.

CHRISTOPHER J. CARVEN.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 28 the Mayor approved a contract with A. Piotti Company for the restoration of Faneuil Hall. A communication from Fred J. Kneeland, Superintendent of Public Buildings, was as follows:

BOSTON, September 27, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR:—Your written authority is respectfully requested to award, without advertising, the inclosed contract for the restoration of Faneuil Hall to A. Piotti Company for the sum of one hundred ninety-one thousand four hundred seventy-two dollars ($191,472).

A contract was advertised for the restoration of Faneuil Hall, which contract included certain items which are not to be included in the contract now to be awarded. Bids were received upon the original contract and the lowest bidder was A. Piotti Company. After receiving the bids there was insufficient money in the appropriation to permit of the awarding of the contract to the lowest bidder, A. Piotti Company. By eliminating certain items of the contract below enumerated, A. Piotti Company, the lowest bidder, will enter into a contract for this work for the amount specified. The prices deducted for the work eliminated are in proportion to the original contract price. As I do not consider that a lower bid would be received by readvertising the amended contract, in my judgment the best interests of the city would be served by awarding the new contract, without advertising, to A. Piotti Company for the price above named.

Very truly yours,

FRED J. KNEELAND,
Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Boston, September 25, 1923.

MR. FRED J. KNEELAND, Superintendent of Public Buildings:

RE RESTORATION OF FANEUIL HALL.

DEAR SIR,—In conference with the A. Piotti Company on September 24, the following interpretations of the specifications and changes from the specifications were discussed to be submitted to you for your consideration:

Under Work to be Done.—The existing awning is to be removed and the masonry replaced where damaged by the erection and removal of this awning. The new awning as drawn and specified is to be omitted and suitable provision made for sprinkler pipes, etc., now shown on soffit of main building. The electric outlets shown on ceiling of new awning are to be located on wall of building and wired and switched as specified.

Under W, Temporary Quarters.—The sink in each stall is to be connected with the cold water service and so arranged that the supply can be shut off and drained from the main building. Each stall is to be equipped with refrigerating coils and connected to cold storage system to satisfaction of the architects and to the Quincy Market Cold Storage and Warehouse Company. The refrigerators and sinks are to drip to ground if permitted by the ordinances of the City of Boston. If not, they are to be trapped and connected to the sewer by this contractor.

Page 43, Terrazzo Floors.—The area covered by terrazzo is the free area in stalls under counters, corridors, etc., not covered by refrigerators.

Pages 45 and 46, Iron Stairs.—The risers are to be 10-gauge plain pressed steel, unpaneled, of a design approved by the architects.

Page 60, Refrigerators.—In the ground floor the refrigerators may be left in place if they can be suitably shored up and sufficient space left underneath to properly construct new floor system. The portions removed are to be built as specified for new refrigerators. In removing refrigeration, such refrigerator coils and pipes and insulating material as are in good condition and acceptable to the architect and to the Quincy Cold Storage and Warehouse Company may be left in place if desired by the contractor. All inferior or damaged work to be renewed as specified for new refrigerators.

Page 63, Painting.—Wherever under the specifications for painting a certain number of coats of paint are called for followed by the words, "Or more if required," or words to that effect, all coats of such paint or other painting material in excess of the number of coats specifically stated are to be regarded and paid for as extra work.

Page 66.—Where Rice's mill white paint is specified there are to be two coats instead of three, in addition to the priming coat.

If these modifications and stipulations become a part of this contract, the sum to be deducted from the estimate of A. Piotti Company of $205,958 is $16,486.*

If within thirty days of the signing of

* If the sinks and refrigerators of the temporary quarters are required to be trapped and connected to the sewer in accordance with the ordinances of the City of Boston, the sum of $2,000 is to be deducted from the deduction of $16,486, making the net deduction from the contract $14,486.

the contract it is desired to proceed with the construction of the awning as drawn and specified, the sum to be added to the amount of the contract is to be $16,486.

We trust that these recommendations will meet with your approval and that the contract can be executed

Very truly yours,

CRAM & FERGUSON.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon October 2 the Mayor approved a contract with John A. Rooney for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 1, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John A. Rooney, 77 Summer street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon October 3 the Mayor approved a contract with John H. Broderick Company for artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 2, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to John H. Broderick Company, Inc., 101 Tremont street, city proper, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon October 3 the Mayor approved a contract with John Guarino & Co. for laying pipe sewer in North Harvard street. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, September 25, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for laying pipe sewer in North Harvard street, from Kingsley street to a point about 100 feet northerly, Brighton, to John Guarino & Co., 5 West Cottage street, Roxbury, at an estimated cost of $950.

This work, if publicly advertised, would probably not be started for four weeks, and for that reason Mr. Guarino's bid has been accepted, so that operations can be started at once.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before October 27, 1923.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Upon October 3 the Mayor approved a contract with A. G. Tomasello & Son for building catch-basins in Chelsea street. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, September 25, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for building catch-basins and outlet connections in Chelsea street, from Adams street to Bunker Hill street, Charlestown, to A. G. Tomasello & Son, 68 Devonshire street, city, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

This work is to be done in connection with the widening of Chelsea street between the above limits, and since the contract for laying granite block pavement on this street has been awarded to A. G. Tomasello & Son, it is deemed to be most economical and for the best interests of the city to allow the same contractor to build the catch-basins and connections.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 1, 1923.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon September 28 the Mayor approved a contract with the Groton Granite Company for furnishing and delivering to the Public Works Department 200,000 more or less granite paving blocks on Stuart street at a price of $130 per thousand delivered. A communication from Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

Boston, September 27, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to the Groton Granite Company for furnishing and delivering to the Public Works Department 200,000 more or less, granite paving blocks, on Stuart street at a price of $130 per thousand delivered.

In September, 1922 the city entered into a contract with the Groton Granite Company whereby it guaranteed to deliver 400,000 granite paving blocks, as required, at $112.50 per M. Because of the city's failure, through no fault of its officers, to accept these blocks within a reasonable time, the Groton Granite Company have now refused to honor our demands made against this contract, and reports to me as follows:

"Confirming my phone talk with you would say that you gave us an order for 400,000 blocks on September 27, 1922, on the original accepted bid of May 22, 1922, to be delivered, as required, for $112.50 per M. We started to ship immediately and after delivering approximately 40,000 were instructed not to ship any more. Upon calling the Commissioner of Public Works on the telephone telling him we had the blocks, wanted to ship them and finish our contract, he said he had gone as far as he could. We held the blocks through the winter and spring and heard nothing until this letter of yours. In the meantime we had carrying charges, money invested, etc., and lost some good chances to sell at a better price than we were receiving from the city. The only way we can make money on this close bidding is to turn over product into cash very fast. We feel that we have been damaged by the city in this transaction to the extent of approximately $7,000 or $20 per M."

In conferring with the Law Department I am convinced that the best interests of the city would be served if the tentative offer of settlement now made to us by the Groton Granite Company was accepted, viz., that it will supply the city with 200,000 granite paving blocks for immediate delivery on the Stuart street work at a price of $130 per M. delivered on the street, and give the city a release of obligations or damages alleged by the Groton Granite Company to be owing them by the city because of its failure to comply with the contract.

This price is lower than any that could be obtained by this department on granite paving blocks for immediate delivery as the Public Works Department was in immediate need of these blocks and there was not sufficient time to publicly advertise for same.

Trusting that the permission requested will be granted, I am,

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MAYOR MOVES TO STOP FRAUD IN STOCK DEALS.

Mayor Curley has instructed the City Law Department in its preparation of legislative measures to be introduced at the next session of the State Legislature to prepare, among other bills, a series of bills seeking to correct certain Stock Exchange irregularities. One of the principal features of the proposed reforms will be a bill to restore the law as it was interpreted by the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court in the case of Fiske v. Doucette, and other similar decisions.

In those cases the Supreme Judicial Court in substance held that the actual purchase of stock ordered by customers could not be satisfied by the mere book-keeping of the Stock Exchange clearing house, but required something more tangible. A recent Legislature rushed to the aid of State street by wiping out the effect of the Supreme Court decisions as pronounced in Fiske v. Doucette and similar cases, and as a result thus facilitated questionable methods by stockbrokers who were so inclined.

ORDERS PROBE OF KU KLUX KLAN MEETING PLACE.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter Tuesday, October 2:

MR. EDWARD C. KELLY, Chairman, Board of Assessors:

DEAR SIR:—Boston newspapers under date of Monday, October 1, carry a story setting forth that the Shawmut Congregational Church had been leased on numerous occasions recently by the Ku Klux Klan and other organizations for public meetings.

In my opinion it would be advisable to institute an investigation at once for the purpose of determining whether the Shawmut Congregational Church is a religious body or a commercial institution. If it is a religious institution it is entitled to exemption from taxation; but if it is conducted for commercial purposes and revenue is derived from leases of premises that enjoy exemption from taxation while being regarded as a religious institution, it would be advisable to tax the property on the basis of full valuation.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR'S STATEMENT—SPECIAL FOR "JEWISH LEADER."

Mayor Curley, upon request, prepared the following Ku-Klux statement for the "Jewish Leader":

Farnsworth, the Barber-King-Kleagle of the notorious and lawless Ku-Klux-Klan, has announced that he is coming to Boston to hold a meeting of the Knights of the Night Shirt and Pillow Case and hoist the flaming cross over the city.

Mayor Curley stands in his path. The Mayor says: "This masked mob of law-breakers and criminals will not hold any meetings in any theater or public hall in this city if there is any law to stop them. I will see that the license of any such public meeting place is revoked if the owners undertake to permit such a body to meet there, to threaten the peace and destroy the neighborly relations of Boston by their threats and charges."

The Ku-Klux-Klan is a distinctly anti-American body opposed to the principle and practice of American democracy, intolerant, bigoted, vicious, violent, terrorizing, timid people, committing crimes and outrages under cover of darkness and fantastic disguises.

"This barber leader, Farnsworth, is a mercenary little pest traveling around fomenting trouble; he has boasted that the Klan has its two-gun men and desperados to carry out their designs and is an often and confessed criminal. The Klan should be put out of business; it is a danger to the peace of every community and Farnsworth should either be locked up or be deported as an undesirable alien to the country he came from, New Brunswick. There is no place for men of his stripe and the nocturnal organization he heads in Boston and Massachusetts.

"They must be destroyed as public enemies and I will do my share to root them out. In view of the character and number of the real Americans in this state opposed to the Ku-Klux-Klan and what it represents it will be extremely unhealthy for them to start anything in Boston. The men who charged over the entrenchments and batteries of a trained German Army are not going to stand much nonsense from silly dupes prowling around in night shirts and pillow cases.

"It's quite probable the Klan will give Boston a wide berth as far as parades, meetings and flaming crosses go. It is neither safe nor healthy for them here."

LAND-TAKING IN ROXBURY.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of the Public Works Department, the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, to be constructed as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands, for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Roxbury and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Silva place, bounded:

Northeast by Munroe street, six feet; southeast by another part of Silva place, one hundred twenty-four and 7-100 feet; southwest by the southwesterly line of Silva place, six feet; and northwest by another part of Silva place, one hundred twenty-four and 14-100 feet; containing seven hundred forty-five square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows:

One hundred and fifteen linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and one hundred and six linear feet of 10-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Silva place, leading southwesterly from Munroe street.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages in his estate by the taking of the aforesaid easements and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on the easterly side of Silva place excluding the lot on the corner of Munroe street, will receive benefit or advantage other than the general advantage to real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 525, Sewerage Works, Silva Place, Roxbury, August 15, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," on file in the office of said Department.

PLANS FOR NAVY DAY.

His Honor the Mayor has expressed his willingness to co-operate with the following letter from Rear Admiral L. R. DeSteiguer.

DISTRICT STAFF HEADQUARTERS, FIRST NAVAL DISTRICT, NAVY YARD,
BOSTON, October 1, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The President of the United States has approved the celebration of Navy Day on October 27, 1923. Will you be so kind to issue again on Navy Day a proclamation similar to the splendid proclamation issued from your hand and seal on Navy Day October 17, 1922, or such proclamation as you think appropriate.

It is planned to observe Navy Day this year by requesting schools, patriotic societies, and civil activities to hold meetings at which speeches may be made recounting the exploits of the navy and its present status as a protection to commerce, to international amity, and to the stability and safety of the American form of government for the people and by the people. Congressmen, senators, and prominent men are desired for these speeches.

Your interest in bringing the observance of the day to the attention of the municipal and educational organizations of which you are the head will be greatly appreciated as of far reaching influence.

On this day all naval stations and ships will be open to the public, who are cordially invited to visit them.

Very sincerely yours,

L. R. DESTEIGUER,
Rear Admiral, U. S. Navy.

MEDICAL CONDITIONS AND HEALTH WORK IN EUROPE.

DISCUSSED BY DR. CHARLES F. WILINSKY.

The following are a few brief impressions arrived at by Dr. Charles F. Wilinsky, director, health unit, 17 Blossom street, Boston, who has returned from a two months' study of medical conditions prevalent at the present time abroad, and of the health work in progress in the European countries he visited.

There was nothing so outstanding and constructive in Europe as the medical program in the schools in London. Over 200,000 children received thorough corrective treatment in 1922, due to the wonderfully organized follow-up campaign for checking up the correction of the physical defects of the school child. The work of following up and securing treatment for ailing children is essentially the most important branch of school medical work.

In London this is entrusted to what is known as a Care Committee Organization. Each school has a committee of volunteer workers who interview the parents and help them to carry out the advice of school physicians and school nurses. There are 5,000 such workers supported, guided and recruited by a staff of over 125 organizers, which organization is placed under the direction of a principal organizer who is a half-time officer in the public health and education department.

The success of the thorough correction of defects is due to the excellent follow-up system which calls for the reinspection of the child entrusted to the care of the members of these committees. The first reinspection takes place from four to six months from the date of the original physical examination. A second reinspection takes place four to six months after the previous one, if the defects have not already been remedied. At a second reinspection special attention is drawn to neglected cases and every endeavor is made to secure the parents' co-operation. In cases of difficulty, the aid of a special agent of the school department is enlisted. In serious cases where all attempts at persuasion fail, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children are informed and they take action, in some cases involving prosecution. So thorough is this work followed up and done, that over 80 per cent of the children having physical defects have had the same corrected in 1922.

In the splendid "treatment scheme" of the London School and Health Departments there are sixty-eight treatment centers, where children are brought for the correction of all possible defects. In 1922, 209,158 children were treated at these centers, divided as follows: Teeth, 105,380 children; medical and minor ailments, 52,690; eye, 32,310; ear, nose and throat 16,150; ring worm, 2,628. The total number of visits made by the above group of children at the treatment centers were 1,292,929. This tremendous group represents 73 per cent of the defective school children receiving treatment at these centers, the remaining 27 per cent receiving their treatment from private physicians.

One may be pardoned for again alluding to the splendid corrective work going on, when it is realized that 192,730 children were inspected by the school dentists, an increase of 49,000 over 1921, and that the dental records show a remarkable improvement from year to year in the teeth of the school children. There is noted a great and cumulative improvement resulting in more than 15 per cent of children leaving school with sounder teeth in 1921 than in 1913, and London is proud of its record of 8,000 boys and girls leaving the London schools with every tooth sound in 1921, which would have been impossible but for the preventive and curative measures introduced in their dental program in 1913.

Quite in contrast to London's curative program is England's stand on vaccination. There are approximately three million and a half of the population of London county unvaccinated and liable to an epidemic of smallpox. This summer there was an extremely violent epidemic in Gloucester, England, and it is only in Gloucester times that the health departments can enforce vaccination. During other periods the Englishman is protected by an Act of Parliament passed in 1907, which put an end to compulsory vaccination.

From time to time England has been subject to epidemics of smallpox, the only effective barrier being the Public Health Service of London which has the duty of protecting against smallpox, as soon as a single case occurs, and of suppressing it promptly. England is always in danger of smallpox infected ships coming from India, sixteen of these arriving in 1919 alone, and they are only stopped by the vigilance of the Port authority.

All necessary measures of vaccination, segregation and observation of contacts, disinfection and other steps to prevent the spread of smallpox is always before the minds of not only the medical officers of the respective localities, but the general practicing physician, owing to the possibilities of the spread of the disease due to nonvaccination, and it is hard to realize why England, with its eminent medical authorities cannot impress upon its people the protective value of vaccination.

Diphtheria too, has been on the increase, with a higher death rate in 1922 than there has been since 1902. Experimentation with the Schick test in 1921 by Dr. R. A. O'Brien and his colleagues of the Welcome Research Laboratories, who tested and immunized 329 inmates of two institutions in Mitchen and Norwood, England, showed such splendid results that it is difficult to conceive why London and other parts of England have not waged a campaign for the elimination of diphtheria, but it perhaps may be best summed up by quoting an English health authority who said that "an Englishman always impresses you with the statement that his home is his castle and he is not ready to allow experimentation upon his children." No concerted effort has been made by the proper authorities to refute the theory of vaccination, Schicking and administration of toxin antitoxin, or the giving of antityphoid vaccine is experimentation. It was very refreshing to know that Doctor Childe, President of the British Medical Association, who estimated the cost of sickness and disablement to almost a billion dollars per annum in England, suggested concentration on fresh air, sunlight and better sanitary conditions in general, with a devotion of one third of the amount of money expended upon illness, for the wiping out of slum areas, and the teaching of prevention of disease.

Paris, which for many years, had been wrestling with the problem of syphilis, was forced after the war, to devote its attention to tuberculosis, receiving tremendous assistance from the Rockefeller Foundation, which devoted its attention to the fight of that disease. Dispensaries were organized, an anti-tuberculosis campaign was incessantly waged, with so much success and reduction of that dreaded scourge that the Rockefeller Foundation has turned the work back to the National Committee for the Control of Tuberculosis in France.

Under the auspices of the Rockefeller Foundation, Miss F. Elizabeth Crowell is now making a study of the nurses' training in Europe, with the object in mind of improving the personnel and type of nursing service.

Doctor Eversole of the Rockefeller Foundation is making a medical survey of the various countries and awarding fellowships whereby medical men in Europe will come to the United States for observation and training.

The Pasteur Institute, the American Hospital, the Antituberculosis Society and the French Red Cross, and Public Health Nursing Societies are all doing splendid health work in Paris, which is bearing much fruit.

The American Red Cross headquarters in Paris have recently been closed and the work turned over to the League of Red Cross Societies, who, with their headquarters in Paris are doing splendid missionary health work all over Europe.

The league is waging an intensive campaign of the establishment of Junior Red Cross Societies, with a splendid response from France, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Roumania and some of the other smaller countries. The services of the League of Red Cross Societies are at the disposal of all of the members of the league and they act as a collecting and distributing agency of all health literature printed in the various languages, which may be of benefit to its members. There are forty-six nations members of the league, and it can readily be seen how the Red Cross Societies, whose object is to speedily disseminate modern health information, propaganda, distribution of literature, teaching of health by film, etc., cannot help but raise the standard of health of the people who constitute its membership.

One cannot help but be impressed with the practical health program in Rome, with its famous polyclinic and hospital with over 1,400 beds, a staff of eminent physicians and surgeons, including Doctor Bastianelli and Doctor Alessandri, internationally famous, who furnish the people of Rome most efficient medical and surgical treatment.

An excellent baby hygiene program is carried on by the health department, with six baby stations, each having two physicians and two nurses in attendance.

There is an average daily attendance of from 90 to 100 babies who are carefully weighed and measured, and the mothers given practical instruction and advice. These stations are open six days a week, with a splendid response by the Italian mothers, so much so, that there is apparently very little necessity of following up the work in the home by the nurse.

There is an excellent program of school inspection, with the remedying of physical defects carried on by the health department in Rome, and children needing corrective treatment followed up thoroughly. Failure to correct defects is cause for exclusion, and in severe cases prosecution.

Lectures, moving pictures and slides are being shown to school children, as well as school teachers, with emphasis upon posture, hygiene, open air, sunlight, and the value of correcting physical defects.

The responsibility of quarantine in contagious diseases is placed upon the shoulders of the family physician, with no placading in Rome proper, except for smallpox, at the present time.

The health department in Brussels is very efficient and functions along modern lines, with an intelligent program of baby hygiene and school examination work.

A gift of three and a half million dollars by the Rockefeller Foundation to the University of Brussels made possible the planning and establishment of a group of medical buildings, forming the most modern and convenient medical plant in Europe.

No other country can boast of the sanitary conditions prevalent in Switzerland, and Lausanne, Lucerne and Geneva are models of cleanliness, with apparently not a spot of rubbish, nor a scrap of paper on its streets, and we have much to learn from them about the care of our streets and alleys.

One must visit the health section of the League of Nations at Geneva in order to be able to grasp fairly quickly the medical and health conditions prevalent all over Europe.

The Intergovernmental health work instituted by the medical section of the League of Nations makes it possible for the League to have a grip upon the pulse of the health of Europe.

The aim and purpose of the medical section is to advise the league itself about all international questions of public health, to establish closer relations between health services of the different countries, to act as a clearing house for information, and finally, to help in every possible way to remedy defects in the various countries, by bringing to their attention the most modern medical knowledge and aid for the particular disease which may be a source of trouble to that nation at a particular time.

For this purpose a service of epidemiological intelligence and public health statistics has been organized and is being carried on. The members of the league send their epidemiological information weekly or monthly to headquarters, which is tabulated by a small body of experts in Geneva. The information is studied and general bulletins published. As a result of the information received investigations are undertaken by experts of national medical institutes and other technical agencies.

Relief is given to any epidemic condition which may be evident from the statistics compiled, by the sending of trained experts to the source of trouble, who organize, train and teach the physicians and nurses of the countries where the epidemic may exist, as to the most modern method of coping with the situation. A concrete example was the work of the Epidemic Commission which was set up by the council, and a million dollars given to it to carry on this work in Poland, which country was most exposed to the wave of epidemics coming from Russia. More recently the commission has been at work at Greece, where owing to the influx of refugees, there has been an epidemic wave.

A very important branch of the work carried on through the health organization is that of developing a mutual understanding between health administration in different countries, and trying so far as possible, to establish a sound, common, modern policy of health. This has resulted in an interchange of public health personnel started October, 1922, where, with the help of a grant of $60,000 a year for three years by the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, the health committee has organized a system of visits including, lectures, observations and practical work for medical officers of health, wishing to study the way problems of sanitation and the combating of disease are dealt with in foreign countries.

The health committee has also organized a system of individual fellowships, by which one or two medical officers of health, wishing to study some particular problem may visit any given country, to study the subject and receive a certain compensation from the health organization while doing so. The purpose of this work is not only to give the participants the practical benefit derived from getting specific knowledge on their subjects, but largely to build up a co-operation and mutual helpfulness between national health administrations.

A practical demonstration of the value of the health section of the League of Nations and its mutual benefit to a country in its league because of its ability to demonstrate the best knowledge of coping with a situation, may be mentioned in the reduction of typhus and relapsing fever in Russia, with 250,000 cases existing during the first four months of 1923 as against 1,800,000 cases during the first four months of 1922.

Austria, with its great problems of tuberculosis and malnutrition caused by and following the great war, is slowly improving and deserves great credit for bravely struggling to rise from its physical ruin.

All in all, a person touring Europe, and interested in health work, is agreeably surprised at the brave efforts of the medical and nursing organizations of the various countries visited who have heroically struggled for almost ten years to rehabilitate their communities from a physical point of view. Medical men and organizations have modestly solicited both advice and assistance, and the response by countries and organizations able to furnish both aid and advice, has been splendid, with the result that the continental countries involved in the war are slowly but surely improving physically and with the benefit of having gained, by acquiring the most up-to-date modern medical and sanitary assistance and advice from countries able to furnish the same.

The influence of the Red Cross and other groups who rendered assistance during the war has been a lasting one, and representatives of these organizations are now able to teach the lesson of health, finding a response in the various countries where they had established an influence.

General Order No. 385.

In the future when a police officer makes application for leave of absence on account of a funeral, and such application is approved by the commanding officer of the division or unit, a petition for pay under Section 7 of Rules 37 of the Rules and Regulations relating to "Pay and Allowances," covering such absence shall be made by the officer and accompany his application for leave.

Thus there will be no delay in the officer's receiving the amount of the allowance and he may receive it in the week of the absence.

ON THE TIME AND PAY ROLL.

In such cases the persons who prepare the time and pay roll will state on both rolls in the column, "Days Allowed for Absence, etc.," the number of days to be allowed under the rule, and in the column, "Amount Received for Absence, etc.," the amount of such allowance.

Such absences which occur after the rolls have been sent in on Tuesday morning will be accounted for on the roll of the following week.

HALF-PAY ALLOWANCES.

As provided in Section 4 of Rule 37 of the Rules and Regulations, relating to "Pay and Allowances," half-pay will upon petition and approval of the Police Commissioner, be credited hereafter weekly to police officers, instead of monthly, as has been the custom.

Commanding officers will see that, as far as practicable, such petitions are forwarded to the superintendent's office on Friday morning of each week, at the latest.

They should not be attached to the weekly time or pay roll inclosed in the cardboard tube, forwarded to the superintendent's office on Tuesday morning.

Such half-pay allowances on petitions received up to Friday will be credited on the blank pay roll at the chief clerk's office, which is sent to the station on Saturday noon.

FULL PAY.

(For absence on account of injury received in the performance of duty.)

Police officers absent as described in this section now receive their pay weekly on petition.

No change is made in that arrangement.

NOTED FETE PLANNED FOR COLUMBUS DAY OBSERVANCE.

At a meeting of the Columbus Day Committee of the Public Celebration Association held Friday night, September 28, at City Hall, arrangements were advanced for the municipal observance of Columbus Day, October 12. The chairman of the committee, James H. Phelan, presided.

Reports submitted by the acting director of Public Celebrations, Daniel W. Gillen, showed that twenty-three mayors of Massachusetts cities had accepted Mayor Curley's invitation to be present and join with him in reviewing the state's parade of Spanish War Veterans, Columbus Day afternoon at City Hall. At the same time representatives of twenty or more national groups representing other countries of the world will assemble at City Hall. Each group will have its national flag as a special tribute to the spirit of Pan-Americanism. All the flags of the countries of South and Central America will be massed with boy scouts as color bearers.

Immediately following the review at City Hall, the mayors, national groups, members of the Columbus Day Committee and others will proceed to Boston Common, where at the Parkman Bandstand will take place the annual form of program arranged by the city with the co-operation of the citizens' committee in honor of Columbus and Pan-Americanism, especially emphasizing the get-together spirit of this particular holiday when all the countries of the Western Hemisphere may unite.

Included in the ceremonies will be the oration by William P. Larkin of New York City, who will take the place previously assigned to Mayor Hylan of New York who will be prevented by serious illness from coming to Boston on this occasion. The orator will be introduced by Mayor Curley.

At the end of the program at the Parkman Bandstand will be a pageantry feature portraying the development of the stars and stripes. The feature will be contributed by school children of the City of Cambridge under the supervision of T. Harrison Cummings, Cambridge public librarian. Similar co-operation from Cambridge was given on Columbus Day last year and proved so successful that the committee invited Mr. Cummings to make a second demonstration this year.

Then the participating national groups with their costumes and flags will proceed with the Guests' Committee, consuls representing foreign governments and other participants from the bandstand to the athletic field on the Common where will take place the annual "Sunset Ceremony," with honors to the colors and salute to the flag, lowering of the flag and brief review.

MAYOR OPENS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OBSERVANCE WITH NOON MEETING.

At the noon rally in the Tremont Theater inaugurating fire prevention week, Mayor Curley, who presided, spoke as follows:

"America has a dubious fame based on the losses of life and property from fire, losses that seem peculiar to our country and are practically unknown anywhere else. Right here in Boston the fire losses in 1922 amounted to $3,304,595, a sum representing about 8 per cent of the city's tax levy. If you add our losses to those of the rest of the republic you will be staggered at the enormous amount of wealth that goes up in smoke every year through ignorance, carelessness and negligence, a loss that is largely preventable and which if saved would pay off the national and state debts in a few generations.

"Fires are preventable, by care, precaution and ordinary common sense; but since these qualities seem to be scarce we must resort to organization and education to get them into the consciousness of the people. Fires that are preventable—and most of them are—represent a waste of time, money and production; and waste is a crime since it is a needless handicap placed on the back of industry and business, and a handicap that must be paid for finally out of the dinner pail of every worker in the community.

"The ultimate consumer, the man at the bottom of industry, the labor Atlas who carries civilization on his back, pays for everything eventually and the lighter we keep his load the better for the community.

"Fire can be prevented by educating people in the origins of fires. Why, last year the Boston Fire Department, which is organized and equipped to fight fires, was called upon to answer 6,134 alarms day and night and nearly every fire was caused by carelessness and negligence.

"We are proud of our Fire Department but we should be ashamed that our lack of commonsense keeps the department busy day and night. The city authorities work hard to compel fire-proof construction, safety appliances, the elimination of rubbish heaps, careless management and the score of causes that lead to fires; yet the activity of the Fire and Police Departments, their cautious instructions, appear futile.

"The time has come to wake up the public to the criminal waste of life and property due to the people's own folly and by an extensive system of organization and education compel them to realize the folly of their indifference and negligence.

"That is the end and aim of the fire prevention week from October 7 to 13, to make people understand that every needless fire is a crime in which they have a responsibility; to show Boston that no department of human activity can dodge its share of that responsibility; and to educate the public to learn its duty in this matter; and make America realize that one of the most persistent factors in high taxation and the high prices of living is fire waste—the continuance of a preventable evil.

"The time to begin in this work is here and now, and by the organization we create here today make fire prevention week an epoch in our history that will make the continuance of fires and their waste in an American community a blot upon its good name and citizenship."

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Monday, September 24, 1923.

Special meeting of the City Council, held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at twelve o'clock noon, President LANE in the chair and all the members present.

The Clerk read the call for the meeting, as follows:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, September 21, 1923.
Dear Councilor,—The steam railroads serving Massachusetts, namely, Boston & Albany, New York, New Haven & Hartford, and Boston & Maine, having announced their determination to seek a 20 per cent increase in commutation fares and twelve-ride tickets, it is desirable that the position of the city government of Boston be made known to the Public Utilities Commission of the Commonwealth.

The number of passengers transported daily by the three railroad systems serving the City of Boston is greater than that transported to any other city of the Commonwealth and consequently our interest should be proportionately great.

You are accordingly requested to attend a special meeting of the City Council to be held at City Hall, School street, Boston, upon Monday, September 24, at twelve o'clock, noon, to take action upon the proposition for an increase in commutation and twelve-ride ticket rates on the New England railroads entering Boston, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

TRANSFER FOR ORIENT HEIGHTS PLAYGROUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, September 24, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the accompanying communication from the Park Department requesting a transfer of $18,000 from the appropriation for playground purposes, Tenean Beach Playground, to the special appropriation for Orient Heights Playground, Improvements.

The Orient Heights Playground represents a reclaimed project which has been in process of completion for a period of ten years. The land is sufficiently settled at the present time to permit of top dressing, and rendering the same available for general playground purposes. The Tenean Beach Playground, from which the transfer is requested, cannot be completed with a less expenditure than $50,000, and in view of the fact that the necessary balance is not available at this time, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order for the transfer as recommended by the Park Department.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston.

Park Department, September 22, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to authorize the transfer of $18,000 from the appropriation, Playground Purposes, Tenean Beach Playground, to the special appropriation, Orient Heights Playground, Improvements. The reason for this request is that we have been unable to use this money for the development of the Tenean Beach Playground and can use it for the development of the Orient Heights Playground, which is badly needed, as no money has been spent for improvements at that location for a number of years.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES B. SHEA,

Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Tenean Beach Playground, $18,000, to the appropriation for Orient Heights Playground, Improvements, etc., $18,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

SPRINKLER SYSTEM, CITY HOSPITAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, September 24, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of a request from the president of the Board of Trustees of the City Hospital, to the effect that money be transferred to the appropriation for Sprinkler System, Main Hospital, to permit the continued employment of an Inspector until the transferred to the appropriation for Sprinkler only desirable but wise to grant this request, I accordingly recommend adoption by your honorable body of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hospital Department,

September 22, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The completion of the work of the sprinkler system has been unavoidably delayed, so that the funds provided to pay the inspector have been exhausted. This work will probably not be completed for about ten weeks. It is the opinion of the trustees that the inspector should be retained until the work is completed. I therefore respectfully request that $350 be transferred from the appropriation for City Hospital Improvements to the appropriation for Sprinkler System, Main Hospital.

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH P. MANNING,

President, Board of Trustees.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for City Hospital, Improvements, $350, to the appropriation for Sprinkler System, Main Hospital, $350.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER FOR WORLD WAR MEMORIAL PARK.

The following was received:

City of Boston.

Office of the Mayor, September 24, 1923.

To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of the accompanying communication submitted by the Park Department requesting the transfer of unexpended balances for alterations and addition to sanitary and locker buildings at the World War Memorial Park.

It is desirable that these improvements, so essential for the completion of World War Memorial Park in East Boston, be completed at the earliest possible date, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Park Department, September 22, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to authorize the transfer to the special appropriation for World War Memorial Park, East Boston, Bathhouse, etc., of the balances in the special appropriations as follows:

Baldwin Race Playground.....$7,150 00
Bathing Beach, Jeffrey Point.....4,100 00
Wood Island Park Improvements.....7,010 00

The reason for making this request is that the balances on these appropriations are now no longer needed for what they were appropriated for, and this money is needed for alterations and additions to the sanitary and locker building at the World War Memorial Park.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES B. SHEA,
Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Baldwin Place Playground, $7,150; Bathing Bench, Jeffries Point, $4,103.62; Wood Island Park, Improvements, $7,010.03, to the appropriation for World War Memorial Park, East Boston, Bathhouse, etc., $18,263.65.

RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING RAILROAD FARE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor September 24, 1923.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am submitting for consideration by the City Council of Boston a resolution in opposition to the granting of an increase in the commutation and twelve-mile fare rates by the Public Utilities Commission on steam railroads operating in Massachusetts.

Undoubtedly the steam railroads can present an excellent case in favor of approval by the Public Utilities Commission of the proposed increase, using as their basis the increase in the cost of materials, increase in wages and the increased fare at present in operation upon electric street railroad systems; but, in my opinion, the very modest request presented in this case is but the entering wedge for the foisting ultimately upon the New England States of a project for state aid to steam railroads operating in New England States in the same manner that municipal and town aid was furnished the Boston Elevated Street Railroad Company when the normal procedure should have been to bankruptcy court.

Under the circumstances, with a view to establishing some means of defence in the event of a contemplated raid which it is not unreasonable to assume may be later engineered, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying resolution.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Whereas, the railroad systems operating in Massachusetts have requested a 20 per cent increase in the commutation and twelve-mile ticket rates and

Whereas, such increase has neither been approved nor requested on railroad systems outside of New England and

Whereas, the adoption of the proposed increase would prove burdensome to the public, and

Whereas, the city most vitally affected would be the City of Boston, which probably would be represented in shoppers and employees of concerns doing business in Boston in excess of one hundred thousand persons daily, and

Whereas, the adoption of the proposed increase would inevitably tend to restrict travel by train to the City of Boston from the suburbs.

Be it and it is hereby resolved that in the opinion of this City Council of Boston conditions do not justify an increase at this time in either commutation or twelve-mile rates which at present obtain on the railroad systems operating in Massachusetts.

Be it further resolved that in the opinion of the Boston City Council the proposal submitted by the railroads operating in Massachusetts to the Public Utilities Commission should be denied and

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution as approved by the Boston City Council be sent to his Excellency the Governor and the members of the Public Utilities Commission.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PETITION FOR ESTABLISHMENT OF EVENING SCHOOL IN EVERETT SCHOOLHOUSE.

A communication was received from the Superintendent, under date of Sept. 17, 1923, to whom was referred at the meeting of Aug. 1, 1923 (see p. 131), a petition for the establishment of evening classes in the Everett School, reporting that approximately seventy-five persons signed this petition, of which a considerable number appear to reside nearer the Franklin School where there is a regularly established evening school, than the Everett School building. Experience shows that as a rule not more than half of the signers of petitions of this nature actually become regular attendants at the evening school when established. Furthermore, prior to the receipt of this petition the appropriation for the maintenance of evening schools had been passed, and the evening schools for the current term established. Two new evening schools have been provided and it is probable that no further substantial extensions of evening schools may be allowed this year within the appropriation.

In view of the foregoing, the Superintendent recommended that the petition for the establishment of evening classes in the Everett School this year be not allowed.

Placed on file, and the Superintendent requested to consider the advisability of establishing such an evening school for the year following.

TENTATIVE ESTABLISHMENT OF COMPENSATION OF CERTAIN CUSTODIANS.

tablished, to take effect Aug. 15, 1923, and to continue until otherwise ordered.

Placed on file.

On motion, it was ORDERED, That the salaries of the custodians of the school-houses indicated below are hereby established at the rates specified, to take effect Aug. 15, 1923, and to continue until such time as the regular certification of the cubical contents of the buildings is made:

Andrew Jackson School $35.00 per week.
William McKinley School $29.00 per week.
Theodore Parker School $20.00 per week.
Theodore Roosevelt School $45.00 per week.
Special Class Center, Park Street
Dorchester $20.00 per week.

EMPLOYMENT OF TEMPORARY ATTENDANCE OFFICER

On motion, the temporary appointment of Joseph Gaughan as attendance officer, to take effect Sept. 11, 1923, was approved.

NAMING OF A SCHOOL-HOUSE

The following was offered: ORDERED, That the new Dorchester Center for Special Class pupils, located on Park Street, Rosina Road, and Washington Street, in the John Marshall District, be named the Lucy Stone School, in honor of Lucy Stone, born in West Brookfield, Mass., in 1818; as a young girl eager for an education and especially desirous of going to college; was degraded with credit from Oberlin, the only college that then admitted girls; was the first woman in Massachusetts to take a college degree; for many years lectured throughout the United States and Canada on the abolition of slavery and was associated with William Lloyd Garrison, Julia Ward Howe, Mary Livermore, and other noted people of that time; from 1870 to 1893, made her home in Dorchester, where she took an active part in everything pertaining to the public welfare, being especially interested in the education of the young.

Laid over.

PETITION FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL AT UPHAMS CORNER.

A communication was received from the Uphams Corner Improvement Association, under date of Sept. 7, 1923, reporting that at a regular meeting that Association reaffirmed its previous action going on record in favor of a new high school at Uphams Corner, there being no doubt that a new high school will be necessary in a very few years in that district, and requesting that the Board give attention to the matter.

Placed on file.

NEW CHELSEA SOUTH BRIDGE TO BE READY FOR TRAFFIC JANUARY 1.

STRUCTURE TO BE 365 FEET LONG AND 61 FEET WIDE AND ELECTRICALLY OPERATED. CHANNEL BEING WIDENED AND DREDGED TO GREATER DEPTH. MANY OTHER IMPROVEMENTS BEING INSTALLED.

CHELSEA SOUTH BRIDGE NEARING COMPLETION. ANOTHER ADMINISTRATION MONUMENT.

Citizens of Boston have been promised the use of the new Chelsea Bridge over the South Channel, Mystic river, Charlestown, by the first of January, and work has advanced to such a stage that it seems the promise of the Bridge Division of the Public Works Department will be fulfilled.

When the bridge is completed it will be one of the most complete and up-to-date structures in this section. The new bridge will be a decided improvement over the one it replaces and the temporary bridge which has been in use for a number of years. One of the chief difficulties experienced by the engineers was to avoid serious injury by undermining the existing temporary bridge and to avoid damaging the water works tunnel which is very close to the masonry foundations.

The length of the new bridge is 365 feet and the width is 61 feet. The bridge consists of a steel superstructure with a concrete floor slab and granite block paving, resting on masonry piers.

The draw span is of the bascule type, composed of four leaves opening up on trunnions and provides for a channel 75 feet wide as against the existing width of 48 feet. This width of 75 feet is sufficient to take care of the largest naval colliers now built.

The channel depth is to be dredged to 25 feet instead of the existing depth of 22 feet and the piers are carried to such a depth (one of the channel piers being carried to 45 feet below low water), that the channel may be ultimately dredged to 35 feet at mean low water.

The draw span has a wood block surface and the leaves will be operated by electricity. A type of roadway gate new to this section of the country is to be provided. It is to be a yielding barrier and is designed to allow an impact of an ordinary touring car going at 30 miles an hour and provides for stopping the car in a distance of about 17 or 18 feet without undue jar. In connection with the gates, electrically operated warn-

MAYOR PROTESTS BOOSTING OF PRICE OF COAL.

SENDS LETTER TO COMMISSIONER HULTMAN CALLING ATTENTION TO ANNOUNCEMENT OF COAL DEALERS.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter Wednesday evening protesting against increased cost of coal by local dealers:

MR. EUGENE C. HULTMAN, Chairman Special Commission on the Necessaries of Life, State House, Boston:

MY DEAR MR. HULTMAN,—I beg to direct your attention to the announcement of the Massachusetts coal companies that it is their purpose to increase the price of coal by one dollar per ton over and above the existing price on anthracite.

In view of the fact that the total increase in the cost of coal resulting from the present settlement of the labor difficulties represents an advance of about seventy cents per ton and that weather conditions are such as to permit the receipt and delivery without additional cost, it would appear that the proposed increase is an unwarranted and unjust extortionate gouge that should not be permitted.

I sincerely trust that in view of the fact that it affects the entire people of the Commonwealth you will not only have the matter investigated through your department but direct the attention of the Attorney General to the same.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

CITY RAZING UNSAFE BUILDINGS.

The Building Department of the City of Boston, during the past ten years, has caused to be taken down about 3,500 unsafe buildings and structures, and about 1,100 more have been repaired and put in safe condition.

During the last session of the Legislature, upon petition of his Honor the Mayor, an act was passed, namely, chapter 462 of 1923, sections 2, 3 and 4, amending the present building law, chapter 550 of 1907, sections 4, 5 and 8, relative to unsafe buildings, dilapidated buildings, fire menaces, etc.

The department found many handicaps in the enforcing of its orders relating to said structures and buildings, and much delay was occasioned thereby. The department anticipates considerable assistance in its efforts by the said amendments.

During the first eight months of this year ninety-nine buildings were taken down; this number does not include those which have been repaired.

It is the intention of the department to continue actively in causing the removal of these structures in the interest of public safety.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.]

MAYOR CURLEY AGAIN FLAYS KU KLUX KLAN AND BARS THEM FROM MEETING IN BOSTON.

REPLIES TO JOHN S. CODMAN, OF THE AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION, WHO PROTESTED MAYOR'S ACTION—CHIEF EXECUTIVE CALLS ORDER "SECRET AND EVIL" AND "FOSTERS TREASON"—REFUSES TO WITHDRAW OPPOSITION.

Mayor Curley launched another attack against the Ku Klux Klan Friday, October 5, when he made reply to a letter of John S. Codman of the American Civil Liberties Union in which the latter pleaded for the rights of the Ku Klux to hold open meetings. The Mayor had announced that any licensed public hall allowing such meetings in Boston would have permit revoked.

The letter of the Mayor to Mr. Codman reads as follows:

BOSTON, October 4, 1923.

MR. JOHN S. CODMAN, The American Civil Liberties Union, 39 India Street, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—I have your letter protesting my announced intention to prevent, as far as I can officially do so, any appearance of the so-called Ku Klux Klan in any public hall or theater in this city, and basing your protest on the plea that my action would constitute an abridgement of the right of free speech and be a violation of the Constitutional guarantees safeguarding that right.

Unless the public press of America has been deliberately maligning the American Civil Liberties Union which you claim to represent, its interpretation of the Constitution and the right of free speech is of a character that I am not disposed to agree with, even though I am a stout stickler for freedom of meeting, speech and press.

The difference between the views of the A. C. L. Union and mine is one of latitude, or where freedom ends and treason, sedition and disloyalty begin. As a general proposition I hold to the doctrine that any individual, or body of individuals, meeting in peaceful and orderly assembly has the right to discuss any and all laws, and pass upon their worth, advocate their amendment or repeal, and agitate for alterations in the provisions of our Constitution, or our form of government; but the agitation must be conducted peacefully and without incitement to violence.

In a democracy such as ours, government must function inside the limitations of the Constitution and in accordance with the laws made and provided for its administration; the elected and administrative officers are servants of the people and necessarily the subjects of criticism and correction, for it is axiomatic that the creature cannot be greater than the creator.

Any organized body or society whose avowed purpose is to persecute and restrict the liberties of other citizens, which fosters race and religious hatreds, foment civic dissensions, disturbs the peace, overrides the law and presumes to engage in activities that are noxious, nocturnal and lawless places itself clearly outside the Constitution and the law and is a threat to the peace and integrity of the state. It cannot expect to shelter itself behind the rights it denies and the guarantees it repudiates, because admittedly it is a public enemy. Self-preservation is the first law of nature and nations. No free, democratic, self-governing people organized as a republic or commonwealth can be guilty of the folly of protecting conspirators who are engaged in a movement to destroy it and hope to endure. It is not only its right but its duty to balk such conspiracy and conspirators, and make their continued existence and activity impossible. Such a body is the Ku Klux Klan. All its activities and preachments place it squarely in the category of a pestilent public enemy. Respect for the Constitution and law, the peace and happiness of the Commonwealth, the preservation of public order and a fair and just observance of the principles underlying our democracy demand the suppression of the Ku Klux Klan and every other body openly or secretly antagonistic to our system.

Whether they be bigots or altruists, fools or fanatics, natives or aliens, the well-meaning or the misguided, when they impudently and violently seek to upset the law of the land, assume its administration and refuse to acknowledge the authority of any but the secret conspiracy they serve, they should be stamped out.

The masks and grotesque regalia they masquerade in are mere incidents in their criminal activities; they merely emphasize and illuminate the character of the society, while in themselves harmless and ridiculous. It is the acts of the Ku Klux Klan, their violation of law, their false and vicious incitements to persecution and lawlessness, their contempt for the rights of others, and their defiance of constitutional authority and nocturnal violence that constitute the unanswerable reason for the extirpation of this mercenary, treasonable and cowardly body. They have placed themselves outside the pale of the law; they cannot expect, nor should they receive, its protection.

Your conception of what constitutes freedom of public assembly and speech is untenable and farfetched, and if admitted and permitted would open the door to disorder, revolution and anarchy and lead to the destruction of American government.

There is no law that can kill bigotry, hatred, prejudice and the evils that grow out of human ignorance and frailty; the hand of the law cannot reach into the heart of a scoundrel nor the mind of a fool; but the arm of the law is long enough and its hand heavy enough to reach both scoundrel and fool when they undertake to translate their evil passions into actions dangerous to the public weal.

The Ku Klux Klan is a secret and evil thing that is disturbing and destroying the peace of America, and as far as lies in my power, officially and personally, I will thwart this creature of the night, which shames Christianity, insults Americanism, assails liberty and fosters treason. Under no circumstances will I withdraw my opposition to this wretched travesty on American citizenship, nor cease to combat a body that shuns the light of the sun and finds its ideals in the bat and the obscene creatures of the night.

Yours very truly,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

DEPARTMENT CO-OPERATION SAVES HUGE SUM TO CITY.

The Division Engineer in charge of the Water Division of the Public Works Department, Christopher J. Carven, reported on Saturday, October 6, that a 24-inch high pressure service main located on South street near Kneeland had broken at 430 a. m., and as a result of the break the basement of the post office and the cellar of several buildings in the vicinity were flooded with water.

The impression of the city authorities was that the damage would be considerable, but a later investigation disclosed the fact that it would probably be less than $25,000. The entire mains were shut off within thirty minutes of the time that the break occurred, and the fire apparatus began pumping within an hour. As a result of the joint activities of the Public Works Department and the Fire Department it has been possible to keep the loss at a minimum.

LAND-TAKING IN EAST BOSTON.

The Mayor has approved the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of the estate now or formerly of Antonio G. Tomasello, on St. Andrew road, Lillian street and Teragram street, East Boston district, containing approximately 32,400 square feet, for schoolhouse purposes, being the following described parcel of land, including the trees, buildings and other structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Antonio G. Tomasello, bounded:

Northeast by Saratoga street, one hundred and eighty feet; southeast by Teragram street, one hundred and eighty feet; southwest by St. Andrew road, one hundred and eighty feet; and northwest by other land of said Tomasello, one hundred and eighty feet, containing thirty-two thousand four hundred square feet, more or less.

Said parcel is shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Saratoga Street, Teragram Street, St. Andrew Road, East Boston, August 15, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

Voted, That this Board determines that the undermentioned estate sustains damages by the taking made for school purposes on Saratoga street, Teragram street and St. Andrew road, East Boston district, under the order of the Board, in the amount hereinafter set against it, and awards said amount therefor.

Antonio G. Tomasello, 32,400 square feet	Amount. $12,960

munication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 6, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to E. A. Abbott Company, 3 Park street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon October 8 the Mayor approved a contract with the A. L. Smith Iron Works for new iron floors and appurtenances for filth hoist building, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester. A communication from Commissioner Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 6, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for new iron floors and appurtenances for filth hoist building, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester, to the A. L. Smith Iron Works, 217 Everett avenue, Chelsea, at an estimated cost of $3,401.

On the proposal opened September 28, 1923, the above concern was the only bidder for doing this work, and they omitted a price on Item 3, which calls for the removal, cleaning, painting and replacing of about thirty-nine old floor plates for a lump sum. Instead of bidding on this item, a letter in the form of an alternative proposal, was submitted in which it was stated that Superintendent Robinson of the station expressed a desire to have all the plates, fifty-four in number, replaced with new ones. This alternative proposal covers the replacing of these plates and doing the work under all the other items for the sum of $3,401.

The engineer's estimate for the total work, including replacing all the plates with new ones, is $3,445.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,

MAYOR CURLEY'S SCHEDULE OF WEEK IN HANDLING THE CITY'S BUSINESS ONLY FOR ROBUST.

Aside from the routine of the office of a Mayor many citizens believe that the office does not call for much work on the part of an official. Besides the handling of a vast amount of the business of a city for which he is responsible the Mayor has a huge amount of other work to do, so much that most men are appalled, when once they enter upon their duties.

One of the most busy mayors of the Commonwealth, and in fact of the United States is the Mayor of Boston. The outside duties which taxed the vitality and energy of Mayor Curley during this week may be taken as a fair sample of what he is called upon to do in addition to managing of the city's affairs. STATISTICS DEPARTMENT REPORT.

BOSTON, October 5, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We are glad to report that the annual "Municipal Register" was issued and distributed two months earlier this year than in previous years, owing to the special co-operation of Superintendent Casey of the Printing Plant, also to the reduction in size of the volume by 112 pages as compared with the 1922 book. Most of the tabular statistics relating to population, finances and elections was omitted for the first time since the year 1900, as the new "Boston Year Book" is to include such matter of that kind as it seems necessary to continue using.

As most of the municipal statistical information hitherto contained in our annual "Boston Statistics" is also to be transferred to the "Year Book," we have deemed it wise to avoid duplication of same, hence the issuance of "Boston Statistics" as a separate publication is discontinued.

This department is attending to the indexing of the City Record for the year 1923, and improving the arrangement as well as the contents, also reducing the length of the index. Of late years the Printing Department has contracted for this work, paying an excessive price therefor of $350.

In our work we, of course, need to refer constantly to the City Auditor's annual report, and we hope that in the future it may be made to contain a consolidated table of assets and liabilities such as other large cities show in their financial report. A complete tabular statement of the city's financial condition at the close of each year (or semi-annually) including in the assets all municipal properties (at a fair valuation, with depreciation reckoned in) as well as outstanding taxes, etc., receivable, and in the liabilities, all bills payable, might prevent such misunderstanding and criticism as occurred earlier in the year.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM T. SEEGER,
Acting Secretary.PROBES USE OF CHURCH BY KU KLUX KLAN MEMBERS.

The chairman of the Board of Assessors sent the following letter Monday, October 8, to the pastor of the Shawmut Congregational Church:

"My attention was called to the fact that the Shawmut Congregational Church was used for other than church purposes, and the congregation was receiving an income from the renting of the same.

"I note by this morning's paper that it appears that the church was used at times by other organizations than the Shawmut Congregational Church, who appear as the owners of the property. May I ask you to submit to me a statement showing the amount of income received from the renting of these premises for the past twelve months prior to April 1, 1923, and also the persons or corporations to whom this church was rented.

Very respectfully yours,

EDWARD T. KELLY, Chairman."

MAYOR CURLEY CALLS ATTENTION OF PUBLIC TO BURDENS ALREADY BEING BORNE AND ANTICIPATED
AS WELL AS SOURCES OF REVENUE.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement Monday, October 8:

"It is a very simple matter to introduce a resolution in the City Council for political purposes making provision for an increase in the salary of persons in the employ of the city. Unfortunately, in so doing, the fact is sometimes overlooked that the city is a corporation and that the members of the City Council are equally responsible with the Mayor in the matter of administration.

"It is essential to insure successful operation of a business institution as large as the City of Boston that any business transaction involving the expenditure of large sums of money be only embarked upon after most careful consideration as to the wisdom, justice and merit of the proposed expenditure. I find it necessary to plan at least twelve to eighteen months in advance in order to meet obligations that as Mayor I shall be required to assume.

"Plans have been made anticipating major expenditure's in addition to those already borne by the city for the year 1924-25. These expenditures represent an approximate increase of $350,000 in the Fire Department to cover the adoption of the two-platoon system; they represent an increase estimated at $750,- 000 to cover the cost represented by an increase of 50 cents a day in the wages of laborers and mechanics; they represent an increased expenditure of $750,000 to cover the cost of retirement pensions; they represent in addition the normal increases and the graduated scale increases now applicable in many branches of the city service, which will total about $1,000,000 additional. This is about all the burden it is reasonable or proper to impose on the taxpayers during the fiscal year 1924-25.

"Unfortunately the only sources of revenue the city has are taxation, receipts for concessions and privileges and other minor sources of revenue. Not being possessed of the power of necromancy, it would be exceedingly difficult in finding means to comply with the wishes of the City Council in the matter regarding the proposed increase to $6 a day to members of the police as suggested by a member of the Council."

CITY TO ENTERTAIN GENERAL
HALLER.

Gen. Joseph Haller, one of the heroes of the World War in the Polish army, and who is now commander-in-chief of the Polish army, is to visit America this fall, and will be in Boston November 30 and December 1.

The city will arrange to extend the customary courtesies to this distinguished soldier, who rendered such valiant service during the period of the World War, and upon whom the title of "Liberator of Poland" has been conferred by the Polish people. A luncheon in his honor, to which distinguished officials of the nation, state and city will be invited, is being arranged by Mayor Curley.

MAYOR CALLS ATTENTION OF CITIZENS OF BOSTON TO FORMER PROWESS OF STATE ON SEA IN NAVY DAY PROCLAMATION.

Mayor Curley has issued the following proclamation calling for observance of Navy Day, October 27:

With the approval of President Coolidge and the United States Navy Department the United States Navy League has designated October 27, 1923, as Navy Day, and asks the co-operation of the country at large in making the celebration successful and fruitful of results.

Massachusetts should realize how much of her historic fame and honor she owes to her seamen and ships. Out of the sea her merchants and shipmasters gathered the wealth that made her industry possible and her eminence attainable: and the skill and courage of her sailors made the name of Boston a household word in the ports of the world.

Here in Boston was built and launched the frigate "Constitution" that made the name of America feared and respected, that never struck her flag in defeat and that today lies moored in the Navy Yard at Charlestown, a reminder of days of glory, and a monument to Stewart who sailed her to victory, and the gallant sailors of this Commonwealth who manned her. From Boston in her halcyon days sailed the privateers that kept the seas in the face of the most powerful navies afloat, harrying and destroying the commerce of the country's enemies, breaking their morale and making possible the procurement of the supplies our armies needed in the perilous days of the War for the dependence and of 1812.

The American navy and its glorious achievements are part and parcel of this Commonwealth's history. Massachusetts is essentially a child of the seas that are her highways to the world: her fishers and mariners were suckled in homes hard by their sands and rocks and trained amid their tempests; and from the seas they garnered the riches denied them by their sterile acres. Only when this old Bay State remembers the maritime glory of the past and goes back to her ships and the seas to resume her heritage will she renew her youth and restore the glories and gains of her older days.

As Americans of the Commonwealth which struck the first blow for freedom and independence the American navy should hold a high place in our affections and loyalty. It has been the strong right arm of the republic in every crisis; it guarded our homes in our early struggles from audacious foes; it made possible the crushing of the Rebellion by throttling the Confederacy, and its valor, audacity and skill kept safe the seaways along which our armies traveled to pluck victory from the allied disasters of the World War.

When Glory makes her splendid round calling the roster of her American heroes, she acclaims Barry, Jones, Stewart, Lawrence, Perry, McDonough, Porter, Farragut, Dewey and Benson as names worthy to be linked with those of that glorious confraternity that began with Washington and was swelled by time and service by Jackson, Grant, Sheridan, Sherman and the score who added to the sum total of American honor but yesterday. We owe it to ourselves, to our children, to the safety of the republic and the upholding of our national honor to tell the epic of the American navy again and again; to insist that it be kept at all times, ready, efficient, strong, equal to all emergencies, the pledge and protection of our integrity and independence, the defender of our homes, the guardian of our coasts, the safeguard of our commerce. Let us cherish our navy and teach its story to our sons and daughters that national self-respect may endure and patriotism be proud and vital in American hearts.

As Mayor of Boston, a city of proud naval memories, I ask her citizens to observe Saturday, October 27, 1923, as Navy Day and to fly the Stars and Stripes in honor of the day from their homes and buildings. I direct that the American flag be raised over every schoolhouse and public building in Boston, and I urge that suitable patriotic services be observed in the schools, public and private, commemorative of the American navy and its achievements in war and peace.

Given under my hand this sixth day of October, 1923, in City Hall, Boston.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

BOSTON POLICE PARADE, DRESS PARADE AND REVIEW, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1923.

General Instructions.

On Friday, October 12, 1923, the Boston police parade will take place at 9.50 a. m., sharp.

Every officer in the department who is not sick will take part in the parade, go on street duty on his division or will hold himself in readiness in his station house until the parade is over.

Division commanders will instruct all officers who are to take part in the parade to present the very best possible appearance, not only as to uniform and equipment but also as to personal appearance; hair trimmed, face shaved and shoes conditioned; to refrain from chewing any substance; to preserve silence in the ranks; to pay no attention to greetings or remarks, friendly or otherwise, which may be made by spectators along the line, and at all times to pay attention and show discipline, so that when any command is given it will be understood and immediately executed.

The regulation fall uniforms, with dress coat, white standing collar and white gloves will be worn by members of the department participating in the parade, and also by officers on detail and on street duty in uniform.

Short-day men detailed to parade will be excused at 6 a. m., October 12, and will report at station for first-half duty at 6.45 p. m., October 12.

Day men, after the parade is over, will remain on street duty until relieved, at about 7 p. m. Long-day men will be governed by instructions from their commanders.

During the parade the officer in charge of each station will see that a sufficient number of men is on street duty, and a sufficient number held in the station for emergency calls. If additional men are needed in any station in an emergency, call headquarters immediately.

During the absence of the patrol wagons from Division 13 and 14, Division 13 will use its Ford touring car to answer wagon or other calls. In case an ambulance is needed, the nearest station having a combination wagon will send its wagon, if called. Division 13 will call Division 10's wagon, and Division 14 will call Division 16's wagon. In case of accident, where more than one ambulance is required, officers in charge of divisions will notify headquarters and they will immediately notify City Hospital and the Relief Hospital.

After the parade is dismissed on the Common each captain or officer in charge of a company or unit will march his command off the Common to be dismissed or marched back to a station house. Short-day men will be excused to go home; long-day men will be excused unless they are otherwise detailed; day men will take orders from their commanding officers as to their further duties.

Division commanders stationed a long distance from parade formation point will arrange for their men to ride in street cars, paying the fares, if necessary, and charge the same in their account.

Sergeant Comerford and twenty mounted patrolmen will ride at the head of the parade, riding ten abreast, except in School street, where they will ride in column of fours.

The mounted unit will be preceded by four mounted men, two each from Divisions 16 and 20, and they will act as skirmishers to clear the streets of vehicles and other obstructions. Two men from Division 20 will ride in rear of the parade.

You will report with your company, as designated in special order of September 29, 1923, for the police parade, to Adjutant Louis E. Lutz, on Dartmouth street, between Commonwealth avenue and Beacon street, at 9.15 a. m., Friday, October 12, 1923.

Battalion Commanders Deputy Superintendent Thomas C. Evans, Deputy Superintendent Forrest F. Hall and Deputy Superintendent Thomas F. Goode, with their adjutants, Lieut. William H. Allen, Division 2; Lieut. George H. Guard, Division 13, and Lieut. Harry P. Burns, Division 5, will report at same time and place, form their respective battalions in line, and see that their several companies are properly uniformed and equipped, after which each battalion commander will direct his adjutant to report to Regimental Adjutant Lutz, at 9.40 a. m., sharp. The companies assigned to each battalion are enumerated in General Order No. 386 of October 1, 1923.

Details, as per special order of September 29, 1923, for the shotgun companies, motorcycle unit, machine gun unit and for Divisions 8 and 18 companies will report at 8.45 a. m. to Adjutant Lieut. Lutz, in Commonwealth avenue, south side, at Dartmouth street.

It is very important that the men detailed for Divisions 8 and 18 companies report on time. It is also very important that the men so detailed be notified as to which company they are to report.

The commanding officers of Divisions 8 and 18 companies will report at 8.45 a. m., with the designated number of men from their own divisions. Their companies will be formed by the regimental adjutant, after which they will proceed to their place in battalion formation.

Capt. Charles T. Reardon, Lieut. Charles B. McCloskey, Lieut. Edward H. Mullen, Michael C. Brinshean and Lieut. Martin H. King will parade on the superintendent's staff; all report to Adjutant Lutz at 9.30 a. m., at Commonwealth avenue and Dartmouth street.

Other lieutenants and sergeants assigned to parade with companies and units other than their own will report at time and place ordered for such company or unit.

The color bearers and color guard will report at police headquarters and be ready to leave there for the formation point at 9 a. m., October 12. Division 3 will furnish its patrol wagon to carry the color bearers and colors to Dartmouth street, corner Marlborough street. After the parade is dismissed in the Common, Division 3 patrol wagon will return colors, bearers and guard to headquarters.

Line will be formed at 9.45 a. m., with right resting at Commonwealth avenue, on Dartmouth street, and the command turned over to Superintendent Michael H. Crowley, after which the regiment will move over the following route at 9.50 a. m.:

Route.

Dartmouth street, to south side of Commonwealth avenue, Arlington street, Boylston street, north side between Arlington and Charles streets, Tremont street, Temple place, Washington street, School street, Beacon street to Boston Common.

Division companies and shotgun companies will enter at gate, corner Charles and Beacon streets. The mounted unit, motorcycle unit, machine gun unit and patrol wagons will enter through the center drive to Common on Charles street, and take assigned posts in rear of the Second Battalion.

The parade will be reviewed at City Hall by his Honor the Mayor, at the State House by his Excellency the Governor, and, after the dress parade on the son, Police Commissioner.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

BUS LINE FOR NORTH END.

The Board of Public Control of the Boston Elevated system notified Louis Borasso of the Municipal Employment Bureau, who had been delegated by the Mayor to take up the question of transportation for the people of the North End, that a bus line would be put in operation on Hanover street from Scollay square to Commercial street and connecting with the East Boston Ferry.

The establishment of this line, which serves a section of the city where the Elevated found it necessary to remove the street cars because of congestion, marks a radical departure on the part of the Elevated in the matter of dealing with traffic conditions in a congested section of the city, and will unquestionably become the established policy where the operating company finds it impossible to adequately serve the public with street cars.

NATIVES AND CITIZENS OF BOSTON AND VICINITY HONORED IN HALL OF FAME.

In the American Hall of Fame, New York City, dedicated in 1901, are inscribed on bronze tablets the names of 56 eminent men and 7 distinguished women deemed worthy of the highest honor on account of their services and attainments. Of the 63 individuals thus selected (up to 1920 inclusive) by an electorate of 100 leading Americans, 27 were natives or for some time citizens of Boston or vicinity. The names of the latter are as follows: Chosen in 1900—John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, William Ellery Channing, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Horace Mann, Nathaniel Hawthorne, George Peabody, Samuel Finley Breese Morse, Joseph Story, Asa Gray, Gilbert Stuart—total, 13.

Chosen in 1905—John Quincy Adams, James Russell Lowell, John Greenleaf Whittier—total, 3.

Chosen, in 1910—Edgar Allan Poe, Oliver Wendell Holmes, George Bancroft, John Lothrop Motley, Phillips Brooks—total, 5.

Chosen in 1915—Louis Agassiz, Francis Parkman, Rufus Choate, Charlotte Cushman—total, 4.

Chosen in 1920—William Thomas Green Morton, Alice Freeman Palmer. Five additional names every fifth year are to be selected and inscribed until the year 2,000, when the 150 tablets in the colonnade will be complete.

If those who were natives or residents elsewhere in the State are added to the list, the following 7 names increase the total to 34 for Massachusetts or more than half the whole number, viz.: William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan Edwards, Mark Hopkins, Elias Howe, Eli Whitney, Maria Mitchell, Mary Lyon.

If all New England is included, 4 more names will bring up the total to 38 or 60.3 per cent of whole number chosen, viz.: Roger Williams, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Emma Willard.

CITY CHARTER CHANGES.

In 1854, 1885 and 1900 important changes in the original City Charter of 1821 were effected for the purpose of improving the methods and efficiency of the City Government. The revision of 1854 (Chap. 448, Stat. 1854) referred to the voters for acceptance, gave the Mayor a qualified veto over the action of the City Council, also the power of removal of appointed officials, besides providing for his election by a plurality instead of a majority vote. The amendments of 1885 (Chap. 266, Stat. 1885) were not submitted to the voters for approval. They transferred all the executive powers to the Mayor, prohibiting the City Council from interference with the executive and administrative business of the City. This was done in order to end the inefficiency resulting from an excessive number of joint committees, a municipal development conforming to the traditions of the outgrown town government.

The amendments of 1909 (Chap. 486, Stat. 1909) cut down the number and powers of the legislative branch of the government to a minimum, the Board of Aldermen (13 members) and the Common Council (75 members) being abolished. For these was substituted a single City Council of nine members to be elected at large for a 3-year term. The Mayor's position was further strengthened by giving him a 4-year term, subject to recall at end of two years, but requiring a majority of the registered voters to make the recall effective. The Mayor's power over appointments was no longer subject to check by aldermen but by a State board, the Civil Service Commission, and City elections were removed from all connection with national and State politics, no primaries nor caucuses being permitted, all candidates for office to be selected by means of nomination papers. The only question in this Act of 1909 which was submitted to the voters was contained in section 35, i. e., whether Plan 1 or Plan 2 should be adopted, the first providing for a term of two years for Mayor and a City Council of 36 members to be chosen in primaries. Plan 2 was adopted by a majority of 3,894. Charter of 1909 amended later as follows: (1) By Chap. 437, Acts of 1910, exempting loans issued for Rapid Transit construction from the prohibition of the establishing of sinking funds, as contained in sec. 26. (2) Chap. 730, Acts of 1914, fixing date of annual municipal election on the sixth Tuesday after the state election instead of in the following January, as in sec. 32; changing the requirement as to signatures on nomination papers to 3,000 for Mayor and 2,000 for City Council and School Committee instead of 5,000 for all, as in sec. 53, also limiting the number of nomination papers issued to 300 for a candidate for Mayor and 200 for other candidates, referring to sec. 54. (3) Chap. 37, Special Acts of 1918, annulling the jurat at end of nomination papers. (4) Chap. 94, Special Acts of 1918, abolishing recall of Mayor, and making him ineligible for re-election, i. e., establishing a single term of four years, but not prohibiting the election of any Mayor for other than consecutive terms. (5) Chap. 288, Acts of 1921, fixing date of the annual municipal election on the first Tuesday after the second Monday in December, also making slight changes as to nominations.

LIQUOR LICENSES AND NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

The national prohibition amendment (i. e., the 18th) to the Constitution, having been ratified by 45 States and becoming effective on January 16, 1920, the legalized trade in intoxicating liquors ceased then. It was supposed to stop about 6 months sooner because of the Federal war regulation providing for prohibition on July 1, 1919, to be effective until the army could be demobilized. But as there was no Massachusetts law forbidding the issuing of licenses after July 1, the Boston Licensing Board issued 702 such for the remainder of the license year with the proviso that the license was no protection against violation of Federal law. After July 1, under Federal law, the only liquor which licensees claimed the right to sell was beer and ale containing not over 2.75 per cent of alcohol. Sales of these lighter beverages continued to October 28, 1919, when Congress enacted a law (Volstead Act) forbidding the sale of any liquor as a beverage containing more than 0.50 per cent alcohol. The validity of this act being widely questioned, the United States Supreme Court upheld it on Jan. 5, 1920, and again on June 7, 1920. The result of this decision was that former applicants for liquor licenses did not apply for them in 1920. The Supreme Court of Mass. later in the year decided that the liquor laws of the State remain in force where not inconsistent with the Volstead Act. The Boston Board therefore issued 146 licenses to druggists and 17 4th-class, permitting sales for non-beverage purposes only. In 1921 there were issued 192 licenses to druggists, 15 4th-class and one 5th-class. On May 17, 1922, Chap. 427, Acts of 1922 (consisting of 27 sections) was approved, providing for the carrying into effect in Mass. of the 18th Federal (i. e., prohibition) amendment. This law is subject to a referendum at State election on November 7, 1922.

By Chapter 392, Acts of 1922, the retailing of non-intoxicating beverages is subjected to license, with fee of not more than one dollar for each year ending April 30.

PUBLIC STREETS IN BOSTON.

Total length of the 2,447 paved (accepted) streets, February 1, 1922, 606.33 miles; total area, 11,459,009 square yards, or 8.47 per cent of the City's total land area. This is exclusive of the private streets (not accepted), numbering about 2,890. 366.10 miles, or 60.38 per cent, are paved with macadam (including 128.03 miles bituminous macadam); 105.66 miles with granite block; 45.50 miles with asphalt; 29.32 miles with gravel; 36.63 miles with asphalt concrete (17.55 m. being bitulithic and 13.71 m. Topeka); 11.69 miles with wood block; 5.42 miles with brick. Old macadam pavement is gradually being replaced with more satisfactory and durable kinds, such as bitulithic, concrete, granite block, etc., $5,138,678 having been expended during the past four years in reconstructing and improving 313 miles of streets and parts of streets. Granolithic sidewalks laid in 1921, 97,049 square yards or about 21 miles, averaging 8 feet wide, 50 per cent of cost assessed on estates benefited.

New highway construction completed in period 1918-1921 includes 13 streets in Boston Proper; 34 in Dorchester; 37 in West Roxbury; 14 in Roxbury; 24 in Brighton; 6 in East Boston; 3 in Hyde Park; 4 in South Boston; and 1 in Charlestown, roadway pavement bitulithic, or asphalt surface on concrete, and bituminous macadam. Gross debt outstanding February 1, 1922, for all street construction, including damages, $22,267,141 or $925,700 more than in 1921, this increase due to new loan for Stuart St. construction.

SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON.

Boston was settled in the latter part of August, 1630, by Puritan colonists under Governor John Winthrop. The name of the original settlement was changed to Boston from Trimountaine by order of the Court of Assistants on September 7 (O. S.), 1630. This date was moved forward by the New Style calendar in 1752 to Sept. 17, the recognized date of the founding of Boston. The name, Trimountaine, had been given because of the three peaks of the most prominent hill, afterward called Beacon Hill, much higher then than now. By the Indians the place was called Shawmut. The name, Boston, was derived from the English town of Boston in Lincolnshire, the home of some of the leading colonists and promoters of the enterprise.

EDUCATIONAL LANDMARK PASSES FROM CITY'S CONTROL IN MASON STREET SALE.

PROPERTY HELD BY BOSTON SINCE 1817 AND USED FOR MANY YEARS FOR GENERATION AND SPREAD OF EDUCATION IDEAS SOLD AT AUCTION FOR $300,000.—BOUGHT FOR INVESTMENT.

With the sale of the old Mason street property of the School Committee there passes from control of the city one of the landmarks in the advance of education not only in the city and state but also in the nation, for it was here that all the plans were drawn for education that have been copied and improved upon by almost all the other states of the Union. The property was sold at public auction this week for $300,000, the minimum price set by the city for it.

The property had been in the possession of the city since 1817 and had been used as the School Committee headquarters for many years until the committee moved into its new structure at 15 Beacon street. The building had long been outgrown by school activities. With the sale at the price of $300,000 the city has been able to secure entirely new and up-to-date quarters for the School Department at a little more than $120,000, the building in which the department is now housed being valued at $420,000.

The sale took place on the premises and the buyer was H. Hooper Lawrence, a Boston real estate broker with an office at Kilby street. His bid, the only one that was made, was $300,000, which was the minimum price that the city would accept, as stated by the auctioneer, John C. Kiley.

Mr. Lawrence said that he was not ready to announce the plans for the use of the property. He intimated that he was acting as a broker, but would not give the name of his client and would not state whether he was acting for the Fabyan estate that owns the adjoining property on the corner of Mason and West streets. He said, however, that the property is likely to be developed, which will mean that the old-fashioned brick building will be removed.

Although Mr. Lawrence made the only bid and the sale was concluded in about fifteen minutes, there was much interest in the auction and among those present were Richard deB. Boardman, Thomas S. Washburn, Edward F. Cassell, Stephen Sleeper, John Beck and other prominent real estate men. They were not interested to the extent of bidding and there was no raise over Mr. Lawrence's original bid of $300,000.

The property is assessed at $298,200, of which $23,200 is on the building, making the assessment on the 6,113 feet of land about $45 a foot. Adjoining the property on one side is the Fabyan property; on the other the Mason Street Fire Department House, while in the rear is the Carter Building property. Nearby are the Boston, Modern and Keith Theater properties.

By the terms of the sale the purchaser made a deposit of $10,000. He may pay the balance within sixty days on delivery of the deed, or by another option may pay $20,000 more within sixty days and the balance on or before March 25, 1924.

In opening the sale Mr. Kiley read the agreement of sale and the vote of the School Committee authorizing the sale. He said that many people had wanted to buy the property in the past and lately property in the neighborhood had brought $75 a foot. After some delay, in which nobody offered a bid, Mr. Lawrence bid $300,000 and it was knocked down at that figure.

MAYOR CURLEY AGAIN BARS PRODUCTION OF OPERA "SALOME."

Mayor Curley on Thursday, October 18, addressed the following letter to Mr. Arthur J. Sheldon, General Representative of the Shubert Theaters in Boston.

My attention has been directed to an article in the Boston Sunday newspapers credited to Mr. Olin Downes, setting forth that it was the purpose of the Chicago Opera Company, according to Miss Mary Garden, to produce the opera "Salome" upon the occasion of their coming engagement at the Boston Opera House.

I beg to direct your attention to the fact that about one year ago, upon the occasion of a similar announcement, objections were made by representatives of religious societies headed by His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, representing the Catholic faith; Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, representing the Episcopal; and Rev. Raymond Calkins and others interested in the maintenance of decent moral standards. As a consequence of these protests being directed to the attention of the promoters of the performance of "Salome," the production in Boston was abandoned.

I have no reason to believe that the eminent divines who protested one year ago have experienced a change of view with reference to the proposed presentation in Boston, and personally I have not, and under the circumstances respectfully suggest the advisability of relieving Boston of a performance that will in no way contribute to the purification of the moral atmosphere of our people.

MAYOR WINS AID FOR AGED BLIND MUSICIAN.

WOMAN, DETAINED AT CANADIAN BORDER, ALLOWED TO RETURN TO MEDFORD HOME AFTER INTERSESSION BY MAYOR CURLEY WITH WASHINGTON OFFICIALS.

Mayor Curley was gratified Monday evening to receive a ruling from Hon. Robel Carl White, Second Assistant Secretary, Department of Labor, Washington, advising that upon Mayor Curley's appeal Mrs. Ellen Yeomans, blind musician, had been granted permission to return from Yarmouth, N. S., to her home in Medford, Mass.

For many years Samuel and Ellen Yeomans, blind musicians, contributed violin and vocal solos upon Boston Common and were aided by hundreds of Boston citizens.

It appears that Mrs. Yeomans, without knowledge of the present immigration law, journeyed down to her birthplace in Nova Scotia with a Mrs. Hennessey of Medford and upon reaching Yarmouth on the return journey was denied admission to this country.

Mayor Curley pointed out to the authorities at the Immigration Bureau that in the event of the separation of Mr. and Mrs. Yeomans, who were totally blind and entirely dependent upon one another, that their mutual death would be a consequence of their enforced separation and that as an act of mercy Mrs. Yeomans should be readmitted to this country.

The case of Mrs. Yeomans has attracted much interest as both she and her husband are about eighty years of age and the Mayor's office has been flooded by appeals in behalf of the good woman from those who have aided her in the days that are past.

Mayor Curley and the late Police Commissioner O'Meara of the Police Department aided and befriended the aged couple for many years, granting them opportunity for performance of their vocal and instrumental program upon many of the public thoroughfares of the city.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR WARNS OF UN-AMERICAN DOCTRINES BEING EXPOUNDED BY KU KLUX KLAN BODY.

CALLS ATTENTION TO FRATERNIZING OF ALHAMBRA AND MASONS; ALSO TO THE AMERICAN SPIRIT IN THE WORLD WAR AS REAL AMERICANISM, AT COLUMBUS DAY BANQUET AT COPLEY-PLAZA.

Mayor Curley, called attention to the fraternization of members of the Masonic order and those of the Knights of Columbus at a dinner he gave to the mayors of Massachusetts cities and other guests Columbus Day night, as one of the features of "Discovery Day" celebration at the Copley-Plaza. He declared that "In this hour when new but un-American doctrines are being expounded, doctrines that would lead the hand of one group of Americans against their fellow-Americans, you have made a real contribution to the fundamentals of our government and its preservation as members of the Masonic order and of the Knights of Columbus in the observance of the anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus." His reference was to the Ku Klux Klan.

More than one hundred twenty-five members of the Aleppo Temple band in uniform, and the band of the Order of Alhambra, also in uniform, the latter occupying the same relative position to the Knights of Columbus as the former does to the Mystic Shrine, mingled with each other during the dinner, and at the conclusion of Mayor Curley's eloquent address jumped to their feet with the rest of the assemblage and gave assent to his sentiments by giving him an ovation.

Besides the mayors of various cities and their wives, representatives of the armed forces of the United States had seats at the head table. Mayors of other cities and members of the City Council of Boston had seats at other tables in the grand salon where the dinner was served.

Mayor Curley, expressing his appreciation and thanks to all who helped to make the observance a success, and referring to the Alhambra and Shriners, said:

"To the Alhambra, and the representatives of the Shrine who in the contribution of the Aleppo Temple have made a distinct contribution at a most necessary time in the life of this nation and to real, worth while Americanism, we express our thanks.

"Four hundred and thirty-one years seems a very long time, but the period from the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock in 1620, 303 years, seems a very short time; and even the achievement of the liberty of the American people, a short space of 140 years, seems only yesterday. Less than a century and a half we have existed as a republic, and no organization in America should be, or I believe is, more vitally interested in the preservation of the sacrifice of the fathers and the mothers who gave to the world the American republic, than your organization, that boasted among its early members the first President of our nation, father of our country—George Washington; that boasted among its members the author of the immortal document, the Declaration of Independence.

"Every age, every generation has had real, perplexing problems to consider; but the day will never come in the life of this republic when the American nation will have a problem to consider, of equal magnitude to the problem confronting the father of this republic in the dread winter at Valley Forge. His was a problem of adversity; his was a problem the like of which no man or men have ever attempted to solve from the beginning of time.

"The problems that confronted the Great Emancipator from '61 to '65, the prospect of disunion, the prospect of stars being pulled from the best flag ever known in the world's history. His was a problem of progress, his was a problem that could only be solved by recourse to the great Creator of all mankind, by faith in himself, a spirit of self-reliance, by a spirit of optimism in the American nation and in the cause which he typified and, for the fruition of which he will be remembered in history as the great martyr President of the American nation—Abraham Lincoln."

Then the Mayor said that ours was a problem of prosperity and that he supposed that until the end of time capital and labor would have their differences of opinion with reference to national policies and national projects, but every one of those differences could be adjusted by a recourse to the thought and the writings and the history of the men who made possible the American republic. Continuing, he said:

"During the period of the World War, when free government trembled in the balance, it was to America that the world looked for relief, and it was America that responded. It was America that won the war, and we won it by mustering under the folds of the American flag, not a Catholic, Protestant, atheistic or Hebrew creed, but an American creed, the creed of sacrifice to humanity, a sacrifice for the best loved banner in the whole world—the American flag."

William P. Larkin of New York, who was the orator of the day at the exercises on the Common, was presented with a golden key to the city by the Mayor. It was the second golden key to the city so far presented, the other going to Sir Oliver Osborne of London, a few days ago.

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Pilgrim Court, Inc., 19 Milk street, city, is hereby requested on the ground that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involved one thousand ($1,000) dollars.

BOSTON POLICE COMMENDED.

Four members of the Boston Police Department were commended for their good work by Commissioner Wilson in General Order No. 401, as follows:

The commanding officers of Divisions 3, 7 and 15 have called my attention to the following meritorious police work performed by officers of those divisions:

In the afternoon of August 26, 1923, Sergt. Fred H. Bean of the City Prison was called into a lodging house in Allston street, city, where a woman was reported to have attempted to commit suicide by the use of illuminating gas. The sergeant found the woman lying on a bed in an unconscious condition with the gas escaping from two burners. He immediately turned off the gas, opened the windows, and applied the Schaefer or prone method of resuscitation until the arrival of the ambulance from Division 3, with Patrolman Richard B. Conroy, Jr., Daniel T. Lynch, Carl E. Melanson and Joseph M. Walsh, all of whom in turn continued the process until they reached the Haymarket Relief Station, where the woman was kept for treatment until the twenty-ninth of September, when she was transferred to the main City Hospital.

I am gratified to learn that these officers made use so successfully of the method of resuscitation adopted by the department, and I warmly commend them for the intelligence and perseverance they exhibited in thus saving the life of this unfortunate woman.

About 9.30 p. m. of the same day, Patrolman Walter J. Lindsay of Division 3, while patrolling his route on Somerset street, observed two men standing at a dark spot in the street near Allston street, and having in mind two men who had escaped from jail in South Windham, Me., he approached and questioned them. Upon examination he found the men answered to the description of them given on the manifest and placing them under arrest, brought them to the station house, where they admitted that they were the escaped prisoners.

This is an excellent piece of police work, and I warmly commend the officer for the intelligence and alertness he displayed in connection with this arrest.

On August 27, 1923, at about 5.30 p. m., while at the corner of Bennington street on Central square, Patrolman William J. Hart of Division 7 noticed a runaway horse attached to a light grocery wagon coming through Central square from Meridian street, and mindful of the danger to the many people crowded in the square at that hour, ran to the center of the square, leaped for and caught hold of the bridle and stopped the horse after being dragged about fifteen feet.

It is very gratifying to learn of so admirable a piece of police work on the part of this officer, and I heartily commend him for his quickness of action and his courage in thus risking his own life for the safety of others.

Just after midnight on September 5, Patrolman Edward L. Twobig of Division 15, who was on duty at the wagon house, noticed a woman walking from City square through Rutherford avenue towards her home and a short distance behind her a man, who had previously been arrested for serious offences. The officer followed them until a bend in the street hid them from his sight, when almost immediately he heard a scream and discharging his revolver in the air, ran after the man who had knocked the woman down with the evident intent of assaulting her, but ran when he saw the officer. This man was afterwards arrested and held in $3,000 for the Grand Jury.

It is with great pleasure that I have learned of this laudable piece of police work performed by Patrolman Twobig and I cordially commend him for the quickness of observation and shrewdness which enabled him to come to the rescue of this woman and afterwards secure the criminal.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

COAL PRICE JUMP BEING PROBED.

Mayor Curley is in receipt of the following communication from Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the Committee on Necessaries of Life and Fuel Administrator:

MY DEAR MAYOR CURLEY.—Your letter of October 10 relative to the prices charged for domestic anthracite in Boston has been received. I beg to advise you that on the first of every month this office has been requiring the coal dealers throughout the Commonwealth to file a report in regard to the prices paid for coal and their retail prices.

Shortly after the first of October reports were received by this office that dealers in many communities throughout the state had increased the retail price beyond the increase in price at the mine. Therefore the commission has commenced a special investigation as to the justification for the retail prices in several communities of the Commonwealth, and I have directed that the recent additional increase of 50 cents on the part of many dealers in Boston, as announced in the daily press, be included in this investigation.

I am also taking up the question of apparent inequitable distribution of coal among the various dealers.

If it is possible to obtain evidence of conspiracy or other criminal acts on the part of the retail dealers, such cases will, of course, be turned over to the prosecuting attorneys for action.

Very truly yours,

EUGENE C. HULTMAN,
Chairman and Fuel Administrator.

RAILROAD TO SUPPORT TRACKS WHILE WATER PIPES ARE LAID.

The Mayor has approved the agreement of the Public Works Department and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company that the latter will support its Providence Division tracks at Massachusetts Avenue Bridge during the installation under these tracks of two 30-inch steel water pipes, contract for which was awarded to A. Baruffaldi. The cost of placing the necessary beams under the tracks and of doing the incidental work is $2,500. This is work which must be done by the Railroad Company itself.

WARNING TO PUBLIC.

Attention of the public has been called by Commissioner of Public Works Joseph A. Rourke that the public service corporations, the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company have been notified that no street openings will be permitted from December 1, 1923, to March 1, 1924. This means that after November 15 no underground work for service can be started until the frost is out of the ground in 1924, and there will be fewer streets opened and dangerous during the winter.

MISS HERLIHY PRESENTS INTERESTING REPORT ON PLANNING CONFERENCE.

Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy has presented to the Mayor the following report upon the Tenth Annual Conference on City Planning:

Boston, October 16, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CULLEY,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Pursuant to the provisions of section 1, chapter 274, of the Acts of 1914, I submit herewith a report upon the proceedings of the Tenth Annual Conference on City Planning, held in conjunction with the Eighth Annual Meeting of the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards, in Springfield, Mass., October 4 and 5, which I attended as the representative of the Boston City Planning Board, in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of the same legislative act, an itemized account of the expenses incurred in connection with such attendance has been filed with the City Auditor.

There were present at the conference, which was called by his Excellency the Governor on behalf of the Department of Public Welfare and the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards, the Mayors of five cities—Springfield, Holyoke, Chicopee, Northampton and Woburn—and from seventy-five to one hundred delegates from various sections of the Commonwealth, representing twenty-three planning boards.

The greetings of his Excellency the Governor were extended through Mr. Richard K. Conant, State Commissioner of Public Welfare, who also briefly reviewed the work of the Division of Housing and Town Planning, which has been created within his department. He called attention to the fact that where there were two planning boards in existence in 1913 at the time of the passage of the Planning Board Act, the number has now reached sixty-three. He also pointed out that since the adoption of the zoning law in 1920 ten cities and towns in the Commonwealth have adopted zoning plans and ordinances. Mr. Conant referred to the appointment of a state consultant on housing and town planning in the person of Edward T. Hartman as one of the outstanding accomplishments of his department during the past year. The opportunity thus afforded the various planning boards throughout the state, existing or proposed, to secure expert assistance and advice in the adoption and the carrying out of their programs, he felt constituted a very definite step in the way of progress.

Mayor Edwin F. Leonard extended the welcome of the city of Springfield to the gathering, saying that he considered the re-creation of the City Planning Board and the adoption of the zoning system among the greatest achievements of his administration.

The discussion centered around ways and means of securing the enforcement of the city plan through the prevention of building in the line of mapped streets.

Among the speakers was the Hon. Edward M. Bassett, former chairman of the New York Zoning Commission and now in charge of all legal investigations in connection with the Plan of New York and Environs, under the direction of the Russell Sage Foundation, who spoke on the various legal aspects of city planning, with particular reference to zoning and to preserving the bed of mapped streets, which he referred to as "maintaining the integrity of the official city plan."

Mr. Frank B. Williams of New York, an associate of Mr. Bassett's and also an authority on the legal phases of city planning, discussed the general question of the establishment of building lines and the enforcement of the street plan. He also referred to the powers and relative functions of boards of survey, boards of public works and city planning boards.

Mr. George H. Nye, City Engineer of New Bedford, spoke of the impossibility of enforcing the street plan under present Massachusetts laws, and recommended legislation to permit taking rights in streets to be laid out at a later period.

Mr. Arthur A. Shurtleff, consultant to the recently appointed Division of Metropolitan Planning, spoke in behalf of his organization and traced the development of the metropolitan planning idea through the last two centuries.

The metropolitan or regional planning idea was further emphasized by Mr. Harold H. Blossom of Dedham, who told of the appointment by his Excellency the Governor of a commission to study and report upon the highways, parks and reservations in the Connecticut Valley district (Chapter 69, Resolves of 1923).

The Metropolitan Boston Planning Federation was reported by Judge Robert Walcott, chairman, and by its secretary, as a voluntary group made up of members of planning board of cities and towns in the metropolitan district, together with a limited number of officials and other persons actively interested in city planning, organized for the purpose of co-ordinating city and town planning in the municipalities comprising Metropolitan Boston, to promote a regional plan for the district, and the collection of data necessary for independent planning; and to disseminate information regarding the benefits and importance of planning.

Mr. Edward T. Hartman, State Consultant of the Division of Housing and Town Planning of the Department of Public Welfare, spoke at length of the activities of his division in efforts to stimulate public interest in the principles of city planning and to co-operate with and promote the work of city planning boards already established.

The reports of the various delegates present afforded convincing testimony of the growth of the city planning movement throughout the state, i. e.:

SPRINGFIELD, at an expense of more than $40,000, has prepared a comprehensive plan and a zoning ordinance. The latter was accepted by unanimous vote of the City Council on December 27, 1922.

NEW BEDFORD's City Planning Board organized in June, 1923, with an appropriation of $10,000. A preliminary plan is already under way and the problem of through traffic to New York and the Cape is being studied.

WORCESTER started with an appropriation of $200 ten years ago. The City Planning Board now has a budget of $28,000 for 1923. A comprehensive plan and a zoning ordinance are in preparation and will be ready for presentation in about two months. Nine thousand dollars has been donated by the Worcester Chamber of Commerce toward the preparation of this plan.

SOMERVILLE, with an appropriation of $1,000, has started on a preliminary survey.

GLOUCESTER has appropriated $5,000 for a survey.

MILTON has an appropriation of $1,000 and has adopted a zoning ordinance.

NORTH ADAMS has a comprehensive plan under way, their survey program covering a period of two years.

MELROSE has prepared a tentative zoning ordinance.

ARLINGTON has created a special commission on zoning.

PITTSFIELD has appointed its Planning Board within the past month.

LOWELL has a preliminary plan under way, and has had a partial zoning ordinance in effect for some years.

FRAMINGHAM has adopted a five-year street program at an expense of $1,000,000.

CLINTON has prepared a zoning plan and ordinance and is about to submit same to the city government.

QUINCY has a zoning plan in preparation.

WINCHESTER, with an appropriation of $2,500, has a comprehensive city plan and zoning ordinance under way. Public hearings are being held and the matter will be presented for action at the annual town meeting in March.

NEDHAM is prepared to recommend a zoning study at its annual town meeting.

LEXINGTON has authorized the preparation of a zoning plan.

MALDEN, with an appropriation of $1,500, has prepared a tentative zoning plan and the first public hearing will be held Friday evening, November 2.

HOLYOKE has a partial zoning plan and has recently added sixty-five acres for playground purposes and forty-two acres to its park system.

CHICOPEE, through its Mayor, urged the adoption of a state law giving the power of approval to planning boards and reporting that the appropriation of the local Board would be increased from $500 to several thousands in 1924.

NORTHAMPTON has appropriated $3,500 for a zoning plan, and work is now under way.

WOBURN has a zoning plan and ordinance in preparation.

To this might be added the fact that the following cities and towns either have in preparation or have adopted comprehensive plans and zoning ordinances: Brookline, Cambridge, Dedham, Fall River, Newton, Norwood, Wakefield, Watertown, Weston, and other communities with regard to which specific information is not at hand.

In view of this remarkable showing I was particularly gratified to be able to report for Boston that from an appropriation of $3,000 ten years ago, and one employee, we have at the present time an appropriation of approximately $32,000 and a staff of fifteen employees; also that our zoning studies had reached the point where public hearings would shortly be held, and that thoroughfare studies, as a part of a comprehensive city plan, were being put in final shape for presentation to your Honor.

It is interesting to note, and very much at variance with previous occasions, that but three communities reported a lack of financial support or an unsympathetic city government.

The reports of the Zoning Committee and of the Billboard Committee, appointed by the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards, took definite shape in the form of resolutions adopted at the business session, i. e.:

(1.) That legislation be sought for the purpose of securing discretionary powers for boards of appeal and also to permit zoning of undeveloped property; and

(2.) Urging a continuance of activities for adequate state-wide rules governing the erection of billboards and the reintroduction of the bill to permit local regulation without the approval of the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works.

The annual election of officers for the Massachusetts Federation of Planning Boards resulted as follows:

SHOWS HOW CITY SAVED MONEY.

Mayor Curley in his address before the students of Boston University School of Business administration said that millions can be saved in Massachusetts, its different counties and in Boston by the use of higher efficiency methods applied to government administration. He spoke at the monthly assembly of the pupils in the Exeter Street Theater.

The Mayor declared that as the result of the establishment of the city's purchasing department hit or miss buying by different municipal departments had been stopped and $450,000 was saved the first year. The introduction of a segregated budget system saved $280,000 the first year. The two new departments followed an investigation in 1916, he said.

"If these savings are possible on an annual yearly expenditure of $50,000,000, consider the great possibilities of economy when such methods are applied throughout the state, the counties and the nation.

"Through ninety-four years of the city's organization, up to 1916 there was only one adding machine and only two typewriters in use at City Hall.

"The nation should benefit by the world war by scrapping its old and antiquated methods and establishing efficient methods of administering government.

"This is only possible by giving our men and women a sound training in business principles. All the problems of government are those of business administration."

The speaker declared he was strongly in favor of the adoption of decent child labor laws in every state.

ALL BOSTON SHARED IN COLUMBUS DAY PAGEANT, THE MAYOR AND GUESTS FEATURING.

EXERCISES AT PARKMAN BAND STAND AND SUNSET REVIEW MOST COLORFUL AND LONG TO BE REMEMBERED—SHARED BY AUDIENCE OF 60,000.

Boston's celebration of Columbus Day, Friday, October 12, was featured by a pageant, typifying the spirit of America, with delegations from various European countries in national costume. Boy Scouts bearing the flags of the Central and South American republics, and Cambridge school children in historic naval and military uniforms. This was held at the Parkman bandstand on the Common immediately following the parade.

Between the scenes addresses were made by William P. Larkin of New York, a supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, and by Mayor Curley. Patriotic songs were sung by more than 5,000 persons.

Leading the parade, which followed the Mayor and his guests from the reviewing stand in front of City Hall to the bandstand, was Christopher Columbus, impersonated by Joseph A. F. O'Neil of Bishop Cheverus Assembly, fourth degree, K. of C.; a "friar," carrying a cross of rough boughs, and four "sailors of the Pinta."

They took their stand alongside the Mayor and Brig.-Gen. M. H. Barnum and Col. L. W. Gulick, representing the army and the navy, and then the pageant began. The Armenians, Belgians and Czecho-Slovaks, in peasant costume and carrying the flags of their countries, were followed by the Chinese delegation, which, in numbers and in gorgeousness of dress, were the feature of the festival.

Guarded by swordsmen with weirdly painted faces and others carrying fantastic banners, the men of the republic of the east were garbed in flashing, tinselled robes and wore filigreed head-dresses that towered high.

As each national group marched up the steps leading to the bandstand, they halted, faced the audience for a moment, and then descended to the walk while the Alhambra Band, stationed behind the reviewing party, played their national anthem.

Following the Chinese came the English, led by John Bull; the French, with a bevy of Parisiennes in liberty caps; the Irish, carrying the new flag of the Free State; Norwegian girls in red caps and jackets, white aprons, and red stockings; the Poles in embroidered fur-trimmed jackets and plumed caps, and the Scotch with plaids and kilts.

After them came men and women of Portugal, Sweden, Syria, Spain and Wales, and the scouts carrying the flags of the southern Americas, which they placed in stands on either side of the entrance to the bandstand.

After the audience had sung one verse of "America," and "Columbus" recited a poem by Joaquin Miller, James H. Phelan, chairman of the Columbus Day Committee, introduced Mayor Curley as "the Massachusetts man of destiny."

In introducing, in turn, Mr. Larkin, the Mayor pointed out that the differences in race and religion should not divide the United States into warring factions, and remarked that the sight of the two most powerful fraternal organizations in the country, the Masons and the Knights of Columbus, co-operating to make the festival a success was an unforgettable object lesson.

Although Mr. Larkin did not directly mention the Ku Klux Klan, his address in effect was an attack on race prejudices and the spirit of intolerance which the order stands for in the minds of many people.

"On an occasion of this kind," he said, "when we should have in our hearts nothing but joy and thankfulness, one hesitates to inject a note that might strike a discord or mar the harmony of our jubilation; but in recent days in certain parts of this country whose discovery we celebrate today, there has developed among a small and unthinking coterie here a serio-comic attitude towards all immigrants who followed Columbus to our shores, with the exception of their own particular progenitors.

"If ever there was a country whose citizens should be tied up to one another in bonds of the closest affection, this is that country. Gratitude alone for the inestimable blessings we enjoy in this most favored land on all God's green footstool should unite us in bonds that are indissoluble, and against which all the furies might rage in vain; and any man or any clan that would disturb that happy state and strive to foment discords and engender hatreds, be they of race or creed or class or color, is as much an enemy and traitor to the common weal and our God-given constitution as any Judas Iscariot or Benedict Arnold.

"It means that there shall be no oath-bound conspirators' agreement here to disbar from the beneficent operation of our Constitution any man or any sect; no skulking behind masks and bugaboos to overawe and terrorize the uninitiated; no invisible empire arrogating to itself the sacred function of the judiciary and usurping the throne of the Almighty Himself to pass judgment on their hapless victims."

At the conclusion of Mr. Larkin's speech Cambridge school children, under the supervision of T. Harrison Cummings the public librarian of Cambridge, gave the final scene of the pageant by carrying the flags and wearing the naval and military uniforms of the different eras in the national life of the country.

All the banners authorized by Congress, from the Cambridge flag of 1775 to the one carried in the World War, were shown.

Shortly after five o'clock the Mayor's party and the participants in the pageant adjourned to the athletic field, where they were awaited by a company of marines from the navy yard at Charlestown, under command of Lt. Louis I. Brons, and a saluting gun squad from the 101st field artillery, M. N. G.

When the Mayor and his guests, including General Barnum, Colonel Gulick, Col. Albert Propper, Consul of Honduras, and J. A. Saez, Consul of Mexico, had been drawn up into line by Chief Marshal John W. Roth and his chief of staff, W. H. Griffin, "taps" was blown, the evening gun was fired, and the flag on the tall flagstaff overlooking the field was drawn down while the Alhambra Band played the national anthem.

Following a review of all the participants in the festival activities, the Aleppo Band of 140 pieces gave a concert for more than an hour from a specially constructed bandstand placed at one side of the grounds.

MAYOR DENOUNCES POSTAL CONDITIONS.

Mayor Curley was given an enthusiastic ovation Wednesday afternoon when he addressed the postal employees convention at Faneuil Hall. He received an ovation when he entered and when he left. He spoke in defence of better pay for postal employees, referring to them as "men who have suffered more neglect than the men in any branch of any service in the United States, federal, state, county or municipal."

"Every individual American citizen," he continued, "is entitled to work under proper healthful conditions, and they don't work under proper healthful conditions in the Boston Postoffice. Post-office employees are required to have physical ability and mental intelligence and any one who has those qualities is entitled to more than $1,800 a year."

"There is no reason why clerks should get less wages than they are entitled to get, because of the opposition of big magazines which are carried today at a loss of $100,000,000 in a year to the Post-office Department. If they were required to pay their just proportion of the cost of handling that kind of mail it would not be difficult for the Government to pay the men in the postal service $2,400 a year."

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

W. A. Snow Iron Works, Incorporated, have been granted an extension of time until November 1, 1923, for the completion of contract for wire fence and guard rail at Animal Range, Franklin Park.

MAYOR REUNITED BELGIAN FAMILY.

Through intercession at Washington by Mayor Curley the family of Valentina van Bastelaer, a Belgian cigar-maker, resident of Boston, whose wife and three children had been held up at Ellis Island by federal immigration authorities because they arrived after the quota from Belgium had been filled, has been reunited.

Husband and wife came here two years ago and made a home, and on May 2 Mrs. van Bastelaer started for Belgium to bring over their three daughters, Mary, Geraldina and Jennie. The couple had already filed their primary naturalization papers.

The van Bastelaer case is the second this week in which the Mayor has had success in relaxing red tape in favor of a humanitarian attitude toward families.

TO IMPROVE GOLF COURSE AT FRANKLIN PARK.

Fifteen hundred golf devotees at Franklin Park will be made happy at the news that Mayor Curley has approved the Park Commission's decision to spend $34,000 of the Parkman Fund income for general improvements at the eighteen-hole course and at the park generally. The transfer order will be introduced in the City Council at the meeting a week hence, when the money shall have become available.

Of this sum $15,000 is to be spent upon the main refectory building, for enlargement of the locker and shower rooms and improvements to the plumbing, heating and ventilating systems. And $7,000 more is to be expended this fall for granolithic walks at Glen lane and on the plaza in front of the refectory. Seats and trees are also to be placed there.

The golfing course is to have resodding and reclamation and other general improvements which are to cost $5,000, and $4,000 more is to be spent for alterations and renewals of existing buildings within the park.

MAYOR SEEKS TO REDUCE INSURANCE RATES IN CITY.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter Wednesday, October 17:

MR. H. ELLIOT CABOT, Secretary, Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, 55 Kilby Street, Boston:

DEAR MR. CABOT,—The Boston Fire Department will be 100 per cent motorized upon Monday, October 22, and in addition the high pressure fire service mains today practically gridiron the down-town high value area of Boston.

In view of the expenditure made by the city for increased fire protection, in my opinion, as a matter of equity, the question of a revision downward in insurance rates would be a proper subject for consideration by the insurance companies, due to the reduction in fire hazard resulting from the increased efficiency made possible through motorization and extension of the high pressure system.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

OIL TAKING PLACE OF COAL AS FUEL FOR HEATING PURPOSES.

MAYOR APPROVES APPLICATIONS OF NINE LARGE ESTABLISHMENTS WHICH USED FORMERLY 6,000 TONS IN OTHER YEARS. SOON TO DISPLACE 30,000 TONS MORE.

Applications for fuel oil were approved Thursday, October 18, for various persons as follows:

Grove Hall Motor Mart, 3,000 gallons; Commonwealth Motor Mart, 3,000 gallons; Boston Laundry Supply Company, 3,000 gallons; National Coat and Apron Supply Company, 5,000 gallons; Washington Allston School, 3,000 gallons; Edgar J. Areand, 3,000 gallons; New England Baptist Hospital Service, Building, 3,000 gallons; Bristol Street Fire Station, 3,000 gallons; Puritan Garage, 3,000 gallons. Total 29,000 gallons.

Installation of oil in these buildings will result in the displacement of about six thousand tons of coal while a contract to be shortly awarded by the city for about four million gallons of oil will result in the displacement of twenty-five thousand tons additional, making a total of thirty-one thousand tons.

The substitution of this amount of oil for coal as fuel is equivalent to more than one thousand car loads of coal and if the policy adopted by the city and by many of the larger concerns becomes the accepted policy of business houses generally it is only a question of a short while when the fuel situation as far as New England is concerned will be solved.

In accordance with Chap. 636, Acts of 1920, the Election Commissioners made a new division of the 26 wards, increasing the number of precincts from 221 to 274. PLAYGROUND, EAGLE HILL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 8, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—Chapter 293 of the Acts of 1892 provides that where playgrounds are established from the proceeds of the sale of bonds, or certificates of indebtedness of the city, the Street Commissioners in their taking of land are limited to land or lands of a total assessed value not in excess of two thirds of the amount authorized.

There is now before your honorable body a transfer order providing for the purchase of land for playground purposes, in the Eagle Hill district of East Boston. This order totals $50,228.10, hence under the provisions of the act mentioned above takings of land would be limited to parcels of an assessed value not in excess of $33,485.40. The Park Commissioners inform me that it is impossible to secure adequate land at such a figure.

I therefore recommend that the proposed transfer order be rejected by your honorable body and I recommend the adoption of the accompanying order, which will accomplish the purpose by providing the funds from tax money.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $50,000 appropriated by the School Committee under the provisions of chapter 308 of the Acts of 1923 be and the same hereby is transferred and appropriated for Playground, Eagle Hill District, East Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Consequently there is nothing further to be done on the matter and I hereby return, without my approval, your order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Placed on file.

LOCATION FOR FRANCIS J. KANE POST.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 8, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—The property located at Meeting House Hill, in use for many years for political meetings and no other purpose, would in the opinion of the Francis J. Kane Post, No. 60, of the American Legion, prove a desirable location as a headquarters, and recognizing that wherever possible it is the duty of the city to aid patriotic organizations, I respectfully recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be and he hereby is authorized in the name and on behalf of the City of Boston, to lease by instrument satisfactory in form to the Law Department of said city to Francis J. Kane Post, No. 60, a duly organized post of the American Legion, for a term of five years at a rental of one dollar per year, the land and building commonly known as the Wardroom Meeting House Hill, Dorchester, Ward 18, and situated on the northerly side of East street in said Dorchester.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

REMODELING WEST ROXBURY COURTHOUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, October 8, 1923.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—Under date of September 28, 1923, bids were received for the remodeling of the old West Roxbury Courthouse.

The bids, six in number, range from $99,200 in the case of the lowest bidder to $117,700 in the case of the highest bidder. Making the customary allowance of 10 per cent for architect's fees the total cost of the work will be about $110,000.

The original estimate was $100,000, hence it is necessary that an additional sum be provided in order that the Public Buildings Department may proceed with the improvement in question.

The Municipal Building in old Ward 12 is now complete and there remains of the original appropriation an unexpended balance of $14,000. Since there is no further need for this amount in the appropriation for which originally provided it would seem wise to transfer the amount to the appropriation for remodeling the West Roxbury Courthouse.

I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying transfer.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Buildings Department,

October 4, 1923.

Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir:—I respectfully request that the following transfer be made in special appropriations of the Public Buildings Department:

From the appropriation for Municipal Building, Old Ward 12, $14,000, to the appropriation for Courthouse, West Roxbury, Remodeling, $14,000.

Respectfully yours,

FRED J. KNEBLAND,

Superintendent of Public Buildings.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Municipal Building, Old Ward 12, $14,000, to the appropriation for Courthouse, West Roxbury, Remodeling, $14,000.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM.

A communication was received from the Finance Commission, viz.:

Boston, September 27, 1923.

To the Honorable the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The Legislature in 1922 (see chapter 515 of the Acts of 1922) required every city and town where an accounting system had not been installed by the Commonwealth to place the question whether or not that city or town should have such an accounting system on the ballot at the next election following June 7, 1922, when the act was approved by the Governor.

At the city election held in Boston on December 12, 1922, there appeared on the ballot the question:

"Shall the city petition for the installation of an accounting system by the Commonwealth?"

The result of the voting was as follows: 27,474 voted yes; 14,430 voted no.

The act of the Legislature further required that:

The rules of the City Council meetings since December 12, 1922, do not disclose that any action has been taken in this matter by the Council. The Director of the Division of Accounts of the Department of Corporations and Taxation of the Commonwealth has informed the Finance Commission that he has not received a petition from the City Council for the installation of an accounting system by the commonwealth.

The Finance Commission recommends that the City Council immediately petition the Director of the Division of Accounts of the Department of Corporations and Taxation of the Commonwealth to install a system of accounting.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

besides myself who have sat here who have never received their indorsement. Last year when the city fight was on they issued that same pamphlet that they publish every year, containing the defamation of the character of some men who aspired to public office. Now I believe that any organization organized in the way that they are organized, that hide behind the protection of some law and says the things about men who are candidates for public office, and which they are unable to prove, that they say, should not be allowed to stand within our midst. Some of them have been interested in many shady deals in our city, and maybe the reason why they keep up this slanderous organization is because of the possibility of being able to scare people so that they might be able to get in at times. I realize that perhaps this was technically not the proper place to have brought this circular to have it made a matter of record, but it is the only place where I could have made it a matter of record, and that was my reason for reading it. Of course, if the man who is presiding feels that my circular is a patriotic one he should not accept the indorsement of that organization.

Chairman HAGAN—Is there any further business to come before the Council?

BOSTON'S NEW $3,000,000 ROXBURY HIGH SCHOOL TO SEAT 1,800 PUPILS AND TO BE FINEST STRUCTURE OF KIND IN NEW ENGLAND—A SOURCE OF GREAT CIVIC PRIDE.

Among the many monuments that will stand to the credit of this administration of Mayor Curley will be a school building, which will cost nearly $3,000,000, to be erected in Roxbury on the site of the old Williams homestead property at the corner of Warren, Townsend and Harrishof streets. It will be not only the most costly in the city's history, but also the largest and by all odds the most efficient in design.

It measures 185 by 485 feet and will be the first high school in Boston, or in New England for that matter, where the segregation of the sexes will be carried out with two complete high school organizations, entirely separated, but under the same roof and using the same assembly hall, which has a seating capacity of eighteen hundred. This assembly hall is so arranged that it may be used by either school, or for public meetings or school center work without entering the corridors of either school.

At the suggestion of Mayor Curley a public library branch, a ward room and a voting precinct also will be provided on the Townsend street side. The boys' school will be on the Warren street end; the entrance to the assembly hall will be on Harrishof street and the girls' school will be on Townsend street. On the Harrishof street side also will be a central oil-burning heating plant.

The first unit of this school will be placed under contract early in January. Briefly described it will contain the girls' high school, comprising thirty-six rooms, a girls' gymnasium with a spectators' gallery, a spacious lunching room, a domestic suite and millinery and dressmaking rooms.

The laboratories and lecture rooms for both schools will be located on the upper floor, the academic courses all on one floor, the commercial courses also on one floor, together with the school libraries, although the public library branch will be accessible from both schools. This branch, 40 by 100 feet, will be divided into reading rooms and a delivery-desk room, with a connected lecture hall of similar size, also to be used as a wardroom and voting precinct. The librarian and attendants have ample accommodations on the first floor. The principal's suite will be on the first floor with men and women teachers' rooms.

The building will be of first-class construction, fireproof in all respects. The exterior design has been given just enough of a touch of Gothic to take it out of the class of a "factory" type of building. However, there are no frills, efficiency having been combined with dignity. Officials have essayed to reduce the building time and an agreement has been reached of seven working months. H. H. Atwood of Dorchester is the architect.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the shipping plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam
with light all serene.
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters'
unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR CURLEY SEVERELY SCORES CIVIL LIBERTIES LEAGUE FOR DEFENCE OF KU KLUX KLAN.

TELLS WRITERS OF LETTER THEY DEFEND INCITERS TO CRIME AND VIOLENCE AND DISORDER AND VOWS TO DO HIS DUTY TO PROTECT CITY FROM VICIOUS ACTIVITIES AS LONG AS HE IS IN OFFICE.

Mayor Curley has sent the following answer to the communication of the American Civil Liberties Union, 100 Fifth avenue, New York City:

GENTLEMEN,—I have your letter signed on your behalf by Messrs. Harry F. Ward, Robert Morris Lovett, Norman Hapgood and John Haynes Holmes, protesting against my contemplated action re the Ku Klux Klan as set forth in my letter to Mr. John S. Codman, of Boston, answering a similar plea by him.

I note with interest your expressed opposition to the Ku Klux Klan, your statement that there is no proper place for such an organization in this country, and that you are fighting it by such means as seem to you "consistent with American principles"; and in the meantime your Boston representative, Mr. John S. Codman, has identified himself with one of the allies of the Ku Klux Klan, a notorious agent provocateur and preacher of religious hatred and civil dissension. You further state "When you deprive an organization of its rights of peaceful assemblage and free speech because in your opinion it is seditious you are arrogating to yourself powers not authorized by our Constitution and law."

Neither the right of "peaceful assemblage" nor "free speech" has been abrogated in Boston, nor do I intend at any time to go outside the accepted practices of this Commonwealth and split hairs about principles and theories.

The rights of "peaceful assemblage" and "free speech" are not at stake; the peace of this community and the safety of life and property are, since the Ku Klux Klan makes no secret of its intention to deprive other citizens of their rights and privileges under the Constitution and law and since its activities wherever it has met have not been peaceful and have engendered lawlessness and violence.

In defining what is peaceful assemblage and what is free speech the character of the organization which is to assemble and speak must be considered in connection with its avowed purposes and its recorded activities and results; and if measured by these tests the Ku Klux Klan has shown itself to be a deliberate disturber of the public peace, and inciter of dissension and a fomentor of conditions dangerous to the welfare of the community; it becomes the duty of those to whom the preservation of the public safety and peace are committed to discourage and prevent such meetings.

I am Mayor of Boston with certain restricted powers; I have no control over the Police Department of Boston; I have some co-ordinate powers in the licensing and use of theaters and public halls; and such authority as I possess I will use to conserve the peace of the city and protect the lives and property of its citizens.

If your interpretation of the rights and principles you claim to defend were to obtain acceptance, public meetings of thieves, burglars and other lawbreakers to discuss and formulate plans for assailing and plundering the public would be beyond the interference of the police provided they were conducted amiably and in accordance with the usages of polite society. Your attitude is that the first principle of life, self-preservation and the legal precautions for giving vitality to that doctrine, must give way to crime, disorder and incentive to violence, when masquerading as "peaceful assemblage and free speech." You make a mockery and snare of the principles that have made and preserved this republic and are on all fours with him who is an enemy of the disease and pestilence that desolate the world and who objects to any action to arrest their spread and secure their suppression.

I am dealing with a practical question and not with a strained conception and tortured theory of a great principle of liberty; and I would be false to my oath of office were I to permit meetings that carry with them the threat of riot, disorder and worse in this city, if it lies within my authority to prevent such gatherings. Your fantastic conception of an honored principle carries with it the implication that no American community can protect itself from the enemies who plot and plan its destruction and I have no hesitation in aligning myself with those who believe the preservation of the Commonwealth and its ordered life transcends in importance the acceptance of any interpretation of any principle or paragraph of the Bill of Rights that negatives their force and virtue and strikes the sword of authority from the hand of the state. Your interpretation is merely an illusory and superlatistic definition of national hari-kari.

The Ku Klux Klan has placed itself outside the law; its leadership is vicious, mercenary and immoral, its membership credulous, intolerant and antisocial; its aims lawless, its activities terrorizing, its existence dangerous to the state, abhorrent to Christianity and the brotherhood of men and detrimental to true Americanism.

To attribute to hysteria a resolution to do my duty as I see it and aid in the extermination of this evil outgrowth of the meanest motives and basest passions that can inspire a weak humanity, is to insult American intelligence. You mock common sense for you cannot at one time be enemy and defender of Ku Klux Klanism as your protest attempts to make you.

Very truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The letter which Mayor Curley received from the American Civil Liberties Union, of New York, was as follows:

October 22, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of October 4 addressed to our representative in Boston, Mr. John S. Codman, has come to our attention, and we desire to put before you some considerations which your letter overlooks.

In the first place, let us make it perfectly clear that we are just as much opposed to the Ku Klux Klan as you are. We abhor its assumptions of private power against the law. We detest its secrecy, its bullying, its masked anarchy, just as you do. We do not think there is any proper place for such an organization in this country, and we are fighting it by such means as seem to us consistent with American principles. Suppression by force is not consistent with those principles.

Your order barring the Ku Klux Klan from holding meetings in the City of Boston put you in the position of being the sole judge of what organizations have a right and what not to hold meetings in the city of which you are mayor. Men's views differ as to what organizations are "seditious" and what are not. When you deprive an organization of its rights of peaceful assemblage and free speech because, in your opinion, it is "seditious," you are arrogating to yourself powers not authorized by our Constitution and law.

Your further attempt to set your own interpretation upon "free speech" drawing the line between one sort of speech and another. We judge that you would prohibit speech you regard as "disloyal" or "violent." We refer you to the whole tradition of this country for a century past to refute any such conception of free speech as that. Until the war hysteria of recent years we always drew the line between word and deed. We didn't draw it between one kind of speech and another. Can any man successfully set himself up as judge of what should be permitted to be said and what not? If this were the guide for public officials, there would be considerable parts of this country in which religious intolerance would prohibit Catholics and Jews, and indeed, the representatives of some Protestant sects, from holding meetings or speaking at all.

The legal right of the Klan to hold meetings on private property and to discuss in private is clear and should be maintained. When the Klan attempts to hold public masked parades or to arrogate to itself the power of the law, then of course the proper authorities should interfere. We are prepared to help the Klan maintain its rights, in any legal proceedings it may take, much as we detest its principles and practices. We are so advising the national office of the Klan, though we hardly expect them to accept our offer. The genuineness of our interest in free speech can be attested only by our being just as willing to defend the rights of the enemies of civil liberty as of its friends.

This position is in accordance with sound social policy, with American tradition and with the law and our constitutional guarantees.

We trust that you will not lend yourself to the counsels of hysteria which attempt to suppress ideas and movements by force. We express to you our hope that under your administration the City of Boston will maintain its ancient reputation for tolerance and freedom of assemblage and speech for which it so notably stands in American history.

We are, sir,

Very sincerely yours,

HARRY F. WARD,
ROBERT MORRIS LOVETT,
NORMAN HAPGOOD,
JOHN HAYNES HOLMES,

On behalf of the AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION.

MAYOR CURLEY PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO BOSTON UNIVERSITY AND ITS INFLUENCE ON COMMUNITY.

DELIVERS OPENING ADDRESS AT ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES IN SYMPHONY HALL AND PREDICTS GOLDEN FUTURE FOR THE INSTITUTION THAT HAS HELPED TO SHAPE AMERICA BY ITS TEACHINGS.

Hon. James M. Curley, Mayor of Boston, delivered the following address at the opening of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Boston University:

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It affords me profound pleasure to be present on this notable occasion, the celebration of half a century of great and splendid work by an institution that has grown from humble beginnings into the marvelous educational instrument it is today. So I bring you on this anniversary my personal and official felicitations for work well done and honor worthily achieved.

It is not humanly possible to estimate the full measure of the influence of Boston University upon the life and progress of the Commonwealth and city it serves; but when we come to understand the numbers in all these golden years who have gone out to lighten the life of the community and to count the sons who have made their mark in the various activities of the country, we can appreciate the work and worth of this particular source of light and leading.

This university is essentially a Boston institution; but its vision and purpose have known no "pent-up Utica;" its outlook has had no frontiers, no petty limitations; and its mission has been to educate and train all who sought its hospitality, regardless of race, creed and color. It is well to understand that it is the cultural aims and objectives of an institution of learning, its breadth of vision, its scope and direction, its hospitality to the seeker after knowledge and its recognition of his individuality and spiritual and intellectual freedom that constitute a university in its best sense, and not the grandeur of its structures, the wealth of its endowments, nor the number of its students. It is the golden spirit that runs through and ennobles and humanizes its policy and is a reflex of its ideals: and Boston University has lived up to this ideal all through the brave years of its life.

Boston University has been to Boston a fountain that has refreshed and invigorated the life of this community, from which has gone out a constant stream of young manhood and womanhood that has leavened every human activity, a human stream of trained minds which has fertilized the mass into which it has flowed and fostered the principles which have given safety and stability to the republic.

It is my sincere trust that the future of Boston University may be as honorable and useful as its past and that it may continue in the days to come to be a center of light and leading, a force that will count with ever-increasing influence in the intellectual and spiritual well-being of America.

This America of ours is the greatest and most prosperous land on earth today; its wealth is the envy of the world; its peaceful industry and happy people the admiration of all; and as long as its spiritual and intellectual product keeps pace with its material advancement, and institutions such as this contribute the trained mind and the clean soul to the purposes of our national life, it will be well with America. In that work Boston University has done and will continue to do its share.

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS IN PUBLIC WELFARE.

Mayor Curley and the five members of the Finance Commission sat with the twelve Overseers of the Public Welfare in Mayor Curley's office Tuesday afternoon and thoroughly threshed out the overseers' policies in administering Wayfarers' Lodge the Temporary Home for Women and the distribution of poor relief and mothers' aid money and supplies. They finally agreed to experiment with some of the fourteen "reform" points proposed to the Mayor and the overseers in the commissioner's report a month ago.

"Not only were all parties in agreement as to a future program in relation to overseers' policies after the discussion," explained his Honor, after the conference, "but I also arranged with the Finance Commission to investigate the administration of the City Hospital along the line of their investigation of the conduct of the overseers, and I have no doubt we can get some similar helpful suggestions for improvement."

It was agreed that alterations and repairs, painting and sanitary improvements are to be made in the plants of both institutions named. It was agreed to divide the Board of Overseers into two groups, to hear applications for relief, and that the visiting staff be enlarged from fourteen to nineteen, by transfer of four visitors from the Soldiers' Relief Department. A supervisor of visitors, with power to make recommendation in regard to each case, will be appointed as liaison officer between the visiting staff and the overseers.

A character analyst familiar with economic conditions will be added to the department's staff, as a sort of "big brother" to advise "down and outers" who are "steady customers" for relief as to the best ways and means to rehabilitate themselves in the industrial world.

Corporation Counsel Mark Sullivan is to make a survey of a score of trust funds bequeathed to the city government for poor relief but with "special strings" tied to each. The object would be to get court rulings making these funds, of which many thousands of dollars are now lying unused, applicable to general poor relief work.

For families that must be supplied with coal, it was agreed to have the overseers buy fuel in 5,000 or 10,000 lots annually and apportion it as required among families, rather than supply these families money to buy coal in bags or of retailers at much higher cost, as now.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Upon October 19 the Mayor approved a contract with the Murray Engineering Company for repairs on boilers at the repair shop. A communication from Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn was as follows:

Boston, October 18, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is hereby requested to award a contract, without advertising, to the Murray Engineering Company, 61 Sumner street, East Boston, to perform certain repair work on the boilers at the repair shop of this department. The total amount of the contract will be $1,120.

The reason for making this request is as follows: The Department of Public Safety of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts ordered certain repairs to be made on our boilers, and specifications were drawn up and three different concerns requested to bid on the work. The lowest bid amounted to $720 and was received from the Murray Engineering Company. After the repairs were started and tops of the boilers cleared off, the flanges were found to be in a deteriorated condition, and this condition was unforeseen and required immediate attention as well as an additional expenditure of $165. It was also found during the progress of the work that the auxiliary service between our repair shop and the fire alarm branch had been disconnected several years ago for some unknown reason. It is my opinion that this emergency steam line should be re-established as a matter of safety to permit the repairing of boilers at any time without impairing the fire alarm system. The cost of installing this auxiliary service will be $225, making a total of $1,120 for the work.

Yours very truly,

THEODORE A. GLYNN,
Fire Commissioner.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon October 22 the Mayor approved a contract with the Atlantic Works for repairs on steamer "Michael J. Perkins."

A communication from Dr. David J. Johnson of the Institutions Department was as follows:

Boston, October 22, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

MY DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—Permission is respectfully requested to incur an expenditure of approximately $3,317, without advertising, for emergency repairs on the steamer "Michael J. Perkins."

On October 13, contract for painting the hull of the steamer for the sum of two hundred twenty-nine (229) dollars was awarded to the Atlantic Works. After the boat had been hauled out on the railway and carefully examined by the United States inspectors it was found that additional repairs, amounting to approximately three thousand eighty-eight dollars ($3,088), would be necessary. Items covered are as follows:

Painting as per agreement of October 19, $229; overhauling strainer's and sea cocks, $24; repacking steam glands, $30; overhauling steering gear, $95; repairing ash pits and furnace fronts, $611; cleaning and painting fire room and engine room bilges, $310; putting blank flanges in main steam lines, $25; overhauling safety valves and making gags for same, $191; repacking two joints in auxiliary steam line, $30; fitting new whistle pull in pilot house, $19; furnishing 70 double and 20 single grate bars, $340; making and fitting new tail shaft, $1,150; supplying and fitting twin gauge for feed pump, $15; renewing blower in stack, $62; electrically weld hull rivets, approximately 300 at 62 cents each, $186. Total, $3,317.

I would like very much to go ahead and have the work completed by the Atlantic Works this week, thus avoiding the necessity of hiring a substitute boat. The steamer "George A. Hibbard" is totally inadequate for handling the necessary freight and passengers for any length of time.

To advertise at this time in the City Record would mean delay of about two weeks, during which time the cost of dry dock and a substitute boat would amount to approximately $150 per day, or a total of approximately $2,000.

This is an emergency and in my opinion a saving would be affected and the best interests of the city served by having the Atlantic Works make the necessary repairs while painting is being done at their dry dock.

Very truly yours,

DAVID J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

TABLET FOR SIGNERS OF DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

MAYOR CURLEY ACCEPTS SUGGESTION OF CITIZEN THAT NAMES BE PLACED ON TABLET ON COMMON SO THEY MAY BE LEARNED.

Boston, October 24, 1923.

Mr. JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman, Park Commission, Boston.

DEAR SIR.—A suggestion has been received from Mr. Edward W. Lundahl, the gentleman responsible for the reading of the Declaration of Independence from the balcony of the Old State House, to the effect that the public would be benefited through a bronze tablet inscribed, in letters of sufficient size to be legible, with the Declaration of Independence, the same to be properly mounted and placed on Boston Common.

I personally believe that the placing of this tablet would have both an educational and patriotic value and that the idea is worthy of acceptance.

I sincerely trust you will take up this matter with the Park Commission at its next meeting and, provided they are favorably disposed, arrange a conference with the Art Commission relative to the design and location.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The Corporation Counsel, at my request, has instituted a most careful examination into the merits of this claim and, in view of the report which he has presented, in justice to the public whose interests we are elected to safeguard, greatly as I might desire to aid the petitioner, there is no way to justify any other course than to veto this order.

Respectfully,

MAYOR TAKES QUICK ACTION IN PAVING MATTER FOLLOWING FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT.

The Mayor forwarded the following communication Thursday, October 25:
HON. MICHAEL H. SELLIVAN, Chairman
Finance Commission, Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of a report of the commission with reference to the failure of the M. DeMatteo Company to comply with the provisions of the contract for paving Hampden street, Roxbury, between Albany street and Dudley street, and Adams street with sheet asphalt and granite block.

I confess it is gratifying to know that the street construction program for the year is nearly completed, and that, as a result of the combined efforts of the Commissioner of Public Works, and the inspection force appointed by the Finance Commission at my request earlier in the year to check up the work of the inspection force in the Public Works Department with a view to preventing sharp practice upon the part of the contractors, it has been terminated with such a minimum alleged loss to the City of Boston.

I have a profound realization, and I believe your commission must entertain the same view, that just so long as a cut-throat system of competitive bidding obtains, that from time to time men or concerns will be found agreeing to perform work for less than the actual cost of doing the same in a proper manner.

My sole concern from the beginning, and that of the Public Works Commissioner, has been to secure as nearly 100 cents on the dollar as was possible, and realizing the temptation confronting both the contractor and city inspection force, I publicly requested, early in the year, your commission to appoint a group of inspectors to check the work of the municipal inspection force.

This report being the only worth-while opinion made of the conduct of the Public Works Department's construction program during the year is a tribute to the value of the system of cross checking on inspection work and emphasizes the necessity for an extension of the program.

With a profound appreciation that the only way that the program can prove of permanent value to the city is through the adoption of such recommendations as may be reasonable and proper, I beg to say that, after consultation with the Commissioner of Public Works, I am in accord with recommendation No. 1, provided, after an analysis has been taken by competent authorities, it checks up with the findings made by the Finance Commission.

With reference to recommendation No. 2, I beg to state that, after consultation with Commissioner Rourke, I coincide with the view that he holds, namely that the chief inspector of the Public Works Department should be assigned to construction work other than bituminous material, and that a chief inspector of bituminous material be appointed, preferably a graduate of Technology and, provided the Finance Commission are prepared to recommend such a man, the Commissioner of Public Works, provided civil service will allow, is agreeable to appointing, and I shall be most pleased to approve such appointment.

With reference to the plant inspector, despite the fact that he is a civil service appointee, having passed the civil service examination and serving in the capacity of plant inspector, being appointed to that position by the former municipal administration, the report would seem to indicate that upon this particular contract he failed to exercise the degree of careful supervision that the city is entitled to receive from an official occupying a position of such responsibility.

In view of the fact that this is the first complaint that has been received against him, I concur in the recommendation of the Public Works Commissioner, that he be relieved from further inspection on street construction work.

It has been my experience that, in the last analysis, the city's interests are best conserved where contracts are awarded regardless of a slight difference in cost to concerns of demonstrated capacity and whose success in business has for its basis an equitable return for work performed.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT.

The Mayor has received the following report from the Finance Commission:

Boston, October 24, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The city entered into a contract, through the Public Works Department, with M. DeMatteo on May 22, 1923, for paving Hampden street, Roxbury, between Albany street and Dudley street, and Adams street, from Hampden street to Yeoman street, with sheet asphalt and granite blocks. The area of sheet asphalt called for in the contract is approximately 7,890 square yards. The estimated cost of the entire work was $49,203.85.

The specifications for the asphalt pavement required:

1. A 6-inch concrete foundation.
2. A binder course composed of clean, well graded, broken stone, from $\frac{3}{4}$ inch to 1 inch in diameter; enough clean sand to fill the voids in the stone, and enough asphalt cement to thoroughly coat the mineral aggregate without showing an excess of the cement when thoroughly compressed; the binder to be at least $\frac{1}{8}$ inches thick.

3. A wearing surface composed of 10 per cent to 12 per cent of asphalt, at least 6 per cent of Portland cement, and the balance of sand, variously but definitely graded as to the size of the particles.

As to the concrete foundation, as far as now appears, the specifications were complied with by the contractor. After being constructed, however, the foundation was not properly protected from traffic before the binder course was put on, with the result that much of it had become uneven from wear. This condition will be a contributory cause to the disintegration of the pavement that will, without doubt, take place at a much earlier date than if good work had been done.

In a binder of the character required by the specifications approximately 6 per cent of bitumen is required to coat thoroughly the coarse material. The inspector at the plant reported that the formula used by the contractor for the binder course provided for 6.6 per cent of bitumen. An analysis of the binder made by the city chemist showed only 2.5 per cent of bitumen. A binder course with as little bitumen as 2.5 per cent is little better than loose gravel, and has practically no binding effect upon the foundation and wearing surface.

The departure from the specifications in the wearing surface is even more serious. Specimens of the mixture prepared each day for laying were taken from the work and analyzed by the city chemist, Hiram Y. Waterhouse.

On September 11, 12, 15 and 17, while more than one-fourth of the wearing surface of this pavement was being laid, the city chemist's analyses show the following amounts of bitumen:

September 11, 9.3 per cent against 11.7 per cent, reported by William J. Galvin, the inspector at the mixing plant; September 12, 6.6 per cent against 12.5 per cent, reported by William J. Galvin, the inspector at the mixing plant; September 15, 9.6 per cent against 12.5 per cent, reported by William J. Galvin, the inspector at the mixing plant; September 17, 5.9 per cent against 12.5 per cent, reported by William J. Galvin, the inspector at the mixing plant.

Although the analysis on the fourth day showed less bitumen than on any of the preceding days, the defective pavement was not ordered removed and the work was allowed to go on. The most important duty of the inspector at the mixing plant was to watch the scales and make sure that the proper amount of bitumen was put into the mixture.

In order to make sure that the analyses of this pavement by the city chemist were correct, the Finance Commission caused samples of the pavement to be taken from the street and sent to chemical engineers in Hartford, Connecticut, and New York City. Three samples were sent to Hartford, Connecticut, two of which showed but 8 per cent of bitumen, the other showing 8.2 per cent. This engineer remarked in the report accompanying his analysis:

"A very poor mixture, unsuitable for either light or heavy traffic, and is especially unsuitable for heavy teaming. It is seriously deficient in bitumen and carries too high a percentage of 30, 20 and 10 mesh material for heavy teaming traffic."

Two samples were sent to the engineers in New York, and they report 8.3 per cent of bitumen in one and 7.48 per cent in the other. These engineers remarked in connection with their report as follows:

"Both these samples are much too low in bitumen to be at all satisfactory; especially is this so with the large amount of dust and fine sand present."

Considering the sand mixture used, with its large percentage of fine material, all tests so far made show the pavement to be approximately 33 per cent deficient in bitumen. The immediate responsibility of seeing that this contract was properly performed was upon John J. Crowley, the chief inspector.

He testified that he examined each day the reports of the analyses by the city chemist of the pavement that was being laid; that on three or four occasions he notified his superior, James H. Sullivan, the division engineer of the Paving Service, that the contractor was not following the specifications; that on three occasions he himself ordered the work on Hampden street stopped, once because he saw two-inch stones being used in a binder that was not to exceed one and one-half inches in thickness, again because one of the sand screens was defective, and the third time because the material was not kept at a proper temperature; that when less bitumen was used by the contractor than was required by the specifications, he assumed that the inspector at the plant would make the correction immediately without interruption of the work; that he called the attention of the inspector at the mixing plant to the lack of bitumen as shown by the analysis of the city chemist, and supposed that the inspector had required the necessary amount of bitumen; that the contractor had very unsatisfactory equipment for that kind of work and that, in his opinion, the contractor did not have "a skilled man in his entire outfit from himself down," and that the division engineer, James H. Sullivan, and the Commissioner of Public Works, Joseph A. Rourke, knew of this condition of the contractor.

Mr. Crowley thus undertakes to relieve himself of the responsibility and to place it on others. Nothing in the investigation of the Finance Commission has shown that the defects discovered in the work were due to a defective mixing plant or to unskilled labor.

It was the chief inspector's duty, as soon as he discovered that the specifications were not being followed to stop all street work until the paving mixture was prepared in accordance with the specifications. It was also the chief inspector's duty to see that all the pavement not laid in accordance with the specifications was removed. The daily written reports which he received from the city's chemist informed him of serious defects in the pavement. He not only did not order the defective pavement removed when he was first notified of its existence, but permitted the work to go on for four days, until at least one-fourth of the wearing surface to be laid was affected. Even if his own testimony that the equipment of the contractor and the absence of skilled men doing the work be true, it was his duty under the terms of the contract to stop the work until the equipment was made efficient and the necessary skilled workmen procured.

The chief inspector was the personal representative of the Commissioner of Public Works on the work. Article 4, page 14 of the contract, provides as follows:

"The contractor in carrying on the contract shall conform to all determinations and directions of the commissioner relating to—the proper interpretation of the specifications, plans or drawings—the fitness of persons employed on the work or the number thereof—the suitability, amount, quality and value of anything done or used."

Also on page 21 paragraph (c) of the specifications it is provided that the contractor shall:

"... keep a competent foreman and sufficient employees thereon, carry on the work with all proper speed and in accordance with the requirement of law and of all public authorities, and to the satisfaction of the commissioner, and furnish him with such information and vouchers relating to the work, the materials therefor and the persons employed thereon as he shall from time to time request."

The inspector at the plant, William J. Galvin, had a simple yet important duty to perform. The daily written reports which he sent in were not in accordance with the facts. His failure to report the exact facts is due either to gross neglect or to wilful misstatement.

Of the thirteen paving contracts awarded this year prior to September 24 by the Public Works Department, where sheet asphalt was offered in every instance at a lower price than any other form of bituminous pavement, this Hampden street contract, a contract for East and West Concord streets and a contract for Park street, Dorchester, are the only ones awarded for sheet asphalt. The contract for East and West Concord streets was completed in October and no pavement has yet been laid under the Park street contract.

It is noteworthy that in the only contract except one awarded by the city for sheet asphalt under which any work has been done and the only contract for bituminous sheet pavement in progress on which there was a plant inspector, the inspection officials in the Paving Service should neglect the city's interest so grossly.

The Finance Commission recommends:

1. That sufficient money be retained from the amount certified by the city engineers as being due the contractor under this contract to replace with a pavement that fulfills the requirements of the specifications that portion of the pavement which is shown by the reports of the chemists to be defective.

2. That both the chief inspector and the plant inspector be relieved from any further duty regarding the laying of bituminous pavements, and that their places be filled with competent and unyielding officials.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,

by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

LAND-TAKING IN DORCHESTER.

The Mayor has approved, upon request of the Public Works Commissioner, the order of the Board of Street Commissioners for the taking of land for sewerage works, the lands, rights and easements being as follows:

The right and easement is taken to lay and maintain sewerage works in the following described lands, exclusive of any interest in trees, buildings or other structures standing thereon, reserving to the owners thereof the right to use the lands for any purpose except such as may injure or obstruct said works, and except for placing or maintaining any structure on said lands not authorized in writing by the Mayor of said city; trees, buildings or other structures standing upon or affixed to the land in which an easement is hereby taken are to be removed therefrom within sixty days following a notice of the city's intention to enter upon said taking for the purpose of constructing said sewerage works. Said lands are in that part of Boston formerly Dorchester and are bounded as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Hosmer street, bounded:

Southeast by Norfolk street, ten and 1-100 feet; southwest by another part of Hosmer street, one hundred sixty-nine and 54-100 feet; northwest by the same, ten feet; and northeast by the same, one hundred and seventy feet; containing sixteen hundred ninety-eight square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 170 linear feet of 10-inch pipe sanitary sewer and 170 linear feet of 12-inch pipe surface drain, in the above described premises, being part of the private way known as Hosmer street, leading northwesterly from Norfolk street for a distance of about one hundred and seventy feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the improvement ordered herein.

Ordered, That this Board determines that no person sustains damages by the taking of the aforesaid easement and construction of said sewerage works and awards no damages therefor.

Ordered, That this Board estimates that the lots of abutting land on both sides of Hosmer street for a distance of about two hundred and ten feet northwesterly from Norfolk street, excluding the two lots at the northerly and southerly corners of Hosmer street, will receive benefit or advantage, other than the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement ordered herein; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Plan No. 528, Sewerage Works, Hosmer street, Dorchester, September 14, 1923, F. O. Whitney, Chief Engineer, Street Laying-Out Department," and on file in the office of said department.

DRASTIC MOVE TO COLLECT $300,000 OVERDUE WATER BILLS.

As a starter in his campaign to bring in $300,000 of water bills due the city for this year, Mayor Curley has appointed ten clerks from the civil service list for temporary service in the Collecting Department. The Mayor also transferred $2,400 for their salaries during service.

In the next few weeks the clerks will mail summonses to all delinquents and will record payments. The city is determined to enforce shut-off policy on delinquents.

Engineer James A. McMurray, in charge of the Water Service Bureau, has asserted that of the $1,250,000 in outstanding water bills which the Curley administration inherited from its predecessor, $700,000 is still outstanding, and there is little confidence at City Hall that much of this debt can be realized as many titles have since changed.

SETTLES FOR CONTINUATION SCHOOL TAKINGS.

Boston's new $500,000 continuation school, to stand on the site of the old Brimmer School in Common street and in its yard backing onto Warrenton street, South End, is nearer realization since Mayor Curley has signed papers effecting a $28,000 settlement with Michael P. Murphy for taking of 3,087 square feet of land and buildings numbered 33 and 35 Warrenton street, which land is to be used in the undertaking.

Chairman Glynn of the Schoolhouse Commission said the plans for the new structure will be completed by the first of the new year, and that eighteen or twenty months thereafter the building will have been erected.

SAVES OVER $1,000,000 ON EAST BOSTON TUNNEL WORK.

CHAIRMAN OF TRANSIT COMMISSION ANNOUNCES THAT WORK AT MAVERICK SQUARE WILL SOON BE COMPLETED.

Mayor Curley received the following letter October 23, from the chairman of the Transit Commission:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—As we are rapidly nearing the completion of the Maverick Square Terminal of the East Boston Tunnel, it will be necessary to reduce the force engaged on construction work at once. This work was commenced on a day labor basis in the first instance to provide work for former service men who were unable to secure employment during the business depression of two years ago. Carrying out your policy of giving preference to veterans, we have not only offered employment to every veteran on the civil service list who was physically fit to do this work, but in addition have provided work for about two hundred civilians. Of course it will be necessary for us first to dispense with the services of the civilian employees, and thereafter, as conditions warrant, to dispense with the veterans also.

Your policy of constructing this extremely difficult and complicated piece of engineering work by day labor has saved the tax payers of the city over $1,000,000 in soldiers' relief, and has given over 2,000 ex-service men an opportunity to retain their self-respect and acquire a knowledge of the details of construction work which will be invaluable.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

ALHAMBRA'S OF NEW YORK THANK MAYOR FOR ADDRESS.

Mayor Curley has received the following letter of thanks from the Supreme Divan, Order of the Alhambra:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

HONORABLE AND DEAR SIR NOBLE,—At a regular meeting of the Supreme Council of Viziers, held in the Hotel Astor, New York City, recently, I was assigned the pleasant duty to extend to you on behalf of our supreme officers their sincere thanks and keen appreciation for your very gracious presence and the excellent address you imparted at the opening session of our Tenth Biennial Convention of the Alhambra.

Your cordial welcome to your beautiful and historic City of Boston will never be forgotten by those persons who had the good fortune to hear you. We pray that you will continue to enjoy God's choicest blessings; that you may be favored by good health, success and a life full of happiness.

Permit me, my dear sir, to have the honor to remain yours,

Sincerely and faithfully,

A. B. NEUBAUE,
Supreme Scribe,
Supreme Divan, The Order of the Alhambra, Albany, New York.

OBSERVES NAVY DAY.

Mayor Curley arranged for exercises on the Common, a luncheon at the City Club, at which the city and the North Sea Mine Force Association were hosts, and a tour of inspection of the Charlestown Navy Yard and Naval Hospital at Chelsea on Navy Day, October 27.

Municipal heads, led by the Mayor, left City Hall at 11.45 o'clock and marched to the Parkman Bandstand on the Common, where from noon to one o'clock there was music and speaking. Besides the Mayor the speakers were Rear Admiral de Steiguer and Congressman Tague.

After these exercises the Mayor and his guests marched to the City Club, where luncheon was served at 1.15 o'clock. Besides the city officers of Boston and the members of the North Sea Mine Force Association, the guests included the mayors of several Massachusetts cities, who were here for the Mayors' Club meeting, and representatives of the navy, army and various military organizations.

At 2.15 o'clock the party left the club and were taken to the Charlestown Navy Yard, where the guests made an inspection of the shops and other facilities of the plant. At 3.15 o'clock the guests went to Chelsea to inspect the United States Naval Hospital.

The Mayor's proclamation follows:

Saturday, October 27, having been designated by the President of the United States as Navy Day, with recommendation that suitable observances be held throughout the country to commemorate the notable services of the navy in the safeguarding and preservation of the republic, the City of Boston, as a part of its official observance of a day made doubly sacred as the anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, requests that the national colors be raised on that occasion by mercantile establishments, hotels, theaters, organizations and individuals, and that the Navy Jack be also flown where possible.

MAYOR NAMES NEWSPAPER MAN TO REPRESENT CITY.

Mayor Curley received and approved the suggestion in the following letter from Hon. E. Mark Sullivan, the Corporation Counsel, upon the 25th instant:

RE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION AND RAILROAD VALUATION.

HONORABLE SIR,—I have been solicited by a great many public utility experts to retain them in this very important matter which is now pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission, to the extent that I am forced to the realization that this matter should not be passed over without careful study of somebody representing the interests of this great terminal center, namely, the City of Boston. The schedule of property valuations when finally and legally established will be the permanent basis of all rate structures thereafter made. So much refining with respect to what is a fair property valuation of railroads has been developed during the progress of this investigation and the resulting hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission, that a careful consideration of them forces me to conclude that Boston, like several other of the larger cities of the country, should take a part in these proceedings.

I observe in going through these proceedings that Mayor Hylan of New York as well as the Mayor of Chicago and official representatives of other large cities have already been heard in the extra judicial conferences, and the hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission. I find prominently appearing in these proceedings but one man from Boston, Greenville S. MacFarland, Esq. It occurs to me that if your Honor is of my opinion, namely, that the City of Boston should be officially represented before the Interstate Commerce Commission in this matter, that perhaps Mr. MacFarland is the one and only available Boston man whom we might employ as an official representative.

With your Honor's permission I would like to appoint Mr. Greenville S. MacFarland as Special Assistant Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston with authority to represent your Honor in these proceedings, with the understanding that his compensation will come out of the Reserve Fund for the reason that the surplus in this department's budget is altogether too small to adequately compensate Mr. MacFarland for the services which we expect him to render. If this suggestion, incomplete as to detail, meets with your Honor's approval, I shall proceed at once to attempt to effect some acceptable agreement with Mr. MacFarland to undertake this work.

Awaiting your Honor's reply, I am as ever,

Yours very respectfully,

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.General Order No. 402.

The resignation of Patrolman Neil F. MacArthur of Division 10 having been presented, it is hereby accepted, to take effect Thursday, October 18, 1923, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 403.

A trial bond consisting of Captains Gallivan, Skillings and Kneeland having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Harry J. Nelson of Division 3, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer and neglect of duty, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty on the first charge and specification thereunder, and guilty on the second charge and specification. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the said Patrolman Harry J. Nelson perform one hundred and five hours' punishment duty, with loss of pay during the time of his suspension.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 404.

It is with deep regret that it becomes my sad duty to announce to the members of the Police Department the death of Patrolman Joseph E. Gonya, attached to Division 18, who was shot and killed in a most atrocious manner early on the morning of October 21, 1923, by a member of a gang who had stolen an automobile, which was later recovered, it having been abandoned. This is the second case of murderous assault upon an officer of the department within three weeks.

Patrolman Gonya was one of the most recent appointees and gave promise of becoming a most valuable member of the department, and the circumstances under which he gave up his life strongly emphasize the type of character which he possessed, he having demonstrated that he was a brave and courageous police officer who sacrificed his life while in the performance of his duty.

This most unfortunate occurrence is a striking example of the hazardous duties which a police officer may be called upon to perform and to meet unflinchingly, and although I realize that it is in no degree commensurate with the loss sustained and the sorrow to be borne by his immediate family, I wish to extend to them, especially to his parents, the sympathy of the members of the Police Department, and to say that they may well be proud of a son who served his country with honor in the late war and who met his death in such a brave and courageous manner while performing his duty as a police officer.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 405.

A trial bond consisting of Captains Gallivan, Murphy and Kneeland having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Hubert L. Canada of Division 15, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty. In accordance with which the said Patrolman Hubert L. Canada was, on October 17, 1923, dismissed from the Police Department.

Due notice of such dismissal with the reason therefor was duly and specifically given in writing on October 17, 1923, to the said Hubert L. Canada.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 406.

Section 3 of Rule 39 of the Rules and Regulations, relating to "Rewards and Gifts" is hereby amended by striking out the whole of said section and inserting in place thereof the following new section, which shall be known as Section 3:

3. Police officers shall not, directly or indirectly, accept from any person, liable either to arrest or to complaint, or in custody, or after he has been discharged, or from any of his friends, any gratuity, reward or gift whatsoever; nor shall any officer receive any compensation for services rendered, or reimbursement for expenses incurred by him in connection with his official services, without the approval of the commissioner, nor until he shall have furnished a report in writing of the nature and extent of the services so rendered, and a detailed account of the expenses so incurred. Officers of this department who, either on or off duty, receive personal injuries, have the right to seek damages for injuries caused by the negligence of others. When a claim for damages for injuries received is made by any officer of this department, against any person, firm or corporation, notice in writing of the same shall be given to his commanding officer by the officer making the same, and when the claim is settled, the settlement, whether represented by check or cash, shall be forwarded to the office of the commissioner, together with a written request of the officer entitled to the same that it may be received by him. After the same has been approved by the Police Commissioner and proper record made by the chief clerk, the amount thus received in settlement will be returned to the officer of the department forwarding the same.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

NEW ELEMENTARY SCHOOL FOR BRIGHTON TO REFLECT LOYALTY AND PRIDE OF CONSTITUENCY.

BUILDING SOON TO BE ERECTED AT OAKLAND AND FANEUIL STREETS TO BE ALONG LINES OF TRADITIONS OF LOCALITY—WILL BE TWO STORIES HIGH.

NEW BRIGHTON ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TO BE ERECTED AT OAKLAND AND FANEUIL STREETS.

The Brighton district of the city is soon to have another new school building to grace its streets and add to the charm and educational value of the district. Construction is soon to begin, bids having been opened on Tuesday, October 16. The building is to be used for elementary instruction and is to be erected at Oakland and Faneuil streets. John F. Cullen was the architect. In connection with the awarding of the contract he has made the following comments on school house architecture, embodying the sentiments and ideals of the administration in its program of schoolhouse erection:

"When time has given man the proper perspective for studying this age, our criticism of modern civilization which will endure, is that we have lost the 'grande modus.' Our civilization is too raucous, restless and meticulous to admit of the austerity, dignity and stateliness of the classic times. It is true that great buildings, monstrous skyscrapers, are thrown up overnight, yet there is a certain fustiness, a cerebral as distinguished from an aesthetic quality about the proceeding that divorces it from the auspicious deeds of bygone days. We are too content on mass and economic production to equal or surpass the monuments of the earlier periods. Work is often furtive and undecided, proportions are ungracious, and the whole apt to be overcharged with ornament. The restraint, perfect proportioning and undefinable quality which characterize the other ages, are likely to be missing.

"Should not this be a matter of great regret, and is it not worthy of the serious thought of architects. In their hands is placed the keeping of the great traditions of architecture, to be perpetuated for all time or to be debauched and cheapened as their intelligence and respect for their art dictate.

"Commercialism is a force that has to be reckoned with in the world of today. It has little traditions and is fast educating our present generation to a policy of mass and economic production. It is the function of the modern architect to accomplish this result; his creative and constructive talents will be strengthened by solving today's architectural problems with the same unfettered reasoning that has produced the problems themselves.

"We should not acknowledge ourselves incapable of interpreting our own time to future generations. Our own children are the immediate generation of the future and the schoolhouse is their most familiar example of architecture.

"If school architecture is to be sacrificed for economic or other reasons, then likewise must the children's education be sacrificed. This is fast becoming a reality and should be stopped immediately.

"Architecture is one of the arts and should be exemplified throughout the buildings in which the children spend the greater part of their time. The environment of good architecture is pleasing to the eye and will not only educate the children in the art but will create an atmosphere of civic pride and an ambition and an added incentive to excel in all their studies.

"The modern schoolhouse should reflect the loyalty and pride of the constituency. Its architecture should reflect the traditions of the locality. Adequate and proper housing becomes an easy matter where the mission and purpose of public education is appreciated.

"Limited appropriations with excessive demands and requirements necessitate the execution of building in simple members and materials which, to be sure, makes it more difficult to achieve satisfactory design but the schoolhouse architect will not be discouraged by mere difficulty.

"In modern construction it is possible to build economically and to so proportion columns, spandrels and openings that a pleasing as well as an honest effect is obtained, at no additional cost.

"Bids for the construction of the proposed elementary school for the Bennett District, which is to be erected at Oakland and Faneuil streets, Brighton, were opened by the Schoolhouse Commissioners Tuesday, October 16, 1923.

"The new structure will be two stories high, of red Barrington face brick, with limestone trimmings, and will contain eight class rooms. It is the initial eight-room unit of proposed 16-room school which will be added under next year's appropriation.

"The building, from the plans of John F. Cullen, architect, will contain four class rooms and a kindergarten on the main floor, with a master's suite and teacher's suite and four regular class rooms on the second floor. The basement, which will be six inches above the grade of the yard, will contain the central heating plant, janitor's quarters and toilets. The fan chamber ventilating system will be installed.

"The main entrance to the new school will be on Faneuil street with subsidiary entrances on Oakland street and Beechcroft street. Two other entrances will be provided opening into the large school yard which will be a feature of the structure."

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plains of the harbor,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam
with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters'
unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR CURLEY WINS OVER IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS.

CHAMPIONS CAUSE OF BOSTON TELE-PHONE OPERATOR PREVENTED FROM RETURNING HOME BY CANADIAN AUTHORITIES, AND SECURES HER RELEASE FROM DETENTION.

Mayor Curley has been immeasurably gratified to learn that Miss Beatrice Cooney, a telephone operator of the Brighton Exchange of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, has been granted readmission to her home in Boston.

The case has attracted considerable attention by reason of the circumstances attending, and in which a most important immigration precedent was at stake.

Miss Cooney visited her parents in Galway, leaving Boston last March, and embarked on the steamship "Scythia" from Liverpool on September 29. When a few hundred miles from Liverpool the machinery of the steamship "Scythia" broke down and a return to Liverpool was mandatory.

Miss Cooney was transferred to the steamship "Antonio," destined for Quebec, and upon her arrival there was refused admission to the United States on the claim that the Canadian quota from Ireland had been exhausted.

Mayor Curley filed an unusually earnest appeal, calling attention of the authorities at Washington to the fact that Miss Cooney was an involuntary passenger on the steamship "Antonio," that she had purchased a ticket from Liverpool in good faith, and that she had given no sanction for her enforced transfer from the steamship "Scythia," and that if residents of Boston could be transferred at will by the mandate of steamship companies and immigration tion regarding the public baths and gymnasiums maintained by the city, and with regard to municipal indoor concerts and band concerts; also information relative to Mount Hope, Evergreen, Fairview and other public cemeteries owned by the City of Boston.

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE, 15 Beacon street, for information relative to the operation of the schools of the city.

TO THE SCHOOLHOUSE COMMISSIONERS,
Room 1007, City Hall Annex, for information as to the construction and repair of school buildings.

TO THE BOARD OF EXAMINERS, Room
1001, City Hall Annex, for information regarding the licensing of persons having charge or control of the work of construction, alteration, removal or tearing down of buildings.

TO THE WIRE DIVISION OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, Fire Department Headquarters, 60 Bristol street, for all information relative to the erection of poles, the building of conduits, the installation of all overhead and underground construction and electrical apparatus, as well as for general information relative to the entire division. To Room 906, City Hall Annex, for permits for the installing, of wires and electrical apparatus within buildings in the City of Boston, and for the payment of fees incident to the granting of the privileges above named, and which must be paid in advance.

officials no assurance could be given for Boston travelers overseas of their safe return to this city.

Miss Cooney's relatives, who reside at Milton street, Readville, are especially pleased at the result of this case, which, in the judgment of Mayor Curley, establishes a most important precedent.

Miss Cooney had been for six years employed in the telephone service and Mayor Curley characterized her detention at Montreal, where she journeyed from Quebec and where the immigration jurisdiction lies for that section of Canada, as nothing less than an outrage.

CONTRACTS AMENDED.

J. W. O'Connell has been allowed to amend his contract for repaving yards at the Hancock and Cushman Schools in the Hancock District, Parmenter street, North End, by striking out the words and figures, "October 1, 1923," on page 12, Section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "December 1, 1923," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said Section 3, on page 12, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about July 26, 1923, and is to be completed on or before December 1, 1923."

Patrick F. Russo has been allowed to amend his contract for plumbing at the Hyde Park High School, Harvard avenue and Everett streets, by striking out the words and figures, "September 2, 1923," on page 12, Section 3, and substituting therefor the words and figures, "November 15, 1923," so that the beginning of the last paragraph of said Section 3, on page 12, shall read: "The work is to be commenced on or about July 27, 1923, and is to be completed on or before November 15, 1923."

PROVES CONTENTION AGAINST FINANCE COMMISSION.

MAYOR CURLEY REPLIES TO LETTER DISCLAIMING EMPLOYMENT OF INSPECTORS BY "FIN COM," SHOWING THAT MONEY WAS PROVIDED AND INSPECTORS EMPLOYED AS CLAIMED, THUS BACKING UP ASSERTION.

The Finance Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—I have received your letter dated October 27, 1923, referring to my letter of October 24, 1923, in which I stated:

"I confess it is gratifying to know that the street construction program for the year is nearly completed, and that, as a result of the combined efforts of the Commissioner of Public Works and the inspection force appointed by the Finance Commission at my request earlier in the year to check up the work of the inspection force in the Public Works Department with a view to preventing sharp practice upon the part of the contractors, it has been terminated with such a minimum alleged loss to the City of Boston."

The commission criticizes that statement as unfounded and points out that in June, 1922, I proposed that the commission appoint an inspection force to check up the work of the city's paving inspectors and that the commission, by letter dated June 27, 1922, declined to accept this proposal. Notwithstanding this refusal I assumed at a later date that the commission had changed its attitude and would put on its own inspectors, my assumption being based on the following letter from the commission:

Boston, October 27, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—On account of certain unusual inspection work, which the Finance Commission is about to undertake and which was previously requested by your Honor, the commission desires to employ inspectors, to be paid on its weekly pay roll from A-3, unclassified personal service.

Will you therefore transfer from B-28, expert and architect, to A-3, in the Finance Commission's budget, the amount of $1,000 for this purpose, and oblige,

Very truly yours,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

In accordance with your request of October 27, 1922, I secured, with the co-operation of the City Council, the transfer of $1,000, expecting that the money transferred would be used to pay inspectors appointed by the commission. On August 21, 1922, I approved a contract for paving Huntington avenue, from Gainsborough street to the Brookline line, and I am informed by the Commissioner of Public Works that the Finance Commission had its own inspection force at work, checking up on that job. You can readily see, therefore, that I was justified in concluding that the Finance Commission had maintained its own inspectors in checking up city paving work.

At all events, I can see no objection to the employment of inspectors by the Finance Commission. It is supervisory in character and does not partake of the character of executive work, which is exclusively in my control under the charter. Such co-operation on your part will not be resented by me, but commended, as it would seem to be for the best interests of the city.

Respectfully,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The Finance Commission's letter to the Mayor was as follows:

Boston, October 27, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—Your Honor's letter of October 24, in reply to the commission's report on the Hampden street paving contract of the same date, contains the following paragraph:

"I confess it is gratifying to know that the street construction program for the year is nearly completed, and that as a result of the combined efforts of the Commissioner of Public Works and the inspection force appointed by the Finance Commission at my request earlier in the year to check up the work of the inspection force in the Public Works Department with a view to preventing sharp practice upon the part of the contractors, it has been terminated with such a minimum alleged loss to the City of Boston."

The Finance Commission desires to state that your Honor is in error in your statement that the Finance Commission had or has an inspection force on the work being done on the city streets this year. Your Honor will recall that in June, 1922, you proposed that the Finance Commission appoint an inspection force to check up the inspectors employed by the city on its street construction. To this proposal the Finance Commission replied in writing on June 27, 1922, setting forth the reasons why the Finance Commission could not accept such a proposal as your Honor then made. A copy of this communication is hereto annexed.

The investigation of the Hampden street paving contract which led to the commission's report of the 24th instant grew out of an examination by the consulting engineer of the Finance Commission of the daily reports of the city chemist.

Very truly yours,

MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

Boston, June 27, 1922.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The members of the Finance

Commission have received your Honor's invitation of the 24th instant to a conference on Wednesday, June 28, at eleven o'clock a. m.

The chairman of the commission has also received an invitation for himself and the other members of the commission, under date of the 23d instant, from the Commissioner of Public Works for a conference at the same day and hour with your Honor. The invitation of the Commissioner of Public Works is stated to be at the request of your Honor to consider at the conference an agreement between the Finance Commission and the city, whereby the Finance Commission would appoint "an inspection force independent of that now in the employ of the Public Works Department to check up the work of the inspection force now employed."

The invitation of the commissioner further states that he is directed by your Honor to say that your Honor is prepared to recommend an appropriation for the Finance Commission for the purpose of paying for this service.

The members of the commission, with the exception of Mr. Moors, who has been unexpectedly called to New York, will be present.

At a meeting of the Finance Commission held this day the matter your Honor desires considered at the conference was discussed at some length, after which it was unanimously decided that the powers and duties imposed upon the Finance Commission by the charter amendments do not authorize it to participate in any executive work of the city.

The Finance Commission appreciates your Honor's desire to have a strong and efficient inspection force, but it is the belief of the Finance Commission that the way to obtain and maintain an efficient inspection force is to discharge those who are found disloyal to the city's interest. That has not been done in the past when the Finance Commission has pointed out most flagrant cases, a partial résumé of which appeared in the report of the Finance Commission of June 20.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by MICHAEL H. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

"This department then notified Stanley Harlow, Inc., that these contracts were ready for their signature. We were informed by the Fire Department that demountable rims were required on each Ford. Stanley Harlow, Inc., did not figure on furnishing demountable rims, and the extra cost to the City of Boston providing these demountable rims, would bring their total to $1,314, while the total of Murray & Jones, Inc., was $1,312, and for this reason I recommend that the contract be awarded to Murray & Jones, Inc."

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts, awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do the work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Upon October 26 the Mayor approved the plan of Dr. David J. Johnson for repairs on the hull of the steamer "Michael J. Perkins." A communication from Dr. Johnson was as follows:

Boston, October 25, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

MY DEAR MAYOR CURLEY,—I wish to notify you of an emergency which has arisen in connection with the steamer "Michael J. Perkins" since my communication of October 22.

This morning we received notice from the United States local inspectors that the work of straightening plates on the hull, which we understood could be postponed until next February, must be done before the boat goes into commission. They find that some of the frames had been fractured and rivets broken and in the interest of safety the work must be done at once.

I have asked several firms to submit bids for doing the work, and according to the best information I have at the present time the cost will be approximately $2,500.

I respectfully ask your permission to award the contract without advertising, on the ground that it is an emergency. Delay would cost at the rate of approximately $150 per day for dry dock and substitute boat besides, causing much inconvenience.

I have talked with the City Auditor and am asking in a separate letter for a transfer of funds from the special appropriation "Steamer," as the amount provided under the maintenance appropriation is insufficient to cover this work.

Very truly yours,

DAVID J. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalks).

Upon October 29 the Mayor approved a contract with Stone and Webster, Inc., for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks. A communication from Joseph A. Rourke of the Public Works Department was as follows:

Boston, October 26, 1923.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award a contract for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to Stone and Webster, Inc., agents for First National Bank of Boston, 147 Milk street, Boston, is hereby requested on the ground, that this contractor is not selected by the city in the first instance but by the abutter; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon October 26 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for building catch-basins and outlet connections in Garnet road, in Quinn way, from Centre street to Billings Field, West Roxbury, to the C. & R. Construction Company, 3 Tremont row, city, at an estimated cost of $2,300.

Boston, October 25, 1923.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of a contract, without advertising, for building catch-basins and outlet connections in Garnet road, from Weld street to Dunbar street, and in Quinn way, from Centre street to Billings Field, West Roxbury, to the C. & R. Construction Company, 3 Tremont row, city, at an estimated cost of $2,300.

This work is to be done in connection with the pavement contract which has been awarded to the above contractor; and it is for the best interest of the city to allow this concern to build the catch-basins and connections.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed on or before December 1, 1923.

Respectfully yours,

JOSEPH A. ROURKE,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon October 25 the Mayor approved a contract with A. P. Smith Manufacturing Company for furnishing tapping sleeve valves. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract to the A. P. Smith Manufacturing Company for furnishing the following:

Ten 12 by 6 tapping sleeves and valves, $50.40 each; ten 12 by 8 tapping sleeves and valves, $65.70 each; to be delivered to the Water Service, 710 Albany street.

As the A. P. Smith Manufacturing Company seem to be the only concern equipped to furnish these sleeves and valves, nothing would be gained by publicly advertising for same, and for this reason the permission requested above is asked for.

Very truly yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon October 30 the Mayor approved a contract with Louis Ruhe, for furnishing animals and birds to the Park Department. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising, to Louis Ruhe, Bowers, N. Y., for furnishing the following animals and birds to the Park Department.

One pair Jap Nums at $3.50 a pair; one pair barbettes at $20 a pair; one pair lions at $2,400 a pair; one female African leopard at $350; one Argentine jay at $12; one Anabub baboon at $150; one Calpari monkey at $40; one mandrill monkey at $40; two pairs Napoleon weavers at $5 a pair; two pairs Taha weavers at $5 a pair; two pairs Textor weavers at $6 a pair; 100 meal worms at $1.50 M.; four bebe parakeets at $3 each; one red tangier at $8; one Basa parrot at $20; two pairs zebra finches at $4 a pair; two pairs R. $16 a pair; five Java parakeets at $4 each. Total, $3,284.

In the purchase of animals and birds for the Park Department, selections are made very carefully and it is impossible to adopt any certain specifications, and for that reason no advantage would be obtained by publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Upon October 30 the Mayor approved a contract with the Barbour-Greene Company for furnishing one mechanical snow loader with side loader. A communication from Superintendent Frank P. Rock of the Supply Department was as follows:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston;

DEAR SIR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract, without publicly advertising for same, to Barbour-Greene Company for furnishing to the Public Works Department, Highway Division, one mechanical snow loader with side loader, for $7,800. This department, after publicly advertising, opened bids for two snow loaders under date of September 5, and but one bid was received from the Eastern Tractors Company, and the price asked, according to their specifications, did not meet with the approval of the Public Works Commissioner. Since that date Barbour-Greene Company have perfected a snow loader at a price considerably less than that received from the Eastern Tractors Company.

This type of tractor has been purchased by the Boston Elevated Railway Company and several of the large cities and towns in New England, having been found to be the best tractor for the use required.

I feel that the best interest of the city will be served if granted this request.

Yours respectfully,

FRANK P. ROCK,
Superintendent of Supplies.

PROMISES TO CURB CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES OF KU KLUX KLAN IN CITY OF BOSTON.

MAYOR CURLEY AGAIN PINIONS AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION IN ITS EFFORT TO DEFEND VICIOUS AND MALICIOUS ORGANIZATION—DEFIES THEM TO GO TO COURTS AND SHOWS UP THEIR FALSE POSITION.

Letter from American Civil Liberties Union, Harry F. Ward, chairman, addressed to Mayor Curley from 100 Fifth avenue, New York City, under date of October 26:

"I have your letter of October 22 replying to a joint communication signed by myself and others on behalf of this organization, protesting against your announced intention of refusing to allow the Ku Klux Klan to meet on private property in the City of Boston.

"Let us make it clear again, as we have endeavored to do before, that we are wholly and uncompromisingly opposed to the Ku Klux Klan. We are not its defenders, as you attempt to describe us. We are defenders only of its constitutional and legal rights to assemble peaceably on private property and to discuss any and all public matters they choose. That is a right which we accord to our enemies just as freely as we do to our friends.

"You are evidently a believer in free speech only for your friends. Merely by your own dictum you put an organization outside the law and arrogate to yourself the powers of courts and lawmakers. The Ku Klux Klan is not 'outside the law,' or it would not be operating as it is all over the United States, with its papers and literature freely circulating in the mails. Many of its members have been guilty of criminal acts, and the organization is intolerant and dangerous in its influence. But that does not justify you in outlawing it merely on your personal opinion.

"If you follow the logic of your position you would have to refuse to allow many other organizations to hold meetings on private property in the City of Boston while you are Mayor, for, in their cases as well, members have been charged with lawbreaking in the conduct of organization activities. That is true of organized labor, of the radical political and industrial organizations, of various employers' associations and big business combines and of certain nationalist groups who have sought to aid rebels in their homelands by shipments of munitions.

"Why you should make an exception of the Ku Klux Klan, save for your own personal feeling about it, is not at all clear. If you will reflect upon the matter, it may be evident to you that the lawless spirit against which you inveigh is the very spirit you represent in taking this position! You propose to use your power as Mayor of Boston to do a clearly illegal and arbitrary act, sanctioned only by your personal views.

"We are bound to say to you under these circumstances that we shall be glad to meet you on this issue in the courts of Massachusetts. We are perfectly confident of the result. We would join in a legal test of the issue with any organization against which an official took such a position as you are taking in this case. It makes no difference to us what the organization is. As we have advised you, we have notified the national office of the Klan that they can count on our services in such a legal proceeding in the City of Boston.

"Your comment about our conception of free speech is quite beside the facts of American history. We refer you to the writings of Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson for clear statements of the American tradition, which does not tolerate such arrogation of power as you voice as Mayor of Boston."

Mayor Curley's reply to the foregoing is as follows:

"I have your curious letter of October 26, 1923, relative to our respective attitude toward the Ku Klux Klan. You appear to have a genius of misquotation and misinterpretation so pronounced that you are apt to excite the mingled envy and admiration of the Ananias Club.

"Your statement that I have announced 'my intention of refusing to allow the Ku Klux Klan to meet on private property in the City of Boston' is a pure invention; and when you supplement the figment of your own imagination by offering—or is it threatening?—to meet me on this issue in the courts of Massachusetts, I am compelled to believe that you are merely trying to tickle the long ears of the dupes of that Klan you piously denounce and persistently defend.

"Let me refresh your memory by repeating what I wrote to you and your conferees: 'I am Mayor of Boston with certain restricted powers; I have no control over the Police Department of Boston; I have some co-ordinate powers in the licensing and use of theaters and public halls; and such authority as I possess I will use to conserve the peace of the city and protect the lives and property of its citizens.'

"Licensed theaters and public halls may and probably are private property, but as soon as they apply for and receive licenses to do business under certain restrictions as to law, order, decency and other requirements, they cease to be private and become quasi-public and subject to regulation.

"Your excessive tenderness for this lawless organization, your heated misstatement that I have outlawed it illegally and arbitrarily, and your protective zeal for its rights are interesting in their way, but they do not impress one particularly with your honesty and sincerity. I will not waste time or effort splitting hairs with the American Civil Liberties Union; I will accept its own characterization of the Klan that 'Many of its members have been guilty of criminal acts, and the organization is intolerant and dangerous in its influence,' and proceed from that point. That it has gone unchecked in its career of crime in places outside of Boston is an excellent reason why it should not be permitted to disturb the peace and violate the law of Massachusetts. As far as lies in my authority I will curb its criminal activities.

"I note with some amusement your gesture referring me to the writings of Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson in re the American tradition of freedom of speech and meeting. Let me refer you to the recorded activities of those three eminent Presidents of the United States, who when they conceived the integrity and peace of the republic to be threatened and the lives and property of its citizens endangered showed no hesitation in taking practical action to curb, restrain and suppress the activities of the enemies of liberty.

"Mr. Woodrow Wilson is still alive; your citation of his name as a champion of American tradition is interesting but somewhat embarrassing; only the other day the American Civil Liberties Union was fighting and denouncing his interpretations of law and his executive acts; and now you call upon the Mayor of Boston to emulate him.

"This is a law-abiding, law-maintaining community, and it will not be transformed into a Klan-infested province of Texas and Oklahoma or a section of the back lots of Maine without opposition."

PLANS FOR MUSIC WEEK DISCUSSED.

The Mayor has received the following information concerning a week of music in this city in 1924:

THE NATIONAL FEDERATION OF MUSIC CLUBS, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
October 18, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—It has been suggested that Boston should have a Music Week, thus participating in a great national movement, now being developed to spread more widely the influence of music. There have been special weeks of various kinds, and they have been effective in focussing public attention on specific endeavors. A Music Week, therefore, should have the same effect if properly organized on a city-wide educational basis.

Through the National Bureau of the Advancement of Music and the National Music Week Committee, Mr. C. M. Tremaine, director and secretary, I was asked to take the initiative in the movement.

To carry out this idea it is essential to secure the hearty co-operation of all those interested in the promotion of music from every viewpoint, and also to secure the active participation of organizations which make no musical claim. It is therefore proposed to have a conference at the Boston Art Club on Thursday, October 25, to which you are invited for a 12.30 o'clock luncheon.

A small group interested in the music movement, including yourself, have been invited in order to get their reaction as to the advisability of the plan and the best method by which it may be carried out. Mr. C. M. Tremaine, of New York, expects to be with us.

We hope that initial steps toward organization may be taken as a result of this meeting.

Yours in a call to service,

EMMA R. FISHER,
Director of Education.

CITY PLANNING BOARD,
BOSTON, October 25, 1923.

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I attended, today, at the Boston Art Club, in your behalf, the meeting referred to in the inclosed communication from Mrs. Emma R. Fisher, and have to report as follows:

The purpose of the meeting was to arrange for a "Music Week" to be held in this city May 4 to 10, 1924. A similar "Music Week" will be held between those dates in approximately 150 cities throughout the United States, thereby making it a nation-wide movement. New York has had a similar observance annually for the last four years, and the same is true of other cities, although this is the first time it has been attempted in Boston.

They would like first the moral support of your Honor in the way of an official proclamation at the proper time, and general co-operation. Secondly, they would like a reasonable financial contribution from the city. New York's "Music Week" last year cost approximately $5,000, of which the city government defrayed about one third of the expense.

Among those present at the meeting were the following: John A. O'Shea, Frank Chouteau Brown, Fred Marshall, of Boston University; Courtenay Guild, Chester I. Campbell, Mabel Daniels, representative of the Chamber of Commerce; Frank P. Spear, president of the Northeastern College, and others identified with the musical profession of this city.

A temporary organization was effected, consisting of Mrs. Fisher as director, with authority to appoint a chairman, secretary, and treasurer to carry on the details of "Music Week" observance. There was a strong sentiment in favor of Mr. Guild as the chairman on account of his position as chairman of the Handel and Haydn Society, of the Apollo Club and of the Harvard Musical Society.

I assured the gathering that your Honor would be interested in the movement and would further the work as far as circumstances permitted. This opinion is emphasized by Mr. Guild, who spoke enthusiastically of your Honor's keen interest in and appreciation of any public movement of this sort.

I inclose a program of possible procedure which they have already prepared.

Very truly yours,

E. M. HERLIHY,
Secretary.

NAMES BOSTON MOTHER AS CITY'S MOST NOTED WOMAN FOR MAYOR CURLEY.

MISS E. M. HERLIHY, OF PLANNING BOARD, FINDS IT HARD TO FILL REQUEST OF WOMEN'S NEWS SERVICE, INC., FOR SELECTION OF TEN NAMES.

Mayor Curley has received the following letter from Miss E. M. Herlihy, secretary of the City Planning Board:

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—I return herewith communication from the Women's News Service, Inc., 106 East Nineteenth street, New York, requesting certain information with regard to Boston women for inclusion in the 1924 "Women's Year Book."

The categorical questions with regard to women in public office, elective or appointive, women receiving highest compensation, etc., are all matters of record and easily answered. The request that you submit the names of ten women of outstanding prominence in the community is a more difficult task.

I have canvassed the situation very thoroughly in the past month, both with the assistance of the newspapers and in personal appeals, with the idea of compiling a list which might reflect the composite viewpoint of a number of people rather than my own individual opinion. The result has been that, while I am tremendously impressed with the very large number of women in the community who have achieved more than ordinary distinction, either in public or in private life, I am equally convinced of the utter futility of any attempt to single out from this greater number ten names to submit to your Honor as the most deserving of credit or renown.

I have hesitated to communicate this decision to you for the reason that I dislike exceedingly to relinquish any task assigned to me without producing results, but in the present instance I believe that the questions of justice and fairness involved outweigh all other considerations, and compel a negative position on my part.

In the first place, I found a very marked difference of opinion as to what constituted prominence. What appeared meritorious in the eyes of one individual or group found very little favor with the next for the reason that, for the most part, it was not fully understood or appreciated. The conclusion I have reached, therefore, and it is by no means new, is that prominence is but a relative attribute at best and does not conform to any given standard or measurement.

Again, I found on the part of some of the best known women in the community, whom I believe qualified through service and attainments to be numbered among the chosen ten, a disinclination, for personal or other reasons, to permit the use of their names.

Again, and perhaps I should put this factor first, I believe it would be impossible to compile such a list as suggested without doing a grave injustice to many mothers in the community who have been deprived of the opportunity for education and social advantages that would have made them eligible for consideration in a competition of this character, because of the sacrifices made by them in the rearing of worthy sons and daughters which, after all, are the most valued contribution to the progress and development of the race and of the nation.

In this connection I submit—and in-dorse—the sentiment expressed in the prize-winning essay in a contest once held among school teachers for the best paper on the greatest woman in history, i. e.:

"The greatest woman of history is the wife of a man of moderate means who does her own cooking, washing, ironing and sewing and who brings up a family of boys and girls to be useful members of society and finds time for intellectual improvement. This woman is well known. She lives in many communities and in the hearts of many sons and daughters who have had their chance in life through her efforts and guidance."

I feel that I shall have complied with the spirit if not with the exact letter of your request, therefore, if I submit, rather than the list specified, one name,—the "AMERICAN MOTHER,"—the Boston Mother, if you will,—whose only prominence may be found in the hearts of her sons and daughters who, through her sacrifices, daily heroism and unselfish devotion, are developed into patriotic, high-minded American citizens, loyal to their Creator, to their fellowman, to their city, state and nation.

Respectfully submitted,

E. M. HERLIHY,
Secretary.

MAYOR COMES TO AID OF OPEN-AIR MARKETMEN.

INSTRUCTS SUPERINTENDENT OF MARKETS TO ADJUST DIFFICULTIES COMPLAINED OF BY FARMERS IN CONFERENCE—ASKS POLICE PROTECTION ALSO.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter October 30 to P. H. Graham, Superintendent of Markets, after conferring with the farmers who conduct the open-air markets in Boston:

DEAR SUPERINTENDENT.—A conference was held this day with the men interested in the truck gardening business in Boston, with a view to providing additional facilities for the public and correcting some of the mistakes that have naturally developed during the progress of the business since it has been established, some six years ago.

As a consequence of the conference it has been deemed necessary and advisable to establish public markets at the following locations on the following days: Monday, Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury, Hyde Park and Roslindale; Tuesday, Roxbury, Cabot and Tremont streets, Dudley street, corner Blue Hill avenue, and Roxbury Crossing; Wednesday, East Boston, Central square, Day square, Orient Heights; Thursday, South Boston, Thomas Park, Dorchester street, near Andrew square; Friday, Bowdoin and Hancock streets, Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue, Fields Corner; Saturday, Charlestown, at the Monument, Bunker Hill street, near Mead street.

The men in the market gardening business have been notified as to the locations and days assigned for the same and you are hereby directed to instruct the Deputy Superintendent of Markets to make the necessary arrangements.

From time to time complaints have been received that the Deputy Superintendent of Markets, in charge of the open-air markets, has adopted a dictatorial attitude toward the men engaged in the market gardening business. I think it would be well to remind the deputy superintendent that a degree of intelligence, vision and courage is necessary for a man to acquire a farm and conduct a business such as that in which these men are engaged. The first essential to success in business, particularly in a perishable goods business, is the establishment of prices that will prove attractive and a reasonable benefit to the consumer and a reasonable return to the producer. In my opinion the men who conduct the open-air markets are competent to determine what is an equitable price, and it would be well to remind the deputy superintendent that the fact that they are in business for themselves is sufficient guaranty of their competency and it would be advisable for him to cease attempting to regulate a business that is apparently being conducted with benefit both to consumer and producer.

I can see no objection to the extension of the time for the closing of the open-air markets to the Christmas season.

It has been suggested that the open-air markets might open annually a month earlier than has been customary and it would be well to adopt this recommendation.

I beg to say in conclusion that the open-air markets have served a most useful purpose in regulating the exactions of the middle man and if they have not always resulted in lower prices they at least have resulted in the distribution of fresh goods, which is an element of value that is deserving of consideration.

It might be well at least fifteen days prior to the opening of the markets next year for you to arrange a conference at your office between the men in the market gardening business and the assistant superintendent of markets to consider ways and means of more efficiently serving both the consumer and the producer of goods that are disposed of at open-air markets.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

The Mayor also sent the following letter to the Police Commissioner:

HON. HERBERT A. WILSON,
Police Commissioner,

DEAR SIR:—The men engaged in the open-air market business in Boston, and which markets today are serving a most useful purpose, complain that they do not always receive the measure of police protection to which they are entitled, and I would greatly appreciate in the interest of a continuance of the open-air markets that you request the captains of the stations in the districts where open-air markets are held to have the patrolmen visit the markets from time to time each day.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

MAYOR CURLEY HITS BACK AT CODMAN ON KU KLUX.

SEVERELY SCORES BOSTON REPRESENTATIVE OF CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION FOR "FATUOUS OBtuseness" AND CALLS ON HIM TO DIVORCE HIMSELF FROM KLAN.

Mayor Curley sent the following letter on October 29 to Mr. John S. Codman, Boston representative of the American Civil Liberties Union of New York:

DEAR SIR,—I have your letter of October 25, 1923, protesting against my reference to you and your association with certain undesirable elements in Boston, contained in my letter to the American Civil Liberties Union of New York, and which you with a singular lack of humor and good temper stigmatize as "hysteria!"

I am not prepared to believe you are stupid or devoid of intelligence. The fact that you claim to have addressed your audience of nocturnal bigots and dupes on "free speech" is an amusing incident of your association with them, an explanation, not a condonation. To speak to ravening beasts on the undesirability of a lamb diet does not alter the character of the beasts; it merely exhibits a certain fatuous obtuseness in the speaker.

The world out of its ages of experience with humanity has formulated certain proverbs, as the logical deductions of conduct and associations: "Men are judged by the company they keep," and "Those who lie down with the dogs will get up with the fleas."

You have aligned yourself with the Ku Klux Klan under several of its various aliases in this city, and while your "Free Speech" alibi may satisfy a rudimentary conscience it can carry no conviction to those who are concerned for the peace and welfare of the American community, and are opposed to any and every evil calculated to wreck them, no matter under what name they masquerade.

If you are out of sympathy with the Ku Klux Klan, divorce yourself from it; until you do so your bona fides will be distrusted and your protests be accepted as mere evasion, sham and camouflage.

Truly yours,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

PUBLIC LIBRARY SHAKESPEARE EXHIBITION.

The famous "First Folio," the earliest collected edition of Shakespeare's plays, was published in London 300 years ago next month. The Boston Public Library, whose Shakespeare collection has a world-wide reputation, is celebrating the anniversary in various ways. In the current issue of the "Quarterly Bulletin" appear a number of articles and illustrations bearing upon Shakespeare's career. In the lecture hall of the library on Sunday afternoon, October 28, Prof. E. Charlton Black, LL.D., of Boston University, lectured on "A Shakespearean Tercentenary and its Significance."

In the exhibition room on the third floor of the library is now on view an exhibit of material illustrative of the "First Folio" and its place in literary history. The exhibition includes the library's copy of the "First Folio," and also of the four other folio editions (the second, two forms of the third, and the fourth) which succeeded it in the course of the seventeenth century.

By means of facsimiles the visitor to the exhibition is made familiar with various features of the "First Folio," while copies of many other famous editions of the dramatist's work show the progress of Shakespearean scholarship down to the present day. One interesting item is a photograph of the original binding of the "First Folio Shakespeare" which came to the Bodleian Library, Oxford, through its copyright arrangement with the Stationers' Company; so far as is known, this is the only copy of the "First Folio" which has never been rebound.

The exhibition also contains a number of the precious quarto editions of single plays which preceded the "Folio." Many portraits of Shakespeare are shown, together with a model of an Elizabethan playhouse, and photographs of Miss Charlotte Porter's recent restoration of Shakespeare's theater. The exhibition is planned to afford a comprehensive idea of the history of the "Folio Shakespeare" and of its background in the life of Shakespeare's time.

AWARDS BABY PRIZES.

A score of fond mothers and proud fathers and as many prize-winning babies crowded into the City Council Chambers at City Hall to receive prizes from Mayor Curley as result of the contest held at the baby show in Mechanics Building.

Muriel Louise Coyle, five years old, was the proudest of the lot when the Mayor handed her a silver cup and bank book showing a $10 deposit to her credit. She was adjudged 99.5-10 perfect. "Recently," said the Mayor, "I was asked by persons in New York to select the ten most prominent and most distinguished women in Boston. After a careful survey, I decided that I couldn't select ten Boston women without doing an injustice to many others.

"And I have decided that you women, you mothers who develop the best children are the most distinguished in this city. You have achieved the most who have brought to bear vigorous children to carry on the work of civilization in the next generation.

"You have achieved the distinction of having recognized your obligation to your home, to your children, to your country and to your God."

Muriel Louise Coyle is a daughter of Mrs. Arthur Coyle of Neponset. She scored the highest among the girls and highest of all, including the boys. Lloyd Alliston Jenkins was next with a score of 97. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Jenkins, of No. 407 Broadway, Cambridge.

SETTLES TAX SUIT.

The bank contended that the taxes, which were $122,265 in 1922 and $119,175.03 in 1921, were illegal in amount as constituting taxes in excess of amounts moneyed capital in the hands of individuals was taxed. The taxes for both years were assessed at the rate of $24.70 per thousand on estimated fair cash value as of April 1 of each year.

STARTS PROVINCE STREET WIDENING.

Mayor Curley, shortly after eleven o'clock Wednesday, in company with Public Works Commissioner Rourke, started work on the widening of Province street.

First the Mayor lifted a shovelful of sand, then he picked up a paver's hammer and a block of newly cut granite and demonstrated his knowledge of how to set the stone in place. Mr. Rourke posed along with the Mayor.

While engaged in starting the work on Province street, the Mayor announced that if money is available during his administration the grade from Province street into Bosworth street will be leveled. This would allow vehicular traffic to pass through and would do away with the old granite steps which have stood there for generations.

If the steps are removed they will probably be turned over to the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, which plans to use them at the Old House, Lynde and Cambridge streets. William C. Endicott and William Sumner Appleton of the society have applied for permission to so use the steps. With them would go the wrought-iron lantern which now hangs at the junction of Bosworth and Province streets.

The application has been referred to John H. L. Noyes, chairman of the Street Commission. Mr. Noyes said that such use of the steps would be agreeable to him, but that there would be no money available for the leveling work until next year, at least.

CHILD LABOR CALLED THE CRIME OF THE AGES AND A DRAG ON PROGRESS.

MAYOR CURLEY PREACHES GOSPEL OF CONSERVATION OF CHILDHOOD, MOTHERHOOD, MANHOOD, AND WOMANHOOD AS PRESERVERS OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY, IN ADDRESS BEFORE THE BOSTON UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE ON FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1923.

Mayor Curley delivered the following address Friday, October 26, before Boston University School of Medicine:

The new note of the new age is conservation—the conservation of the gifts of God, the conservation of energy, of material, of time and effort—and, most important of all, the conservation of humanity, of man. The cry is new to the age but old to the ages; for human experience had crystallized in a phrase before Babylon was built and Ninevah was not—"Waste not, want not." The corollary of conservation is planning and preparation.

The tremendous waste in all human activities has shocked and startled the world for many years; yet it took a World War, with its waste and wreckage, its death and destruction, the earth-wide misery and suffering it precipitated, and the evil aftermath that touched the remotest ends of the world with famine and wretchedness, to bring to the consciousness of the race the vital necessity for ending the folly and futility that had staggered civilization and for the recasting of ancient wisdom to fit modern needs. Conservation, the old philosophy with the new name, is the age's answer to the stark necessity of self-preservation, the acknowledgment of the chastened nations that obedience to the laws of God and respect for the teachings of morality are the fundamentals of all human constructive accomplishment, for which man can furnish no substitutes.

While war seems to be an inevitable incident of the relations of governments and nations, it is worth realizing that the day of the conqueror and war-lord is done and the day of democracy is here. While not visible to the eye of this nerve-shattered age, the day may come when frontiers will be ignored and armies cease to march and slay and destroy, for in the dethronement of kings, the institution of democracies, the suppression of caste and privilege, the recognition of the rights and liberties of the plain man, "our eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord"; and we know that the world with all its frailty and futility is marching along the road that leads to the goal of the idealist, where the sword will be turned into a ploughshare, and will be supplanted by right and reason in the arbitrament of human affairs.

The ages of cruelty and oppression, of slaughter and slavery; of nations conquered and lands seized, in the names of religion, progress and civilization, are measurably behind us; and while man is still possessed by greed, avarice, cruelty and his ancient depravities, they are concealed shamefacedly under fine phrases, and no longer deceive. The world has grown wiser through its pains and penalties; it is gradually riding itself of its consecrated dynasts, drones and dunces, who have ridden on its back in the black and bloody centuries that are dead; and is questioning the why and wherefore of its rulers. The sleeper is awakening; the schoolmaster is abroad; the peoples are asking why their savings wasted to satisfy the greed and gratify the pride of placemen and politicians; and the common man is standing erect viewing the earth and its fullness and demanding life, liberty and happiness as a freeman's right and not a master's dole.

So the world has come to conservation as a remedy for its ills—the conservation of man and material.

The fertility of the field is constant and the harvests perennial; the riches that lie in the bosom of the earth, the teeming millions of the ocean, the wealth of the forests and the energies of the rushing rivers appear to be inexhaustible; and though wasted and neglected, they may be renewed and utilized by care and prevision in a few seasons; but man, the supreme effort of creation, the noblest work of God, what of him?

The conservation of the race, the preservation of man at his highest, the development of his body, mind and soul, the prevention of his waste and deterioration in war, industry and the rushing activities of civilization—that is the immediate and imperative duty of society, the imperious call to the democracy of America; and that call must be heard and heeded if the progress of the race is to continue upward and onward and the sufferings and sacrifices of the past are to have meaning and purpose in God's plan.

The child is the pledge of the nation; in its preservation and development lie the solution of our ills and the promise of that day when the Kingdom of Heaven shall be on earth. The Divine Master has said, "Suffer little children to come unto me;" and yet the waste of child life is the crime of our civilization.

Think on it, ye mothers of America. The poets of the race are its prophets and its seers; they have told us of the young men who see visions and the old men who dream dreams; one of them has said, "the child is father to the man;" and the gentlest of them has written out of a heart charged with indignation:

Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey
Where wealth accumulates and men decay.

It is for us to change a system that makes riches and decay partners in evil; and by the same and righteous use of wealth make it the agency of a more splendid humanity, a nobler civilization, the instrumentality of a better day, and neither a sword in the service of the conqueror or destroyer, nor a tool in the hands of the cruel and greedy sweater and exploiter of a necessitous humanity.

It is our duty to arrest the hastening ills prevailing on society; to see that childhood shall reach a sane, vigorous, starved manhood; that by an equitable use and a just distribution of the gifts of God and the rewards of industry, wealth may be made the ally of progress and development, the strong right arm of contentment and happiness, the protector of peace and prosperity and the preventive of social decay. If we but realize that all our modern evils are fundamentally economic; that the waste, extravagance and decay all about us are not only immediately economic but everlastingly immoral, we may turn back profitably to the parable of the talents and find in Holy Writ the story of the moral and economic basis of our civilization—the right or evil use of wealth and opportunity.

The slums, the cancers of our cities, the slayers of childhood, and the destroyers of the poor, are centers of disease and degeneracy and should be relentlessly wiped out. These breeding places of plague and disease are the product of greed and cruelty; but the epidemics they breed know nothing of boundaries and limitations and go forth to attack palace and home as indifferently as they strike down the poor of the slums.

What chance has a child in such a pestilential slum where filth and decay abound and the poisonous airs prey upon the victims of economic greed and official neglect?

The mill, the shop, the factory, with all their legal restrictions and modern appliances, tax the strength of manhood and womanhood and stunt and degenerate the children of the poor that toil in them; and instead of a human asset being added to the Commonwealth at maturity, a burden is placed on the community and an industrial worker is added to the waste of the human scrap heap.

There should be no compromise with child labor; it is a crime against the race, a drag on the progress of the American democracy and an evil that should not be permitted to exist. The child that is added to the army of industry, as many a one is by legal chicanery and the excuse of poverty, will eventually cost the state more economically, when his brief industrial career is closed by shattered health and enfeebled mind, than it would require to keep him in the schools and out of doors until mind and body are developed and he is mentally and physically prepared to face the tasks of life as an industrial asset.

Let us get rid of a system hateful in the face of heaven and earth. Let no straining of constitutional principles or shadowy interpretations of law thrust the child into industry, for in the industrial immolation of childhood we foster the decrepitude of the state.

The conservation of childhood and motherhood, of manhood and womanhood, is the supreme duty of the state, and if it does not stand between the greed of industrial exploitation and the preservation of the race the end of American government and all it connotes will soon emerge.

The work of the world must be done by the trained, educated, vigorous manhood and womanhood of the race; they must be conserved in youth and protected in their old age; and industry for its own safety must bear the burdens of the conservation of childhood and the leisure and contentment of age. Freed of the human wastage of childhood and age the rewards of industry will be sufficient at all times and the sum total of human happiness will be greater.

Give the child its childhood; give to age the serenity and peace that come from assured protection from the specter of pauperism, and we will build up a splendid army of thinkers and workers whose high intelligence can and will save us from the folly and wickedness of war's stupidities and the waste of men and the fruits of their industry.

Let conservation begin at the sources of the race, the home and the child. Much has been done by science and sense to better conditions in the past decade, but much remains to be done and it is our duty to do it.

The necessities of industry of every kind and character in the face of keen and ever-increasing competition demand an efficient conservation of every element that enters into its productive and economic life, the elimination of the waste of time, energy, material, production and distribution, that profits may be secured and the work and wages be made constant; but under the new industrial dispensation the crude and ruinous policy of offsetting waste and inefficiency by cessation of work and wages has proven disastrous.

Industry—and every productive activity of man from the gathering of raw material to the marketing of finished product is industry—has learned that man is supreme, the vital, the indispensable factor in every effort of the race; and that as he deteriorates and becomes industrially subnormal industry declines, social decay sets in, calamity stalks abroad and civilization and democracy are threatened. As man is conserved, as his faculties are trained and developed, as his health is guarded and his environment protected, as he is brought closer to the ideal, to the man made in the image of his God, then will be well with the world; its peace and prosperity will be assured and the contentment and happiness of the community upon which all else is posited will be secured.

Man is the supreme effort of creation and the betterment of the world is in proportion to the betterment of man. This is the message of the age; the answer to all human ills. Not only is the conservation of the race, its increase and multiplication, a response to the divine mandate and obedience to the moral law, but it is the insistent urge of enlightened self-interest and the instinct of self-preservation.

The child is father to the man. Give the child childhood and fostering care; save him for the world's work; teach him and train him for the future; develop his soul and mind and body; and in the days to come the evils of war and waste, of wealth misapplied and work misdirected, of grasping greed and selfish stupidity, of economic inefficiency and industrial blundering, will pass away, and mankind will be closer to the mountain top beyond which lies the Celestial City.

Laid over under the law.

INSPECTOR OF COAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 15, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—The Sealer of Weights and Measures has recommended that an inspector of coal be appointed to protect the public from the acts of unscrupulous dealers in fuel, and I accordingly recommend the adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Sealing of Weights and Measures Department,
October 11, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Sir,—As it is necessary for me to appoint a temporary coal inspector for a period of not more than six months and as I have no funds on the various items in the budget with which to pay for this service, I respectfully request that $517.50 be transferred from the Reserve Fund to A-2.

Also, we have outstanding bills at present which we are unable to pay for want of funds for automobile equipment. The original item for C-4 was cut from $7,348 to $5,300, a difference of $2,048. At the present time we owe $364.50 on this item, with a present balance of $16.24. We anticipate for the balance of the year expenses for tires, etc., that will double this amount and I therefore request that the sum of $700 be transferred from the Reserve Fund to item C-4, Motor Equipment.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES B. WOOLLEY, Sealer.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $1,100, to the appropriation for Weights and Measures Department, A-2, Temporary Employees, $517.50; C-4, Motor Vehicles, $582.20.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Later in the session, Coun. GILBODY presented the following letter in connection with the message of the Mayor, in communication and order, viz:

Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Fuel Administrator, State House.

Mr. George F. Gilbody, Councilor, Boston City Council:

My dear Councilor Gilbody,—Your petition of October 9 relative to the recent increase of domestic anthracite from $15.50 to $16 has been received. I beg to advise you that on the first of every month this office has been receiving the reports of the dealers in the Commonwealth to file a report in regard to the prices paid for coal and their retail prices. Shortly after the first of October, reports were received by this office that dealers in many communities throughout the state had increased the retail price beyond the increase in price at the mine. Therefore, the commission has commenced a special investigation as to the justification for the retail prices in several communities of the Commonwealth, and I have directed that the report of the additional increase of 50 cents on the part of many dealers in Boston, as announced in the daily press, be included in this investigation.

Very truly yours,

E. C. HEDDERLEY,
Chairman and Fuel Administrator.

ORDINANCES CONCERNING PARK FRONTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 15, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I beg to submit herewith amendments to the city ordinances that in the opinion of the Park Commission are necessary for the protection of the public parks and I respectfully recommend the adoption of the same.

Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, October 8, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners, you are respectfully asked to request the approval of the City Council for the following amendments to the ordinances of 1922, concerning park frontages in the City of Boston, as amended by chapter 2 of the ordinances of 1923.

The reason for requesting an amendment to section 1 of said ordinance is that the ordinance as it now reads forbids the erection or altering of buildings upon land within a distance of 100 feet from any park or parkway in the City of Boston and their use for any mechanical, mercantile or manufacturing purposes in law of the restrictions that are applied only to land bordering on parkways and in addition states exactly the name of the parkway or parkway.

The reason for recommending striking out section 3 and section 4, is that the provisions of these two sections are but an enactment in law of the restrictions that are placed in the deeds given by the owners of the premises to the city, and today the increased cost of building construction, labor and materials makes these two sections unnecessary.

The reason for recommending the proposed amendment to section 5 is that as it stands it reads the setbacks apply to all parks and parkways from and including the Fens to Franklin Park, while the proposed amendment states exactly the names of the parkways to which the section applies.

In course of time the restrictions on lands bordering upon the parkways will become obsolete and in order to carry out the spirit of the original improvements it is necessary to have the ordinance as it now stands amended so that this is the only method of having the same and the use of the buildings bordering on the parks.

The authority for passing this ordinance and amending same was given by the provisions of chapter 61 of the Acts of 1920.

Yours very respectfully,
BOARD OF PARK COMMISSIONERS,
DANIEL J. BYRNE,
Secretary.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty-three.

POWER OF CITY COUNCIL OVER GARAGES, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, October 3, 1923.
John E. Baldwin, Esq.,
Clerk of Committees:

Dear Sir.—This is in reply to your communication of September 27, 1923, in which you requested of the Executive Committee of the City Council for the opinion of this department relative to the power of the City Council over garages in this city and to the power of the City Council concerning the keeping, storage and sale of gasoline.

1. Chapter 577 of the Acts of 1913, as amended by chapter 117 of the Acts of 1914 and by chapter 316 of the Acts of 1922, places the power to grant permits for garages in the hands of the board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, as follows:

"Section 1. In the city of Boston no building shall be erected for or maintained as the garage for the storage, keeping or care of automobiles until the issue of a permit therefor by the board of street commissioners of the city after a public hearing upon an application filed with the said board.

"Sec. 3. At the time and place specified in the notice for the hearing, said board shall hear all parties interested and give due consideration to the interests of all owners of record notified, the general character of the neighborhood in which is situated the land or building referred to in the application and shall determine whether or not the application shall be granted and the permit issued.

No authority is given to the City Council in the premises by any enactment of the Legislature. Consequently, I am forced to advise you that the City Council has no power over the granting of permits for garages in the City of Boston.

2. Regarding the storage, keeping and sale of gasoline, General Laws, chapter 148, section 30, provides:

"The marshal shall have within the metropolitan district the powers given by sections ten, thirteen, fourteen, twenty, twenty-one and twenty-two to license persons or premises, or to grant permits for, or to inspect or regulate, the keeping, storage, use, manufacture, sale, handling or disposal of any explosive, gunpowder, or crude petroleum or any of its products, or any explosive or inflammable fluids or compounds . . . provided, that the city council of a city . . . or the selectmen of a town may disapprove the granting of such license or permit, and upon such disapproval the permit or license shall be refused."

The metropolitan fire prevention district, as defined in section 28, includes Boston, so that such provisions of sections enumerated in section 30 as placed the power to grant permits in the board of selectmen or aldermen have no application to the situation in Boston. Consequently, under the provisions of section 30 the control of the keeping, storage or sale of gasoline, a product of crude petroleum, is in the state fire marshal, subject to a power in the City Council to disapprove the permit.

Under authority of the power conferred by section 31 of chapter 148 of the General Laws, the fire marshal on September 10, 1915, delegated the power to license the keeping and sale of gasoline to the Mayor and Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston, and on the same date delegated the power to issue permits for the keeping, use, storage and sale of gasoline within the City of Boston to the Fire Commissioner of Boston. (See Op. A. G. 1920, pages 302, 303).

Thus, the only reference in legislation affecting this matter, to the City Council is that contained in the provisions of section 30, chapter 148 of the General Laws, conferring upon the City Council the power to disapprove such license or permit. This section, however, must be construed in the light of the powers of the City Council as set forth in the amended City Charter of 1909, section 4 of which reads as follows:

"Every appropriation, ordinance, order, resolution or vote of the city council, except votes relating to its own internal affairs, shall be presented to the mayor who shall make or cause to be made a written record of the time of presentation and it shall be in force if he approves the same within fifteen days, etc."

Consequently, the power of the City Council to disapprove such permits and licenses requires a concurrence of the Mayor of Boston in such vote or order. I am therefore of the opinion that the only power of the City Council affecting these matters is the power to disapprove the granting of licenses or permits for the storage, keeping and sale of gasoline provided the City Council has the approval of the Mayor in such action.

Very truly yours,

E. MARK SULLIVAN,
Corporation Counsel.

PAYMENT OF PATROLMEN.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the City Council respectfully request his Honor the Mayor and the Police Commissioners to include in the budget appropriation for the next fiscal year a sum sufficient to pay first year patrolmen and traffic officers a wage of $8 per day, and second year men to be paid a wage of $5.50 per day, and third year men to be paid the maximum of $6 per day.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, the order as presented supplements an order presented last week ago which did not go into quite so much detail. To meet the criticisms of some of the members I have this time presented, today. I noticed that after that order was presented here in the City Council last Monday there were various newspaper comments by his Honor Mayor Curley regarding my individual attitude, and seeming to prophesy what would be his attitude if such an order were to be passed by the City Council. They said and still think that the order is a meritorious one, but my individual opinion does not amount to much. It seems to me, however, that the City Council's opinion is supplemented by the newspapers of this city, for editorially they have commented upon this order, the good intentions of the City Council and the attitude of my honor. I read from just a few of these editorials.

This is from the Boston Post:

"The police force is no longer the time it at best, what with the training that he must have and the exacting discipline to which he is subjected. And he is in constant danger of death in the pursuit of his duty. He knows not when his hour may come from some corner and desperate gunman."

The Boston policemen ask for $6 a day: they are fairly entitled to it. When you consider that ordinary artisans today receive a dollar and more an hour, the request of the guardians of our peace and safety seems modest enough. A city boasting as fine a body of police as Boston has ought to have pride and appreciation enough to pay it what it deserves."

From another editorial:

"Let us all salute the Boston police force as it appears today on parade, doing thus in spirit if we are not able in person. They are a sterling body of men. In spite of an occasional black sheep, and of an inevitable mistake once in a while, they perform their duties with energy and efficiency. They are the best police force Boston has ever known. We have great sympathy with the proposed increase of their salaries. They are not a unionized force. They do not rely on the power of organized labor to bring them results. It is accordingly 'up to the public, in its capacity of appropriator, to make such an adjustment of their wages as the conditions invite. We believe they perform a task not only of difficulty, but one requiring delicacy and tact and courage, and that they should be, in consequence, a well paid body of men—surely better paid than they are now."

Here is another:

"THE POLICEMAN'S PAY."

"Mayor Curley makes evident his intention not to consider the just claim of the Boston police for a better wage, even looking so far ahead as the 1924-25 budget. He says so in a detached and dispassionate manner very clearly that he would veto any move of the City Council to increase their pay."

Nobody expected not even the policemen themselves, that they would have their desired and thoroughly well earned six dollars a day this week or next. But they feel a justified resentment at being told by the Mayor of Boston that he will countenance no provision for their relief, even in a budget that does not degenerate into a mere year's whose appropriations are not all expended until a year later.

The Mayor goes on to recount the various increased major expenditures planned for the year 1924-25. The firemen are going to get $350.00 more a year; laborers and mechanics are going to get $750.00 more; retirement pensions are going to be $750.00 more; normal increases and the graduated scale increases now applicable in many branches of the city service amount to $1,000.00 more.

So far that reason the modest increase of $1.07 a day asked by the guardians of our city cannot be granted."

"All of which," he submit, is a strong argument for the better paying of the police. These other branches of city service are to be better paid—and not unduly, we are told—because they are doing a single job on an even keel, and keep the forces of lawlessness and disorder down where they belong; men who are paid in the same way as the single men who work like Trojans to keep moving the terrific traffic in our congested streets; men whose courtesy and helpfulness to our people have now become noted. The council over—these men must not presume to ask for the pay that they ought to have. It is no wonder that the firemen, who are paid as they happily, they are apart from city politics they fail to get the consideration in city budgets to which they are justly entitled. The Department of Public Buildings has only $40,327.287 expended by the City of Boston last year. The increase they ask for is so comparatively small that it is hardly worth mentioning. The budget for 1924-25 is not fully made up. We are unable to see why the policemen's $1.07 more a day cannot be included in it with justice to all concerned."

From the Transcript:

"The new police force has now been in existence long enough to stand out in its own way in many trying situations. It has made good.

responsibility is theirs and not ours. My friend on the right (Coun. Watson) is not going to hide behind anybody's coat or skirts. He is going to take the responsibility of going to vote "yes" or "no" on this order and by his vote he is going to reflect his sentiment—of he votes "yes," that it is his merit; if he votes "no," that it does not have merit. I do not know that the policemen are going to get it, but I do know that a move must be made, and I know that the members of this body will for the moment forget their political animosities and their personal feelings and get down to the merits of the order itself and let the order go for its long way toward crystallizing public opinion. I don't know that it is necessary to crystallize that public opinion as far as the newspapers are concerned, because they seem to be generally in favor of such action being taken; but it will at least result in crystallizing the opinion of the public as represented by us, and will perhaps have a beneficial effect on Mayor Curley. Let me say that the gentleman is mistaken when he speaks about my inability to find my way around City Hall. There is not a nook or corner here that I don't know, there is not an individual in the service, I believe, that I don't know. He undoubtedly did not know that it was my charge in a general way, hoping that some mud would stick. Perhaps I have been to the Police Commissioner's office and have abused him because I have not, before he asked me whether I had. It only shows that he is attacking me from the personal side, and that is the more I am convinced that I am right in what I said about Coun. Moriarty and himself, when I appeared before the Charter Commission. The only sane expression he indulged in was when he said he believed there should be an increase in the wages of the policemen, and I now call upon him to back up that belief by voting for the order, because he believed in the object of the order, as he said in his mind Hagan. Hagan is going to live next winter and next year, whether the policemen get their increase or not.

Coun. MORIARTY—Mr. President, I have found out something new today. I have found out that if I am going to be with the policemen I am going to be sure of living for another year. I am surprised at this order, but I suppose I should not be surprised at anything that is introduced by the gentleman on the other side. If I remember aright, at the last meeting there was an order introduced that went to the Executive Committee without any protest on the part of the member who introduced it. The order was laid upon the table.

Coun. WATSON—At his suggestion. Coun. MORIARTY—At the suggestion of the member of the Council who introduced it, and today another order is introduced along the same line. Why the second order? If he was honest in his contention, when we went back into the Council, we should have the order that was on the table taken from the table and amended, and would talk it over in Executive Committee, and if there was merit in his plan and he could show that there was merit it could be brought back here to the Council and voted upon when we came out of executive session. But no, there is no thought of the policeman in the gentleman's mind. The only thought is that of advertising, not only for political office, but also for business. I figured out after last meeting that he introduced here by the gentleman that they would have to hire civilians to stop the Police Department from going down and purchasing the commodities that the men sell. I think perhaps that the men might take time off from duty to go there. But nothing like that has happened. I wonder, if all the people of Boston could hear him, could they get the eloquence of the member who has just taken his seat, whether they would think he was any more sincere than the member who has just said he was not always sincere. I heard him talking about the appropriation for the Stranay in Boston. I thought that it was him raise his voice in protest against spending the money. If my memory serves me right, when the roll was called for the appropriation of the money, he voted that it was the same in the matter of the rose garden in Franklin Park. He was recorded on the side of the appropriation. I wonder if he thought when he voted that time that it was a luxury. I remember back some four or five years ago that he advocated $5 a day for the men laborers, and he either voted for it or the second year that I served in this body. I agreed with him that I would be willing to help in holding up the whole budget for the purpose of getting the $5 a day for the laborers, but he would not go through. He says that he is not controlled by anybody. Well, if he is not controlled by anybody, why doesn't he get out and stand in election for the merits? Why does he not go out before the people on his own name, instead of having his name circulated to every man and woman voter in this city with a vilification of men who have seen to run for public office? He is going to vilify the men who have been able to sit here. Mr. President, if I could not win an election to a public office without vilifying my business associates, the men who with me represent the citizens of Boston in this body, I would not sit here as a member of the body. And I say to those men who have seen to elect me, and who have been induced by that same organization, men who at the time of their indecision by the organization did not know the type of men with whom they were dealing, that they have broken from the Good Government Association after being elected here that they have shown more self-respect than the men who have continually sneaked, crawled and crept for the purpose of staying in public office. There was absolutely no need of this order here today. I agree with everything that Coun. Watson said. Coun. Hagan did misrepresent and vilify his associates. I take this from a newspaper of October 10, 1923:

"Mr. Haran said that the criticism of the present Council went back to the voters who were too lazy to go to the polls but who were too stupid to vote for the men who have neighbors who did vote. 'The Council represented the people who voted,' he said. 'If a sufficient number of people want Mr. Watson's change, they have sufficient votes. A number of people want Mr. Moriarty they ought to have him,—even though I question their wisdom.'"

If I remember aright, the member when he took the floor this afternoon based his argument upon what was said in the newspapers. If I remember his words, he said that he was questioning the Council, and he thought to give that same right to somebody else. If he is going to take things from the newspapers as being correct, why haven't other members of the Council taken things from the newspapers? I had appeared before that commission perhaps I might have said the identical words, but the exception that the only member of the Council who would have introduced would have been the gentleman who last spoke (Coun. Hagan). So I have no feeling now in regard to the gentleman different from what I had before he appeared. I am in the special commission now in session upon the charter. He says that this matter has become personal, and I believe it has become personal. In so far as I am concerned it becomes absolutely not personal with me. In so far as tactics go, I don't want to be behind him. I believe that the order insincere in 95 per cent of the orders introduced here. My reason for that, Mr. President, is this: We have here involved in the order the introduction of the police.

The only place where he thinks an increase is merited or deserved, the only place where it should be made, is in the case of those 1,400 men who introduced the order. The men are to be segregated as favorites? I wonder where all these champions of the city are going to have their jobs? I have never heard them raise their voices for the wages of the laborer, the mechanic, the clerk, or any other city employee, until the time of election or preceding an election. Not so very long ago eight members of this Council voted the Mayor sat down in the Parker House together, and the Mayor said, "I am ready to pay to answer my question in regard to the budget." All were present except Coun. Lane, who was not there, being ill at the time, or being out of the city. The fellow who is the laborer, the mechanic, the clerk, the policeman and mild as a lamb. We heard not a word from him in favor of any employee of the city, any laborer, in the way of a proposed increase. But when after the election comes away, stating that he would not give an increase to the laborers at that time, the same man who introduced the order goes back to increase the wages of the laborer one day. Not playing politics! No, that isn't playing politics. It is playing hypocrisy.

It is playing politics. There is nobody here who will not agree that every man working for the city deserves an increase in wages, and I believe if it was within the province of this Council every man who would vote to increase the wages of every man and woman now on the pay roll of the city of Boston. Why wouldn't it be better to sit down and agree on so much that it needs is four votes to stop anything from going through, so far as the finances are concerned, anything in the way of luxuries, until something is done to help the poor people who work for the city. Four members of the Council could stop all these luxuries, and the member so ably spoke about. But, according to me, I don't think there was anything that the Good Government members wanted they were always able to get. I don't think four votes in this Council, and when it came to an issue my friend who has introduced this order was always one of the leaders in doing their bidding. He never voted for any man who was not a Good Government man. So far as the policemen are concerned, when he speaks of the policemen he might have thought of them as the whole situation arising from the fact that they had been asked to have thought of them at that time conditions might have been different. We then saw policemen, men with wives and children, men who had given the best of their lives to the service of the city, losing their positions and unable to receive positions from employers in this town; the whole situation arising from the fact that they had been asked to receive the recognition they should have received from the Police Commissioner and from the then Mayor of Boston and the city fathers, recognition and support. We had the policemen's strike a few years ago. At that time I did not hear the man who introduces the order today raise his voice for the purpose of bettering the condition of those men in the department. We did not hear him raise his voice to make it possible that the men patrolling our streets at night, protecting life, limb and property, should be given the treatment they deserved. There was no thought for them at that time. Of course, I suppose he comes back to the same place, and I suppose to start. Yes, but if he would start, let him start sincerely. If he had come in here today with that order, his position, and then when he was in the executive session together with his brother members, had substituted the new order for the old one, there might have been a different result. I think he says, he is going to make the members here vote "yes" or "no" today. Well, it is an impossibility for him to compel us to do that. We are going to vote for the member of this Council who has not got the courage of his convictions, to either vote "yes" or "no" on any order that comes in here. Of course, we are going to vote for the policeman should get larger wages. It is not a question of the men who hold the job, but the position, and the wages go with the position. But why all this haste and bustle at the time? I have seen newspapers change their minds. That, too, has been the case in connection with the Police Department.

The newspapers have been practically all day in criticized very much by practically all the newspapers in Boston for voting against an appropriation for Station 2. But, taking one of the papers that he mentions today, they have changed their minds. The paper about three years after my opposition to carrying Station 2 into the outlying districts, against moving the station out of the business district. So newspapers change their minds, and my brother here, who has introduced the order, may change his mind. I believe, as I have said before, that the man who introduced no member here who plays politics to anything like the extent of the man who has introduced this order. I give him credit for being the best politician I have ever seen do anything, but always lights a match and creates a lot of smoke, and when the fire is put out there has nothing come from the smoke. Every man in this Council has a right to the Department to my knowledge, or by the Department, to my knowledge, was always agreed to without any big newspaper notoriety. It was Coun. Watson who introduced this order, the newspapers might have taken a different angle in dealing with it. If it was Moriarty that introduced the order, the newspapers might have taken a different angle on it. If it were some other members of the Council besides the man who has introduced it, they would say that they were trying to bankrupt the city, and the conclusion would be done by a man who holds himself so sacred, so apart from all the other members of the Council, the thing is right in court. I don't advertise in newspapers, and I don't pay anything for advertising in the newspapers. Maybe if I had a little business and was advertising, I wouldn't be so sure that I could get onto the front page more often than I do. I realize that there never has been much printed in the papers that was detrimental to the Mayor, and I realize that I have introduced the order. Hardly anything that I say ever gets in, and there are no headlines about it. Of course, the interview that the Mayor gave the newspaper which was published last Tuesday morning, got under the gentleman's skin, and he comes back here today and criticizes his own vote, goes on record as an aspirant for the office of Mayor, that he should not have voted for, and then criticizes the Mayor for favoring luxuries, although himself taking a position in favor of other luxuries. I have seen the Mayor in regard to a swimming pool, and also in regard to settles in the park. Nobody is worrying much about sitting in parks at this time of the day. I don't think the Mayor is concerned, I feel that I can speak for a big majority of the citizens of South Boston. I have been a candidate for public office at large three times and have led the ticket in South Boston on those three occasions. So I feel that at least the people there are satisfied with my action. I am not satisfied with the Mayor's has done for us and, so far as taking crumbs that fall from the Mayor's table is concerned, that remark does not count. Neither does it count to me if you refer to taking crumbs that fell from the table of the last administration, and in my estimation more crumbs fell from that table than from the table of any preceding administration that ever sat in the hall. I have just the same feeling privately now that I had before for the member who sits opposite to Coun. Hagan. The gentleman who introduced this order, but politically and as a member of the city government I feel that he has absolutely ruined himself in 95 per cent of the order he introduces here. I do not give this order as much thought as I would if I felt that he were sincere. For the day may as well be as the day we proceeded me feels (Coun. Watson), that maybe we are doing more harm to the men who wear the uniform of the Boston Police Department than we are doing good by passing an order of this kind. I will never vote against an increase in pay for anybody, no matter who he might be. I will always vote in favor of giving any man and every man an increase in wages. Notwithstanding the fact that we have a Police Department that is 95 per cent new men, who clamored to take the position of the men who sacrificed everything to make it possible to give a decent living to their wives and children. I would favor an order giving the same wages to the men in the department. The former policemen sacrificed their positions in an endeavor to obtain decent treatment for their wives and their children. Now the men who took their places are confirming the position that they took at that time that the men who went out on the policemen's strike could not live on the money that they got as a city government made possible for them. If there was ever a confirmation of the truth, it has now come—a confirmation by the men who fill the place of the 400 men who were sacrificed by the machinery of the newspapers of Boston, by the headlines calling them traitors, by the headlines comparing the men who left their places to the Germans who were fighting our boys in the trenches. The men who took their places are confirming the conditions that existed at the time of the policemen's strike are proving that the conditions that were then said to be unjust were unjust. But all this talk is without any effect. The increase can be given to any employee, particularly in the Police Department more than any other department within the control of the city, we first must have the consent of the head of the department and then the approval of the Mayor. Then, if six members of this Council vote "yes" those men will be increased. I am not going to give us power to initiate, and if it were possible for nine men here to vote in favor of giving the policemen an increase it would not mean that they were not fair to the city employees, represented all of the people, instead of trying to represent parts of the people, we might get somewhere. I think that in order might be amended. Of course, I know that the member will not allow his order to be amended, but I think an amendment might be made to the effect that the Mayor and heads of departments forego any right to vote for the next year, and that instead of improvements being made the wages of the men and women who work for the city shall be placed on a level with those of the men and women outside of municipal life. Let us stop all improvements for one year in order to see that the policemen are entitled to an increase so are the firemen, entitled to an increase. I think it is more hazardous to ride to one fire than it is to stand at a corner and direct traffic on the next day. Of course, I may be wrong, but if I had my choice I would stand directing traffic. However, we all vote sometimes for things because we take it certainly for granted and the other fellow does not see it the same way that the man who votes for the order needs it. But if we are going to single out groups we are not fair to the city employees. If the policemen do not get an increase this year to $6 a day, or if they do not get it next year, 1924, or if they do not be elected or defeated at the next election, and if elected he may do the same thing that he did with the laborers. He has received $5 a day for the laborers in 1918, and in 1923 he advocated $4.50 a day for the laborers. So if he is elected, and if the policemen do not get the increase, he may introduce an order next year that they get $5.50 a day instead of $6. This is the sincerity of the man—advocating $5 a day for laborers in 1918, and then, under an order which he claims to have written himself, in 1923 advocating $4.50 a day for the laborers. Those are matters of record, as the order that he says he has written himself is not a matter of record. He has consulted with anybody about that, he did not show to anybody, order that represented his own thought, orders that he wrote himself, he himself wrote them for him. So we may find the same change of mind in regard to this matter. The gentleman did not raise his hand in the interest of the laborers to strike. Apparently he is converted to their side now, but he may have a change of heart another year and may go backwards. As we are in mind in this case, in comparison of the stand that he took for the laborers, in favor of giving them $5 a day in 1918, and in favor of giving them but $4.50 a day in 1923. It took him then from 1918 to 1923 to change his mind, backwards. He has said that he believes in progress, but he didn't say whether he believed in progress forward or backward. In so far as the laborer was concerned, he believes in backward progress. Now, before election, he believes in forward progress for the policeman. So he is just the same as always thought he was. He walks in circles and meets himself coming back. There is not a bit of sincerity in any of the orders he introduced here. I am sure that I have courage enough to take a stand on this matter. I am willing to vote, as I voted on an order that concerned the laborers, and in the past year the same man voted in the matter of taking $200,000 from the appropriation for the Fire Department, when the gentleman let every other department up and down by without a backward step of one cent. The downtown section had been motorized. Every downtown fire house had motor apparatus, and he desired that the residential section should be motorized, advocating the taking of $200,000 out of the appropriation for the year 1923. If that amount had been taken from the budget, the residential section, that today has been motorized to the extent of practically 100 per cent, would not have been motorized. Motorization would not have been completed if he had followed the motion of the councillor who has introduced this order. He would have us believe that he introduces such orders in a spirit of sincerity, when he is taking things away from the people. Of course, the Chamber of Commerce and, of course, the Good Government Association did not think the order was right. The two gentlemen who for the policemen—he did not believe in it; the two-platoon system for the firemen—he did not believe in it. But he didn't vote either way. He said "no." He said "yes" in the phrase in legislative bodies. He didn't vote at all. I am sorry for the policemen, I am sorry for the men who are wearing the uniform, that they have not a successful champion to bring about what they need so much. But I feel that we will fight so much here, that instead of the Mayor getting the blame for the policemen not getting their increase, it will come back on the members of the Council, with the fellow who introduced the order getting his share of the blame. The Police Department is not getting it, we will get some advertising. He said at the hearing at the State House that he didn't think much of the taste of those who voted for me. I have a number of friends in the Police Department, and I have the same right to tell those men about the taste of my mouth as to vote for an insincere champion of their increase in wages. But we are sincere we could go into executive session here and get an agreement among the members of the Council, that the Mayor did not go through there wouldn't be anything else go through, and more men and women in the employ of the city would receive benefit.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I think each and every member of the Council appreciates the purpose and intent on both sides of the order, and I desire to place myself on record in the matter. I do so with the idea of construction, and in what I am saying now I am repeating substantially what I said in executive session at last meeting. Having been aware of the desires, and just desires, of the members of the Police Department and of the two veteran organizations connected with the Police Department, some three weeks ago I conversed with the Police Commissioner on the subject of securing a raise in wages for the policemen for the next year. I had a talk over with him at some length, arriving at no satisfactory conclusion. The matter has been brought to such a pass in the city, because of what has been said in the columns of the comments by the newspapers, that I believe, in justice to each and every member of the Council, in justice to the men in the Police Department, I should confer with the Police Commissioner and hear what he has to say as to the possibility of securing a raise in wages for the men. At least we should get his views for the benefit of the members of this body and for the benefit of the public at large. I am not at all aware of only one side of the controversy, and I think it proper that the Police Commissioner should give the public his idea and should state his position, as to whether he is for or against the proposed raise for the policemen. I stated to the members in executive session some time ago, the same thing that I am now stating. The situation lies with the Police Commissioner, and I think we should know his stand about his position, as to whether he favors giving the increase to the men or not is not a matter of public knowledge; whether he is for or against the raise is not a matter of public knowledge. It should be a matter of public knowledge, and I think we should take some means of conferring with him in some manner. Possibly he knows what the story is, but the public does not know. Possibly he has stated the situation to some of the veteran organizations in the Police Department, but the people do not know what the story is, and we all know that men in such a department must proceed with due caution and deliberation, in order to save their own faces. We are lacking a big reason here. Whether it is a fact that it not only made a vice president, but made a president of the United States, and possibly a member of the cabinet, mayors around here if we are not careful to my mind, no one has approached the matter rightly here yet. I think that we should approach the Police Commissioner in the idea of getting his views on the proposition. Of course, I am in favor of the raise. As I have said, three weeks ago I tackled the situation that the Police Commissioner told Roxbury said should be tackled, and that is what I meant. The importance of the matter demands that we should get in touch with the Police Commissioner, and confer with the Mayor and give the public the entire story, and then, having proceeded coolly and calmly on that matter in this body, having the commissioner in accord for the benefit of the public, we can then proceed to take whatever action we may wish to take. Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I am sure very big wish must be made. I am apprehension that seems to exist or some confusion that seems to exist in the mind of the gentleman who introduced this order. He takes considerable exception to the fact that he presented here an order last week and am presenting here another order today. If he said and followed the same thing last week he would have realized that there were objections made by some members of this Council, and the consequence was that the order was laid on the table. I am understanding that there would be a new draft submitted carrying out what was suggested last Monday. Therefore no exception can be taken to the fact that he has introduced it. I have offered today, when the facts are known. I want to make a brief reply to the gentleman, stating that I did vote for the strawman, the straw man, that I introduced that I condemned, that I thought we might have avoided or got along without, simply because I have tried wherever I could do so during the administration of Mayor Curley not to be antagonistic to his administration. I do not want this to be considered in any way in my fight, as an attack on Mayor Curley. I have neither the time nor the inclination to make such an attack. I want it considered simply as something that is a product of the administration of the Police Department, and as a matter of no body. Let me say likewise to the gentleman that when we attend social functions at the Parker House, and guests are present, it will never be my purpose to enter into any argument or controversy with my host. I do not believe in invisible government; I do not believe in the administration of the Parker House where the members of the City Council and the Mayor meet. I feel the place to agitate public affairs is on the floor of the City Council, and I am here now and at all times to reserve my right to discuss public matters here and nowhere else, unless I so see fit. I tried to follow the gentleman's advice (Coun. Moriarty), who gave us a beautiful trip around the world. He touched on pretty nearly every spot, everything, but the Japanese disaster, and I tried to follow that gentleman's order in question—for, I repeat, that is what we are to consider, and not who presented it. But I am a gentleman, following in the line adopted by his predecessor, and I am going in personalities and to make an attack upon me and upon the Good Government Association, a gentleman who agitates his mind, as well as upon the Chamber of Commerce, because I happen to be a member of that body and he is not. It is not a question, gentlemen, of whether I am sincere or insincere, whether this is political or non-political, whether you like Hagan or whether you don't. The question is, do you like the order? Will you vote for it? I did not say that I was going to compel any or every man to vote. I would not say that on the floor of this Council Chamber. I simply said to one man that I wanted him to decide whether he would vote "yes" or "no," and I do not accept the interpretation of my mouth, to which I must give utterance. The gentleman has alluded to former conditions in the Police Department and to present conditions. On that point, I am in hearty accord with him. The old Police Department were underpaid, were not treated right by the citizens of Boston. That is what brought them to that unfortunate state. It was the drastic action they took which was to be criticised. They were led on by public agitators, who led them astray. It was because of what they did that this disaster was brought on them and on the fair name of this city. They were underpaid, they were not properly taken care of; and I simply say, Mr. President, that because former conditions in the old Police Department were not right is no reason why we should continue to keep present conditions in the present Police Department on a wrong basis. The gentleman intimates that he would like to see other city employees awarded an increase. Now let us not camouflage this issue. Let us try to go too fast you soon run out of breath. Let us take one thing at a time and try to cover them all in a reasonable period of time. This throwing a blanket over the whole city forces simply means that we will fall by the wayside and that nobody will get anything. The meritorious basis of the order in question has first been established by the gentleman opposite. He has never said a word for or against it, so far as I was able to gather. He simply lambasted Hagan to the delight of his hearers. I do not know that he knew that sort of thing falls off me like water off a duck's back, perhaps sometimes he would see the wisdom of ceasing his efforts in that direction. He is now to be labor the Good Government Association at every opportunity. Why, if the gentleman would exercise the ordinary common sense of a twelve-year old boy, he would say, "I am glad that my standing on my feet here today in favor of this raise in wages for the men in the Police Department, meaning an increase possible in the future, is based upon by the strong adherents of the Good Government Association as treason. If he only knew it, that Good Government Association he stands high in their estimation than I will. But the gentleman does not stop to reason. He only stops to attack. And then he takes up an ending constructive. Why, some people don't quite grasp the meaning of a three-syllable word. I am sneered at because I did not vote for the two-plateau system for the men in the Police Department. I was always in favor of it. I tried to steer them into that at the time when they were asking for one day off in three. I voted against it. I was in three. It was in wartime, when men did not need more time, when men were willing to give more time to public work. They were not asking for increased wages, but for more time off, and many and many a wife of a fireman came to me and asked me to vote against it, because they would rather have their men on duty, than have them have voted for the two-plateau system had I been here, but unfortunately I was called out of the order, and the gentleman knew that at the time, and yet he sneers at me here now. He says it is not hazardous to do traffic work. I wonder if he knows how many accidents happen to the traffic officers, or cares if he knows. I wonder if he knows—a consultation with the Police Commissioner would assure him of it—that they cannot keep up on a busy corner doing traffic duty for more than three hours? He then has to be relieved for one or two hours' rest. Yet he says he would stand there for a while and not mind. He would never do it the second day and like to tell the tale. To my esteemed colleague opposite, (Coun. Gilbody), in reference to his suggestion regarding the Police Commissioner, let me assure him with every earnest sincerity that I have—although I am told that I have none—that I know and he knows that the Police Commissioner of Boston is a humane man who wants to do the right, just and proper by the men in his department, and he has publicly so stated in the press within a few days. If he does not take the initiative in this particular matter there may be a reason why he does not, and Police Department of Boston ought to be left in the hands of any one man, no matter may be Police Commissioner, or of two men. It is a matter to be decided by public opinion, and when public opinion is aroused it decides these matters; for, after all it said and done, the Mayor is the head of the members of this body and the Police Commissioner are paid public servants, and if it is the wish and will of the people—and I have not the shadow of doubt of the opinion of the vast majority of the people of Boston in this matter—that the policemen shall not be paid by the Mayor, and the Police Commissioner will favor it. The great majority of the people of Boston don't want to see a man performing an important public duty in this city, the enlightenment, the safety of the city, performed by our police officers, for $3.83 a day. Personally I don't care what it costs, I don't care where the taxes go, the City of Boston must do its duty. I am not a servant. I care not what the effect may be on me politically or otherwise, with the Good Government Association or with the citizens at large. If they desire to retire me to private life, that is their right, and if it is their will I bow to it. It might be the best thing that could happen to me.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, will the gentleman yield for a moment? Would you be willing to postpone action on the order until we send for the Police Commissioner?

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I cannot agree to anything of that sort. This order passed today, if you will do it, by a "yes" or "no" vote that expresses the minds of the members of this body. Am I going to stand for a vote on the order, if I am conscience so dictates, vote against it; if you think it is right, vote for it; or duck the matter. But since I do not wish to do today, I want the Boston City Council to crystallize the public opinion on this matter. I don't care what the Police Commissioner has to say, whether he is in favor of it or not. I am in favor of it, and I hope you will each register your opinions upon it.

Coun. BRICKLEY—Mr. President, I move that the motion be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. Gilbody's motion was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I wish to offer an amendment or a substitute, so that action can be taken upon this matter by the Executive Committee. I would offer this substitute:

Ordered, That the Executive Committee be and hereby is instructed to wait upon the Mayor and the Police Commissioner and urge them to provide a salary for the Police Commissioner for 1924 and 1925 to grant an increase of salary to the employees of the Police Department.

The order offered by Coun. Watson was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, while I am on my feet I desire to express myself concerning the few references by the councilor on my left (Coun. Hagan) during his last remarks. I have no desire to reply to his attacks on me personally. He said that practically all my first personal remarks were against him and he criticised me for it and, of course, all his remarks in his second speech were as personal as mine were, if mine were personal. I do want to correct him where he says that he is opposed to invisible government. That may be true now, but it was not true in past years, when the Good Government Association, of which I am a member or a creature, held their meetings each Monday in the Parker House prior to the meeting of the Council and came in here with a set program for the day and they shod over the little, helpless minority of three here at times. When he is in the majority he is in the invisible government, but when he is licked he believes in the open. There was another statement he made that I don't believe he meant to make. He said that the men of firemen went to him and begged him to vote against the day off in three, as they preferred to have their husbands working rather than not working. I don't believe he quite meant that because I know a great many firemen's wives, sisters and mothers, and I don't believe they are so ridiculous as to prefer to have their husbands at home rather than to have them occasionally at the fire with them, and the children. Of course, he may be stupid and usual, and say that he meant it, but if he meant it, it is only in the wide 95 per cent of other ridiculous statements that he makes. Now I claim to have been a very important cog in the wheel that secured for the policemen a $1000 a year, rather than $100, and we did not do it by the blowing of horns through the public press or by rubbing the proposition, to use the vernacular of the gentleman, in the face of the gentleman, in my opinion, should have done in connection with this order. My suggestion here indicates the way in which I believe it should be done, and the case, the procedure being similar to the one followed in that case. My order provides for a visit to the Police Commissioner and the Mayor, and perhaps a little change, a little elimination, a little weighing of one thing against another, the disease may be cured and the policeman may get what he wishes. I certainly believe that the case of the policeman is a deserving one. I don't think I need say anything more. If I say more, I am sure that the order will be accomplished, because I don't think there has been anything said here today that has enhanced the necessity of the policeman. The order that I propose is far better than a letter, however. I know that when people come to me for help, when they want a job or a favor, and a letter is suggested, they don't want to do something personally. Letters don't mean anything; orders don't mean anything. You wouldn't sell any shoes, Henry, by writing letters. You have got to get people into your store and get the personal element into play. Of course, they don't always get the best of it when they get in there, but, at the same time, the personal element enters into it. Now let us get at this thing in the proper way. Let us help the policeman. I think there is a possibility of doing something if we get the head of our council, and you and I, each one of us to help, go along, and wait upon the Mayor and upon the Police Commissioner, pleading with them to do something. I think that is so important in these matters. I think then there will be a possibility of getting some increase for the policeman. Certainly there will be a possibility of doing something, it is through simply splitting hairs. You may get by personal contact what you wish, or it may be a fifty-fifty arrangement. But there is no objection to that. I don't doubt that you will get the glory, because you are the one who has introduced the order. I am not running this year, and I cannot get the credit from it. The order can be passed, and then the nine of us can call on the Mayor, and we can call on the Police Commissioner. Perhaps we will get some results, so that the policeman will get the increase.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I simply wish to say that I refuse to accept the order as it stands as an amendment. I have no objection to the gentleman presenting anything he wishes in his own way, but I don't want anything hostile or confusing tacked on to the order. I will vote for the order, and I will vote for 1924 and 1925 to grant an increase of salary to the employees of the Police Department. I cannot agree to an amendment involving a visit to the Mayor or to the Police Commissioner. I am entitled to a vote on the order I have presented. I do not wish to have anything adopted as an amendment that is hostile or intended to change the order, and I will refuse to accept it in the form of an amendment.

President LANE—The Chair understands that Coun. Watson offers the order only as a suggestion, and that he has no objection to it that has been referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. WATSON—I desired to have it referred to the Executive Committee for consideration.

President LANE—That is the way the Chair understood it, and Coun. Watson's order has been referred to the Executive Committee. The question now comes on Coun. Watson's motion that the order offered by Coun. Hagan be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I desire to amend the order, with the purpose of bringing the Police Commissioner here this afternoon. As I stated, that I am not on my feet, I talked with the Police Commissioner about the possibility of a raise that would be a possibility of a day off in six, and he told me that if he got more money he would have to put it into the hire of new policemen. He said that the city in hiring more policemen and more policemen should not consider the day off in six or a day off in six at the present time. I think if we refer the order to the committee for consideration, we should send for the Police Commissioner and we should send for the whole thing out in public hearing. I offer an amendment to that effect.

President LANE—The question is on Coun. Watson's motion to refer Coun. Hagan's order to the Executive Committee. Is there any objection?

Coun. HAGAN—I object, Mr. President.

Coun. GILBODY—Mr. President, I offered an amendment.

President LANE—That comes later. Coun. GILBODY—An amendment along the line of Coun. Watson's order.

President LANE—That will be considered in executive session.

Coun. Hagan's order was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

JOHN J. CONNOLLY PLAYGROUND, AT MARCELLA STREET, ROXBURY—IMPROVEMENT STANDS AS MONUMENT TO PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.

CONCRETE BLEACHERS SEATING 3,500 SPECTATORS PROVIDES ONE OF BEST RECREATION SPOTS IN ALL STATE—GRADING, LOAMING AND CONSTRUCTION COST APPROXIMATELY $40,000.

CONCRETE BLEACHERS ERECTED BY CITY AT MARCELLA STREET PLAYGROUND MAKES FAME FOR CITY BY ITS COMPLETENESS.

Among the great accomplishments of the present administration for which the city will be more and more proud as the years pass is the improvement recently made at the John J. Connolly Playground, Marcella street, Roxbury. This improvement consisted of the grading and loaming of the grounds and the construction of concrete bleachers to seat 3,500 persons. The improvements have cost the city approximately $40,000.

The public and lovers of sports are using the city playgrounds and parks more today than ever before. From five to 15,000 persons have been known to attend single games on several occasions to watch amateur and semi-professional ball games, or football matches. These advantages for the ordinary citizens are fast making Boston the most famous city in the country. Attendance at these games are increasing since the city has entered upon a program of constructing bleachers and improving the playgrounds.

The main feature of the John J. Connolly Playground bleachers is that it is built on the plan of a horseshoe which should make it ideal for lovers of good baseball and football contests.

This stand is 380 feet long, with ten rows of seats. The concrete steps of the bleachers are 2 feet 2 inches wide, with a riser of 8 inches. Galvanized brackets are set in the concrete, 3 feet 6 inches on centers, for 2 by 12 plank seats which are bolted to the brackets. A concrete walk was constructed in front of the bleachers the entire length of same.

At the top of the stand and at the rear of the upper row of seats is a passageway, 4 feet in width, the entire length of the stand. In the rear of this passageway is the rear wall of the stand, the top of which is 3 feet 6 inches above the level of the passageway.

The face of the rear wall exposed to view is panelled, two panels to every 10 feet of bleachers. The surface of the concrete in all the panels has a rough pointed finish. All other concrete surfaces are finished smooth.

There has been provision made for storage space under the stand, three entrances having been provided, two in the rear and one on one end. Nine windows with metal sash have been installed to provide light for this storage space.

A water system has been installed and hose connections are located in the upper passageway, 75 feet apart. This allows the custodian to thoroughly clean the bleachers in a short time by flushing with a hose.

The cost of these improvements were as follows: Grading and loaming ball field, $6,000; concrete bleachers to seat 3,500, $33,540; total, $39,540.

MAYOR DECIDES TO RECEIVE NOTED POLISH GENERAL HALLER AT CITY HALL.

MAKES DECISION AFTER HEARING BY OPPOSING PROTESTANTS HELD IN HIS OFFICE — RULES IT DUTY OF CITY TO EXTEND COURTESY SHOULD WARRIOR VISIT BOSTON.

The position of Mayor James M. Curley with reference to the proposed visit to the city by General Haller was set forth at the hearing held at the office of the Mayor November 8, in a manner which no one could misunderstand.

"General Haller," said his Honor, "is in the United States as Commander in Chief of the Army of the Republic of Poland, upon invitation of the American Legion, representing veterans of our American armies who served in the World War. General Haller has been received as the honored guest of the United States by President Calvin Coolidge and arrangements have been made by Governor Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts to entertain him upon the occasion of his visit to Massachusetts.

"In the event that General Haller visits Massachusetts he will continue to be the guest of the American Legion and incidentally the guest of the Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Should General Haller deem it advisable to include the City of Boston in his itinerary I consider it my duty as the Mayor of an American municipality interested in all I believe best for America, and in conformity to the established custom, to extend proper courtesy and receive him at the City Hall."

The meeting held at the office of the Mayor was a courtesy extended to representatives of organizations, who professed to speak with authority and who desired an opportunity to voice a protest against the military activities of General Haller subsequent to the establishment of the Polish Republic. Protests filed by the Ukrainians were heard and considered; protests made by the representative of the Lithuanians it was agreed should be considered when received; the protest submitted in the name of the "Zionist Organization of America," it was found upon investigation, while made upon the official stationery of that organization, was not authorized and was repudiated by the chairman of the "Zionist Organization" of the New England region. The protest filed by a Jewish newspaper was not considered for the reason that the owner of the publication is not a resident of Boston and any protest that he desired to make should be filed with either the Commander of the American Legion, General Clarence R. Edwards, or with his Excellency the Governor, Channing H. Cox.

From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

"In my opinion," said his Honor, "the transplantation of prejudices and hatreds of foreign lands with their age-old antagonisms works injury to the representatives of those people living in the United States of America and who thinking along lines that are un-American are inevitably injurious, if not destructive, of the development of the most necessary essential today, National American Spirit.

"American solidarity is only possible through development of American ideals through American thought.

"Freedom from persecution and discrimination are the heritage of Americans and these privileges are extended to all who live here in America, under the influence of American law and ideals.

"This guarantee can best be preserved by recognizing that the privileges enjoyed in America are only possible of perpetuation through recognition of the obligation that each and all should hold in common to the institutions under which we live, and that imposes upon all the duty of developing an American viewpoint rather than a European or Asiatic viewpoint upon questions involving the peace and harmony that should obtain among Americans in America."

WASHINGTON ELM TO BE PRESERVED IN OFFSHOOT.

The following was a letter sent by Mayor Curley to Mayor Edward W. Quinn of Cambridge:

I have this day been notified by the chairman of the Boston Park Commission, Mr. James B. Shea, that an elm tree now growing at Charlestown Heights and planted there in the year 1905 is a scion of the original Washington Elm of Cambridge. This tree was grown in the nurseries of the Arnold Arboretum and presented to the City of Boston Park Department by the late Jackson Dawson, at one time superintendent of the Arnold Arboretum.

The Washington Elm has been a Cambridge landmark during the entire life of the American Republic, and that the traditional sentiment associated with this tree may not end with the death of the original Washington Elm, I desire to present on behalf of the City of Boston through you to the City of Cambridge the original cutting, now developed into a sturdy tree.

ADVISES LETTER WRITER TO ESCHEW KU KLUX KLAN AND ITS ACTIVITIES.

MAYOR CURLEY CLOSES CONTROVERSY WITH CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION MEMBER WITH CRIPTIC ADVICE.

On November 2 Mayor Curley sent the following letter to Mr. John S. Codman:

MR. JOHN S. CODMAN:

DEAR SIR,—Your letter of October 30, in which you return to your pathetic assertion that the Mayor of Boston is afflicted with hysteria, is before me.

I am reluctantly compelled to believe that your intermittent association with the Ku Klux Klan and its obstreperous allies, who meet furtively in obscure halls and whose mercenary leaders thrive on the gate money, has rendered you temporarily unable to grasp the meaning of words and differentiate advice from neurosis, logic from language, reason from rhetoric, or freedom from fanaticism.

For the illumination of a "Village Hampden" temporarily struggling and spouting in the shadows of religious dementia I reproduce Webster's definition of Hysteria:

"A nervous affection occurring chiefly in women, in which the emotional and reflex excitability is exaggerated and the will power correspondingly diminished, so that the patient loses control over the emotions, becomes the victim of imaginary sensations and often falls into paroxysms or fits. The chief symptoms are convulsions, tossing movements of the limbs and head, uncontrollable crying and laughing, and a choking sensation as if a ball were lodged in the throat, vasa-motor derangements, motor paralysis, anaesthesia, hyperaesthesia or other sensory disturbances. The affection presents the most varied symptoms, often stimulating the gravest disease."

MAYOR LEAVES KU KLUX FATE TO INTELLIGENT CITIZENS.

Mayor Curley issued the following statement on November 2:

The Ku Klux Klan, according to the press, has come to Boston and come in characteristic furtive fashion, stealthily like a thief in the night, obtaining house room under false names and false pretences. From the safe vantage of New Hampshire and Maine the king klegale, Farnsworth, the ex-mesmerist, pedler of fake stocks, looter of guileless women, ex-barber and ex-bass-drum thumper, is now selling gold bricks to rural innocents and hurling his defiance. As Artemus Ward said of the kangaroo, he is "an amosin' little cuss."

Apparently he has gone back to the ethics of his alma mater, the New Brunswick barber shop, for he is stigmatizing the Mayor as a shyster, vilifying the Irish of New England as Shanty Micks, the Canadian French as Canucks, the Italians as Dagos, the Jews as She-nees, the colored people as niggers and the rest of the emigrant population by equally choice epithets.

Whatever success in collecting graft this noisy little chap has had in the hills and backwoods of Maine, I have an idea that the Protestant American pop-

The impatience which your illogical utterance and attitude aroused has upon reflection been supplanted by a concern bordering on pity; and I am beginning to understand how a passionate defender of free speech addressing an audience of rattle-pated bigots and disturbers of the peace might become infected with their mania and out of his reactions be led to impute the outgivings of his shallow-pated auditors to one who was seeking to correct his strained interpretations of law and his twisted conceptions of liberty and license.

It pains me to believe that the exhalations from that choice collection of defenders of faith and freedom you so feelingly instructed in the heresies of the American Civil Liberties Union should have entered into your mind and soul and led you to stigmatize my courteous attention as a phase of their dementia; yet I sincerely trust the infection is merely a temporary evil. Perhaps a little study of Doctor Webster's definition of hysteria may alleviate your case; and I am of the opinion that a little rest, a few weeks' abstention from "Free Speech," a light diet and possibly a change of scene may restore you to as large a share of normalcy as a man of your habit of thought, speech and action can hope to secure.

So with the caution so charmingly given by the distinguished Indiana poet, "The gob-a-lins will get you if you don't watch out," and imploring you to eschew the Ku Klux Klan and its vociferous allies, I am

Yours very truly,

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

ulation of Massachusetts, with its pride in such leaders as Webster and Hoar, Channing and Phillips Brooks, Garrison and Wendell Phillips, is not likely to seek its leaders today among the graduates of Canadian barber shops, the workers in swindling broker shops, the itinerant mesmerists of medicine shows, nor among the fake-stock peddlers of the underworld. It is really pathetic to find this type of blatherskite and humbug able to find dupes even among the ignorant classes of rural New England; but he and his fellow mercenaries will not go far in an intelligent state like Massachusetts.

Intelligent Americans are not likely to follow such vulgar little chaps as he; the emigrant population which he insults and befools fortunately for him only knows him as a loud voice and he will find it difficult and hazardous in Boston to peddle his hoods and night shirts even among the undesirable leftovers his peculiar propaganda appeals to.

As long as the valiant barber confines himself to bad language, foul epithets and long-ranged abuse of foreigners, Catholics, Jews and colored people, no great harm will be done. He and his belong to the Ancient Order of Rabbits, whose motto is "Safety First."

MAYOR SENDS MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE TO MRS. McCALL.

Mayor Curley sent the following telegram on November 5:

MRS. SAMUEL W. McCALL, 15 Hillside Avenue, Winchester, Mass.:

DEAR MRS. McCALL,—I sincerely mourn with you in the passing of one of our country's most eminent citizens, whose loyalty to his friends was unceasing and whose service for every good and righteous cause leaves a blessed and most inspiring memory. May God in His infinite mercy attend you during these sad hours.

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

JEWISH CITIZENS PROTEST TO MAYOR AGAINST GENERAL HALLER'S COMING TO BOSTON.

Mayor Curley received the following protest on November 3, from the Zionist Organization of America against the proposed visit of General Haller to Boston:

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—My attention has been called to the fact that General Haller, who has been invited by the American Legion to attend its convention in San Francisco, is also to visit our Boston community and that a public reception is planned in his honor.

As the former executive director of the Conference of Jewish Organizations of New England, that was the most representative body composed of the leading Jews of New England States, which protested against the atrocities perpetrated upon Jews in Poland in 1919, I cannot conceive that this city, where the Cradle of Liberty was first rocked should now receive the very man who did not even protest when his soldiers unmercifully killed innocent Jewish men and women in Poland.

I do not feel that it will be necessary to revive our old organization to protest General Haller receiving public recognition, but I do believe that as Americans there is no justification for us to acclaim publicly the man who was directly responsible for the horrors that were described in the "Jewish Black Book" (published by the American Jewish Committee).

The editorial in the Boston Daily Globe that appeared May 28, 1919, already voiced the sentiments of the American people against those brutal men who failed to stop horrors unparalleled in human history. Our own Governor Channing Cox, Prof. Charles W. Eliot and ex-Governor Samuel W. McCull spoke for America at the largest mass meeting ever held of Jews in Mechanics Building.

The Jewish people fought to make this country safe for democracy and the world at the same time, but it is fair for us as Americans to give honor to General Haller, the very man who helped to destroy democracy in Poland? We cannot prevent his coming to our city, but I should urge you, dear Mr. Mayor, that in the name of the people of Boston we should not receive General Haller.

Most respectfully yours,

MEUEL N. FISHER.

LOANS FOR HOMES AND HEALTH CLINICS URGED BY CONSERVATION BUREAU:

The following report is of the Boston Conservation Bureau:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR MR. MAYOR, I submit herewith a report of the activities of the Conservation Bureau for the past year, with recommendations based on our experience, as the work which, in my opinion, should be carried on in the future.

After the Bureau was organized it took over the activities which had been carried on for a number of years under the auspices of the City of Boston by the Citizens' Committee on Conservation. This work included the giving of public exhibitions in the parks during the summer months and in halls and schools during the winter months. Most of the moving picture films were chosen for their educational value in the development of good citizenship and the programs also included patriotic songs and slides with such quotations as would tend to instill patriotism and develop good citizens.

An appropriation of $17,000 was made for this work and the Bureau appointed Mr. E. B. Mero who had been carrying on the work for eleven or twelve years under other administrations, as director. His appointment expired on September 30 and he was not reappointed nor has anyone been appointed to take his place. Since October 1 these programs have been carried on twice weekly under the direction of a subcommittee consisting of Mr. Morgan, Mrs. White and Mrs. Maloney. If this work is to be continued with the same activity an appropriation of at least $17,000 will be necessary for the ensuing year.

Early in the year your Honor, the writer and the chairman of the Public Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway had several conferences with a view to working out a plan which would develop a universal five-cent fare on all surface lines coming into the city. After a number of conferences with the chairman of the Trustees and the general manager of the Boston Elevated Railway a plan was developed by which a return coupon good for a single ride on the surface cars was arranged on several of the routes leading to Massachusetts avenue for 10 cents, and the trustees promised to extend this privilege in the immediate future to other routes. So far this has not been done but I am again carrying on negotiations for the extension of this privilege. There seems to be no good reason why these coupons should not be made more nearly of the value of five cents by making them good for a ride in either direction within the time limit stamped on said coupon.

The necessity for relieving the shortage of housing is a pressing one for the citizen of moderate means as well as those of the poorer class. The Bureau, with the assistance of a committee of experts consisting of two real estate men, two architects, a building contractor, engineer and a banker prepared plans for blocks of brick buildings, each building containing two suites of six rooms and bath.

These buildings were designed for economical construction, the necessities of life rather than the luxuries being considered and all parts where possible were standardized so as to save money on the cost. Without disclosing that the city was in any way interested, an option on a tract of land in a suburb of Boston, was secured at a cost which would have enabled the committee to sell lots of 3,000 feet for less than $150. It was estimated that the houses could be erected for a cost of about $6,000 with two small garages in the rear and it was proposed that these houses should be sold to citizens of Boston of good character and of not less than five years' residence as a voter, the preference being given to families with five children or more. It was planned to demand payment of about $1,000 from each purchaser and to interest the large financial institutions in giving mortgages of the other 80 per cent of the cost, these mortgages being reduced by annual payments.

Unfortunately there were no funds available to carry out this plan, and I would therefore recommend that the city ask the Legislature for authority to borrow $1,000,000 annually outside the debt limit for the special purpose of assisting citizens along the above lines to own their own homes. In million dollars yearly would finance the erection of about two hundred homes and each appropriation should be paid back in full within five years, as a payment of 5 per cent annually in addition to the annual interest payment would bring the mortgage down to a point where they would be available for savings banks and other investors.

The great need for cheap money which now costs speculating builders from 15 to 25 per cent and intelligent planning by men of experience in finance and construction.

The city could make its loan at 5 per cent and make a profit sufficient to pay all expense of operation. I believe the work should be supervised by an unpaid committee.

The Bureau was charged nothing for the expense of the above-mentioned investigation or plans.

There is a great need in the City of Boston as well as in other large cities for a diagnostic clinic under the direction of the best available specialists, this clinic to be open every evening or at least three evenings a week so that a respectable business people of moderate means engaged during the daytime may have a consultation without losing their time during the day or without pauperizing themselves by going to the free hospital clinics.

Your Honor called a meeting in the Mayor's chamber and invited all of the hospital trustees and principal staff members to attend. I presented a plan in detail, having worked it out with the assistance of Drs. E. H. Bradford, Henry A. Christian and John M. Cunningham. The meeting discussed the subject thoroughly and there was practically no opposition, although the method of operation was not made quite clear to the understanding of all those present. Since that time the Massachusetts General Hospital, under the leadership of Doctor Washburn, who was present at that meeting, has developed its day clinics and is building a large addition to its wards for the purpose of accommodating this class of patients.

The City of Boston should take the lead in establishing such clinic and I believe that assistance can be obtained from outside sources to cover at least part of the expenses. Quarters could be obtained at small cost in some existing building which should be situated in the heart of the city. The equipment would not cost more than $10,000 to $12,000 and a maximum total of $50,000 would be all the money required to underwrite the institution. Probably the annual cost would be very small as fees ranging from $3 to $10 should be charged, these fees being based on the income of the patient. As far as possible consultation should be confined to diagnosis so as to avoid infringing on the rights of general practitioners but it must be emphasized that the first step in the cure of disease is always accurate diagnosis. Three complete teams of specialists should be appointed and to begin with one night a week for each team would be sufficient. A secretary who should be a physician should be the only salaried officer except such nurses and attendants as might be necessary. Twenty-five per cent of all fees could be deducted to pay these expenses as well as other overhead, the remainder to be divided in certain proportions amongst the members of the visiting staff.

An appropriation of $13,000 was made for the purpose of carrying on special research investigations in preventive medicine and the following committee agreed to give their services for this work: Drs. W. T. Bowie, E. H. Bradford, John H. Cunningham, M. Douglas Flattery, David J. Johnson, Richard P. Strong, John C. Torrey and Hans Zimmsner. This committee held its first meeting at the Harvard Club early in April and appointed Dr. Roger C. Graves as executive secretary, he being eminently fitted for this position by reason of his experience as a laboratory worker and clinician.

It appearing that a certain disease had mystified and baffled medical science for hundreds of years and that the discovery some years ago of the bacteria which caused the disease had done little, particularly in the case of females, to help in the solution of the problem, it was decided to concentrate on the study of the cause of this disease in females and afterward upon its cure. Two laboratory workers of long experience, one of whom had spent nearly twelve years in the study of this germ as a bacteriologist and the other nearly eight years as a serologist under the direction of the State Department of Health of New York, were recommended to the committee, and it was decided to employ these scientists, and owing to the opportunity of doing such important work they resigned their positions in New York and took up the work at Long Island Hospital under the direction of the committee. I am pleased to be able to report that very important discoveries have been made which I believe will be of incalculable value to humanity. Twenty-eight female children aged from about two to twelve have been under close observation for over four months. They were all suffering from the disease in question but up to this time no cause could be found for the disease nor was any treatment found in the least effective, although all of the known methods had been tried from time to time by the various successive members of the staff.

The committee is now able to state that in all but one of these cases the specific germ has been discovered and the seat of the infection located. A large amount of additional work must be done to check up these discoveries by culture and in other ways and then the next step which is already being planned is to try and discover a cure which will be so safe and simple that it can be easily carried out by any physician in general practice.

Owing to the great assistance given by the various members of the committee not only by personal work but by the assigning of their own assistants to do part of the work without compensation, and also by the gifts of materials, the work has been carried on with great economy and a larger amount of the appropriation will remain in our hands at the end of the financial year. However, at the last meeting of the committee it was voted to appoint an additional bacteriologist and an epidemiologist as well as a bio-chemist for the purpose of extending the work, so that for next year the committee ought to have $25,000 appropriated for this work.

Only scientists of special experience will be employed as in this way months or even years of experimentation will be saved.

A clinic has been established at Long Island Hospital for the purpose of studying and treating high blood pressure and metabolism. This work is carried on by the Long Island staff and it is hoped to give relief to a large number of people, some of whom are young enough to become useful if cured of this disease. At present there is no known cure for arterio sclerosis. The methods of treatment are along new lines, and the studies being carried on will, it is hoped, be of great service to the medical profession as well as to the human race.

These investigations have, of course, a direct bearing on the necessity for co-operation with the Department of Public Health and the School Department. The fact that twenty-eight children in one section of the community can be affected with a terrible disease which is believed by the public to be found only amongst immoral characters, proves that this disease can be acquired innocently from mothers, sisters or playmates, and therefore special precautions should be taken in primary schools to examine all suspicious cases and to segregate them.

Female physicians should be appointed for this purpose, or nurses specially trained.

Our increased knowledge of the actions and functions of the endocrine glands also points to the necessity of the study by experts of all children who are subnormal, either mentally or physically. A slight derangement of one or more of these glands will cause dwarfism, idiocy, epileptic fits or merely stupidity; and careful scientific treatment may improve or cure these defects; but it is not only the extreme cases that need treatment but the slight cases where a child appears merely slow or stupid.

Many children who will otherwise become criminal or worthless may develop into useful citizens by a little care and intelligent direction during childhood.

Respectfully submitted

M. DOUGLAS FLATTERY,
Chairman.

TO OMIT WORK UNDER CONTRACT.

Highland Contracting Company have been directed to omit the following work under contract for laying artificial stone sidewalks in Holton street, Sachem street, Hayden street, etc. Items ordered: Omit the furnishing and laying of artificial stone sidewalks in Sachem street, from Calumet street to Hillside street. Estimated cost omitted work, $1,760.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The C. & R. Construction Company have been granted an extension of time for the completion of the contract for completing the work at the quarters of Engine Company 7, East street, for a period of seventeen days from June 10, or until June 27, 1923.

The reasons are that the plastering along magnesite floor base was injured by absorbing the chloride in the magnesite flooring and some time had to be allowed for the chemical action to take place before doing the necessary patching of plaster.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

Alco Contracting Company have been granted an extension of time until March 1 for the completion of contract for bath house, Columbus Park.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service).

The Atlantic Works have been granted extension of time for completion of the contract for repairs to hull of ferryboat "Governor Russell," from September 21, 1923, to October 28, 1923, for the reason that considerably more work was required by the Steamboat Inspection Service than was called for in the contract; and this extra work had to be done before the boat could be put into service.

CLAIMS DISAPPROVED.

The Law Department has disapproved fifty-four claims against the city, aggregating in all $10,884.55; and they are classified as follows:

Against the Assessing Department, one, amounting to $100; against the Collecting Department, one, amounting to $39.50; against the Fire Department, four, amounting to $113.56; against the Hospital Department, one, amounting to $81; against the Park and Recreation Department, three, amounting to $750; against the Police Department, two, amounting to $169.50; against the Public Buildings Department, one, amounting to $350; against the Public Works Department, forty-one, amounting to $9,280.99.

MAYOR PRESENTS GOLF TROPHIES.

Mayor James M. Curley, who played host to Boston's newspaper golfers on the municipal links at Franklin Park, presented to the winners in the tournament the medals donated by the Park Department as trophies. The affair took place in his office at City Hall.

There was a tie for the first gross award in Class A, between Eddie Lowrie of the Herald and A. M. Hoxie of the Post. It was expected that the Mayor would settle the tie and he did so by ordering that another gold medal be struck so that the two, each of whom negotiated the course in seventy-nine strokes, should each have a similar trophy. M. J. Rosenau of the Advertiser received the third gross prize in that class, while the net awards went to L. J. Sweeney of the Globe, Lawrence Barry of the Globe and C. R. Davis of the Post.

In Class B the gross prizes were given to J. W. Mooney and Causton Brown, both of the Post, while the net awards went to M. J. Clarke of the Post, Fred C. Green of the Transcript and J. A. Di Pesa of the Italian News. In the novice class the winners were H. E. VanDeventer and R. T. Brady, both of the Post.

The medals are of gold, silver and bronze, bearing the city seal and suitably inscribed. They are in the form of watch fobs. On behalf of the organization President Burton P. Whitman presented Mayor Curley with a golf club which is to be inscribed. The chief executive of the city is an enthusiastic golfer.

CENTENARY COLLEGE FOOTBALL TEAM RECEIVED AT CITY HALL.

Mayor Curley Thursday presented keys to the city to Dr. George S. Sexton, president of Centenary College, Shreveport, La.; Mrs. Sexton; "Bo" McMillin, Centenary football coach; Maj. Frank W. Cavanaugh, coach of Boston College, and "Chuck" Darling, captain and full back of Boston College.

"Bo" McMillin, who in 1921 first came here with Centre at the head of the Kentucky eleven which defeated Harvard 6 to 0, and became the star All-America quarterback, led a party of thirty-two into the Mayor's office and on each was bestowed a copy of "Boston, One Hundred Years a City," the official history of the municipality.

It was the first time that a football team has been so honored, and the first time so many keys have been bestowed at a single occasion, but the Mayor joyfully remarked that they may be needed after the game Saturday.

The case containing the key conferred on McMillin bears the inscription, "Presented to 'Bo' McMillin, with Boston's warmest welcome to him and his sturdy warriors of Centenary College football team of Louisiana by Mayor James M. Curley."

The majority of the Centenary boys are native Louisianians with a few from Texas and Oklahoma. They are big fellows and are called the "Centenary Gentlemen."

ASSESSMENTS ABATED.

The Mayor has approved the following action of the Board of Street Commissioners:

In the matter of the applications for revision of assessments levied on account of the construction of sewerage works the Board of Street Commissioners acting under the provisions of chapter 359 of the Acts of the year 1896, and deeming it just and proper that such action should be taken upon said application.

TRANSIT DEPARTMENT MAKING OVER SUBWAY ENTRANCES FOR EAST BOSTON TUNNEL TRAFFIC.

Mayor Curley on November 3 received the following letter from the Transit Department:

HON. JAMES M. CURLEY,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—During the month of October, 1923, the department has been engaged on the construction of the alterations of the East Boston Tunnel at Maverick square, and on the enlargement of the Devonshire Station of the East Boston Tunnel to adapt that station to the use by train service on the completion of the Maverick square alterations.

The operation by train service of the East Boston Tunnel will also require the raising of the platforms in Bowdoin Square Station. This necessitates changes at the stairways, and work thereon was begun. All operations to date have consisted of excavation and removing reinforced concrete over the stairways which lead to the platform for westbound cars.

The stairway from the westbound Cambridge Subway platform leading to the southbound Tremont Street Subway platform at Park Street Station is to be changed from 5 feet to 10 feet in width. About 6,000 square feet of the Common are to be occupied for work incident to these alterations. This space has been fenced in and a field office for engineers erected. The excavation for alterations in the stairway is about to be started.

Preliminary investigations, surveys and plans are being made in connection with the extension of rapid transit facilities in the Dorchester district of the City of Boston. Many conferences have been held with the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company on matters related to the contract to be executed by that company and the city for the use of the premises.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Chairman.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT.

Upon November 2 the Mayor approved a contract with Joseph Rugo for alterations of the West Roxbury Courthouse. Bids for the work, opened September 29, were as follows:

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Artificial Stone Sidewalk).

Upon November 3 the Mayor approved a contract with Henry F. Malley for artificial stone steps in Northwood street, from Leyden street to Gladstone street, East Boston. Bids for the work, opened October 13, were as follows:

Henry F. Malley, $12,300; M. DeMatteo, $12,875; C. Capone, $13,963; J. A. Singarella, $14,120; C. D. Maynard & Co., $14,700; Alco Construction Co. Inc., $15,164; J. J. McCarthy & Co., $19,580.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Sewer Service).

Upon November 3 the Mayor approved a contract with Casey & Darcy Company for partition wall and stairway in coal house, Calf Pasture pumping station, Dorchester. Bids for the work, opened October 30, were as follows:

Casey & Darcy Company, $3,360; M. Slotnick Company, $4,139; John P. Curley, $4,800; C. D. Maynard & Co., $1,900; F. J. Gallagher & Co., $5,718; W. A. Norton Company, $5,940.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Water Service).

Upon November 6 the Mayor approved a contract with John Guarino & Co., for laying and relaying water pipes in Corinne road, Brighton; Canaan and Colorado streets, Dorchester; Wilnot street, West Roxbury. The lowest bidder, C. D. Maynard & Co., has never done any work for the Water Service, and for that reason it is thought that the city's interests will be best served if the award is made to John Guarino & Co., who has had great experience in this class of work and is well equipped to start operations at once. Bids for the work, opened November 2, were as follows: C. D. Maynard & Co., $3,043.50; J. Guarino & Co., $3,117.25; Vozzella & Caponi, $3,228.75; J. Williams & Co., $3,388.75; John T. Shea, Jr., $3,799.

SCHOOLHOUSE DEPARTMENT.

Upon November 3 the Mayor approved a contract with the C. & R. Construction Company for erecting and completing elementary school in the Bennett District. Bids for the work, opened October 16, were as follows:

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 409.

A trial board consisting of Captains Grant, Goff and Walkins having heard by reference the several complaints against Patrolmen Ralph F. Lockwood and David M. McCarthy of Division 5, charging them each with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of guilty on each complaint, with a recommendation that the said Patrolmen Ralph F. Lockwood and David M. McCarthy be reprimanded in general orders. I am constrained to say that I am not in accord with this recommendation.

This is the second instance within a few months where police officers have been charged with mutual assault upon each other, and in the former instance the officers involved were given substantial punishment duty, the recommendation of the trial board being accepted by me. I wish at this time to draw attention to the fact that the records of the department show that police officers have been dismissed for similar violations of the rules. This should be a warning to those members of the force who would undertake to settle their differences by indulging in mutual combat and should impress upon them that this method will not be countenanced.

It is hereby ordered that the said Patrolmen Ralph F. Lockwood and David M. McCarthy each perform one hundred and forty hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 410.

A trial board consisting of Captains Goff, Walkins and Hickey having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman William J. Boyd perform two hundred and ten hours' punishment duty.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 415.

The following transfers are hereby ordered, to take effect Friday, November 9, 1923, at 7.45 o'clock a. m.

General Order No. 411.

A trial board consisting of Captains Goff, Fitzgerald and Hickey having heard by reference a complaint against Patrolman Harrison A. Dugan of Division 19, charging him with conduct unbecoming an officer, has reported to the commissioner a finding of not guilty. In accordance with which it is hereby ordered that the complaint against the said Patrolman Harrison A. Dugan be dismissed.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

General Order No. 413.

Division No. 21, Traffic Division, is hereby established, to take effect Friday, November 9, 1923, at 7.45 o'clock a. m. Its quarters will be located on the second floor of building situated at 262 St. Botolph street.

Division No. 21, Traffic Division, shall include that area of the city which is south and west of the following boundary lines:

Beginning at a point on the northerly side of the Cambridge Bridge at its intersection with the Cambridge-Boston division line, thence easterly by the northerly line of said bridge and Cambridge street to the northeast corner of Cambridge street, at its intersection with Charles street, thence southerly across Cambridge street and along the easterly side of Charles street to Boylston street and Park square, thence southerly by the easterly side of Park square to Eliot street, thence southeasterly by the northerly side of Broadway to Washington street, thence southerly by the easterly side of Washington street, to the northeast corner of Massachusetts avenue, thence along by the northerly and easterly side of Massachusetts avenue to Edward Everett square, to the south-easterly side of Columbia road, thence southeasterly by the southeasterly side of Columbia road to its intersection with Stoughton street, thence southeasterly by the northerly side of Stoughton street to its intersection with Pleasant street, thence southeasterly by the northerly side of Pleasant street to its intersection with Savin Hill avenue, thence easterly by the northerly and northerly side of Savin Hill avenue across Dorchester avenue and following on the south side of Savin Hill along the northerly side of Savin Hill avenue to a point in Savin Hill avenue opposite the northeast corner of Fox Point road, thence southerly and easterly along the northerly side of Fox Point road to Dorchester bay.

Officers of Divisions 20 and 21 will take charge of traffic within their respective districts from 8.15 o'clock a. m. to six o'clock p. m. on week days, with the exception of holidays. All fixed posts within the area covered by Divisions 20 and 21 which were established by divisions other than traffic, are to be continued until further notice. From six o'clock p. m. to 8.15 o'clock a. m., traffic, within their respective boundaries will be taken care of by the other divisions, and particular attention should be given by division commanders to pedestrian and vehicular traffic during the periods before and after theatre time.

Commanding officers of divisions other than Divisions 20 and 21 will understand that they are not to interfere in any way with the duties to be performed by members of Divisions 20 and 21, except in relation to matters of traffic connected with the fixed posts mentioned above, which were not abolished by the establishment of new traffic boundaries.

Every person arrested by members of Divisions 20 and 21 will be taken to the nearest station house, where the prisoner will be booked and kept until time for court unless released or bailed in the meantime, and at the time of the arrest, said arrest will be red-lined and immediately telephoned to the station house of the Traffic Division to which the officer is attached and placed on the blotter of said station house. The names of all persons arrested or summoned to court will be placed upon the arrest blotter of the Traffic Division in which the offence was committed.

Where the commanding officer of a Traffic Division considers that men are on posts too far distant from the station house of the Traffic Division to report in person at roll call he will direct such patrolmen to report for duty on their posts at eight o'clock a. m. and continue on duty with proper reliefs until six o'clock p. m., and the commanding officer shall detail a sergeant to see that this order is complied with. Traffic officers who are excused from these roll calls must attend the noon roll call at their respective station houses.

All horses now being used by Division 20 for traffic purposes shall remain with Division 20, and these horses shall be kept as at present in the Joy street stable.

Roll call for the Traffic Divisions will be at eight o'clock a. m., and the men reporting in at the traffic stations after six o'clock p. m. will be checked off by the officer in command of the station.

If a traffic officer leaves his post, except when relieved by another traffic officer, he will report immediately by telephone to the Traffic Division station house, stating the reasons for leaving his post. If conditions are such as to make it impracticable to ask permission in advance, a patrolman may leave his post for such time as shall be necessary, but immediately on his return shall report to the officer in charge of the station the cause and the length of his absence.

Officers of the Traffic Divisions in addition to directing and regulating traffic are also expected to see that all laws, ordinances and regulations are obeyed.

Superintendent's order of November 26, 1919, relating to a new traffic unit, is hereby revoked.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

HERBERT A. WILSON,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC EMPLOYMENT OFFICE REPORT.

The figures at the Massachusetts Public Employment Office, 23 and 25 Pearl street, for the month of October, show some improvement over September, but a slight decrease over the figures of October a year ago.

The records show that there were calls for 1,715 persons, an increase of -106, or 7 per cent over September, but a decrease of 138, or 7 per cent, from October last year. The number of positions reported filled this month was 1,379, an increase of 131, or 10 per cent, over September, also an increase of 72, or 6 per cent, over October last year.

During October the attendance of applicants for employment was 20,984, an increase of 1,805, or 9 per cent, over that of September, but was 634, or 3 per cent, less than October a year ago.

The attendance of service men in search of employment took a decided jump, and 1,312 (842 soldiers, 470 sailors) visited the office. This is an increase of 554, or 73 per cent, over the previous month. Of this number, 192 (129 soldiers, 63 sailors) were given introduction cards to employers, an increase of 48, or 33 per cent, over September, and 135 (93 soldiers, 42 sailors) secured employment, an increase of 11, or 9 per cent, over the previous month.

In the men's skilled department the steady demand for plumbers continues with a practically depleted market and the only applicants are those coming into Boston from other cities and states. The calls for painters and paperhangers have been numerous and while enough painters were available we have been unable to secure paperhangers. There has been a fair demand for carpenters which has been filled after some delay. The metal trades' demand, which fluctuated somewhat during the month, developed more activity during the last few days. The general trades have been very quiet with only an occasional call which was quickly filled. The demand for engineers and firemen has been fair with a supply far exceeding the demand.

Able-bodied laborers for rough, heavy work continue in good demand but the supply of suitable applicants is small. There is a good supply of men accustomed to rouabout work with little or no call for their services. Hotel and restaurant work has fallen off considerably, occasioned, no doubt, by the influx of men and women from the mountains and summer resorts.

The demand for boys continues strong with a large supply of applicants who are not willing to accept the wages offered and others who are not acceptable to the employers. There are a number of positions open for boys to learn a trade who must work up from the errand boy stage, but the applicants are not attracted by this proposition.

In the women's skilled department there is a good demand for young girls for factory work with very few applicants. The demand for experienced factory workers is fair and has been quickly filled. Housework girls continue to be scarce, while an improvement has been noted in the demand for day workers and cleaners which was easily met.

The number of people called for by employers was 1,715 as compared with 1,853 in 1922; 1,351 in 1921; 2,383 in 1920; 3,176 in 1919, and 2,386 in 1918.

The number of positions reported filled was 1,379 as compared with 1,307 in 1922; 1,063 in 1921; 1,336 in 1920; 1,657 in 1919; 1,640 in 1918.

PUBLIC LIBRARY EXHIBITION.

By special request the Public Library has for a second time placed on view in the Exhibition Room on the third floor the reproductions in color of Miss Violet Oakley's mural paintings in the Pennsylvania State Capitol.

The series is one of unusual interest. The artist has woven the life of William Penn, the foundation of Pennsylvania ("The Holy Experiment,") the establishment of American liberty and the preservation of the Union into a sublime epic having for its theme the exaltation of the ideals of liberty, justice and union.

Each episode is accompanied by appropriate texts which are treated as motives of decoration and form an integral part of the composition. The paintings thus have not only an ornamental function, but are also didactic, conveying "Pennsylvania's Message to the World."

RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF FORMER GOVERNOR MCCALL.

Mayor Curley sent the following message to the City Council on November 5:

JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

Whereas, While our hearts are bowed in sorrow, we rejoice that we have been permitted to benefit for many years through association with an American citizen and public official whose idealism was an inspiration in life and will prove a blessed memory in death;

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston publicly expresses its sincere and profound sorrow at the death of former Governor Hon. Samuel W. McCall; and

Be it further resolved, That the sympathy of the City Council be extended to the family of former Governor Hon. Samuel W. McCall; and

VETO—OLIVE P. GATELY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, October 23, 1923.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I return herewith, without my approval, the order passed by your honorable body under date of October 8, 1923, providing for the acceptance of chapter 414 of the Acts of 1921, authorizing the payment of a sum of money to Olive P. Gately.
The Corporation Counsel, at my request, has instituted a most careful examination into the merits of this claim and, in view of the report which he has presented, in justice to the public whose interests we are elected to safeguard, greatly as I might desire to aid the petitioner, there is no way to justify any other course than to veto this order.
Respectfully,
JAMES M. CURLEY, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Law Department, October 19, 1923.
Hon. James M. Curley,

Mayor of Boston:
Dear Sir,—This is reply to your communication inclosing order of the City Council concerning the claim of Olive P. Gately. The facts in the case are fully set forth in an opinion written by my predecessor, Arthur D. Hill, Esq., which formed the basis of the veto message of the then Mayor, Andrew J. Peters, a copy of which opinion I inclose herewith. Upon a thorough examination of the facts in the case I find that I can reach no conclusion other than that reached by my predecessor: that the order, if adopted, should be vetoed.
